BOOM FOR SWACKHAMER

The Former Assemblyman's Friends Want to Make Him Congressional Nominee.

IN FOURTH DISTRICT.

Claim That He Would Carry Somerset and Hunterdon and Would Make Good Run in Mercer County.

There is said to be a feeling among many of the conservative Democrats of Somerset county that the logical candidate for Congress in the Fourth District, composed of Hunterdon, Somerset and Mercer counties, is former Assemblyman Samuel S. Swackhamer, of North Plainfield, and it is reported that there is every probability that this feeling will be manifested at the Congressional convention at Trenton this month.

The Democrats who are booming Swackhamer declare that he is just as popular as ever in Somerset county, where he has never been beaten; that he would carry it by 800, and that he would make a remarkable run in Hunterdon, his native county, which would give him an old-fashioned Democratic majority of something like 2,500, and that he would "hold down" Mercer, where he gained friends during his career in the Legislature.

There was a boom working overtime for Swackhamer in the direction of the Assembly nomination, but to a correspondent of The Daily Press, in reply to a query, "Will you take the nomination?" he responded "No! Not under any consideration; I have had all I can get out of the Assembly."

Friends of Swackhamer believe that this is a time, when trust control is becoming more and more manifest, that men of his calibre and fearless debating qualities should be sent to Washington in the interests of the people.

Just whether or not Swackhamer, whose law business is taking all his time now, would go into the fight for Congress is a question, but it is said that there is every probability that he would announce himself a candidate provided he is assured of good support.

The convention will be held at Flemington Wednesday. The North Plainfield delegates, in order to reach there on time, will have to leave Plainfield on the 7:11 train in the morning.

MISS ANNA SEARING CHARLES ZIMMER'S BRIDE.

Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck Officiates at Wedding of Popular Couple.

Miss Anna A. Searing, daughter of James H. Searing, formerly of this city, but now of East Orange, and Charles Zimmer, also a former Plainfielder, were married Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock by Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, at his home in West Front street. Only the members of the two families were present to witness the ceremony. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Sadie Searing, while Edward C. Searing, a brother of the bride, was best man.

Both the bride and groom have been residents of Plainfield for several years, and they have been especially active workers at Trinity Reformed church, in the Sunday-school and Christian Endeavor Society, where they will be greatly missed. The groom was a former employe of The Daily Press office and later was employed by the Aluminum Press and Plate Company.

Mr. Zimmer now holds a position in New York and he and his bride will reside in East Orange, where he has a home at 205 Amherst street.

Presbytery Will Meet Here.

The Presbytery of Elizabeth will hold its seventy-fifth stated meeting in the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, and continue throughout the day. Instead of the usual popular service in the evening the members of the Presbytery will go to Garwood to take part in the dedication of the new church at that place. The sermon will be preached by Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards, of the Brick Presbyterian church, New York.

Death of John Briscoe.

He is survived by a mother, three brothers and two sisters.

STRIKE SYMPATHIZERS AND "SCABS" CLASH

NON-UNION MAN IS FINED FOR CARRYING A REVOEVER.

Another manifestation of the labor troubles in town, this time from the Scott Press Works, appeared in the city court this morning, when Albert Carlson and Charles Gordon, molders at the press works, were arraigned, charged with disturbing the peace on East Front street Saturday night.

John Taylor, a young moulder and strike sympathizer, testified that Carlson and Gordon started a row in the Hotel Waldorf, and that Carlson displayed the butt of a revolver in his hip pocket. Both the prisoners are non-union molders at the Scott works, where a strike is supposed to be on. The shop managers say they refuse to recognize the existence of a strike.

Carlson and Gordon said they had been threatened with a beating ever since they came to town and Manager F. S. Shuster and Assistant Superintendent Palmer of the Press works, corroborated them. Carlson said he got the gun because he feared for his life. Palmer swore that Taylor was a ring leader in the dogging of the non-union men. Gordon told the court that he believed the row to have been "planted" to get him and Carlson arrested.

Judge Runyon vigorously spoke on the right of any man to engage in a lawful occupation wherever he desired and got the chance, but condemned Carlson's action in arming himself without a permit. He fined Carlson $3 and suspended sentence on Gordon. Shuster paid Carlson's fine.

After the hearing, Assistant Superintendent Palmer made a complaint before the judge against alleged pickets and union sympathizers, who, he alleged, have been steadily annoying and threatening him and his non-union help.

NO OUTDOOR MEETING.

Threatening Weather Compels Y. M. C. A. To Hold Service Indoors.

On account of the threatening weather, the last of the open-air meetings of the Y. M. C. A. was not held at Concert Park yesterday afternoon. The service was conducted in the Y. M. C. A. Hall, before a good-sized audience.

F. H. Jacobs, the singing evangelist, spoke on the difference between the Christ life, and that of the ordinary man. The Y. M. C. A. orchestra, under the leadership of M. A. Korff, played, and a chorus of twenty-five voices sang.

Strikebreakers Scrap.

Patrick Flanagan, a strikebreaker employed at the Krom Machine Works, was arrested last night for knocking down a fellow strikebreaker at the barracks of the force. He told City Judge Runyon this morning that John Grady, the other man, had called him a vile name. He was very penitent, and Mr. Krom having testified to his good record, sentence was suspended.

MOODY AND WILSON SEEKING NOMINATION

ONE OF THEM MAY BE PICKED BY DEMOCRATIC CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION

Arrangements are bing completed forthe holding of the Democratic Congressional convention at Morristown Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock. Thus far there are two persons who are prominently mentioned as candidates, both of whom are said to be seeking the nomination. They are John R. Moody, of Cranford and William R. Wilson, a lawyer of Elizabeth. Both candidates have strength it is said that the race for the nomination will be close.

SEVENTH DAY BAPTISTS HOLD A BIRTHDAY SOCIAL.

Informal Programme of Readings and Music a Feature.

Under the auspices of the Women's Society for Christian Work of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, a birthday social was held yesterday afternoon in the church parlors from 4 to 6 o'clock. The parlors were appropriately decorated with golden rod and autumnal foliage. Every member of the society was invited to contribute to the society as many as she was years old and in this way a satisfactory sum was realized for the treasury.

The programme, which was under the direction of Mrs. Charles H. Dunham and Miss Jessie Utter, consisted of piano duetts by Mrs. Frank J. Hubbard and Miss Ethel Titsworth; readings by Dr. Martha Stillman; vocal solos by Miss Elizabth Stillman, of Westfield, while Mrs. William C. Hubbard gave a very interesting and full account of the "Women's Hour," a feature of the Seventh-Day Baptist church conference at Leonardsville, N. Y., a few weeks ago. This told of the needs of the women's board of the denomination.

After the programme refreshments were served by a committee consisting of Mrs. David E. Titsworth, Mrs. T. C. Smith and Mrs. Marcus L. Clawson, assisted by a number of young women.

Her husband died in 1900 and for the past few years Mrs. Stelle had been living with her sister on Pearl street.

CLINTON AVE. WINS, 4-3

Defeated by Scotch Plains Twice, Plainfielders Win at Last.

ON CRESCENT OVAL

Both J. Scott and A. Frentz Pitch Good Ball—Wrangle Over Decision.

The Clinton Avenue ball team defeated the 'Plains team Saturday afternoon at Crescent Oval by the score of 4-3. The game was an interesting one, as both teams were on their mettle, and presented their strongest lineups. The C. A. C. was strengthened somewhat, as the two defeats already administered by the 'Plains aggregation convinced Manager Kriney that to take the third game of the series he would have to strengthen up in several weak points in his team.

The 'Plains team started scoring in its half of the second, both teams having been blanked in the first, Schhirenbeck up, hit to short, ball was fumbled and Schrienbeck was safe at first. Elier followed with another infield hit, doubling Schirenbeck at second; short stop to second base. Elier stole second, A. Frentz came to the rescue with a clean two-bagger, bringing Elier over the rubber. Baldwin hit to pitcher, was thrown wild to first and Schrienbeck second from second base on the throw. H. Alberts hit to second and was thrown out at first, retiring the second.

The C. A. C. had their chance in its half and before the 'Plains team settled down had secured three runs. Barclay, the first man up, was hit by the pitcher, and stole second. R. Scott struck out and A. Scott hit. Three-base error of Schrienbeck found Scott on first and Barclay at third. Barnes hit clean single to centre field scoring Barclay. Whitly net up was struck and walked. J. Scott fanned three times; O'Loughlin followed with a timely hit to left field, scoring Barnes and Scott. Giles hit to short stop and was thrown out at first.

In its half of the third the 'Plains team tied the score, with a safe hit to left field by G. Frentz, who stole second. Reick advanced him to third with a sacrifice. Schirenbeck struck out, O'Loughlin muffed the ball and Frentz second on the throw to first. Both teams settled down and goose eggs were in order until the eighth, when the C. A. C. started with a safe hit to left by R. Scott. A. Scott struck out. Barnes was walked. Emery up hit a nice single to centre field, scoring R. Scott; Barnes also tried to score but was thrown out at home plate. Umpire Murphy called Barnes safe and this caused a wrangle, which lasted fully five minutes. The matter was finally settled by the C. A. C. agreeing that Murphy's decision was wrong and Barnes was called out. Whitley hit to second and was thrown out at first. The 'Plains team could do nothing in its half of the ninth, H. Alberts getting as far as third base on a hit to third base, who threw wild to first base. Alberts got to third on the throw and would have scored but for his falling down while making the turn for home plate. This gave the game to Clinton Avenue by 4-3.

J. Scott, who was in the box for the C. A. C., pitched fine ball as did Frintz of the 'Plains team, the former striking out eight men and allowing but six base hits. Frintz struck out six and allowed six hits.

Following is the line-up and score by innings:

C. A. C.—O'Loughlin, c; Giles, 2b; Barclay, cf; R. Scott, ss; A. Scott, lf; Barnes, 1b; Emery, 3b; Whitley, rf; J. Scott, p.

'Plains—J. Alberts, 2b; Baldwin, ss; H. Alberts, c; G. Frentz, 1b; Vanderbilt, rf; Reick, lf; Schirenbeck, 3b; Eller, cf; A. Frintz, p.

Umpire, Mr. Murphy.

He was assisted to a drug store for treatment.

PLATTS MAY PART.

Reported that Senator and Wife May Seek Divorce.

Impending legal proceedings threaten to bring to light the alleged unhappy outcome of Senator Thomas Collier Platt's marriage with the dashing Mrs. Lillian T. Janeway, of Washington, D. C. That the union would end in the divorce court is not altogether a surprise to the friends of the aged Senator in private and public life, who were inexpressibly shocked by his marriage to the Washington widow October 11, 1903.

Senator Platt's living at the Hotel Gotham, in New York, while Mrs Platt is at her husband's country seat, Tioga Lodge, Highland Mills, N. Y. They are said to have separated and to have consulted counsel. Facing legal actions by her husband and her son-in-law, Col. Francis J. Carmody, Mrs. Platt is said to have decided to srtike the first blow by bringing suit for divorce.

REPUBLICANS NOMINATE C. J. FISK FOR MAYOR

Colbyites Prevent the Convention's Choice Being Made Unanimous.

A PLATFORM ADOPTED

Pledges Made to Run City Affairs Free From Bossism and to Have Water Question Investigated.

The Republican City Convention ratified the verdict of the primary election at the Casino, Saturday night. Charles J. Fisk was nominated for mayor and Samuel P. T. Wilbur and J. Hervey Doane for freeholder, defeating the Colbyite candidates, R. Henry Depew and J. Fred MacDonald and Dr. W. F. Gaston. Collector John W. Murray, Jr., was renominated without opposition, and Floyd T. Woodhull was renominated for the school board as the choice of both divisions of the party.

The convention was not largely attended. The seventy-five or a hundred in the gallery seemed largely of a regular cast, Mr. Fisk's name was received with abundant handclapping.

The two factions had full delegations out—sixteen regular delegates and eleven Colbyite. The latter stuck to their guns. They refused to make Mr. Fisk's nomination unanimous, and although they voted for Mr. Murray it was noticed that none of the reform delegations seconded his nomination.

The convention was called to order by Mr. Fisk, as chairman of the City Convention, at 8:30 o'clock. Albert E. J. Matthews was made chairman, and he appointed W. C. Kinney and Frank L. Holt secretaries. The following committees were appointed: Rules, A. R. Raymond, Arthur L. Case, F. W. Frost; resolutions, George S. Ring, C. W. Runyon, J. H. Craig.

The following platform was adopted as presented by the resolutions committee:

"We, the representatives of the Republican party in the city of Plainfield, in convention assembled declare that we are in favor of the following principles, and intend to support the same:

"First, To promote the best interests of all the people of the city of Plainfield.

"Second, To administer and conduct the affairs of the city in the interests of the people, free from any taint of bossism, or of servitude to any corporate or private interests.

"Third, To encourage a popular interest in primary elections and such other progressive measures as may seem necessary to the interests of the people.

"Fourth, To promote honest elections and prevent political corruption in any form.

"Fifth, To promptly take such measures as may be necessary to bring before the voters the facts regarding city ownership of a water supply in such form as to enable them to vote intelligently thereon, and have same submitted to the people at a special or general election as soon as such facts can be prepared."

An attempt by the Colbyites to kill the rule that all resolutions be referred to the resolutions committee without debate was defeated. Howard C. Tracy, chairman of the Second Ward Colbyite delegation, made a motion that the convention be left free to suggest and act on resolutions as a committee of the whole. It was lost by the sixteen to eleven vote.

When nominations for mayor were called for, the First ward waived to the First district of the Third, and E. H. Ladd presented the name of Mr. Fisk in a brief speech. Mr. Fisk was ably fitted to fill the office, he said, and the people were to be congratulated on having the opportunity to vote for him. His election would be a guarantee of a wise and business-like administration of the city's affairs. Mr. Fisk's name was received with a sustained burst of handclapping.

Mr. Tracy placed Mr. Depew in nomination in a speech even briefer than that of Mr. Ladd's. Mr. Depew was ably fitted for the office, Mr. Tracy said, and the people of his ward had declared in no uncertain terms for his nomination.

When the vote was announced, a motion to make the nomination of Mr. Fisk unanimous was made. Mr. Tracy opposed it. The campaign waged by the Plainfield members of the Equal Taxation League, he said, had been fought as a matter of principle. The delegates it sent to the convention were expected to support RALLY DAY EXERCISES. AT GRACE M. E. CHURCH.

Special Sermons Preached by Dr. Parsons in the Morning and Evening.

The members of Grace M. E. church and Sunday-school conducted their Fall rally day exercises yesterday. At all the services there were large attendances and the result was very helpful to Dr. Parsons and his assistants.

At the usual morning gathering, the pastor preached a special sermon, "The Qualities of a Good Soldier," in which he pointed out how much good could be accomplished by a soldier in the Lord's army. In the afternoon, the Sunday school pupils met and in addition to their own exercises and singing, they were addressed by Professor H. C. Krebs, superintendent of the borough schools, and former Secretary J. H. Manning, of the Y. M. C. A. A violin solo was contributed by Mrs. Wm. Schwartz, of Brooklyn, a member of the Hanson Place Methodist church in that borough and of which Dr. Parsons was pastor at one time. The main room was strikingly decorated in honor of the occasion.

In the evening, Dr. Parsons concluded his series of sermons to young people on "The Right Objection."

Ceremony Performed by Rev. Dr. Parsons at Home of Bride's Parents.

Miss Loubelle Gillies, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Gillies, of Grove street, and Edward C. Plum, of Brooklyn, were married Saturday night at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents in the presence of the members of the two families and a few intimate friends. Rev. Dr. C. W. Parsons, pastor of Grace M. E. church, performed the ceremony. The only attendant was a flower girl, Miss Arnita Woods, a niece of the bride. The home was attractively decorated with cut flowers, palms and ferns.

The bride was gowned in a blue cloth travelling dress, with hat to match. She carried a bouquet of white roses. Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held during which congratulations were offered and supper was served.

The bride received a number of gifts, including cut-glass and china.

Later the couple took a train for a wedding journey, which will be spent at Middletown, N. Y., and Crystal Run. They will reside in Brooklyn, where the groom is employed.

Miss Beach To Wed.

Miss Bell Beach, well-known as a teacher of riding and exhibitor of saddle horses and jumpers in the show ring, who will be remembered by the patrons of the Plainfield Horse Show, and William Charles Bain have taken out a license to marry at Newport, R. I., but as they have chosen to envelop their plans in secrecy, definite details could not be obtained. They made a request of the officials at the City Hall there that nothing be said of the matter of the license, and Mrs. Emily Beach, mother of the young woman, declined last evening to affirm or deny a statement that was current that the wedding had taken place.

Attached Firms' Goods.

In behalf of Bourin & Farrin, a New York produce firm, Constable Pierce served an attachment on goods belonging to Max Scudder & Co., as they were being loaded on cars at South Plainfield preparatory to moving them to Pennsylvania. Scudder came to Plainfield and paid the money, thus securing the release of the goods. Bourin & Farrin were represented by W. L. Hetfield, Jr.

District Court.

With seventeen cases on the docket, the session of the District Court this morning was nevertheless one of the shortest held since its establishment. Thirteen of the cases were adjourned. NEWS IN THE SUBURBS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY

Max F. Wertz has been appointed postmaster of Lincoln to succeed Silas Dewey Drake, who has found the life of sorting Lincoln's big mail too slow for his strenuous nature. The souvenir postal craze has not reached Lincoln to any extent and the life of a postmaster there is not the most exciting. So Founder-Former-Mayor-Boomer Drake stepped down and out and Mr. Wertz was elevated to the station of honor. Mr. Drake will now devote his whole time to founding and developing great cities. He has opened an office in Bound Brook and has hung out a real estate shingle and is getting busy. Bound Brook will soon have an awakening.

Although unable to score themselves, the members of the local eleven fought a good fight against the Alis III team of Plainfield Saturday, and prevented them from tallying. Although the team showed the need of a little practice here and there, the general work of the men was excellent. The eleven will be very much of the first order when the season is under way.

Antonio Quirs, of the stone crusher force, who injured his hip severely in a fall down the mountainside last week, has returned to work. It was thought after the accident that he was internally injured, but he rallied quickly and has almost entirely recovered.

Checkers is again the rage in the Owl Club. Rev. Frank Fletcher is a patron of checkers, and is urging the members to organize an elimination tournament.

The bowling alleys at Taylor's Hotel will be opened this week. A lively season is expected. Tournament plans are being made.

Court Dunellen, I. O. F., will meet tonight. The bowling alley has been put in shape for the new season.

Manager Jess Ayres announces that he has practically his whole baseball team for next year.

The rink at Riverside Park closed Saturday night. [illegible] were at the resort.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Siriski spent yesterday visiting friends in Raritan.

Miss Janie Churchill has returned from a visit to friends in New York.

The township committee will meet tomorrow afternoon at Nelson's hotel.

Miss Anna Ace has returned from a visit to relatives in Pennsylvania.

Frank Fletcher, Jr., has been travelling through Texas for a week.

H. S. Garretson is in New Brunswick today on legal business.

The borough council will meet tonight.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD

A base hit at several critical stages of the game would have given the local team another victory over Clinton Avenue in the game Saturday afternoon at Crescent Oval. Maybe it was the large attendance at the game which scared the local team, as there must have been fully thirty people on the bleachers, while five lonely ones took in the game from the grandstand. It is said there was also a lone yellow dog watching the game from the outfield.

"Willie" Deegan pitched for the Hoboken team against the Frankfords, at Hoboken, yesterday. "Willie" defeated the York team, winners of the Tri-State pennant, Thursday, only allowing them three hits.

There was a good attendance at Deegan's roller skating rink Saturday night. Music was furnished for skating by a full orchestra from Plainfield.

Rev. T. Moore-Smith occupied his pulpit again yesterday, after a month's vacation, which was spent in anada and West Virginia.

A picked team of Plains and Plainfield players defeated the Jefferson F. C. team at Newark yesterday by the score 18-6.

The weekly meeting of the B. Y. P. U. was held last night in the parlors of the church.

D. T. Hendrickson spent Saturday and Sunday at his home at Port Monmouth, N. J.

Miss Hogan was the guest Saturday and Sunday of friends in Elizabeth.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Guttridge spent Sunday with relatives in Plainfield.

TICKETS FOR HEAVEN.

Prelate Imposed Upon Credulity of Ignorant Swiss.

Geneva, Switzerland, October 1.—Another religious scandal where the credulity of ignorant persons was worked upon to sell them tickets for their voyage and entrance to heaven base been discovered.

The Abbe Burral, chief of the Apostolic School at Immensee, in the Canton of Schwytz, is the offending prelate and he is said to have reaped a rich harvest from his victims. The police have brought his trade in tickets to a stop, however, besides referring his operations to the bishop.

Abbe Burral had four classes of tickets to dispose of, costing 5, 10, 50 and 100 francs each. The tickets resembled bank notes and on their face bore the class to which they consigned the purchaser. "Payable on earth in ready money and repayable in heaven," was the endorsement of the notes or tickets.

Mrs. Dudley, of Baltimore, has been visiting with her sister, Miss Mary French, at the home of Dr. Fritts on Park avenue. Miss French has left town to go to Graham, Texas, after visiting friends en route. Fort Riley, Kansas, will be one of her stopping places.

FOOTBALL.

Football Prophecies Difficult.

While uncertainty as to the styles of play to be employed in football this fall makes estimates of the strength of the different teams extremely difficult to form, the new eligibility codes, which prohibit the participation of freshmen and first year men in all courses, makes it possible to judge the strength of the available material much more readily than usual.

Judged by the standard of possibilities alone, it seems as though Yale and Pennsylvania should again have the strong teams on the gridiron. When account is taken of the tactical possibilities of the new style of game, the prognosticator who hazards a prediction as to the outcome of games at this early stage of the preparatory season is unduly reckless.

The spring practice, which was expected to develop so much of benefit in the unearthing of new talent for this fall's teams, served Pennsylvania and Yale best.

These two universities will have material of unusual excellence, despite the hardship of freshment restrictions.

Harvard invariably has strong material, and this fall will be no exception to the rule, but the question of what Harvard may make of her possibilities is even more vague than usual.

Cornell's wealth of men last year should make her strong, while Princeton is certainly worse off than any one of the big five.

GOLF.

The golf match which was scheduled to be played at Cranford yesterday between "Marty" O'Loughlin and William Wood and Joe Ianson and William Beal, has been postponed until a later date to suit the convenience of some of the players.

Because Mrs. Rogers will be unable to play tomorrow, the four-ball match which was scheduled to take place at the Westfield Golf Club between Mrs. Rogers and "Marty" O'Loughlin and Dave Patrick and Miss Gertrude Noe has been put off until Wednesday afternoon.

In a match game on Saturday between Montclair and Princeton, the former team won by a score of 8 to 6. Dudley H. Barrows playing for Princeton was 2 up on his opponent.

The Westfield Golf Club will begin its fall schedule this week with a number of special events, which will run until snow flies.

TENNIS.

Commencing tomorrow and continuing on Wednesday and Thursday there will be a tenins tournament at the Plainfield Country Club for pupils of the Plainfield High School. Thirty-five entries have been received.

In the final play for the junior mixed doubles at thePlainfield Country Club on Saturday, Miss Fredericka Mead and Roger Mellick defeated Miss Louise Andrews and D. W. Adams, 6-1, 6-2. In the first round Roger Mellick and Miss Mead beat R. Henry Depew, Jr., and Miss Margaret Drayton, 7-5, 6-0; Miss Andrews and D. W. Adams beat Miss Alpaugh and Mr. Ladd, 6-1, 6-2. In the second round Mr. Depew and Miss Drayton beat Miss Brown and M. Rogers, 6-1, 6-2.

DIAMOND DUST.

After one of the most exciting and well-played games witnessed this season at Somerville, the West Ends, of that place, lost to Flemington on Saturday, making the third defeat this season. The score was 1 to 0, and the run was made on an error. Brunner, catcher for Flemington, made the only hit for his team off of "Lou" Wiltse, and by clever work he stole second and third. He was playing off third base, when Norton, the catcher, threw the ball to Jack Martin to catch Brunner. The ball just struck Martin's hands and rolled off in the field, allowing the runner to come home. Notwithstanding that Wiltse pitched a faultless game; his team-mates were weak with the stick.

Miss Jennie Devine, of Somerset street, who has been visiting at Peapack, has returned.

Former Mayor L. V. F. Randolph and wife, who have been travelling in Europe since spring, expect to return to their home on East Front street the middle of this month.

...America's...
Most Magnificent FURNITURE SHOW.

If there ever was any doubt about this store's pre-eminence in the showing and selling of Furniture, the display which we will make this week will dispel every vestige of doubt and give this store rank as AMERICA'S FOREMOST FURNITURE STORE. The displays are unequaled and magnificent; the stocks are so colossal as to make pigmies of all others in competition—there is simply no comparison. Here is furniture for every purpose and in variety so stupendous as to be little short of bewildering.

From a dozen points of view the eye can take in a vista of several hundred feet, and everywhere is seen row after row, and group after group of splendid specimens of the handiwork of master craftsmen, representing the product of the foremost furniture builders of the States, as well as some foreign makers. IT IS A SPECTACLE THAT HAS AMAZED THOUSANDS.

Those who know the store best find in the display always a wealth of beauty and a mine of great interest. Those who travel and have seen the World's greatest stores marvel at the magnitude as well as the magnificence of the exhibit.

There is no store in New York, Philadelphia, Chicago or anywhere that we know of equaling the display seen here. The range of styles, qualities and prices makes it possible for everyone, whether they wish to furnish the most modest cottage or the mostly costly palace, to buy here just the furniture they require. Salespeople, skilled in the art of furnishing, are here to help you secure artistic and harmonious results. Make known your desires and they will plan for you as only artists can.

Many pieces and suites are offered during this opening week at reduced prices. Come to see the show. Buy or not, as you elect.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

"Buster Brown," the successful musical comedy built around R. F. Outcault's well known cartoon of that name, will be seen at the New Plainfield theatre this afternoon and night. For the current season this play has been equipped with an entirely new scenic dress, new and elaborate costumes together with popular songs that are the latest and new music throughout. The cast, which is headed by Master Rosen, as "Buster," is said to be by far the best of any one of the many seen in the comedy. "Buster Brown" needs no introduction, his face is too well known and the mirth provoking elements of the play have been too thoroughly tried. This bids fair to be one of the good things of the theatric season.

The recent series of events in the Far East, imperilling the Romanoff dynasty of Russia has brought the mysterious land of the White Czar into prominence and created an added interest in its affairs. Always the land of romance, it has again and again proven a fertile field for the novelist and the dramatist. Probably one of the most successful products of the latter will be found in the creation of the excellent dramatic picture of contemporaneous Russian life, "For Her Sake," which Gill & Salsberg will present at the New Plainfield theatre Wednesday night.

If royal Mary Tudor was a princess as charming as Anna Day portrays her in Ernest Shipman's gorgeous production of "When Knighthood Was in Flower," which will be here next Friday night, then small wonder that Charles Brandon should have risked his plebian hoad to win her. And by the same token, if Brandon was a cavalier as courageous and chivalric as Alfred Swenson makes him, what excuse has history to offer for overlooking persons so engaging? Surely any modern Mary would barter royal power to wed so brave a wooer. Surely any twentieth century Brandon would renounce the Kingly favor "to have and to hold" so sweet a maid. For, though customs and costumes may change with the centuries, fair women and brave men, even in these prosaic days of Edward, will, on the altar of love, make the same sacrifice they did in the more romantic times of Henry the Eighth.

Those who visit the New Plainfield theatre next Saturday afternoon and night will not be moved to quote against "The Shadow Behind the Throne" Shakespeare's assertion that "shadows we are and shadows we pursue," for the great wizard of melodrama would find in this play much solid substance of both action and acting to heartily commend. While it does not reach the supreme level upon which he stands alone, or pretend to, it does follow his example in "holding the mirror up to Nature" in such a manner that all may see clearly and cleanly reflected therin all those master passions which are the mainsprings to human happiness, sorrow, laughter, tears, ambition, revenge, loyalty, treason, courage, cowardice, truth, treachery, heroism, hatred, craft and cruelty. New sensations, too, are piled on sensation's head, and even the tremendous effects of all-destroying dynamite are vividly portrayed. The scenery is a dream of magnificent Oriental art and mystery and the company collectively an individually great.

Manager Counihan will offer as the attraction at the New Plainfield theatre Tuesday night, October 9, under the auspices of Watchung Council, Knights of Columbus, Andrew Mack as Shaun the Post in Dion Boucicault's great Irish comedy drama, "Arrah-na-Pogue." Mr. Mack, who has just returned from a successful tour of Australia, will be seen only in the principal cities of this country this year, after which he will return to Australia, going from there to South Africa, to England and then to Ireland. His tour will take up the greater part of two years; therefore this will be the last opportunity we will have of seeing Mr. Mack for at least three years. The company supporting Mr. Mack will include Miss Mae Stevenson, Miss Alice Gilmore, Miss Georgie O'Meare, J. J. Hylands, Earl Simmonds, J. Palmer Collins, Thomas F. O'Malley, Thomas Jackson, Gus Carney, Charles Edwards and a chorus of twenty hixed voices who will assist in all musical numbers.

The quaintest, most original, and most successful of current plays comes fresh from record runs in New York and Chicago to the New Plainfield theatre on October 11 in "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," whose name is a synonym for delightful fun from one end of the continent to the other, and throughout England. In the dramatization of Mrs. Rice's book Lovey Mary and pathetic little Tommy are introduced with Mrs. Wiggs, and rival her in interest. It is a play crowded with heart interest and abounding in salient American types of a vigor not to be forgotten. Liebler & Co. cast the play marvelously well despite the great number of exacting roles, and among the players whose names will ever after be linked with the production are Mrs. Madge Carr Cook as Mrs. Wiggs; Vivian Ogden as Miss Hazy and Charles Carter as Mr. Stubbins. The charming humor of the original tales of life in the Cabbage Patch has been heightened and deepened. The entire New York cast and production will be seen here.

At the New Plainfield theatre on October 12, Messrs. Broadhurst and Currie will present the happy tramp comedian, Nat M. Wills, in his latest musical comedy success, "A Lucky Dog." The book is undoubtedly the best effort of the talented young writer, Mark E. Swan, and the music which promises to sing itself rapidly into popularity is the work of George Nichols. The supporting company includes Miss Delia Stacey, Miss Lee, Hobbs Martin, Charles Udell, Peter Griffen, Fred Rennolds, George Nichols and a chorus of fifty American beauties.

Mme. Helena Modjeska's testimonial farewell tour, in the course of which she will appear at the New Plainfield theatre on October 15 may be said to have been begun at the Metropolitan Opera House, New York, last spring, when this favorite actress was given the largest testimonial ever known in this country. This affair, the sponsors of which were no less famous people than Ignace Jan Paderewski, Mrs. Grover Cleveland, Richard Mansfield, Daniel Frohman and Richard Watson Gilder, attracted a throng of nearly six thousand people, who paid an aggregate of over $15,000 for that final opportunity to show their appreciation of the great artiste. Telegrams and cablegrams from prominent persons, inbluding kings, emperors and lesser rulers from all over the world, were received by Modjeska on that night. Nn such enthusiasm was ever before aroused by a single personality as that expressed when Modjeska made her appearance on that occasion, and it is doubtful if its parallel ever will be seen again. Everywhere that Modjeska has appeared since that time, similar demonstrations have been given her, differing from that occasion only in degree. In proportion to numbers, the tributes in the smaller cities have been just as strong as that given by the metropolis. At the New York testimonial, Modjeska only appeared in a short scene from "Macbeth." On her present tour she has that entire play, as well as "Camille" and "Mary Stuart" in her repertoire. It is in these plays that her admirers throughout the land most delight to see her. Therefore, it was fitting that she and Jules Murry selected them from her large repertoire for this farewell. The present prospect is that this city will not be behind the others in the warmth of the welcome extended Modjeska.

Plainfield, N. J., October 1, 1906.

That joint debate in Morris county does not appear to have any result other than to have afforded an opportunity for some political letter-writers to spread themselves.

If John Moody should become Charles N. Fowler's opponent in the Congressional campaign, the marble man will have a fight on his hands. Mr. Fowler is not any too strong in Union county and an adversary like the Cranford man ought to be able to poll a big vote.

By the platform on which he is nominated, Charles J. Fisk, the Republican mayoralty candidate, is pledged "to administer and conduct the affairs of the city in the interests of the people free from any taint of bossism or of servitude to any corporate or private interests," and "to promote honest elections and prevent political corruption in any form." That he will carry out these promises to the letter, if elected, there can not be the slightest doubt. Anyone who knows the man knows full well that he always means exactly what he says and says exactly what he means. He is a man who always has the best interests of the city at heart and a man who has contributed liberally in time and ability to its service.

PERSONAL.

Miss Justine Roberts, of Prospect place, has returned from a visit with Elizabeth relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. George J. Hart, of West Sixth street, are entertaining relatives from Woodmont, Conn.

Peter B. Wright, of New York, was in town today on business and called on a few of his friends. He still has a warm spot in his heart for his birthplace.

Former Sheriff and Mrs. W. T. Kirk are residing at Grant and Sherman avenues, Mr. Kirk having recently purchased the property on which he is now making extensive repairs.

Miss Emma VanZandt, of Watchung avenue, has returned from Oyster Bay, Long Island, where she spent an enjoyable summer, and on Wednesday she sails for Oveido, Florida, with her family, where they will spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Arnold returned last night from Boston. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Arnold, of Milwaukee, who went with them, will remain until Wednesday, visiting friends and then come back to Plainfield until October 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kurze, of Brooklyn, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. James Gillies, of Grove street, have returned home. They came to Plainfield to attend the wedding of Miss Loubelle Gillies and Edward C. Plum, which took place Saturday night.

Hard on Clothes.

"You look so nice in your new Fall suit," said Mrs. Drowse, "don't you think you'd better come to church with me this morning?"

"Not on your life!" replied Mr. Drowse, "it doesn't do a new suit any good to go to sleep in it."

Traitor to Her Sex.

"O! she's not at all nice," said little Elsie, "she's always wishin' she was a boy."

"Well," replied Mabel, "I wish I was, too."

"I know, but she wishes it out loud, so the boys can hear her."

Conundrums.

Why had a person better lose his arm than a leg? Because losing his leg he loses something "to boot."

What did Adam first plant in the garden? His foot.

Why is a stick of candy like a race horse? Because the more you lick it the faster it goes.

Why is a peach stone like a regiment? Because it has a kernel.

Wings and Flies

By Tom Muir.

Chris Sorensen, Jr., was in the city today arranging for the appearance of Arthur Pryor's big band at the local playhouse next Monday night. The popular organization was at Asbury Park all summer, where it was heard by many Plainfielders. It numbers fifty musicians and several soloists. The programme is divided into two parts, the latter half being a novel electrical spectacle, "The Triumph of Old Glory."

Little Miss Helene Counihan, the six-months-old daughter of Manager and Mrs. Counihan, made her stage debut in "The Rocky Road to Dublin" Saturday afternoon. During one of the scenes she was carried before the footlights by Barney Gilmore and she made a distinct "hit," though she only had a thinking part. As she was being taken off, she remonstrated with a vigorous "goo goo" in such melodramatic fashion that Father Bill thinks seriously of having Theodore Kremer build a play around her.

Montgomery and Stone, the original "scarecrow" and "tin woodman" of "The Wizard of Oz," have made a still greater hit in "The Red Mill," which opened in New York last week. The critics are unanimous in stating that it is the best musical comedy Broadway has seen in years. The two comedians have an interest in the production and their share of the profits for seven performances up to Saturday night, exclusive of salary, was $5,000.

Richard Carle, a Plainfield favorite, produced "The Spring Chicken," an English musical comedy that has been successful in London, in Rochester, N. Y., a few nights ago. In adapting the work to the American stage, Mr. Carle, who plays an important role, interpolated several musical numbers of his own composition Emma Janvier, the "Madame Stitch" of "The Mayor of Tokio," and Miss Adele Rowland, are features in the production.

The juvenile element in the stories of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" and "Lovey Mary" is decidedly happy in its humorous appeal, and plays an equally delightful part in the play which has been based upon those tales. All the little Wiggses with their frizzled locks, Asia, Australia, and Europena—the "Jography" children—Chris. with his wooden leg—the peg-stick, which led to the benfit paety—Pete, and the other sons and daughters of the Patch, make the scenes bright and merry with the sunshine and play of childhood. And "Cuby," the "fine horse," whose "lights was riz," is not forgotten in this background of juvenile jollity and picnicking.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The boom of State Treasurer Frank O. Briggs for the Republican gubernatorial nomination is growing and has now assumed such large proportions that it will require a political giant to beat him. Former Senator William M. Johnson, of Bergen county, was in the running up until last Tuesday, and had the Colbyites made more of a showing, he might have landed the gubernatorial nomination, he having been spoken of as a compromise candidate between the regulars and the Colby people. Senator Johnson, it is said, however, has leaned a little bit too much towards the Colby movement to make his candidacy good now with the regulars.

The slate that has been fixed for the officers of the next Legislature seems to be a good one. According to this slate, which, however, is subject to change, Senator Thomas J. Hillery, the eloquent young man from Morris, is to be the president of the Senate; Senator John Boyd Avis, of Gloucester county, father of the act providing for the county boards of equalization of taxes, which is becoming popular in New Jersey, is to be the majority leader in the Senate: Assemblyman Alfred N. Barber, of Trenton, who was renominated Saturday for the assemblyman and who showed himself last winter to be a man of remarkably good judgment, is to be speaker of the house; William Pennington, one of the regular Republican nominees in Essex and a former assemblyman, is to be majority leader of the House.

The Summit Record of last week, in a leading editorial urges the candidacy of Hon. William J. Curtis, of that city, for United States Senatorship. Mr. Curtis is a prominent lawyer, an able man, and a good Democrat, and it would be an honor to Union county and the State of New Jersey to have such a representative in the highest legislative body in the United States.—Rahway Democrat.

During the French autumn maneuvers two privates, owning bicycles, were taken from each company of the Thirty-first Infantry to act as scouts, estafettes and sentinelles mobiles, in t ehabsence of cavalry. They afforded more rapid and precise information than could be obtained by the adversary.

WOODHULL & MARTIN CO.

A GRIDIRON ELEGY.

Now comes the megaphoneless hour of day—
The hoarse-voiced crowd begins to twenty-three;
The rooters homeward plod their weary way,
And leave the field to doctors and to me.

In yonder ambulance, that rumbles o'er the hill,
Full many a senseless giant, bleeding lay;
And to the hospital went battered Tom and Bill,
To count the many bruises of the day.

For them no more the umpire's whiste calls,
No more the megaphones will bid them kill;
No more they'll have those thrilling dives and falls
That have their sequal in the doctor's bill.

Perhaps to this neglected ground there creeps
Some chap who last year played the game;
He takes one look—ah, how the poor chap weeps!—
Across the field where he lost gore and fame.

For many a star of purest ray serene
The white bed of yon hospital now bear;
Full many a player's born to groan unseen
And waste much arnica—likewise much swear.

Far from the madding crowd's ignoble cheers
Hereafter they will limp their way along,
And play high five, or shake the dice for beers—
Or stick to that most quiet game, ping pong.

Reduces Passenger Rates.

To take effect November 1st, or as soon thereafter as possible, the maximum rate per mile on the Lehigh Valley Railroad will be on the basis of 2½c. This will not change passenger rates now based on charge of less than 2½c. per mile. Interchangeable mileage books, which are now sold at $30.00, will be sold at $25.00 with a rebate of $5.00 on each 1,000 mile book instead of $10.00, as at present.

Differences of Iron and Steel.

There are three prominent differences between iron and steel which ought to cause a difference in their rapidity of rusting: First, blow holes; second, manganese, and, third, the presence of cementite in the steel and of cinder in the wrought iron.

C. J. FISK NOMINATED

Mr. Depew without faltering. Without intending any discourtesy, they felt that they could not, without being unfaithful to their constituents, vote to make the nomination unanimous.

The nomination of Wilbur, Doane, Murray and Woodhull was accomplished rapidly. There were no nominating speeches, and no applause.

The chairman appointed Charles W. Runyon, Howard Tracy and John Gallagher a committee to escort Mr. Fisk to the platform. Mr. Fisk took the arm of Mr. Tracy, and there was considerable laughter as they walked down the aisle. Mr. Tracy joined heartily in the applause that greeted the mayoralty candidate as he stopped to the platform front. He hadn't wanted the nomination, Mr. Fisk said in opening, but he thanked the convention for the honor conferred upon him. He felt that a great responsibility had been put upon him. A bitter fight had preceded the nomination, but he felt that he faced a reunited party. (Applause.)

He stood firmly on the platform, he said, and would even go further. If elected, he would try to do his duty to the whole people of the city, doing the best he knew how in the office. Many important questions were pending. The municipal ownership of water was perhaps the most important; he had already expressed himself as to that, but he was perfectly willing to stand on the plank in the platform, because it was his intention, should he become mayor, to take steps immediately to have the question thoroughly investigated and laid before the people in such a way as to give them an intelligent idea of the subject.

He was not responsible to any faction, individual or set of men, Mr. Fisk continued, but would do everything for the interests of the people. He would try to give everyone, rich and poor, the humble as well as the prominent, his just rights. No man need ever be afraid to approach C. J. Fisk on any matter of public interest or communal good. He considered all men on a plane of equality. (Applause.)

Concluding, Mr. Fisk said he considered all the delegates and their constituents as members of the Republican party. He considered that the nomination had been made after a full and clear majority of the people had expressed their choice, and that a majority of the party wanted him to be the nominee for mayor. He wanted them all to stand with him, and he believed that when the campaign was over they would have clapsed hands and become solidly united as a party. He would do everything possible to bring that condition of affairs about. He considered every man in the party, of whatever faction, a Republican and on his side. (Sustained applause.)

Albert E. J. Matthews, H. C. Tracy, C. W. Runyon, E. H. Ladd and J. T. MacMurray are the committee on vacancies.

His Exclusiveness Explained.

"Scribbell tells me he writes exclusively for 'Cheapley's Magazine' now."

"Yes, 'Cheapley's is published here in town, you know."

"I know, but I never see any of his stuff in it."

"No, but still he writes for it, and he writes for it exclusively, because he can deliver his manuscripts in person and thus save postage."

That Stuck in His Memory.

"Why, you were at the club last night when I sang my new campaign song, weren't you?" asked Howlett.

"Yes," replied Knox, "I was there, but I couldn't tell what you were singing about."

"Don't you remember? It was: 'Why Should Discord Rend Our Ranks?'"

"Oh, yes, I remember the 'discord.'"

Taken Unaware.

"Why, James!" exclaimed the slum-worker, on a visit to the prison, "how did you get here?"

"O!" replied Jimmy Duff, "I waz tryin' ter crack a crib a——"

HER STORY OF A DEATH DOUBTED.

Police Not Ready to Accept Mrs. Hackett's Explanation That Brigham Slew Himself.

Paterson, Oct. 1.—The police are holding Mrs. Cora E. Hackett as a witness to the shooting of Floyd Brigham, of Greene, Chenango county, N. Y., which took place at an early hour yesterday morning in the boarding-house at 285 Summer street, maintained by G. L. Allerton. All morning the woman was under cross-examination by Chief of Police Bimson and his staff of detectives. That the police are not ready to accept the theory of suicide is shown by the fact that the woman is being held and a coroner's inquest ordered.

Brigham and Mrs. Hackett, who says she has been living apart from her husband for the last two years, came here a week ago Thursday and secured a room at Allerton's. They went out to the theatre Thursday night and when they returned they quarrelled. Mrs. Hackett asserts Brigham wanted to marry her, but she refused because she did not wish to commit bigamy.

He then locked the door, she says, and threatened to kill himself if she did not do as he wished. She refused again, and, according to her story, asked him to kill her also. He took his revolver, she asserts, and, placing the barrel to his temple, pulled the trigger. No one in the house heard the shot, but she pounded on the door and awoke a man of the name of Brown, who burst in the door.

The police were summoned, and took Mrs. Hackett into custody. When arraigned before Recorder Noonburg yesterday Mrs. Hackett said Brigham killed himself because she refused to marry him and because he could not get work. The woman has $400 in the bank at Greene, N. Y.

First Wedding in Thirty Years.

Freehold, Oct. 1.—For the first time in more than thirty years the bell in Old Tennent church pealed for a wedding ceremony yesterday when Miss Margaret M. Woodhull, only daughter of Professor John Tennent Woodhull, of this place, became the bride of Eugene Livingston Delafield, of New York. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Frank Symmes, pastor of Old Tennent church. Miss Woodhull was given in marriage by her father. Alfred Lockwood, of Riverside, Conn., was best man, and John R. Parker, of this place, was usher. Mr. Delafield is a nephew of the late Henry W. Longfellow, poet.

THE POWER OF STEAM.

Many May See But It Takes Genius to Realize.

When James Watt saw the steam causing the kettle lid to jump up and down he said "There must be power in that steam that it can lift such a weight."

There was.

Millions prior to him had seen the same phenomenon and regarded it as an unexplained mystery.

Recent scientific research has put its finger on the "cause" of Dandruff, Falling Hair, and consequent Baldness, and has unearthed a tiny germ which eats the life from the roots of human hair.

Newbro's Herpicide destroys this germ and consequently restores the hair to its natural state.

LONG ABSENT MAN RETURNS TO PAY DEBTS.

Hackettstown, Oct. 1.—After an absence of about twenty-two years, N. Peterson, now residing in Passaic, returned a few days ago to Hackettstown to fulfil a promise he made when he and his family moved away from this place. Mr. Peterson at that time was a dyer and weaver of carpet, and with his family, consisting of a wife and six children, occupied a story-and-a-half building in Centre Main street. It has since been torn down and a building much larger erected, which is now occupied by Richter, the barber, Mrs. Wendt, the owner, and Abram Hance and family. He met with business adversity and sickness. In these circumstances he moved away, leaving some obligations which he could not meet, but left an assurance that if he ever became in a position all would be settled. His visit was for that purpose, and local creditors were paid amounts from $7 to $50, with a liberal interest rate tendered. In a couple of cases the creditors were dead, but the account was settled with the widows. Mr. Peterson has not accumulated or fallen heir to riches, but through industry he saved sufficient to meet the obligations he had assumed nearly a quarter of a century ago. He is in charge of mill work in Passaic. His action has received much local commendation.

LAWYERS DISAGREE OVER JUDICIAL SYSTEM CHANGE.

New Jersey Bar Association, by a Scant Majority, Approve Amendment.

Altantic City, October 1.—In a three-hours forensic battle leaders of the New Jersey Bar Association managed yesterday to secure a scant majority for approval by the organization of the proposed new constitutional amendment changing radically the judicial system of the State, framed by a special commission appointed under a State law and to be submitted at the next session of the Legislature.

Former Gov. Griggs, Vice Chancellor Pitney, Attorney General McCarter and a score or more big lawyers pleaded for approval of the bill, which Griggs declared would simplify the system now "grotesque in its complications."

A big delegation of South Jersey lawyers led the fight against the proposed amendment on the ground that it did not give relief in several important particulars, and a vote to kill the section under which the Appellate Court is to be appoined from members of the Supreme Court, one of the most important measures of the amendment, failed by only two votes of passing the association.

ACTRESS CHARGED WITH DESERTING CHILDREN.

Arrested in Dressing-Room, She Is Held for Appearance of Bondsman.

Mrs. Mary Hession, thirty-two years old, a member of Bob Manchester's "Crackerjacks," a burlesque troupe, performing this week in a Newark theatre, was a prisoner yesterday in the First Criminal Court before Judge Sweeney charged with the desertion of her two children.

Mrs. Hession's stage name is Marie Faytell. The complainant against her was Supt. John Cullen, of the Catholic Children's Aid Society, of Newark, who alleged that the actress abandoned her two daughters, Mary, eight years old, and Anna, nine, more than a year ago. Mr. Cullen said that he has had the custody of the children since June 29, 1905, and that he had since been trying to find the mother.

The woman was arrested in her dressing-room at the theatre. She was held in $500 bail to pay $10 monthly for the support of her children, and was remanded pending the appearance of a bondsman.

NO HEIRS TO ESTATE.

Custodian Has $50,000 Invested in East Orange.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 1.—A matter involving large amounts and interesting New Jersey parties has arisen out of the death of John W. Russell about two months ago. Previous to his death, the late R. Wright made a will in which he handed all his property over to his wife. Mrs. Wright died in 1903 and willed the property to her brother, J. W. Russell, who died intestate about two months ago; according to the Quebec laws property left in that way becomes the property of the government.

A sale of the property for school taxes was to have taken place yesterday. An opposition was filed to stop the sale on the ground that it is government property. Besides $50,000 worth of property in East Orange, N. J., there is about $48,000 in Hull and a large estate in New York city. Parties here and at Hull, near here, are interested, but before they can legally obtain any share of the estate they will have to get a special bill passed by the Quebec Provincial Parliament.

—The Plainfield Board of Health will hold its October meeting tomorrow afternoon.

Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. T., will hold a regular conclave this evening.

THE DELUGE

By DAVID GRAHAM PHILLIPS, Author of "THE COST," &c

(COPYRIGHT 1905 by the BOBBS-MERRILL COMPANY)

I lifted my hat, and bowed. I kept my eyes straight upon hers. And it gave me more pleasure to look into them than I had ever before got out of looking into anybody's. I am passionately fond of flowers, and of children; and her face reminded me of both. Or, rather, it seemed to me that what I had seen, with delight and longing, incomplete in their freshness and beauty and charm, was now before me in the fullness. I felt like saying to her: "I have heard of you often. The children and the flowers have told me you were coming." Perhaps my eyes did say it. At any rate, she looked as straight at me as I at her, and I noticed that she paled a little and shrank—yet continued to look, as if I were compelling her. But her voice, beautifully clear, and lingering in the ears like the resonance of the violin after the bow has swept its strings and lifted, was perfectly self-possessed, as she said to her brother: "That will be delightful—if you think we have time."

I saw that she, uncertain whether he wished to accept, was giving him a chance to take either course. "He has time—nothing but time," said I. "His engagements are always with people who want to get something out of him. And they can wait." I pretended to think he was expecting me to enter the trap; I got in, seated myself beside her, said to Sam: "I've saved the little seat for you. Tell your man to take us to the Equitable building—Nassau street entrance."

I talked a good deal during the first half of the nearly two hours we were together—partly because both Sam and his sister seemed under some sort of strain, chiefly because I was determined to make a good impression. I told her about myself, my horses, my house in the country, my yacht. I tried to show her I wasn't an ignoramus as to books and art, even if I hadn't been to college. She listened, while Sam sat embarrassed. "You must bring your sister down to visit me," I said, finally. "I'll see that you both have the time of your lives. Make up a party of your friends, Sam, and come down—when shall we say? Next Sunday? You know you were coming anyhow. I can change the rest of the party."

Sam grew as red as if he were going into apoplexy. I thought then he was afraid I'd blurt out something about who were in the party I was proposing to change. I was soon to know better.

"Thank you, Mr.—Blacklock," said his sister. "But I have an engagement next Sunday. I have a great many engagements just now. Without looking at my book I couldn't say when I can go." This easily and naturally. In her set they certainly do learn thoroughly that branch of tact which plain people call lying.

Sam gave her a grateful look, which he thought I didn't see, and which I didn't rightly interpret—then.

"We'll fix it up later, Blacklock," said he.

"All right," said I. And from that minute I was almost silent. It was something in her tone and manner that silenced me. I suddenly realized that I wasn't making as good an impression as I had been flattering myself.

When a man has money and is willing to spend it, he can readily fool himself into imagining he gets on grandly with women. But I had better grounds than that for thinking myself not unattractive to them, as a rule. Women had liked me when I had nothing; women had liked me when they didn't know who I was. I felt that this woman did not like me. And yet, by the way she looked at me in spite of her efforts not to do so, I could tell that I had some sort of unusual interest for her. Why didn't she like me? She made me feel the reason. I didn't belong to her world. My ways and my looks offended her. She disliked me a good deal; she feared me a little. She would have felt safer if she had been gratifying her curiosity, gazing in at me through the bars of a cage.

"SHE LOOKED AS STRAIGHT AT ME AS I AT HER."

Sam—not without hesitation, as I recalled afterward—left me with her, when I sent him to bring her brougham up to the Broadway entrance. As she and I were standing there alone, waiting in silence, I turned on her suddenly, and blurted out: "You don't like me."

She reddened a little, smiled slightly. "What a quaint remark!" said she.

I looked straight at her. "But you shall."

Our eyes met. Her chin came out a little, her eyebrows lifted. Then, in scorn of herself as well as of me, she locked herself in behind a frozen haughtiness that ignored me. "Ah, here is the carriage," she said. I followed her to the curb; she just touched my hand, just nodded her fascinating little head.

"See you Saturday, old man," called her brother friendlily. My lowering face had alarmed him.

"That party is off," said I, curtly. And I lifted my hat and strode away.

As I had formed the habit of dismissing the disagreeable, I soon put her out of my mind. But she took with her my joy in the taste of things. I couldn't get back my former keen satisfaction in all I had done and was doing. The luxury, the tangible evidences of my achievement, no longer gave me pleasure; they seemed to add to my irritation.

I worked myself up, or rather, down, to such a mood that when my office boy told me Mr. Langdon would like me to come to his office as soon as it was convenient, I snapped out: "The hell he does! Tell Mr. Langdon I'll be glad to see him here whenever he calls." That was stupidity, a premature assertion of my right to be treated as an equal. I had always gone to Langdon, and to any other of the rulers of finance, whenever I had got a summons. For, while I was rich and powerful, I held both wealth and power, in a sense, on sufferance; I knew that, so long as I had no absolute control of any great department of industry, these rulers could destroy me should they decide that they needed my holdings or were not satisfied with my use of my power. I was surprised when Langdon appeared in my office a few minutes later.

He was a tallish, slim man, carefully dressed, with a bored, weary look and a slow, bored way of talking. I had always said that if I had not been myself I should have wished to be Langdon.

His expression, as he came into my office, was one of cynical amusement, as if he were saying to himself: "Our friend Blacklock has caught the swollen head at last." Not a suggestion of ill humor, of resentment at my impertinence—for, in the circumstances, I had been guilty of an impertinence. Just languid, amused patience with the frailty of a friend. "I see," said he, "that you have got Textile up to 85."

He was the head of the Textile trust, which had been built by his brother-in-law and had fallen to him in the confusion following his brother-in-law's death. As he was just then needing some money for his share in the National Coal undertaking, he had directed me to push Textile up toward par and unload him of two or three hundred thousand shares—he, of course, to repurchase the shares after he had taken profits and Textile had dropped back to its normal 50.

"I'll have it up to 98 by the middle of next month," said I. "And there I think we'd better stop."

"Stop at about 90," said he. "That will give me all I find I need for this Coal business. I don't want to be bothered with hunting up an investment."

I shook my head. "I must put it up to within a point or two of par," I declared. "In my public letter I've been saying it would go above 95, and I never deceive my public."

He smiled—my notion of honesty always amused him. "As you please," he said, with a shrug. Then I saw a serious look—just a fleeting flash of warning—behind his smiling mask; and he added carelessly: "Be careful about your own personal play. I doubt if Textile can be put any higher."

It must have been my mood that prevented those words from making the impression on me they should have made. Instead of appreciating at once and at its full value this characteristic and amazingly friendly signal of caution, I showed how stupidly inattentive I was by saying: "Something doing? Something new?"

But he had already gone further than his notion of friendship warranted. So he replied: "Oh, no. Simply that everything's uncertain nowadays."

My mind had been all this time on those Manasquale mining properties. I now said: "Has Roebuck told you that I had to buy those mines on my own account?"

A TALE OF A DOG THAT "CAME BACK."

Rahway, Oct. 1.—A small son of Mr. and Mrs. Josephus Jones, residing in the suburbs of this city, was bitten by his father's pet dog Monday. Mrs. Jones, fearing the child might die if the dog developed hydrophobia, gave her husband no rest until he promised to kill the canine. Purchasing a large piece of meat he took it to his druggist and asked him to fill it with strychine. Taking the prepared "supper" home, Mr. Jones, late at night, fed it to the dog, shook hands with the faithful old friend, bade him "good-bye," wished him a safe journey, then, with tears in his eyes, went into the house and to bed. Nearly all night he thought or dreamed about the dog and wondered if strychine poisoning was painful. Early yesterday morning Mr. Jones got up, went down cellar for a shovel, barked his limbs on a coal scuttle and went out to bury the dog. The doggie met him joyfully at the gate and seemed thankful for his supper. Mr. Jones was so glad to find Carlo alive that he fed him three pounds of beeksteak, and has since "remembered" the druggist.

NEW LAW IN EFFECT.

No Railroading Aliens to Be Naturalized.

Perth Amboy, Oct. 1.—There is much disappointment among the politicians here yesterday, owing to the new naturalization law. It has been the custom among the ward workers of both parties to round up a great number of foreigners every year, take them to New Brunswick just before election and have them naturalized.

Plans has already been laid for two or three excursions of this kind this fall, when County Clerk Conger sent word here yesterday that he had been notified by Acting Commissioner General T. H. Larned, of Washington, that the new naturalization law, which requires that ninety days' notice be given of application for second papers, instead of fourteen, as formerly, went into effect this fall, and that the limit expired last night. The County Clerk served notice that no papers would be issued to any foreigner after last night.

Awarded $25,000 Damages.

Camden, Oct. 1.—A jury in the Circuit Court here yesterday gave one of the largest verdicts ever given in the State for personal injuries when Jesse N. Wickizer, of Meshoppen, Pa., was awarded $25,000 damages against the Atlantic City Railroad Company. Wickizer brought suit for injuries received last April while building a bridge over the Tuckahoe River in Cape May county. The plaintiff was at work when a gravel train dashed on the bridge and struck a guy wire which knocked Wickizer from a girder to the ground, fracturing his skull and injuring him so that he lay for weeks in a hospital.

New York, Oct. 1.—Whether Sir Thomas Lipton, who arrived Saturday night on the steamer Celtic from Liverpool, will issue a fourth challenge for the America's cup, will depend upon the development of his present visit to the United States. This much Sir Thomas announced when questioned at quarantine Sir Thomas said: "I shall stop a short time in New York, but must be in Chicago next Wednesday. From there I shall go to Milwaukee. MORGAN SURPRISES HIS FELLOW GOLFERS

HIS WORK SATURDAY PUTS HIM IN 2D PLACE FOR CUP.

The weekly competition for the Golf Committee cup furnished another surprise on Saturday, when C. B. Morgan, by winning first honors and three points, was tied with Arthur Murphy for second place, each now having 10½ points, while Charles A. Stover holds first position by the small margin of a quarter of a point. Morgan returned a net score of 74. Under some conditions his gross score of 77 would have won three points, but there were others out with low scores on Saturday.

There were many more competing for the cup, but their scores being high they did not post them. Another event decided was the September Handicap cup. Arthur Murphy was the winner, his score of 82 being the best for the day. On Saturday play will be started for the October Handicap cup, under the same conditions.

Besides the play on the course Saturday other attractive features included the dinner-dance. As usual there were many dinner parties and all remained in the evening for the dance.

In the competition for the President's and club trophies at the Park Golf Club on Saturday, Leon R. Thurlow won first honors for the handicap cup with a net score of 73, while Rev. J. O. McKelvey and Charles A. Reed finished second and third. For the scratch cup, Mr. McKelvey won first honors with a gross score of 89, Mr. Thurlow finished second and Mr. Reed third.

FLEMINGTON NINE WINS THE BALL CHAMPIONSHIP.

Defeats Somerville in a Rattling Good Game, Making Series Three to One.

Tre deciding game of the series of five between the Flemington nine and the West Ends of Somerville for the championship of Hunterdon and Somerset counties was won Saturday afternoon by Flemington, after one of the finest games of the season, by a score of 1 to 0. The West Ends were reinforced by a number of Lackawanna league players and Lou Wiltse, formerly with Baltimore in the Eastern League, but the Lackawannas were helpless before the masterly pitching of Wearner, of Garwood, who was in the box for the visitors.

Lou Wiltse pitched one of his best games, allowing Flemington only one hit, a two-bagger, in the eighth. He fanned fourteen and gave but one full pass. Flemington won three games and the West Ends one.

The score was:

A STEP TOWARD UNION

Common Council Appoints Gilbert and Woodhull as Its Consolidation Commission.

OPPOSITION DEVELOPES

Councilmen Mellick, Tyler and Ginna Object—L. B. Woolston Given Privileges of the Floor.

When Councilman Herbert Buxton, chairman of the committee on public affairs, moved that the recommendations of the report on the proposed consolidation of Plainfield and North Plainfield, drafted by the joint committee, composed of members of the Board of Trade and the two councils, be adopted at the October meeting of the Common Council, last night, and that two commissioners be appointed to confer with similar commissioners from the other bodies, there was a spirited discussion pro and con. His motion finally prevailed and Former Mayor Alexander Gilbert and School Commissioner Floyd T. Woodhull, were selected as the two commissioners to represent the city.

The above action was taken after a communication was received from Councilman Charles A. Lee, who is secretary of the committee appointed by the Borough Council, stating that that committee had appointed two commissioners, E. S. Hooley and Elston M. French, to take up the question of consolidation with others to be appointed from the Plainfield Council and the Board of Trade.

Councilman Mellick was the first one to speak on the question and he stated at the outset that while he is deeply interested in the proposed action of uniting the city and borough that he would vote against the motion offered by Mr. Buxton. In the first place he said that he thought the two places should not be consolidated without a change of the county lines and furthermore he was informed by one of the men named as commissioners from the borough that he had not been informed of his appointment and was not in favor of consolidation as proposed at present.

Mr. Mellick went on to say that he thought the question should be freely discussed, that North Plainfield should make all the overtures if a union is desired, and can be effected on an equal basis. He admitted that the proposition looked attractive, but that financial questions of great importance are involved requiring mature consideration. He thought the people should know more about the matter and that the governing bodies should be thoroughly acquainted with the will of the people.

Mr. Buxton explained that it was not North Plainfield that brought up the question of consolidation; but the Board of Trade, then at the request of the board the Common Council and the Borough Council each appointed committees to meet with a similar committee from the board, and the committee on public affairs was appointed to represent the city, while the Borough Council appointed a similar committee from among its members. Mr. Buxton expressed the opinion that Plainfield should not look to the borough until a commission is appointed to consider the question.

Mr. Tyler said that he would vote against the appointment of commissioners. He could not see what advantage there would be in the appointment of commissioners, until it could be shown what was to be gained by the consolidation as proposed now. He did not think it would be right to ask busy men to devote their time to a consideration of so imporant a question unless the details were in such shape as to be considered in a favorable light. He thought the present conditions were unfortunate but that it would be unwise to appoint a commission just now.

Former Councilman L. B. Woolston, of the borough, who was in the lobby, asked for the privileges of the floor, and spoke earnestly in favor of the appointment of commissioners, adding that possibly the members did not realize how much time and effort had already been expended on the proposed consolidation.

Councilman Montgomery also urged the appointment of commissioners. He said that there are a sufficient number of public spirited citizens who are willing to give their time to the consideration of the subject and he believed that consolidation would be a good thing.

Mr. Buxton then moved that the resolution offered by him be adopted. Councilmen Teller, Frank Randolph, Randolph, Montgomery and Hibbard voted in favor of the resolution, while Councilmen Ginna, Mellick and Tyler voted in the negative.

Another resolution by Mr. Buxton providing that Alex Gilbert and Floyd T. Woodhull be appointed commissioners, was unanimously adopted, and Clerk MacMurray was instructed to notify the appointees of the action taken.

CITY SCHOOL BOARD HAS ROUTINE SESSION

ONLY MATTERS OF MINOR IMPORTANCE CONSIDERED AT MEETING.

The city Board of Education transacted little beyond routine business at its regular monthly meeting last night. Notice was received that part of the city flag pole that was taken down recently had been donated the board and that it is in condition to be erected. It will be placed on the school grounds on the Arlington avenue side.

O. T. Waring informed the board that bicycle sheds for the use of the High School pupils could be erected on his property, providing they were placed back of his automobile house. In altering the plans for the new school so that it would come within the appropriation, the bicycle room was left out and as yet the pupils have no accommodations for their wheels. Mr. Waring's offer was acknowledged but no definite action was taken.

On motion of Mr. Abbott, $2,000 was order borrowed in anticipation of taxes and the appointment of Miss M. Rachael Best as cooking teacher was confirmed. She is a graduate of the Pratt Institute and has been teaching in Brooklyn. Superintendent Maxson announced the school terms for the coming year as follows:

Fall term ends Friday, December 21; winter term begins Monday, January 7, 1907; winter term ends Friday, March 29; spring term begins Monday, April 8; spring term ends Thursday, June 20; fall term begins Tuesday, September 10; fall term ends Friday, December 20; winter term begins January 6, 1908.

MEETING OF ELIZABETH PRESBYTERY OPENS

The seventy-fifth stated meeting of the Presbytery of Elizabeth opened at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church this morning shortly after 10 o'clock. All the local pastors, Rev. Dr. J. S. Purely routine matters were disposed of before the noon adjournment. Rev. Dr. W. I. Stearns, of Westfield, was the moderator, and preached the Presbyterial sermon. Most of the session was taken up with the reception of the minutes and of the synodical mission report.

VOTE TO VACATE STREET

Another Unopened Thoroughfare to be Abandoned By the City.

TYLER ALONE OBJECTS

Third Ward Member Says He Doesn't Believe In Giving Away Rights—Petition of Neighbors.

When Chairman Gloak, of the street committee, at last night's meeting of the Common Council, introduced an ordinance and filed a map which provides for the vacating of Dunham street, a strip of land near the Unitarian church, which has never been opened, the project was stubbornly opposed by Mr. Tyler, who stated that in his opinion there had been too much of that kind of work this year. Mr. Tyler wanted to know what the city is getting for giving away these rights which may some day be very valuable, and which the city would probably have to pay for dearly.

The member from the Third ward said that the fact that the question does not happen to be a live one, doesn't alter the situation, and if these rights are of value to property-owners they are certainly equally as valuable to the city. He said that unless it could be demonstrated to him that there is a good sound reason for giving away the land, he would oppose the action and vote against the proposed ordinance. He further stated that if an individual owned a similar strip of land and some one wanted to acquire it, there would have to be a consideration or there would be no change of ownership.

Mr. Montgomery arose to explain the situation as he understood it. He said that he had been informed that adjoining property-owners were planning to build and that Mrs. J. R. Truell, of Truell Inn, contemplated an addition to that building, but that she was not willing to make a move as long as there is any doubt as to the use of the strip of land in question. The petition to vacate the street was made by Mrs. J. R. Truell, Miss Elvira Kenyon and the Unitarian church, each one owning adjoining property.

Mr. Tyler seemed to be satisfied with the explanation, although he still believed that the Common Council should have some assurance that the improvements are to be made before a right is given. He said that while in this particular instance the vacating of the street might not make much difference, he was opposed to the indiscrimination giving away of such rights.

Mr. Gloak said he was sorry that he was not better informed on the subject, but Mr. Daniel, who was not present, had had the subject in hand and he was willing to stand by the latter's judgment. At the request of Councilman Charles Randolph, Street Commissioner Gavett made a few remarks, explaining that he understood that there was a flaw in the title to the strip of land in question, the street had never been opened and probably never would be.

Mr. Tyler moved to refer the whole matter back to the street committee for further consideration, but Mr. Gloak objected to this and upon his motion the ordinance was adopted on first and second readings and ordered advertised, Mr. Tyler alone voting no. Monday night, November 5, was the time fixed for a public hearing before final adoption of the ordinance.

The strip of land proposed to be vacated and known as Dunham street, extends between West Seventh and West Eighth streets. It was set apart as a street in 1853, but during that time there was never any effort made to open the land as a thoroughfare and it is said that there appears to be no need for such action now.

THUM GETTING BETTER; CASE STILL A MYSTERY.

Man Found Unconscious on Greenbrook Road in the Hospital Yet.

Otto Thum, aged forty-two years, employed as a truckman for John Geary at South Plainfield, is still at Muhlenberg Hospital. He was found in an unconscious condition at Greenbrook road and West End avenue Sunday night by Louis Miller. Miller reported the case to Chief Marshal Weiss, of the borough. The man was removed to the hospital, where he soon regained consciousness and is now reported to be improving.

Thum has no idea how he happened to be at the point where he was found, neither can he give any account as to how he became unconscious. There is not the slightest mark on the man's body to indicate violence or that he was struck by any one. Since entering the hospital he has been perfectly rational and he will probably be discharged soon.

HITCH OVER PAY RAISE

Petition of City Employees May Not Come Up For Voters Approval.

COUNCIL MAY ACT

Mr. Tyler's Argument Results in the Matter Being Laid Over Until Adjourned Meeting.

It is doubtful whether the question of raising the salaries of the regular firemen and policemen, as proposed, under the provisions of a Legislative enactment, will be voted upon by the people at the election to be held November 6.

There was evidently a little misunderstanding it seems as to the provisions of the enactment, for it appears to be the impression that if the voters decided in favor of an increase that it would be optional with the city fathers to put the act in force here. This is not the case, according to Mr. Tyler, who explained at the Common Council meeting last night that if the vote was in favor of the increase, it would be compulsory with that body to give the raise and that by so doing their action would take the matter forever out of the hands of that body.

The remarks of Mr. Tyler followed the presentation of a resolution by Mr. Mellick, chairman of the fire committee, that provision be made to submit to the voters at he election to be held on November the question whether they favored an increase of pay to the regular members of the fire department, by having the question "for" or "against" an increase of pay to fire department employers printed on the ballots.

Mr. Tyler stated that he was away when the question was first presented. He did not want to be understood as being opposed to an effort to increase the pay of the firemen or policemen, but he said that the adoption of the act of the Legislature in the particular case under discussion would mean that the pay shall be permanent and that it would take the matter out of the hands of the Common Council for all time.

It was not like the question of voting for a municipal water works, Mr. Tyler said, but a pure matter of administrative policy. It would take the power out of the hands of the Common Council, preventing any future increase or decrease in salaries. Mr. Tyler argued that the members have the same power to fix salaries as the Legislative enactment provides, and it seemed to him that the act is a joker put up for the occasion.

Continuing Mr. Tyler said: "Last year I was pretty close to the police department and I know that there existed a jealousy between the police and the firemen as to salaries. It is important that he police committee through the Common Council regulate these salaries. We labored a long time over the salary question last year and the Chief asked for the present arrangement of salaries in the police department. He favored it. I speak of this to show the administrative policy. The Legislative act gives us nothing we cannot do now, whereas its adoption here takes away the power of the Common Council and adopts one rigid rule. While I am not opposed to an increase in pay, I do think it would be most unfortunate to take advantage of the act."

Mr. Mellick in reply said that he was sorry that Mr. Tyler was not present when the question was first introduced, for he agreed with a great deal that he had said on the subject. Personally he favored the increase in salaries for the police and firemen. In the case of the firemen it would mean a total annual increase of $2,100 in the pay roll. Mr. Mellick said that if he was assured that the Common Council would favor the increase he would vote against the resolution to put the question before the people.

Councilman Frank Randolph, chairman of the police committee, was of the opinion that by allowing the people to vote on the question it would relieve the members of any responsibility for if the scheme should be adopted it would not commit the members to grant the increase if they thought it unwise.

When Mr. Tyler assured Mr. Randolph that such was not the case, that if the question was adopted the Common Council would be compelled to give the increase, it was decided to take a recess to further consider the matter. The recess was taken after Mr. Mellick withdrew his resolution, which was still before the Common Council for a vote.

During recess the members thought best, under the circumstances, to lay the matter over for further consultation with the corporation counsel, and Mr. Randolph, chairman of the police committee, stated, when the members reconvened that he had intended offering a similar resolution

AGAIN POSTPONE "M. O."

Councilmanic Committee in Lengthy Report States Why Matter Should be Deferred.

INVESTIGATION FIRST

Preferable to Vote On Scheme at Special Election When All the Facts Are Known.

Keeping the promise he made several days ago, Councilman Herbert Buxton, chairman of the committee on public affairs, presented a report at the October meeting of the Common Council, last night, regarding the question of municipal ownership of the water supply. The report, which was signed by all the members of the committee, except Mr. Daniel, who was not present, is as follows:

"The Public Affairs Committee beg to report that a conference of the Council was held during last week, at which time the question of controlling Plainfield's water supply was discussed at length. It must be remembered that in the early spring, by a majority vote of the members of the Council, it was decided that at that time no action should be taken toward a special election on the subject, the contention being that in all probability the opportunity for the voters of Plainfield to express their opinion as to whether Plainfield should or should not own its own water supply would be given at the fall election to be held in November. Since the date of this meeting it is more clearly understood by the members of this committee that if the election should be in favor of adopting the principles of the act, the city would thereupon immediately have power to purchase the present water works, or to condemn the present water works, or to build its own water works, and would also have power to borrow for any such purpose not exceeding $1,500,000 and to issue bonds therefor not exceeding that amount bearing interest at not exceeding five per centum per annum.

"Attention has been called to this point in an opinion recently given by Corporation Counsel Craig A. Marsh, and this committee concludes that it is unwise to place in the control of the Common Council for an unlimited period such power, which does not expire with this Council or next year's Council, but continues operative forever.

"In view of this fact, the committee will not ask for the vote of the people without first being in a position to submit facts and figures such as to enable a voter to intelligently decide as to whether in his judgment Plainfield should or should not own its water supply. The Public Affairs Committee believe that opportunity to vote on this question should not be afforded the citizens until such information can be and is procured, therefore no effort will be made as far as the committee is concerned to place the matter before the people at the coming election.

"Upon inquiry it is learned that a complete vote is not easily obtained on a special question when voted upon at a regular election. When this question was voted upon at the last election, many people, particularly those voting at polling places where the voting machine was used, forgot to cast their vote, therefore a more thorough expression of the people's will can be obtained at a special election.

"Within the next thirty days a decision will be reached by the committee as to its proposed action regarding this water question. At the present time there is every reason to believe that a general committee will be appointed consisting of legal advisers, engineering experts, and citizens, to make a thorough investigation into the entire question in order that the taxpayers of Plainfield may know just what the proposition of municipal ownership of the water supply will mean. The Common Council will be asked to appropriate a sufficient sum to meet the cost of such an investigation. This committee asks that the members of the Council and the citizens of Plainfield be patient, and believe that in due time energetic work will be accomplished, with the end in view that the taxpayers of our city will accept with satisfaction the efforts of the Common Council in relation to the municipal ownership of Plainfield's water supply."

Farewell Reception to James Miller.

A farewell reception was given last night in honor of James Miller, at the home of his sister, Mrs. Robert Yetman. The affair was arranged by Mr. and Mrs. James Smith and there were forty persons present. The evening was spent in playing games, music and dancing, after which refreshments were served. Mr. Miller left this morning for Howard University, at Washington.

OPERATIC CLUB PLANS 2 OPERAS; 2 CONCERTS

OFFICERS RE-ELECTED—A CHORUS OF SIXTY VOICES.

The first fall meeting of the Plainfield Operatic Club was held at the Camera Club rooms, last night, and judging by the large attendance and enthusiasm shown, the coming season will be a successful one. The club has lost some members who have moved from the city, but others were elected in their place and there is every assurance of having the full chorus of sixty voices.

A noticeable change decided upon was to give two operas and two concerts during the season. The first opera will be "The Chimes of Normandy," to be given on some date during the week beginning February 14. The other opera will be chosen later. One concert will be given this year before the first opera, and the second concert will be given between the first and second opera. An attractive and varied programme of selections will be rendered at the concerts. It was also decided to give the operas at the New Plainfield theatre and the concerts wherever the executive committee thought best.

The same officers will govern the club this season and the same rules will apply to the organization. Wm. Holmes will have full charge of the training of the chorus and soloists and for the rendition of the operas and concerts. The club will meet every Monday night for the present at the Camera Club rooms. The first rehearsal last night of "The Chimes of Normandy" was very satisfactory.

BOYS' CLUB OPENS UP FOR NEW SEASON

CLASS WORK SOON TO BEGIN UNDER NEW TEACHER.

The Boys' Club on Sycamore street was opened last night for enrollment. In the neighborhood of thirty names were registered, and a day or two will probably see the lists closed. It is hoped to accommodate a few more boys this year than were admitted last season.

Classes in mechanical drawing, molding and manual training will be organized and started at work just as soon as things can be set to rights. W. H. Butts will be in charge of the mechanical drawing, C. W. Bostwick will teach manual training and John F. Gray will be the instructor in molding.

The general supervision of the club will be invested in Secretary Kenneth Robbie, of the Y. M. C. A. Social evenings, free from classwork and most of the discipline, will be enjoyed by members on Saturdays. H. W. Barrows, of the Y. M. C. A. boys' department, will be in charge of them.

Later in the season, arrangements will be made for a public exhibition of the work of the club members. Some of the boys have been trained for two or three seasons and their work will be of an advanced character this season.

NEWARK FIRM GETS STORM SEWER CONTRACT.

Harrison Construction Co. to Build to Build Extension to Richmond Street Sewer.

The Harrison Construction Company, of Newark, was awarded the contract for building the proposed further extension to the Richmond street storm sewer, running from Richmond street to East Firth street and North avenue, at the October meeting of the Common Council, last night. The contract price is about $2,500. There was only one other bid, that of W. B. Travell, of this city, a brother of Ira W. Travell, principal of the Plainfield High School.

Through an oversight in not placing advertisements in the local papers, Chairman Gloak, of the street committee, was obliged to postpone to receiving of bids for the proposed southside sanitary sewer. The advertisements were placed in New York trade journals, but the ordinance requires that they shall be inserted in the local newspapers, which was overlooked. On motion by Mr. Gloak the five bids received were returned to the bidders with the explanation as stated. The members took an adjournment to Monday night, October 22, at which time another attempt will be made to receive bids.

Patternmakers to Gather.

The local division of Branch A, Association of Patternmakers, will hold a smoker and general gathering in this city on October 20. Delegations will be in attendance from New York, Easton, Philadelphia, Yonkers and Newark. The details of the affair are being arranged by a committee.

KILLED BENEATH WAGON

Falling Under the Wheels Peter C. Blimm Has His Life Crushed Out.

AT SMALLEY QUARRY

Team Afterward Ran Down Hill and Landed in Confused Heap With Plucky Italian Beneath.

Falling beneath a heavy wagon loaded with stone, the combined weight aggregating four tons, Peter C. Blimm, of Somerset street, was instantly killed at Smalley's quarry in the "Notch," yesterday afternoon. One wheel of the vehicle passed directly over his head, crushing it like an egg shell, while another went over the chest, though life was extinct before the second reached him. He was picked up within a few minutes after the accident happened but it was seen that medical attention was not needed.

Blimm had been working for John C. Cooper and went to the quarry shortly before 3 o'clock in the afternoon for a load of stone to be used in the construction of A. G. Hooley's barn on Rockview avenue. He secured what he wanted and started down the decline from the quarry proper to the weighing scales, the descent at this point being very steep. It is the custom to have two men on all wagons, one to do the driving and the other to hold a brake. The foreman placed Frank Gonzetti, an Italian, on Blimm's vehicle for this purpose, and to all appearances they were all right as they moved away.

They had gone but a short distance when Blimm's seat, a spring-board affair placed loosely on top of the stones, slipped forward and he was seen to fall beneath the vehicle. Gonzetti was standing on the pole and narrowly escaped being knocked from his perch, the drop was so sudden. The horses became frightened and with the reins dangling at their heels, they started on a mad run, the Italian pluckily sticking to his post and doing everything possible to lock the wheels.

A team of horses belonging to the quarry and in charge of Charles Johnson were on the weighing scales as the runaways came plunging down. Johnson leaped ou of harm's way but his cart was struck, the impact throwing the Cooper rig over an embankment ten feet high. Horses, wagon and stone landed in a confused heap with Gonzetti beneath, but to the great surprise of the onlookers he emerged without a scratch. The animals were quickly cleared from the wreckage and it was found that they had also escaped.

Johnson and other quarry men hurried back to where Blimm had fallen and they saw at a glance that he was beyond aid. Mayor Smalley was one of the first to reach the scene and at his instruction the proper authorities were notified in order have the body removed. He also conducted a strict investigation and found that the accident was due to no carelessness on the part of the employees, every precaution having been taken to get the wagon down safely. The slipping of the seat was no doubt due to the steepness of the hill.

Blimm was thirty-five years old, unmarried, and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Blimm, the former the well-known hotel proprietor. He had been a resident of Plainfield practically all his life and was widely known in the city and borough. He is survived by three brothers, Jacob C., Jacob, Jr., and Harry, and two sisters, Mrs. Edward Clark and Miss Katherine Blimm.

The funeral will be held from the parents' home tomorrow afternoon at 2:30.

PRIEST ANSWERS EPISCOPAL RECTOR

FATHER O'NEILL, OF NEWARK, PUBLISHES OPEN LETTER TO REV. WASSON.

The Rev. F. C. O'Neill, of the Roman Catholic church of the Blessed Sacrament, of Newark, has published a long open letter attacking the Rev. E. A. Wasson, of St. Stephen's Episcopal church, who, in the parish leaflet, "The Crown," has expressed extremely liberal views on saloons which he regards as "poor men's clubs." Father O'Neill says in part:

"You, no doubt, for a few days past have been enjoying a pipe dream. In the secrecy of your own heart, doubtless, you are imagining that the robust manhood and the chested, sturdy armed mechanic and the toilers of the town are lauding you. Chase away the dream; the honest toiler is not lauding you. The corpulent, deep-souled rum distiller is applauding you. The blear-eyed grog-shop keeper classes you with the 'all rights.' The leprous and vicious concert hall keeper will blend your name with his shouts of glee. The devil himself, whose cause you are abetting by fostering the divekeeper's interest, would now hand you out a red-hot diploma, but your time is not yet come, but soon.

"You mop your brow, Mr. Wasson. You should, for remorse bites like a scorpion when it does bite.

"I may be elder, I may be younger than you; I don't know. I'm thirty-five, deep-chested and got a good right. I'd like to be your bishop for the fleeting space of five minutes. I presume he has authority over you.

"I don't know much—only a few things—about your ontecedents, but I do know this—that a vigorous course in logical thinking, and a high school course in English composition would do you more good than the cheap notoriety which you are getting now lill do you.

"You are not cut out for the ministry. Mr. Wasson, give it up. I have never met you, sir, but I hear you are still a young man. 'Tis never too late to repent. Be a Peter rather than a Judas. Move. Move. Moving day is here. Go into some distant city with your pack, and your bitter recollections tier together. Seek some sequestered tree, sit down under its kindly shade and think it all over."

The collectors of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church are requested to make their collections this week and hand the same to Miss Emily Tracy, treasurer.

Two memorial windows were dedicated at Grace church Sunday morning. One was the gift of the Misses Mary, Isabel and Florence Tweedy and Mrs. Dexter C. Tiffany, of Crescent avenue, in memory of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Burr Tweedy, their brothers, Charles and Oliver Lord Tweedy, and their sister, Maria Louisa Tiffany. It consists of four lights, the two center ones representing angels, while the two side lights are architectural in design. The other window is in the nave of the church and has been erected by members of Grace church guild in memory of Mrs. Caroline F. Stover, who, for seventeen years, was treasurer of the guild. Both windows are from the Tiffany studios in New York. Rev. E. Vicar Stevenson, rector, conducted the dedicatory services, assisted by Rev. E. M. Rodman, rector-emeritus and the Rev. Dr. J. H. Egar, of North Plainfield.

PERSONAL NOTES.

Dr. Melian Lafinur, who has been appointed Minister to the United States from Urugury, will arrive in this country about the middle of October.

By the will of W. Moses Willner, of Chicago, just admitted to probate, the Academy of Science in Lincoln Park is enriched $100,000 and the Art Institute is given $50,000.

Otto Hilgard Tittman, of the American coast and geodetic survey, after careful study, announces that the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans and the Gulf of Mexico are at the same level.

James H. Higgins, known as the "boy Mayor of Pawtucket, R. I.," has announced his candidacy for Governor of his State. He is not quite 30 years old and has twice been elected Mayor of Pawtucket.

Herr Dernburg, the Berlin business man whom Emperor William has appointed head of the German colonial office in place of Prince Ernst Hohenlohe-Langerberg, started his career as a clerk and rose to be a bank official with a salary of $62,500 a year.

St. Deiniol's library at Hawarden is to be in full working order next month. According to the scheme of its founder, the late W. E. Gladstone, who placed his collection of books in the hands of trustees for the effective promotion of divine learning, the institution is to be open to reverent students of every class.

Hon. Peter M. Neal, Lynn, Massachusetts' famous war Mayor, and one of her most distinguished and venerable citizens, has just celebrated his 94th birthday with a celebration. Among those present were John W. Hutchinson, "the Bard of High Rock," who entertained the company with several of his famous war songs.

James J. Hill, the railroad magnate, has three sons in the same business. James N., the eldest, is vice president of the Northern Pacific; Louis W. is the first vice president of the Great Northern, and Walter H. is right-of-way agent for a new line between Sioux City and Omaha. It is generally understood that Louis will be his father's successor in the railroad world.

TRICK WITH NUMBERS.

This is a good trick, as it seems like a quite remarkable thing to be able to do when really nothing could be simpler; that is, when you know how. There are several ways of doing it.

Ask a girl to think of some number, and then tell her to double it. Tell her to multiply the sum by five and then to tell you the product, and you will tell her the number thought of in the beginning. This product will of course be so much larger than the number started with that she will not hesitate to tell you her result. If you take off the last figure of the product, which will always be a cipher, you will have the number thought of in the beginning.

For instance, suppose she started with the number 17. Doubling it would give 34, and multiplying it by five would give 170. Striking off the cipher you will have 17, the number thought of in the beginning.

28th New Jersey's Reunion.

New Brunswick, Oct. 2.—Detective John Gregory, of Newark, will preside at the annual reunion of the Twenty-eighth New Jersey Vouunteers, which will be held in this city Thursday. The Boggs-Janeway Post and the Women's Relief Corps, of this city, are making arrangements to entertain the large number of delegates who are expected. The sessions will be held in G. A. R. hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Newhall, of East Seventh street, are home from Littleton, N. H.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

In spite of the great prominence lately given to Russian affairs by the press to the average American the interior workings of their mighty but degenerate empire is a sealed book. Owing to the heavy penalties enforced by the Government for the transportation of uncensored news, but few stories of Russian cruelty pass the frontiers. For this reason perhaps and owing to the mysterious romance always associated with them, the plays dealing with Russian life are always successful. "For Her Sake," which will be seen here for the first time at the New Plainfield theatre tomorrow night, is in many respects the best reflex of Muscovite life and customs yet produced. Many of the stirring incidents almost incredible in their realism, are founded on actual fact. The prototypes of Prince Vladimir, Olga and the cruel Princess Wallendorf, actually exist, while officers with the brutal instincts of the police spy Gregorovich, are but too common in the dominion of the Czar. The hideous sulphur mines of Kara, where men are shackled like beasts to the cars that bring the product to the mouth of the mine, where the light of day is never seen and where death is welcomed as a friend—have long been the horror of the Empire. The play deals briefly with Nihilism and provides an object lesson in its pictures of its heroism and cowardice.

The play "When Knighthood Was in Flower" affords great opportunity for lavishness in scenery, settings, properties and costumes, and every advantage of the many openings along this line has been taken by Ernest Shipman, by whom the play is being produced this season, with the result that it is one of the most gorgeously equipped in the country. From the standpoint of scenic investiture alone it is well worth seeing, but when the company producing it is taken into consideration and thought over, he who misses an opportunity of seeing it must needs have very urgent business to attend to on the night of its presentation. It will be at the New Plainfield theatre next Friday night.

Patriots, soldiers, lovers, sentimentalists, jolly fellows, romantic maidens and folks of every kind and character who go to make up a community that appreciates the tonic and tickles combined in a good play, and recognizes the prime necessity for intervals of rest and recreation, promise to be well represented at the New Plainfield theatre next Saturday afternoon and night, when "The Shadow Behind the Throne" has its first representation here. As the saying goes, it is not the kind of a play that had to be first "tried on the dog," and its authors and producers, confident in the courage born of genuine effort and complete accessories, gave its initial presentation on the stage of Greater New York, and challenged metropolitan criticism from the start. And from the start it won out, being enthusiastically accepted as a melodramatic revelation in all the essentials of a play of its kind. Continuous and unprecedented curtain calls rewarded its powerful originality and the unusual strength of its cast. As it was there, so will it be here.

Seekers after real amusement will be more than gratified at the announcement of the appearance of Arthur Pryor, the famous young American bandmaster and his unapproachable band of fifty instrumentalists at the New Plainfield theatre next Monday night. The reputation of Pryor and his band has preceded him and music lovers are on the qui vive for the important event. In addition to one of his deservedly celebrated concerts, Mr. Pryor will present his latest novelty, "The Triumph of Old Glory," a huge, military musical spectacle, telling of the innumerable achievements recorded under the shadow of the Stars and Stripes and which have glorified that standard to all real Americans. "The Triumph of Old Glory" is told in melody and pictures and includes numerous tableaux, participated in by upwards of one hundred people. The concert portion of the programme is made the more interesting by Pryor's humorous musical paraphrases on popular melodies, including "Mother, Pin a Rose On Me," "If the Folks at Home Could Only See Me Now, I Wonder What They'd Say?" "The Whistler and His Dog," "The Baby Parade," etc., marking an epoch in entertainments of this class, hitherto so sadly lacking. The Pryor organization has just concluded a four weeks' engagement at Willow Grove Park, Philadelphia, and a ten weeks' engagement at Asbury Park, in each place scoring a tremendous success. At each city, Mr. Pryor was made the recipient of magnificent diamond trophies, from his admirers.

Manager Counihan takes pleasure in announcing that he has secured Andrew Mack and his company of forty players as the attraction for the New Plainfield theatre next Tuesday night, when Mr. Mack will present Dion Boucicault's greatest of all Irish comedy dramas, "Arrah-na-Pogue." Mr. Mack will be seen as Shaun, the Post, a part which gives him ample opportunity to again bring forth his sterling quality as America's leading Irish comedian and sweet singer. His manager, James H. Decker, has furnished him with a company of forty leading players, dancers and singers. Mr. Mack will tour this country until April, when he will return to Australia, where he played twenty-five weeks to record-breaking business and made one of the greatest personal successes ever known in that country. His tour abroad will take up the most part of two years, therefore this will probably be his last visit here for three years.

Modjeska, in one of her three greatest successes, "Macbeth," "Mary Stuart" and "Camille," will be given a testimonial at the New Plainfield theatre on October 15, the like of which has never before been seen in this city. Undoubtedly it will be, on a smaller scale of course, comparable to the testimonial extended her last spring at the Metropolitan Opera House, New York, under the patronage of Ignace Jan Paderewski, Mrs. Grover Cleveland and Richard Mansfield. On that occasion, more than six thousand persons, paying an aggregate of over $15,000 for the privilege, surged into the big building to do honor to the well-beloved actress, while nearly as many again clamored in vain at the doors for admittance. Nothing like this demonstration was ever before seen in the metropolis and, perhaps, never will there be its equal—until there is another Modjeska. This city, of course, cannot hope to duplicate New York's payment of gratitude, but it can do all it can—and that it most certainly will. Indications already point to the sale of every seat and all the available standing room for the Modjeska performance. If it were possible to obtain a larger theatre or hall, the management would do so. An attempt was made to extend the engagement to two or three nights in order that Modjeska could present all three of the plays in her present repertoire, "Macbeth," "Mary Stuart" and "Camille," and to give all who wish to say goodbye to her the opportunity to do so. But other cities want this privilege as much as this one does, and cancellation of existing contracts were therefore impossible. Some have been living in the hope that this may not be Modjeska's real farewell after all, rather only the first of a series after the manner of many actresses and singers, but this is a vain hope. It can be said positively that Modjeska will never play here again.

O. F. C. Going Slowly.

The Orange Field Club eleven will not open its schedule for two weeks. The men are practicing hard, and when their game is shown it will be a surpriser.

One of the important rentals made this fall in Plainfield is that of the property owned and occupied by Mrs. Clara A. Stelle, No. 981 Central avenue, known as the "Stelle Homestead," to C. F. Wildey, of New York. He has been living in Morristown, but will now make Plainfield his home.

Holly, of this city; 32 Myrtle avenue rented to George A. Randel, formerly of Truell Court; 937 Union avenue rented to E. I. The handsome property owned by P. V. R. VanWyck, corner Plainfield and Stelle avenues, has been rented by T. W. Bakewell, a prominent New York lawyer. H. L. De Forest, formerly residing in Wisconsin, has rented the property No. 1038 Park avenue. Wm. G. Osgoodby, a New York lawyer, has rented Miss Aberethy's house corner Grant avenue and West Eighth street.

By Tom Muir.

Included in the list of high class attractions that Manager Counihan has booked for this month at the New Plainfield theatre are the following: October 5, When Knighthood Was in Flower;" 6, "The Shadow Behind the Throne;" 8, Arthur Pryor's band of fifty pieces and "The Triumph of Old Glory;" 9, Andrew Mack; 11, "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," with Madge Carr Cook and the entire New York cast; 13, Ezra Kendall in his new play, "Swell Elegant Jones;" 15, Mme. Modjeska in a play to be selected; 16, George Primrose's minstrels (return); 17, "Kerry Gow;" 18, "The Rollicking Girl" (return); 20, Viola Allen; 25, "Way Down East;" 27, "The Red Feather," with Cheridah Simpson; 29, "The Harvard Girl."

Owing to a change in the route Nat Wills, appearance in Plainfield this season has been put over from October 12 until some time during April. He is appearing in a new musical comedy, "A Lucky Dog."

Miss Ices Maynard, who appeared in the cast of "The Rocky Road to Dublin" when it was presented here Saturday, is the sister of Postoffice Inspector Mehary, who is well known locally and who is also brother-in-law to Manager Counihan.

Geo. M. Cohan's latest piece, "Popularity," was presented in New York, last night, for the first time, at Wallack's theatre. It was witnessed by a party of Plainfielders who agree with the critics in this morning's papers that it adds another success to the credit of the energetic young actor-manager-author's credit. It is booked to appear at the New Plainfield soon after the holidays.

Charles Klein, author of "The Lion and the Mouse," has entered into a contract with Klaw & Erlanger to write a play for them by January 1. The theme is a novel one, and, it is believed, will prove to be of popular interest. The managers expect to present the piece at the Nw Amsterdam theatre, New York.

to the one presented by Mr. Mellick, on behalf of the policemen, but that after the consideration of the matter he would agree to having it laid over until more information was secured.

The law requires that the matter must be decided at least thirteen days before the general election and provided the Common Council took favorable action at the adjourned meeting to be held October 22, it would give but fifteen days before election day to arrange the question for a vote of the people.

THE FORUM.

Proper Home For Boy.

Editor, The Daily Press:

May I urge the city authorities, through your paper, to endeavor to send Willie James, the boy who has confessed to breaking into the King's Daughters' Baby Camp, to the George Junior Republic at Freeville, New York, instead of to the Jamesbury Reformatory?

I cannot speak too strongly of the benefits derived by boys of this class in sending them to the former institution, nor of the marvelous and lasting reformation which has taken place in many a boy's life through its influence. CONSTANT READER.

COURT OPEN TODAY; JUDGE'S ADDRESS BRIEF.

Grand Jury Told to Investigate Coal Scandal in Elizabeth.

Judge Swayze presided at the opening of the October term of the Union county courts at Elizabeth, this morning, and contrary to the usual custom the opening address was very brief. He charged the Grand Jury to investigate the alleged charges of unfair dealing between the Elizabeth Board of Education and a coal dealer, and if they could be substantiated an indictment should be found.

From present indications the term will be a very quiet one, there being no cases of any great importance. The Plainfield members of the Grand Jury are Cornelius van Harwerden, John Johnston, George Voehl and James C. Pope. Freeholder Benjamin A. King, of Clary township, was chosen foreman.

As usual at the opening of the term the court was crowded with spectators and lawyers from all parts of the county. Today was no exception to this rule, and many lawyers from this city were among those in attendance.

Mrs. Charles Snyder.

The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Snyder, wife of Charles Snyder, who died Sunday, was held at St. Mary's church this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment followed in St. Mary's cemetery. Mrs. Snyder leaves two children.

GYM CLASSES RESUME.

And the Cops Are Very, Very Sore This Morning.

For the first time since the June suspension, orderly activity marked the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium yesterday afternoon. Three of the afternoon classes started their season's work.

The Business Men opened with sixteen members, and ten others in sight. Before the winter is half over the class will probably number thirty. Leal's School turned out nine boys, but the class will number three times that when the registration is full. Twelve cops turned out, which is about the average for the season.

They were sore afflicted by the resumption of class work. Chief Kiely, sternly setting an example to his men, went through all the moves lustily. He was the sorest man in Plainfield this morning.

The High School boys will begin class work this afternoon at 3 o'clock and the boys' department will start an hour later. The young men will resume work tonight.

INTERSCHOLASTIC GAME.

N. P. H. S. and Cedarcroft Elevens to Meet In Borough Today.

The Cedarcroft school eleven will play North Plainfield High School this afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock. The game will open the season of each eleven.

Shy a few men, the Cedarcroft team has had to draft several outside youngsters for service in the game. Will Russell, Taylor Mehaffey and John Lyness will be among the Cedarcrofters, and a terrific smashing of the North Plainfield line is on the cards. The game will be played on the field next to Dr. Cooley's place.

Smith In the Toils.

Completely under the influence of German joy, Charles Smith, of nowhere in particular, was picked up by Marshal Pope in the borough last night. He is sobering up in a cell to be in shape for a hearing tonight.

—Dominick Quinn, of Elizabeth, has leased a flat in the Codington building at Park avenue and West Second street, and has taken possession.

—Syman Hirsch, the ladies' tailor, of Watchung avenue, has purchased from Charles L. Moffett, the double house on East Fourth street, directly in the rear of the property now occupied by him.

The Loyal Temperance Legion will meet tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock in the W. C. T. U. rooms, 100 Madison avenue. Boys and girls are cordially invited to be present.

COUNCILMANIC ROUTINE

Many Petitions Considered, Some Being Granted While Others Are Referred.

REPORTS ARE FILED

Building Inspector Granted Twenty-eight Permits and Street Commissioner Sixty-seven During September.

There was a great amount of detail business of more or less importance discussed at the October meeting of the Common Council last night, and the session was in consequence a lengthy one. All the members, except Councilman Daniel, were present.

George Mehl asked for permission to build an extension to his house, 137 West Second street, and on motion of Councilman Mellick the request was granted.

Assessor Charles H. Hand petitioned for permission to move a house from 1022 South avenue to 726 East Seventh street, stating that the work would obstruct the Netherwood trolley line for about one day. The matter was referred to the fire and building committee and later Mr. Mellick moved that the permission be granted, provided Mr. Hand would agree to move the house within six days and protect the city against any action or damages that might result from the work. The motion was adopted, Mr. Hand previously agreeing to the will of the members as expressed in it.

Walter L. Hetfield, Sr., informed the Council that he had paid a personal tax amounting to $3.92 twice, and asked that that amount be returned to him. The matter was referred to the proper committee.

E. M. French petitioned for four hydrants, one at George street and Leland avenue, another at George street and Summer avenue, a third at East Second street and Leland avenue and the fourth at East Second street and Summer avenue. The matter was referred to the fire committee.

At the request of Callahan and Chamberlain, who have the contract for extensions to the sewer in the East End, the Common Council granted an extension of time from September 28 to November 28 to complete the work. The contractors gave as their reason for asking for the additional time, that there is a scarcity of labor which has delayed them.

The Highland Park Realty Company which is developing a section of the East End, petitioned for sidewalks and crosswalks near the property, it being understood that the property owners will pay for the improvements. The matter was referred to the Street Committee.

A communication was received from the directors of the Jamestown Exposition asking that the city, through its Board of Trade, or some other public body, arrange to advertise the advantages of the municipality at that exposition. The matter was referred to the Public Affairs Committee.

Building Inspector Doane reported that twenty-eight permits were granted during September and thirty-one permits during August.

Street Commissioner Gavett reported that sixty-seven permits were granted between June and September.

Clerk Horace G. Adams, of the district court, reported the receipts for the past month to be $126.18, and the disbursements $3546. The report was filed.

Mayor J. F. Buckle suggested that John G. Staats be appointed a regular member of the fire department, and upon Mr. Mellick's motion the appointment was confirmed.

Mr. Ginna offered resolutions providing that $3,000 be borrowed for sewer improvements, the same to be secured by notes, and that in anticipation of the collection of taxes $14,000 be borrowed for the fire department, and $3,400 for the poor fund. The resolutions were adopted.

On a motion offered by Mr. Mellick, George Cook was granted a permission to erect a concrete block building in a vacant lot off of Elm street, near Tier's pond, to be used as a skating rink, providing the work is approved by the building inspector. The motion was adopted.

On motion offered by Mr. Hibbard an electric light was ordered placed on East Sixth street, between Richmond street and Scott avenue.

Mr. Gloak reported on several matters petitioned for at a previous meeting. Regarding the request for sewers on East Seventh street and the macadamizing of that street between Leland avenue and Terrill road, he stated that they would have to be laid over for the present as the city has not the funds to make the improvements. As to the macadamizing of Ravine road he said that would be provided for in the next ordinance for that kind of work. He also reported on the request to have crescent avenue treated with tar, stating that the use of Tarvia on East Front street is an experiment here and that a report would be received soon as to the advisability of its use. He suggested that the avenue be treated with a top coating first and this will probably be done.

Mr. Gloak offered a resolution which was adopted providing for the usual notice to property owners who have failed to lay sidewalks when requested, and now the city will do the work and charge it up against the property.

George Fritts, of Philadelphia, returned home Sunday after a week's visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Fritts, of West Fifth street.

To Have Summer Home Adjoining that of George P. Mellick.

T. J. Mumford, of West Ninth street, has purchased the old Lane farm, on Woodland avenue, adjoining the property of Councilman George P. Mellick, comprising ninety acres of fine rolling land, where he will probably locate a summer home. The development of land in that section of the city during the past few years has been remarkable.

Councilman Mellick's farm consists of seventy-three acres, while the Plainfield Country Club owns 110 acres adjoining the property of Mr. Mellick and Mr. Mumford, all of which extends from the Hillside cemetery to a point not far distant from the Oak Tree station on the Lehigh Valley Railroad. This land is naturally of a rolling and picturesque character. On a clear day, Princeton Hills, twenty-four miles away, and Staten Island Hills to the East, can be seen from Mr. Mellick's farm.

FOR THE GENTLER SEX

WOMAN WHO THINK PEOPLE ARE TALKING ABOUT THEM.

Of all egotistical creatures none equals the woman who thinks that people are always talking about her.

None of us are so important that our whole neighborhood discusses us eternally.

People have other things to take up their time. Gas bills to consider, shoes for the baby and a lot of other important affairs.

A woman who it wretched all the time on account of what her friends may think or say is certainly lacking common sense.

As wives or sweethearts these women never take a man's love, once expressed and loyally acted on, as a certainty, unless constantly repeated.

They are always pouting and bemoaning their loveless condition, getting up pathetic scenes of tender accusations or of sorrowful acceptance of coolness and desertion.

These little poses may at first have a certain charm to a man, because flattering to his vanity, but they pall on him after a time, and end by annoying and alienating him.

Thus, by their own attitudes, they bring about the catastrophe which was deprecated before it existed.

They are the sort of women one has to live with in a fool's paradise of perfection, or you are made to feel yourself an unmitigated brute.

You hurt their feelings so completely, so continually and so unconsciously, that you might as well be living in a region of steel-traps and spring-guns, and set to walk blindfolded among pitfalls and deep water holes.

You express an opinion without attaching particular importance to it, but you hurt their feelings because they do not think the same way and if you don't want them to howl like a hurricane you must retract or apologize. Of course, the worst temper always carries the day.

These are the sort of women who boast of their fine feelings, supremely unconscious that they are boasting of their little, mean natures.

The oddest part of the whole business, however, is the deep contempt which these women have for other people's patience and endurance, and how much more refined and touching they think their own puerile sensibilities.

They are the women who, though you may be overwhelmed with serious work, while they have no weightier burdens strapped to their back than their social duties, yet you must render point for point with them, keeping an exact tally with not a notch too many on their side if you wish to retain their acquaintance.

And the pitiful part of it is that women of this type cannot be made to realize their own foolishness. They cannot recognize the simple truth that supersensitiveness and whining never found happiness, and that they certainly will never help to keep it.

These women should be taught to begin each day with a clean slate. And to write upon it only the things that are pleasant to remember.

They should be taught to see that they have to live but one day at a time and acknowledge to themselves that there has never yet been a day that has not ended.

They should know the great value of an enemy's criticism—the criticisms that should teach them more about themselves than would the sweetest compliment of a friend.

They should early recognize that these unpleasant remarks of times do a lot of good, and that flattery rarely does much else than mischief.

When they hear a comment that has been made about them, even if it is decidedly unpleasant, let them ask themselves:

"I wonder if there is any truth in that?"

Others know us better than we know our own minds and our weaknesses. Our folies are so often like our back coiffures; we never have really seen them and we never will.

Then they should learn to perfume the inside of their heads with beautiful, big, tender thoughts and recognize that they would have to live ten thousand lives to become so wise that they could no longer learn something from every mortal they meet.

They should notice how harshly they judge others and with what gentleness they judge themselves and their own motives.

How the angels must smile at the childishness of such women. They should make themselves see that after all this is a mighty fine, big, sweet, old world, and that all one has to do to be happy and helpful is to stir up and take notice.

They should study out how unhappy these insatiable cravings that continually require reassuring and allaying are going to make their lives.

And women who live their lives as bese they can according to the laws of conscience and common decency need never worry about the opinions of her neighbors.

WHAT THEY READ IN RIO.

That the inhabitants of Rio stay at home does not imply that the are great readers; there are four or five book stores on the Rua do Ouvidor, but except here books are not seen in shop windows, nor even in private houses. The serious student will find good material in only two of the eight libraries in the city, these are the Portuguese Society Library and the National Library. This last is a fine collection of over two hundred and fifty thousand volumes, with many manuscripts and original documents, especially rich in the historical literature of the country. The newspaper seems to supply fully the mental requirements of the dweller in Rio; he has the newspaper habit as thoroughly developed as has the New Yorker, and from morning till night he can get the latest news or opinion in any fashion he may like it. There are nine dailies in the morning and two in the afternoon, and they keep the newsboys busy crying the contents and selling them at 3½ cents. Any extraordinary event is illustrated by a photographic cut, but as a rule they do not insert pictures and almost never use cartoons, this last species of entertainment and enlightenment being still considered the function of the comic weeklies on the Punck and Puck order. The newspaper is a de facto free press, saying anything it pleases unrestrained by any censorship except by public opinion, which I am sure is swayed by the newspaper to a greater extent than is usual in Latin America. The papers are read by statesmen, street car conductors, students and peddlers, but I rarely saw one in the hands of a woman. They are thoroughly upto-date, too, in most things, but their news from us is not much more important to them than is that from Russia. Their editors are men of brains and of affairs who say what they say because they believe it.—Albert Hale, in the October Reader.

TRIFLES OF INTEREST.

Stockholm and Buda Pesth are the towns possessing the best telephonic systems in existence.

Among the Basutos, and also with the natives of the New Hebrides, hissing is a sign of applause.

A deaf and dumb person who is fairly expert at finger language can speak about forty-three words a minute.

In the navy, death volleys are the only ones fired in even numbers. All other salutes are in odd numbers.

Of all metals, uranium possesses the strongest odor. Most metals have a characteristic smell, tin in particular.

The bloodiest war on record was the American Civil War. The North lost 280,000 men and the South 520,000.

LITTLE ODDITIES.

The perfect human figure should be equal in height to ten faces.

A whole field of buckwheat blossom is often blackened during the passage of a thunderstorm.

It is estimated that nearly 4,000 acres of cedar trees are cut down annually to provide the material for lead pencils.

The earliest election of which the numbers polled have been preserved is that at Lincoln, Eng., in 1547. At this 84 "voices" were cast.

Japan is connected with the continent of Asia by a submarine bank, over which the water is nowhere more than 100 fathoms in depth.

Went to Seashore.

There was an incident which happened last summer which give some faint idea of the mystery of a theatrical manager's suite of offices. A newspaper man who had an appointment with the manager, but no time to waste over the office boy, hastily entered the reception room.

"Are you ready to go out to lunch?" he called to the manager through the transom of the private office.

"Yes," came the answer, "I'll be out in a moment."

Then the visitor turned to the office boy and said in the way of satire, "Could you tell me if your boss is in?"

"Well, really," said the boy, without any sign of emotion, "I couldn't say positively, but my impression is that he went down to the seashore about noon time."—The Outing Magazine.

An Indication.

Thingumbob—Well, I guess old Jigley is beginning to make his pile.

McJigger—What makes you think so?

Thingumbob—He's been going around lately blowing about how much happier a man is when he's poor.

A Deep Dig.

Cholly—Of course I admit I talked about myself, but they talked about trade all the time and, of course, that was worse.

Miss Peppery—You were perfectly right. It's better to talk about nothing than talk about trade.

Decidedly Novel.

Crittick—It's the finest play of the realistic school I've seen yet.

Ascum—Yes? I suppose it has a real flying-machine on the stage.

Crittick—No, but it has a real plot and a few real actors.

A Mean Trick.

"You met Miss Tawkaway through Mr. Kidder, I believe. I didn't know he was a friend of yours."

"He isn't."

"O!—er—I thought he was—"

"So did I."

And caused her heart to stir.

MEN ARE POWERLESS

To Fight Against Disease Unless They Strike at the Underlying Cause.

To treat Dandruff, and Falling Hair, with irritants or oils on which a parasitic germ will prosper, is like scooping water from the ocean to prevent the tide from rising.

You cannot accomplish a satisfactory cure without having a right understanding of the fundamental causes of the trouble.

You must kill the Dandruff Germ.

Newbro's Herpicide does this because it is specially made to do that very thing.

When the germ is removed, the hair has no choice but to resume healthy growth and beauty.

"Destroy the cause, you remove the effect."

THE DELUGE

By DAVID GRAHAM PHILLIPS, Author of "THE COST."

(COPYRIGHT 1905 by the BOBBS-MERRILL COMPANY)

"Yes," he said. He hesitated, and again he gave me a look whose meaning came to me only when it was too late. "I think, Blacklock, you'd better turn them over to me."

"I can't," I answered. "I gave my word."

"As you please," said he.

Apparently the matter didn't interest him. He began to talk of the performances of my little two-year-old Beachcomber; and after 20 minutes or so, he drifted away. "I envy you your enthusiasm," he said, pausing in my doorway. "Wherever I am, I wish I were somewhere else. Whatever I'm doing, I wish I were doing something else. Where do you get all this joy of the fight? What the devil are you fighting for?"

He didn't wait for a reply.

I thought over my situation steadily for several days. I went down to my country place. I looked everywhere among all my belongings, searching, searching, restless, impatient. At last I knew what ailed me—what the lack was that yawned so gloomily from everything I had once thought beautiful, had once found sufficient. I was in the midst of the splendid, terraced pansy beds my gardeners had just set out; I stopped short and slapped my thigh. "A woman!" I exclaimed. "That's what I need. A woman—the right sort of woman—a wife!"

IV.

A CANDIDATE FOR "RESPECTABILITY."

To handle this new business properly I must put myself in position to look the whole field over. I must get in line and in touch with "respectability." When Sam Ellersly came in for his "rations," I said: "Sam, I want you to put me up at the Travelers Club."

"The Travelers!" echoed he, with a blank look.

"The Travelers," said I. "It's about the best of the big clubs, isn't it? And it has as members most of the men I do business with and most of those I want to get into touch with."

He laughed. "It can't be done."

"Why not?" I asked.

"Oh—I don't know. You see—the fact is—well, they're a lot of old fogies up there. You don't want to bother with that push, Matt. Take my advice. Do business with them, but avoid them socially."

"I want to go in there," I insisted. "I have my own reasons. You put me up."

"I tell you, it'd be no use," he replied, in a tone that implied he wished to hear no more of the matter.

"You put me up," I repeated. "And if you do your best, I'll get in all right. I've got lots of friends there. And you've got three relatives in the committee on membership."

At this he gave me a queer, sharp glance—a little fright in it.

I laughed. "You see, I've been looking into it, Sam. I never take a jump till I've measured it."

"You'do better wait a few years, until—" he began, then stopped and turned red.

"Until what?" said I. "I want you to speak frankly."

"Well, you've got a lot of enemies—a lot of fellows who've lost money in deals you've engineered. And they'd say all sorts of things."

"I'll take care of that," said I, quite easy in mind. "Mowbray Langdon's president, isn't he? Well, he's my closest friend." I spoke quite honestly. It shows how simple-minded I was in certain ways that I had never once noted the important circumstance that this "closest friend" had never invited me to his house, or anywhere where I'd meet his up-town associates at introducing distance.

Sam looked surprised. "Oh, in that case," he said, "I'll see what can be done." But his tone was not quite cordial enough to satisfy me.

To stimulate him and to give him an earnest of what I intended to do for him, when our little social deal had been put through, I showed him how he could win $10,000 in the next three days. "And you needn't bother about putting up margins," said I, as I often had before. "I'll take care of that."

He stammered a refusal and went out; but he came back within an hour and, in a strained sort of way, accepted my tip and offer.

"That's sensible," said I. "When will you attend to the matter of the Travelers? I want to be warned so I can pull my own set of wires in concert."

"I'll let you know," he answered, hanging his head.

I didn't understand his queer actions then. Though I was an expert in finance, I hadn't yet made a study of that other game—the game of gentleman." And I didn't know how seriously the frauds and fakirs who play it take it and themselves. I attributed his confusion to a ridiculous mock modesty he had about accepting favors; it struck me as being particularly silly on this occasion, because for once he was to give as well as to take.

He didn't call for his profits, but wrote asking me to mail him the check for them. I did so, putting in the envelop with it a little jog to his memory on the club matter. I didn't see him again for nearly a month; and though I searched and sent, I couldn't get his trail. On opening day at Morris Park, I was going along the passage behind the boxes in the grand stand, on my way to the paddock. I wanted to see my horse that was about to run for the Salmagundi Sweepstakes, and to tell my jockey that I'd give him $15,000, instead of $10,000, if he won—for I had put quite a bunch down.

In one of the boxes I spied my shy friend, Sammy. He was looking better than I had ever seen him. Less heavy-eyed, less pallid and pasty, less like a man who had been shirking bed and keeping up on cocktails and cold baths. He was at the rear of the box, talking with a lady and a gentleman. As soon as I saw that lady, I knew what it was that had been hitting at the bottom of my mind and rankling there.

Luckily I was alone; ever since that lunch I had been cutting loose from the old crowd—from all its women, and from all its men except two or three real friends who were good fellows straight through, in spite of their having made the mistake of crossing the dead line between amateur "sport" and professional. I leaned over and tapped Sammy on the shoulder.

He glanced round, and when he saw me, looked as if I were a policeman who had caught him in the act.

"Howdy, Sam?" said I. "It's been so long since I've seen you that I couldn't resist the temptation to interrupt. Hope your friend'll excuse me. Howdy do, Miss Ellersly?" And I put out my hand.

She took it reluctantly. She was giving me a very unpleasant look—as if she were seeing, not somebody, but some thing she didn't care to see, or were seeing nothing at all. I liked that look; I liked the woman who had it in her to give it. She made me feel that she was difficult and therefore worth while, and that's what all we human beings are in business for—to make each other feel that we're worth while.

"Just a moment," said Sam, red as a cranberry and stuttering. And he made a motion to come out of the box and join me. At the same time Miss Anita and the other fellow began to turn away.

But I was not the man to be cheated in that fashion. I wanted to see her, and I compelled her to see it and to feel it. "Don't let me take you from your friends," said I to Sammy. "Perhaps they'd like to come with you and me down to look at my horse. I can give you a good tip—he's bound to win. I've had my boys out on the rails every morning at the trials of all the other possibilities. None of 'em's in it with Mowghli."

"Mowghli!" said the young lady—she had begun to turn toward me as soon as I spoke the magic word "tip." There may be men who can resist that word "tip" at the race track, but there never was a woman.

"Mowghli!" said Miss Ellersly. "What a quaint name!"

"My trainer gave it," said I. "I've got a second son of one of those broken-down English noblemen at the head of my stables. He's trying to get money enough together to be able to show up at Newport and take a shy at an heiress."

At this the fellow who was fourth in our party, and who had been giving me a nasty, glassy stare, got as red as was Sammy. Then I noticed that he was an Englishman, and I all but chuckled with delight. However, I said: "No offense intended," and clapped him on the shoulder with a friendly smile. "He's a good fellow, my man Monson, and knows a lot about horses."

PERSONAL NOTES.

—Brigadier General Picquart, the defender of Dreyfus, has been promoted to the rank of general of division.

—Giovanni Luchini, of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, has returned from Italy after spending three months in that country in research work.

—The Duke of the Abruzzi has asked of the Minister of Foreign Affairs permission to head the expedition which the Italian Government is organizing with the object of establishing Italy's zone of influence in Benadir.

—W. Morgan Shuster, the young Washington lawyer who has been appointed by the President a member of the Philippine ommission, is just past 29 years of age. His appointment carries with it a salary of $15,000. Mr. Shuster was formerly a stenographer in one of the departments in Washington.

—The late Robert R. Hitt had a knowledge of stenography which was of great value to him in debate. He has been known to rise with his hand full of short-hand notes of a speech just delivered to which he was about to reply, and woe to the man who accused Mr. Hit of misquoting him. He was the patron saint of the stenographers of the House.

—An unusual honor has been conferred on Charles F. Chandler, a professor of chemistry of Columbia University. Fifty years ago he received the degree of Ph. D. from the University of Gottingen. At the expiration of a half century the same university reawarded the degree of Prof. Chandler. Dr. Knapp, of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, is the only other Columbia professor who has received a like honor.

WILL SUPPORT G. O. P. TICKET.

But Morris "New Idea" Men Will Organize Permanently.

Morristown, Oct. 2.—Frederick R. Kellogg, unsuccessful candidate of the advocates of the "new idea" for Assembly, announces that the Colby followers in Morris county will not place a third ticket in the field. He says, "We shall loyally support the Republican ticket as named by the majority."

Mr. Kellogg adds that "instead of being discouraged at the result of the primaries we are, and have reason to be, greatly encouraged. In this, our first attempt, without active support, save by a very few, with but small experience in practical politics, almost entirely without funds and against a most strenuous and well-organized opposition, we have polled one-third of all the votes of Morristown and a large proportion of the total vote in her districts, where our petitions were filed.

"We shall at once take up the task of building up a permanent organization within the party, which will continue the fight for the things in politics which are clean, right and true and just, until the time—which certainly will come—when they shall prevail."

Knowing How!

The LOCOMOBILE COMPANY OF AMERICA has never entered the racing game excepting to build two racing cars—one for the Vanderbilt Cup Race, 1905, and one for the Vanderbilt Cup Race, 1906. These cars were entered in three events with the following results:

1905 Elimination Trials, Five to Qualify, Finished Second.

1905 Vanderbilt Cup Race, Finished Third.

Beating all American cars and placing America second only to France, thereby giving America this event for 1906.

1906 Winner of the Elimination Trials for the Vanderbilt Cup Race.

MARK YOU—One Locomobile entered in each event. Look at the records of other cars: In 1905 the Pope-Toledo, winner of the Elimination Trials, brought two cars to the tape; one "also ran." The Darracq, winner of the Vanderbilt Cup Race, 1905, brought two cars to the tape; one "also ran." In the Elimination Trials of 1906, the car running second place—the Thomas—brought three cars to the tape; two "also ran."

What Does This LOCOMOBILE Record Mean to You as a Buyer?

IT MEANS THE LOCOMOBILE COMPANY "KNOW HOW."

If they did not "know how" to build automobiles, they could never place this record before you. They had to build a racing car to accomplish a certain object.

KNOWING HOW, they went ahead and did it. They have to build five hundred cars each years for your use. "Knowing how" has placed them in the lead of American manufacturers.

ANOTHER THING—The Locomobile racer went through these three races without a puncture or blow out, its tire trouble being confined to one pinched inner tube on the first lap of the last race.

What does this mean to you? "Good tires, yes! Diamond, first-rate tires," but other cars using Diamonds burned them up and blew them out. Here is where "knowing how" comes in again. Economical distribution of weight, proper car construction, right proportions saved the racing car and have done the same thing for every owner of a Locomobile the past three years. Does your tire bill ever make you "sit up and take notice?"

THE "KNOWING HOW" of the Locomobile Company has saved every owner of their car many dollars in tires alone. Did you ever own a "tire eater?" If so, ask your friend about his experience with the Locomobile.

KNOWING HOW—That turns the trick. Anybody can buy a gas engine, put it on four wheels and call it an automobile—the Locomobile Company "know how."

DIAMOND DUST.

There are still fond hopes in the breast of many admirers of the Highlanders that they will nose out and win the American League pennant. This week will decide the race and as the New York team has met its worst enemies, it should have a comparatively easy time of it from now to the close of the season playing Philadelphia and Boston, while the Chicagoes go up against the strongest teams in the league.

It was a sad blow to the supporters of the West End team, of Somerville, to lose that contest on Saturday. While "Lou" Wiltse pitched the best kind of ball it was impossible for him to win the game. He did his share by holding Flemington to one hit. Barring an error by Norton the game might have ended without a tally.

Somerville is anxious to get into the proposed amateur league for next season and the local fans as well as the promoters of the idea should give them a hearty welcome. The Somerset county boys would certainly give a good account of themselves and make the race an interesting one.

By the way there is more genuine enthusiasm in Somerville than Westfield ever thought of having, and on a toss up the team from the county seat of Somerset should have first call.

The Clinton Avenue team appears to be a little too strong for Scotch Plains, as Saturday's contest indicated, yet the boys from the Plains made a great fight to win. Frentz certainly pitched good ball and at one time it looked as though the visitors would tie the score.

While O'Loughlin is a good catcher, he can hardly be considered quite as strong as Walter Nelson, and the Clinton Avenues miss the New Market lad in their lineup. His throwing to bases is a strong point in his work.

Although unable to play, Walter Nelson watched the game at Crescent Oval on Saturday. He has decided not to play again this season, preferring not to take any risk. He hopes to be able to return to the game next season, playing during the spring with the Rutgers 'varsity nine.

By the way, speaking of the baseball prospects for next year at Rutgers College, they were never brighter. The new material to select from makes it possible for the college to have one of the strongest teams in its history.

FOOTBALL.

A meeting of the Plainfield Athletic A. F. C. will be held tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the rooms, South Second street and Clinton avenue. General business will be transacted and all members are urged to be in attendance.

SOMERVILLE WANTS TO COME INTO THE LEAGUE

WEST ENDS MAY HAVE PART IN AMATEUR PENNANT RACE.

Somerville is anxious to get into the proposed amateur baseball league which is being organized by the Y. M. C. A. for next season. Bogert Conkling, the manager of the West Ends, will be seen by Physical Director Listman, of the Y. M. C. A., who is at the head of the preliminary organization, and the prospects of Somerville finding a place in the organization will be discussed.

As at present outlined, the league membership is full. Westfield's team prospects, however, are very shaky, and any day is likely to see them fade away and wipe out Denman's town from the calculations. The league boomers have known that ever since the first meeting and consideration of a possible filler in place of Westfield has had a large share of Mr. Listman's attention. Somerville was thought of early in the movement, but there was a feeling that the town lay too far out of the league center. An old fan, and one who knows much of the baseball constitution of the city, urged Mr. Listman this morning to let Somerville in, and the headquarters of the old West Ends was again made a factor in league plans.

It is believed the town is not a bit too far for the followers of the game, especially after they have been warmed up by a league race. Somerville has the makings of a fast amateur team, and the West Ends would be right in the running.

The league organizers will hold another meeting next Monday, and complete organization. Rules will be drawn up, covering the formation of the clubs and the listing of players.

Every last taint of professionalism is to be wiped out of the game by the organization. Rules will be drawn, and officers of a Median-Persian character will overlook things to make the passing of a cent from players as remote a possibility as possible. The spirit of amateur sport, and not merely its letter, will be insisted upon. It is believed that when the people realize the league is the exponent of purely amateur ball, with local exponents of the game to the fore, the general support will be accorded it, and something like the old days of 1902 will come back.

Manager Daab, of the Hoboken-Plainfield combination, is watching the efforts to revive purely amateur ball here with interest. He believes it is the sort of thing the town wants, and has a kindly desire to see the project go through with bells on.

RESIGNS PRESIDENCY OF MONDAY AFTERNOON CLUB.

Mrs. Herring's Successor to Be Chosen Saturday Afternoon, October 15.

The season's first meeting of the Monday Afternoon Club held yesterday afternoon at the Casino was presided over by one of the vice presidents, Mrs. James R. Joy. The resignation of the president, Mrs. Frank O. Herring, was deeply regretted and expression was given to the club's appreciation of her past year's service.

Resolutions were adopted in recognition of the worth of the late Mrs. William L. Saunders and the club's sense of loss in her death.

An interesting paper on "Victor Hugo and the Romantic Movement in Modern France" was read by Miss Addie Dietrich, which was followed by a discussion full of interest.

The date set for the nomination and election of a new president was the next meeting, October 15.

SPEAKING OF CHILDREN.

You Should Have Seen the Crowd That Saw "Buster Brown."

Records for matinee performances at the New Plainfield theatre were broken yesterday when "Buster Brown" was presented before an S. R. O. audience largely made up of children. The youngsters were there in all ages and sizes and many of them brought their parents with them. They were highly delighted with Master Rosen as "Buster," his best girl, "Mary Jane," and the knowing dog, "Tige," made familiar to them by Sunday paper supplements, and they were all genuinely sorry when the curtain fell for the last time.

At night the fathers and mothers saw the show and were equally well pleased. Master Rosen is very clever and despite the fact that he is twenty-eight years old and can smoke a cigar almost as big as himself was voted a "cute, little dear."

Eight Crap Shooters Summoned.

Mayor Smalley will have an octette of crap shooters before him in the borough court tonight. The young men were busily engaged in flipping the bones at Greenbrook road and Grove street, Sunday morning, when Chief Weiss swooped down upon them. The majority of them managed to get away but not quick enough to let their identity escape the eagle eye of the officer. The last one was rounded up today. Their names are given as Deal (2), Neal, McKenna, Gunning, Scheelein, Shellinger and Lubeck.

EXEMPTS TO PARADE WITH SILVER CARRIAGE

PLAINFIELD VETERAN FIREMEN TO TAKE PART IN ELIZABETH OUTING.

At a meeting of the Exempt Firemen's Association, last night, the members finally decided that they would take part in the parade of the Elizabeth firemen on Thursday, October 11. The famous silver hose carriage will be given as thorough an overhauling as can be done without any great expenditure of money and it will be seen in the procession with a good-sized escort of Exempts. Because of lack of funds, no music will be engaged by the Plainfielders but it is thought the Elizabethians will put them near a band or drum corps.

The association has had the invitation to take part in the parade under discussion for several months and it was thought at first that it could not be accepted because of the expsnse that would be entailed. The silver carriage has not been in public for a long time and the members wanted it put in first class shape before they took it out. A committee looked the costly relic over and it was then learned that by general polishing it could be made presentable. This will be done and the favorable action to parade was taken last night.

WORK BEING RUSHED AT HIGHLAND PARK.

Thirteen Houses Being Built—44 More Before May 1st Next.

Among the recent purchasers of lots at Highland Park are Charles E. Rice, Frank Mobus, Mrs. J. E. Moore, J. D. Loizeaux and F. L. C. Martin.

Great improvements have been made in this section. George street, Sumner avenue, Hillcrest avenue and Emerson avenue have all been cut through and graded from East Front street to George street, and seven houses are nearly completed. One of these houses is bing built by William T. Sharp, of Scotch Plains, on East Front street, and is quite a handsome little home. The other six houses are being built by L. W. Spear on George street, Leland avenue and Emerson avenue.

Forty-four more houses will be finished on this tract before the first of May of next year, and owing to the fact that the new factories are being mostly built in the east end of town this will be the section which will see the most development for the next few years.

POETIC COMMITMENT.

Dunellen Recorder Sends Frank Sheelein to Jail by Metre.

Frank Sheelein, of this city, arrived at the county jail at New Brunswick yesterday, accompanied by Marshal Mohan and a commitment signed by Recorder D. S. Campbell, of Dunellen. The Recorder's commitment gave Scheelein into the hands of the Sheriff of Middlesex for ten days. In the poetical language of the commitment Sheelein was punished:

"For laying on the M. E. church grounds in the Borough of Dunellen on the Sabbath Day,
"When the church people sent for the Marshal to take him away."

Sheelein says he went from this city to Dunellen on a clambake Sunday, and the clams served in the borough had a disastrous and intoxicating effect upon him.

CITY HEALTH EXCELLENT

Only Twelve Communicable Cases Reported During September.

NO SCARLET FEVER

Fifty Births, Thirty-one Deaths, Ten Marriages—Temporary Privy Vault Nuisance.

Reports showing the excellent hygienic condition of the city during the past month were presented at the October meeting of the Board of Health, yesterday afternoon. There were but two cases of contagious disease reported during September. Both were diphtheria. The reports show a remarkable scarlet fever record, the last case being reported on June 23. During the four months from June to September, inclusive, there were reported only four cases of diphtheria and one of scarlet fever.

The following shows the number of all communicable diseases reported during September: Typhoid fever, 4; tuberculosis, 6; diphtheria, 2; total, 12. There was one death from tuberculosis.

Fifty-two dairies were inspected during the month and the majority were found to be in good condition. Forty-three samples of milk were analyzed. Several of these were much too high in bacteria and two were found to contain a preservative, the basis of which was formaldehyde.

Permits were granted to August Norway to collect garbage and to L. M. Vail & Co., to sell milk and the plumber's bond of Nicholas Cody was filed.

During September there were reported ten marriages, fifty births, one still-birth and thirty-one deaths.

Owing to numerous complaints received of the odors coming from temporary privy vaults located in the vicinity of buildings in course of construction, which are usually put up without a permit from the Board of Health, resolutions were adopted compelling persons to make application to the board for permits to erect these temporary privy vaults. The application must state specifically the location of such vault, date of expiration and manner of construction and maintenance. The resolutions further provide that wherever possible builders or contractors must make connection with the sewer and install sanitary appliances for the use of their workmen. The resolutions also provide rules for the care and keeping of the vaults so that they will not become offensive.

F. A. WEEKS CHOSEN HEAD OF MEN'S CLUB.

Congregationalists' Society Chooses Officers and Hears Reports.

Election of officers, reports and a discussion of plans for the season occupied the attention of the Men's Club of the Congregational church at its first fall meeting last night. These officers were chosen for the year: President, Frank A. Weeks; vice-president, William McIntosh; secretary, Sydney Dunning; treasurer, Charles Steiner; members of the executive committee, Charles A. Rice and Clarence LaRue.

The reports of the secretary and treasurer for the past year were presented. Both showed the club to be in good condition, as to membership and finances and the prospects for the coming year are promising. After the business a social hour was enjoyed. It was announced that Prof. Chapman, of the Museum of Natural History, New York, had promised to give a lecture before the club during the winter. He is said to be one of the best authorities of birds in this country.

Study of Island World.

At the meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the First Baptist church held yesterday afternoon in the lecture room of the church, the first paper in the winter study of "Christus Redemption, an outline study of the Island world of the Pacific" was given by Mrs. J. A. Cubberley. Her theme was "A Glimpse of the Island World" and was treated in a manner to excite interest and a desire for further knowledge. With God's promises to the isles of the sea for the foundation of her theme, she described the nature and condition of the island kingdom and God's marvelous dealings with their scattered peoples. The devotional service was led by the president, Mrs. J. A. Chambliss, with the topic for thought "The Unknown Maid, or Value of True Testimony." Current events were given by Miss Laura J. Runyon.

BRAIN CONGESTION HALTS HOLIDAY TRIP.

Charles W. Tallman Made Unconscious By Seizure In Trolley Car.

On his way to the firemen's parade in New Brunswick, yesterday, Charles W. Tallman, of North Plainfield, proprietor of a grocery on Liberty street, was seized with congestion of the brain in a trolley car at Dunellen, and lapsed into unconsciousness. He recovered sensibility a few hours later, and was reported to be recovering this morning.

Mr. Tallman started for New Brunswick yesterday morning, in company with Edward C. Schenck, another boroughite. They boarded a main line through car at Watchung avenue at 1 o'clock. At Dunellen Mr. Tallman complained of feeling ill, but he thought the spell would pass over and continued the journey. At Bound Brook his condition was worse and Mr. Schenck assisted him into Titsworth's hotel, where a doctor was summoned.

Mr. Tallman became unconscious and it was early in the afternoon before he came to and was able to return home. His physician, Dr. D. C. Adams, took charge of him, and this morning an improvement in his condition was reported. He is accustomed to such spells and it is believed he will fully recover in a few days.

PRESBYTERY'S SESSION

Churchmen Work Rapidly Through a Lot of Routine Business.

SOME MEMORIALS.

Memory of the Late Rev. Joseph G. Williamson, of This City, Who Was Oldest Cleric In Presbytery, Honored.

Returning from their inspection of the new chapel at Garwood at 2:45 o'clock, the members of the Presbytery of Elizabeth reassembled for the close of their seventy-fifth stated meeting at the Crescent Avenue church yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The session was extremely businesslike, and no time was wasted in digressions from the strict order of precedure as mapped out. Reports of the various committees on synodical and Presbyterial activities and other routine business took up most of the time.

Early in the session a minute was read on the death of Rev. John G. Williamson, who died in this city on July 19. He was the oldest minister in the Presbytery. Rev. Dr. I. A. Blauvelt, of Roselle, read the minute.

Two calls for pastoral services were received. The church at Pluckamin called Rev. Joseph D. Wesley and the First German church, of Rahway, called Rev. Dr. C. F. A. Klein. Arrangements were made for the installation of the two pastors, that at Pluckamin being set for October 30 and that at Rahway for October 12. Rev. C. E. Herring, of the First Presbyterian church, this city, will preach the installation sermon at Pluckamin.

One brief address was delivered. Dr. John M. Fulton, of St. Paul, Minn., spoke pithily on temperance, urging the members of the Presbytery to keep the work against the drink evil to the fore. Dr. Henry E. Mott, of Elizabeth, spoke on the plan for a ministerial sustentation fund, a new movement to secure annuities to retired ministers or to the indigent families of clerics who die.

After the meeting the members were entertained at supper by the women of the church. Three long tables were laid in the main parlor, and a tastefully served menu was spread before the cleries and elders. They passed a warm vote of thanks to the churchwomen at the close of the supper.

The committee in charge of the entertainment was made up of Mrs. L. N. Lovell, chairman; Mrs. John Sheridan Zelie, Mrs. Ernest Parvin, Mrs. G. H. Condict, Mrs. Townsend Rushmore and Mrs. W. D. Murray. They were assisted in serving by the Misses Anthony, the Misses Goddard, the Misses Lovell, Miss Hyde and Miss Eva Brown.

The meeting was attended by thirty-two ministers and twenty-one elders. Rev. Dr. W. I. Steans, of Westfield, was moderator, acting in place of Rev. Dr. W. T. Stuchell, of Rahway, who was unable to attend on account of a death in his family. Rev. J. T. Kerr, of Elizabeth, was the clerk.

COMING HORSE SHOW INTERESTS LOCAL OWNERS.

Watchung Hunt Club Will Be Well Represented in Jumping and Hunting Classes.

There is considerable interest in the approaching horse show to be held on Saturday afternoon, October 13, at the new show grounds of the Plainfield Riding and Driving Club. Especially, is this so because it will afford owners of horses between Elizabeth and Somerville, as well as New Brunswick, an opportunity to win some prizes. According to the rules of the show no blue ribbon winners will be permitted to enter, thus allowing the field open to local horses.

The Watchung Hunt Club is also deeply interested in the show and the members are arranging to enter the hunting and jumping classes. The price of admission to the show, including a grand stand seat, is so low that every one interested in it can afford to attend. It will also give the people of Plainfield and nearby towns a chance to see the handsome show grounds, pronounced to be one of the finest out-door rings in the country. There promises to be a full entry list in every one of the several classes and this will insure fine sport for the afternoon. It has been arranged to start the show at 12 o'clock noon so as to finish the programme before dark.

Miss Allen in "Cymbeline."

At her appearance in this city on October 20, Miss Viola Allen will present her new production of "Cymbeline," taking the part of Imogen. She opened her season at the New National theatre, Washington, Monday night. The fourteen scenes of the remarkably heavy production constituted a background of great beauty for the story.

DAIRYMAN DISAPPEARS

David Steel, of Alton, Missing Since Last Wednesday Morning.

MAY HAVE GONE WEST

Went Out of the House at 4 o'Clock, As If To Go Over Milk Route, And Vanished.

Missing since early last Wednesday morning, David Steel, a young farmer and dairyman of Alton, has been added to the list of those who have disappeared suddenly and mysteriously from their families and accustomed haunts, as if whisked from the face of the earth. It is surmised that he has gone West, and the fact that he drew $500 from a bank here the day before he disappeared and that only part of the sum was found in his room after his disappearance strengthens the belief, but not a trace of him has been found to support it further.

Steel lived with his mother, Mrs. William Steel, about a half a mile from the Alton fertilizer works on a prosperous farm. He arose, as usual, Wednesday morning at 4 o'clock, as though to go about his accustomed work of preparing his horse and wagon for the daily round over his milk route through Fanwood and Scotch Plains. A short time afterward Mrs. Steel arose and saw the horse and wagon standing at the barn door. The rig was hitched as usual, but Steel was not in sight. It was after his time for starting and Mrs. Steel went out to see what was wrong. She could find no sign of her son. She sent her daughter out with the wagon and waited with growing fears for word from her son. As the day wore on and no sign of him was received, the family became alarmed, and Mrs. Steel told her neighbors of the disapeparance.

Day after day passed without a trace of the young man, and fears that he had met with foul play or had committed suicide were entertained. The woods nearby the surrounding country were searched, but no sign of Steel rewarded the hunt. It was learned that he drew $500 from a Plainfield bank, and when only part of it was found in his room, the family turned to the theory of a Western trip. Steel is said to have expressed a wish to go West several times, and the belief that he stole away to make his fortune in the newer part of the country has been growing stronger among his friends and the family.

Temporary dementia has been entertained as a theory to account for the disappearance, because Steel was not in very good health, and was just beginning to become free from the after-effects of a severe attack of grip with which he suffered last winter. He bears the best of reputations.

Surprised By Neighbors.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Stephens, of Duer street, are soon to move to this side of the brook, and last night a number of their neighbors and friends tendered them a surprise party. Games, music and refreshments were enjoyed, and Mr. and Mrs. Stephens were showered with good wishes for their welfare in their new home. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Laury and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith, Mr. and Mrs. William Emmons and daughter, Emma; Mr. and Mrs. Hoagland and family; Mrs. and the Miss Sokol, and Miss Ida Belle Conover.

Crap Shooters Fined.

A fine of $1 each was imposed by Mayor Smalley on the eight crap shooters arraigned before him last night. In addition, several who had been arrested previously for the same offense, were warned that another appearance in court would result in their being sent to Somerville for a term. The offenders gave their names as James Neal, Charles Deal, James Gunning, John McKenna, Percy Deal, Andrew Schillinger, Fred Scheuerlein and Percy Lubeck.

Arm Broken by Fall.

While hurrying to board a train at Garwood, last night, Martin Cronce, of Essex street, tripped over the compressed air signal pipe that runs along the tracks and was thrown heavily. His left arm was cleanly broken at the wrist and he was severely jarred. He was assisted to the office of a physician at Westfield and afterward brought to his home where Dr. Creger attended him.

HONOR FOR MR. GILBERT

Elected President of the New York Clearing House Association.

A RARE DISTINCTION

Former Mayor Head of Greatest Financial Institution of the Kind in America—His Enviable Career.

Probably the highest honor in the financial circles of New York was conferred upon Former Mayor Alexander Gilbert, of this city, yesterday, when he was elected president of the New York Clearing House Association, and also a member of the Clearing House Committee. It is the leading financial institution in the country and an election to the presidency is a rare distinction.

A nominating committee is appointed by the association and its choice of officers for election is made after very careful consideration. As the interests of all the large banking institutions which are members of the association are concerned it is exceedingly difficult some times to make a selection for president. The honor conferred on Mr. Gilbert is therefore considered a high tribute to his ability and standing in financial circles.

Alexander Gilbert was born in Elizabeth in 1839 and was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gilbert. His father was a native of Ireland and came to this country in infancy with his parents. He settled in New York, where he grew up and was educated. Thomas Gilbert came to New Jersey in early manhood, married and lived in Newark. He was an inventor and iron founder.

While living in New Haven, Conn., Alexander Gilbert had the advantages of prepartory school training, expecting to enter Yale, but after two years his father moved to Brooklyn, where he remained in business until his death in 1859. Mrs. Gilbert remarried and her death occurred in 1886, eleven children surviving. In Brooklyn Mr. Gilbert enjoyed the advantages of an early education.

Mr. Gilbert's first business experience was in the office of Tuttle & Bailey, where he remained for three years. Afterwards he entered the hardware house of W. N. Seymorn & Co., of New York, as cashier. He stayed there three years and in 1859 he took a position as second receiving teller in the Market Bank, of New York. In 1863, at the age of twenty-four years, he became cashier of the bank, and for several years was considered the youngest bank cashier in New York. In 1890 he was appointed cashier and vice-president. In 1887 he was offered the presidency of the old Fulton Bank, of New York. He declined the offer and soon afterwards the two banks consolidated under the name of the Market and Fulton Bank, of New York. Since then he has been offered the presidency of several banks, but has declined them all preferring his present position.

The last offer made to Mr. Gilbert was by the Southern National Bank in 1896. This he declined, when the business of that bank was also consolidated with that of the Market & Fulton Bank. These consolidations were brought about by Mr. Gilbert and were the means of making the latter bank one of the leading institutions in New York. In 1896 Mr. Gilbert was elected president of the bank.

Mr. Gilbert has lived in Plainfield since 1866. He is treasurer of the Hillside Cemetery Association, which he organized. In 1870 he was elected to the Common Council, serving several years and being one of the commissioners appointed to revise the city charter. He was also instrumental in securing the elevation of the railroad tracks through the city. He was elected Mayor in 1890 and continued in that office until 1896, and during the last two campaigns he had no opponent. He declined a renomination owing to a pressure of business matters.

In 1888 Mr. Gilbert was chosen a delegate to the National Republican convention and was a member of the committee to notify President Harrison of his nomination. He has always been a Republican and has worked for his party's success.

Mr. Gilbert was a prime mover in organizing the Y. M. C. A. here and was its first president. He has been a trustee of the First Baptist church for over twenty years. He is also a member of the Plainfield Country Club, where he is an enthusiastic golfer; the Union County Club and vice-president of the Fulton Club, of New York. He has always been closely identified with the best interests of Plainfield.

Another Plainfield Prize Winner.

A. E. Parks, of 950 West Sixth street, was awarded second prize on S. C. Orpingtons, in exhibition yard, one entry at the State Fair held at Trenton last week.

WOULDN'T TAKE THE ASSEMBLY NOMINATION

SWACKHAMER MAKES STATEMENT AS TO CONGRESSIONAL NOMINATION.

Under no circumstances will former Assemblyman S. S. Swackhamer consider a nomination for another term in the lower house of the Legislature. His name has been put forward by the Somerset county Democratic leaders during the past few days as first choice, but Mr. Swackhamer definitely disposed of the talk this morning by a flat and final refusal to consider the nomination.

"I will not consent to be a candidate again for the Assembly," he said emphatically. "I have served two terms, and in those terms I did the best that was in me for the people of my county and the State. I feel that I have done my duty, and will not consider another nomination."

"How about the Congressional nomination, Mr. Swackhamer?" he was asked.

"What about it?"

"You have been mentioned for it, haven't you?"

"There has been some talk, yes. But nothing of which I can say anything."

"Are you willing to take the nomination?"

"I am not a candidate for any office," said Mr. Swackhamer distinctly. "It is true enough that I have been mentioned for the honor of the congressional nomination, but I have not yet made up my mind, so far as my attitude toward the nomination is concerned."

It is said the Somerset county Democratic heads are determined to make Mr. Swackhamer the assembly nominee. They are said to feel that he is the only man who can win in the coming campaign.

SOON TO MAKE OUT LOCAL TAX BILLS.

John W. Murray Will Receive Books From Assessors in Few Days.

Just as soon as William R. Townsend, clerk for the Union County Taxation Board, certifies to the books of the Plainfield assessors, they will be returned to Tax Collector John W. Murray, Jr., so that he may begin his work of making out the tax bills for delivery. Mr. Townsend expects to send the books to Plainfield within a few days and then there will be busy times in the collector's office.

Owing to the new tax rate, which is so different from what Plainfielders have been used to, and the new method of assessment, it would not be surprising if many taxpayers would find some reason for "kicking." It will not be up to Collector Murray to go into details, but no doubt there will be a "kick" just the same.

The new law provides that if any taxpayer has a complaint to make he must put it in writing and send it to the Union County Taxation Board. The members of the board will be in session daily, except Sunday at the Court House, Elizabeth, up to December 20, after which taxes become delinquent. Of course, the appointment of the board abolished the commissioners of appeal and the taxation board will have to treat with the taxpayers instead. Collector Murray will have the help of his assistant, Frank Dunham, in making out the bills, but it will make them both hustle to send them out on time.

Present for W. J. Davenport.

In appreciation of his courtesy while division superintendent, William J. Davenport, the conductors and motormen running on the Elizabeth and Plainfield division of the Public Service Corporation, have presented him with a gold watch and chain valued at $100. Mr. Davenport resigned his position recently and the presentation was made on Monday, Harry Milligan, an inspector, making the speech. Mr. Davenport greatly appreciated the gift and thanked one and all for it. The committee which had charge of the arrangements of securing the watch consisted of Joe Nessler, Michael Welch, Harry Milligan, William Randolph and George Fine.

FALL FROM CAR FATAL

Chief's Driver William Ross Succumbs to Injuries Received at Bound Brook.

ON A DAY'S OUTING

Lost His Hold On Crowded Trolley Bound For New Brunswick and Struck on His Head.

As a result of injuries received by falling from a trolley car at East Bound Brook, yesterday afternoon, William H. Ross, driver of the chief's wagon in the city fire department, died at his home on East Second street at 8:35 last night. He had sustained concussion of the brain and a severe blow in the abdomen, from which he became unconscious and in which condition he remained from the time of the accident until his death.

Ross secured leave of absence yesterday for the purpose of attending the firemen's parade at New Brunswick and he left for that city by trolley shortly before 1 o'clock. He was unaccompanied but was noticed by several Plainfielders on the car that moved out of the Bound Brook terminus at 1:23. The vehicle was crowded and as it bowled along between the match factory and the former cash register works, depressions in the track caused it to shake violently. Ross was holding on the edge of the platform and as near as can be ascertained, he lost his grip and fell backward.

Men called to the conductor to stop the car but it proceeded on to the East Bound Brook bridge. At that point, Andrew Love, of this city, managed to get off and with several others, went back to see who had fallen and learn if the man had been hurt. The conductor informed the superintendent of the road so that he might telephone Chief Doane at Headquaters. The official told Mr. Love that he would attend to him and the latter proceeded on.

Fire Headquarters was called up and the news of the accident was received by Assistant Chief Jennings. He was informed that Ross was "simply dazed" and so dispatched Edward Vail on a trolley to bring him home. When Vail reached the spot he found that the injured man had simply been taken to one side of the road and left there. He was told a Bound Brook doctor had examined him and declared that he was not badly hurt, but this has not been verified. To Vail it seemed different and hastily calling a cab from a local livery, the unconscious man was gotten home as speedily as possible. Dr. Gaston was quickly in attendance but his efforts were of no avail and Ross sank steadily until the end.

Ross was fifty-six years old and had been a fireman practically all his life. When but twenty-one years old he joined the Plainfield volunteer department and served in various capacities until the paid drivers were introduced and he secured an appointment. That was when the department was still volunteer and when the present system was inaugurated in 1895 he was one of the first men to be assigned to a drivers seat. Three years ago he succeeded Capt. Townley as chief's driver and held the place until his death.

He was considered one of the most competent and careful men in the department and never had a serious accident during his long service. Speaking of the affair this morning, Chief Doane declared it came as a heavy blow to every fireman in the city, while to himself the death of "Billy" Ross was like losing one of his own family. He was of a quiet, retiring disposition but enjoyed the respect and confidence of his fellows.

There are surviving, a widow, one daughter and two sons. The latter are Mrs. Frank Burke, William Ross, Jr., and Percy Ross.

The funeral will be held from his late residence, 152 East Second street, Friday afternoon at 2:30.

Circus Paid For Its Waters.

When the Hargreaves circus visited this city last year, employees tapped the Plainfield Water Supply Company's mains for water and neglected to pay for the privilege. The officials of the show probably forgot all about the circumstances but the water company didn't and when the circus landed in town yesterday a writ of attachment was taken out against it in the district court through Lawyer Walter L. Hetfield, Jr. The papers were served on the manager by Sergeant Hand and he promptly squared up. The bill amounted in all to $11.75.

A., will go to Newark tomorrow to attend a conference of boys' secretaries at which final arrangements will be made for the annual State convention of the boys' departments at Montclair, October 26, 27 and 28. Plainfield will have six delegates at the convention.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

John Young, of Madison, is recovering from his automobile accident, which occurred a short time ago. He called upon friends here in town and took them out for a spin in his auto, and when returning home the steering apparatus broke when he was nearing Springfield, causing the machine to swerve, and turn a complete somersault in the gutter, with Mr. Young under its ponderous weight. After he was extricated, he was found to be unconscious, and was carried into a house nearby, and a doctor summoned, who pronounced no bones broken; only a sprained wrist with numerous scratches and bruises.

The Good Government Club held a meeting at its rooms last evening and the result of the primaries and the coming election was thoroughly discussed.

TIME IS THE TEST.

The Testimony of Plainfield People Stands the Test.

The test of time is what tells the tale. "A new broom sweeps clean," but will it wear well is what interests most. The public soon find out when misrepresentations are made, and merit alone will stand the test of time.

Plainfield people appreciate merit, and many months ago local citizens publicly endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills; they do so still. Would a citizen make the statement which follows unless convinced that the article was just as represented? A cure that lasts is the kind that every sufferer from kidney ills is looking for.

Mrs. Anna Holmes, of New Market, N. J., three or four miles from Plainfield, N. J., says: "Some years ago I gave a statement for publication, telling what Doan's Kidney Pills had done for me, and I am now glad to confirm what I said then. I used several boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills for sharp pains in my head and dull beating pains in my back and sides. When I attempted to rise quickly after sitting or lying for any length of time, sharp, acute pains would always follow. My kidneys seemed to be weakened in every way, and I became in such a condition that work was impossible. I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills curing others of kidney and bladder troubles, so I procured a box at L. W. Randolph's drug store. They helped me from the first, and I continued to improve steadily. I am glad to repeat what I said in my former statement for my good opinion of this remedy has in no wise changed."

MR. GILBERT HONORED.

When former Mayor Alexander Gilbert, was chosen president of the New York Clearing House Association, yesterday, a richly deserved honor was conferred on a banker whose career has earned for him the highest esteem of those with whom he has been associated in the financial circles of the metropolis. His life has been one round of successes since the time when as a young man he was a clerk in a hardware store. From then on he forged ahead steadily but surely until at last he became the president of one of the greatest banks in New York city.

Few men who have had so much responsibility placed on their shoulders have given so liberally of their valuable time and unusual ability in the discharge of their duties as citizens as has Mr. Gilbert. His public life in Plainfield has won for him the same share of praise that he has received as a banker. Thrice has he served as a member of the Common Council and thrice has he been the chief executive of the city. His record is so well known that it need hardly be recalled. His services on the commission for the revision of the city charter and in the councilmanic fight for the elevation of the railroad tracks are but two instances of the good work he has been largely instrumental in accomplishing.

An appreciative community extends to Mr. Gilbert congratulations on the newest honor that has been conferred upon him.

FIREMEN ON PARADE.

Twenty-Six Companies in New Brunswick Line.

The biennial parade of the New Brunswick fire department was held yesterday, and 30,000 people, including many Plainfielders, witnessed the spectacle. The town was decorated from end to end. Besides the fourteen engine, hose and hook and ladder companies of the city there were twelve visiting companies, as follows:

Phil Daly Company, Long Branch; Bayonne firemen; Oceanport Chemical Company; Wesley Engine Company, Asbury Park; Hook and Ladder Company, South River; Bayonne Truck Company; Highland Park fire department; Washington Company, Sayreville; Princeton Company; Independent Chemical Company, South Amboy; Somerville Company; Hibernia Engine Company No. 2, Lambertville.

Several of the visiting companies brought honorary guests, and there were other honorary guests from Newark and Jersey City. The parade was marshaled by Chief John F. Norton and Assistant Chiefs John V. Puerschner and John Francis, of New Brunswick. In the line were carriages containing Mayor Drury W. Cooper and other New Brunswick city officials, followed by a platoon of New Brunswick police, the local firemen's patrol and Firemen's Exempt Association.

For the first time in a New Brunswick firemen's parade there were no red-shirted firemen in line. The regulation blue uniforms were worn all through the line.

A $200 Blaze.

An overheated pipe set fire to the wall back of the kitchen range in Wilbur M. Alling's house at 1017 East Seventh street, at noon today, and led to a brisk blaze that did $200 damage. The firemen were summoned by telephone, and Chief Doane and a hose wagon went out. The Chief found the studding going swiftly and hustled one of his men out to pull the box. They held the flames until the chemical engine came and put them out.

—At all seasons of the year, Neuman Brothers maintain a large assortment of fruits and vegetables. A nice lot to select from tomorrow.

RECTOR ADDRESSES WOMEN PARISHIONERS

HOLY CROSS LIFE REVIEWED AND PLANS MADE FOR FUTURE EFFORT.

An enthusiastic meeting of the women of the Church of the Holy Cross was held yesterday afternoon in the parish house. More than sixty women were in attendance and listened attentively while the rector spoke of parish life, past and present, and the part the women had in practical affairs of church work. He drew attention to the increased efficiency of the choir; the numerical increase and the reliant and trained manner in which they rendered the service under the able and talented choirmaster, Mr. Loder. In passing, Mr. Warner referred to the boys' club with its charter membership of forty boys and a waiting list of twelve or fifteen more. He briefly touched upon the importance of this work, mentioning the generosity of parishioners who had given books for the library, periodicals for the game room, and money for athletics.

The need of repairs and adornment of the parish house was called to the attention of the women, also the robing room, vestments, etc., same in for brief mention. The regular guild meeting followed the rector's talk. A large number of new members were received.

Reports for the year's work showed that all committees had done most faithful work. The altar committee, with its increased force of younger members being able to attend to the vestments of the choir boys and clergy, attending to changes in altar hangings, flowers for the altar; preparing for communion services the linen, and attending to the sacred vessels. All this work, beside vesting the choir boys, providing vestments, chalice linen, silken burse and veil for the appropriate church seasons falling to the altar committee to do. The periodical committee, the missionary committee, entertainment committee, bag committee, and the treasury reports showed a surprising amount of work done. The rector proposes publishing the various accounts in the year-book, which appears Advent Sunday, marking the first year of the Rev. Mr. Warner's work in Plainfield.

The women decided upon the advice of the rector to plan for raising $700 or more, the money to be used in putting a hard wood floor in the parish house, tinting the walls, carpeting the robing room and having it done over generally. A central committee consisting of Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Murray, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Neff, Mrs. Larsson, Mrs. Kenworthy and Mrs. Townsend was appointed by the chair. Already the committee is at work preparing for a bazaar in the parish house to be held the first of November.

At the close of the meeting an informal gathering of the women took place, strangers being welcomed and new members of the guild being introduced.

William E. Van Court, of Oak Tree, believes that he holds the record this year for growing potatoes of an extra fine quality. From one barrel of seeds he raised eighty-seven bushels of potatoes and from another barrel of seeds seventy-five bushels, all on three-quarters of an acre of land.

Under the direction of Postmaster George W. Stover, of Oak Tree, the postoffice building is being raised and a new foundation is being built under it.

There will be rally day services at Marconnier chapel on Sunday and on the following Sunday there will be communion and infant baptism.

RECORD IS INDICTED FOR CRIMINAL LIBEL

"BOSS" DICKINSON WANTS DAMAGES FROM REFORMER AS WELL.

Geo. L. Record, Corporation Counsel of Jersey City, who was the candidate of the "New Idea" Republicans of New Jersey for United States Senator, was indicted yesterday by the Hudson County Grand Jury for alleged criminal libel on Col. Samuel D. Dickinson, Secretary of State and Republican leader of Hudson county.

Police Justice Frank J. Higgins, one of the leaders of the Record-Fagan faction of the Republican party, was indicted for the same offense.

In a speech from a cart in front of the City Hall, Jersey City, a night or two before the recent primaries, Record charged that the Republican boss of Hudson county, meaning Col. Dickinson, was the paid agent of the Public Service Corporation.

His address prepared in advance, was distributed to the reporters by Justice Higgins, and that is how he became involved in the case. In addition to the criminal procedings Col. Dickinson has instituted a civil suit for damages against Mr. Record.

ERROR OF $100,000 IN ELIZABETH VALUATIONS.

Mistake Made in One Ward, but Not Thought Rate Will Change.

Elizabeth, Oct. 3.—A mistake has been discovered in the totals of the Union County Board of Equalization of Taxes, which prevented Chairman John S. Sauer, of the Councilmanic Finance Committee from reporting his tax rate ordinance at City Council's meeting Monday night. This rate, it was stated, will be $1.46, and it is thought that the mistake will not interfere with rate as already announced, for provision can be made for any change, if not too big, through the contingent fund, which was made unusually large this year, so as to meet any unforeseen difficulties which might arise as a result of the changes in the taxing systems.

Mr. Sauer said an error was discovered in the footing up of the tax returns for a certain ward of Elizabeth.

President Pollard, when seen yesterday morning, said that there had been a mistake in the totals of the books of one of the assessors amounting to about $100,000. His men were at work yesterday, he said, straightening this matter up and he expected to have the correction made by this evening. He said that where there were shortages in some wards, other errors were found in other localities which would counteract the deficits in the wards where shortages occur and that he expected no material change in the county.

DEDICATION OF NEW CHAPEL AT GARWOOD

REV. DR. RICHARDS DELIVERED THE SERMON—REV. EDWARD LOVE, PASTOR

The newly-founded Presbyterian chapel at Garwood, of which Rev. Edward Love, of this city, is the pastor, was dedicated last night with the impressive ceremony prescribed for the occasion. The chapel was erected under the direction of the Presbytery of Elizabeth, and a majority of the members came down from this city, where the seventy-fifth stated meeting was held yesterday, to attend the dedication. The usual evening session of the Presbytery was cut out of the programme to leave the members free to be present. A numbers of Crescent Avenue church members were among the congregation.

The dedicatory service was presided over by Rev. Dr. George Francis Greene, of the First Presbyterian church, Cranford. The invocation was said by Revc. Mr. Ferguson, of the Greystone church, Elizabeth. The scripture lesson was said and the prayer offered by Rev. Dr. John Sheridan Zelie, of the Crescent Avenue church. The statement was pronounced by Rev. John T. Kerr, of the First Presbyterian church, Elizabeth, the dedicatory prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. Eben B. Cobb, of the Second Presbyterian church, Elizabeth, and Rev. Dr. W. I. Steans, of Westfield, made the declaration as acting moderator of the Presbytery.

Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards, pastor of the Brick church, New York, former pastor of the Crescent Avenue church, preached the sermon. He spoke on the origin of religion. It had its birth, not, as scientists thought, in man's search for God, but in God's yearning and search for man. Rev. Mr. Love received the offering, and spoke briefly.

The Garwood chapel is the fruit of Rev. Mr. Love's labor. He worked hard and unremittingly to bring it into existence. It is affiliated with the First Presbyterian church, of Cranford, and has bright prospects.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

"One need never exaggerate the barbarism and cruelties of the penal settlement," once wrote Count Tolstoi, the famous Russian novelist, "and were the daily outrages perpetrated by our aristocracy upon the suffering peasants known to civilization, the entire world would rise in mighty protest." It is a knowledge of these very outrages of which Tolstoi speaks that gave birth to the famous Russian drama "For Her Sake." The play, a powerful protest against the aristocratic ruling of millions by one man, is an up-to-date melodrama of remarkable strength. It will be produced in this city for the first time tonight.

Miss Anna Day, who is starring this season in Ernest Shipman's grand production of "When Knighthood Was in Flower," has probably received as many laudatory comments of any living actress. More especially as "Mary Tudor" in her present play has her work been favorably criticized. The following expression from one of the best critics of the day, and a severe one, seems to best set forth the opinion of theatre-goers in general: "The play, 'When Knighthood Was in Flower,' affords many theatrical opportunities and these Miss Day adroitly uses. Her embodiment of 'Mary Tudor' crystallizes into one engaging personality the attributes of authority, impetuosity, intreperdity, force of will, gleeful caprice alternating with tenderness, and ardent passion tempered with both sweetness and mirth. She presents a woman who loves, and who, amid enemies and perils, has the courage of her love. It seems probable that her impersonation shows her personal ideal of womanhood, and is but little, if any, removed from a revelation of her actual self. It certainly is an interesting and winning image of feminine variety, integrity, fidelity, romantic ardor and feminine charm." The production will be seen at the New Plainfield theatre Friday night.

In reminding our readers that "The Shadow Behind the Throne" will be the production at the New Plainfield theatre Saturday afternoon and night it seems but justice to add that the popular expression of surprised and delighted approval all along the line warrants the anticipation of a play far and away beyond the melodramatic path into which theatre goers have so often been misled by mercenary and loud-mouthed theatrical tramps. That the reputation of its authors, Alice Ramsey and Rudolph De Cordova, is to be banked on when originality, characterization and sustained strength and sensation are in question, while as a first class, intelligent and liberal producer, as well as a highly gifted actor, Mr. Leander De Cordova ranks among the highest, in both professional and popular estimation.

The sweeping claim is made that Arthur Pryor conducts the very best concert band that this country has ever heard. This is a broad and daring statement, yet those who are familiar with the conditions and who have heard all the prominent organizations are positive in adhering to this statement. For attack, for precision, for harmony of action, for tone and for individual execution the Pryor band is absolutely unapproachable, and this is said by the management with such earnestness as to approach something akin to an absolute defiance. As a conductor, Arthur Pryor, is a revelation, possessing all the qualifications which go to make up the really great maestro. He is a thorough musician, conversant with every detail of his art, he has the advantage over all others in his field by reason of his youth and enthusiasm; he is good to look upon and is graceful and magnetic. One cannot take his eye from Arthur Pryor as he wields his charmed baton. Added to these qualifications is the sentimental regard in which he is held by all of the members of his band, and which is largely responsible for the individual efforts of each man, being something of a factor in bringing out his remarkable results at the Pryor concerts. Whether it be the Tannheuser overture with its heavy brass effects, the Rhapsodie Hongrois Hongroise, with the gentle, flowing Lizst characteristics, of the Melody in F, the results are the same. The interpretation in each case seems to develop new beauties, the reed division seems to be as one man, the brasses are each as one huge instrument. It is a revelation in band classics. Arthur Pryor and his musical fifty do not appeal to music lovers alone. The great big American public at large is beginning to appreciate the fact that the musical Messuah has arrived and all classes of amusement lovers, whether concert or comedy, drama or opera are numbered among the thousands who are attracted by the magic of his art. The Pryor concerts disclose an innovation in this form of entertainment in the splendid allegorical, military, musical, patriotic spectacle, "The Triumph of Old Glory," in which the services of fifty local militiamen are requisioned, thereby giving added interests. Mr. Pryor and his band are announced for appearance at the New Plainfield theatre next Monday night and the indications are for capacity business.

The attraction at the New Plainfield theatre next Tuesday night will be a revival of Dion Boucicault's beautiful Emerald gem, "Arrah-na-Pogue," by Andrew Mack, under the direction of James H. Decker, who has furnished Mr. Mack with a company of forty leading players, singers and dancers, also a complete scenic and electric production which is said to be the largest ever carried by an Irish comedian before. Mr. Mack will be heard in several new songs. His appearance here will be under the auspices of Watchung Council, Knights of Columbus.

"Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" is being booked for several years ahead. The demand for the play is enormous in all sections of the country, and though the piece is in its third season it has as yet been seen in but few cities. Long runs have kept it in the largest centers of population. It bids fair to run on for a generation. It will be at the New Plainfield theatre on October 11.

Modjeska in either "Macbeth," "Camille," or "Mary Stuart" is the magnet which will attract all classes of playgoers to the New Plainfield theatre on October 15. The regular theatre-goer and the occasional attendant upon theatrical productions will sit side by side that night and join in homage to this celebrated woman. This occasion will be their final opportunity to be inspired and ennobled by perhaps the ripest and most intellectual art known to the contemporary stage, for Modjeska is now on her final American tour, and this will be her last appearance in this city. An attempt was made by the local management to have Mr. Jules Murry, director of Mme. Modjeska's tour, change the route so as to permit his distinguished star to play at least twice, and possibly three times, here. The advance interests in the single performance is so great that there is little doubt but that the house could be entirely sold out each night if Modjeska could present her entire repertoire. Unfortunately, the change is impossible. Other cities are as eager to extend a testimonial to the favorite actress as is this one. She is booked solidly for the entire week during which she will be here, and the managers in these other places will not hear of cancellation. Therefore, all the enthusiasm which would be spread out over three nights will be condensed into a single evening, and the result is certain to be one of the most long-to-be-remembered occasions in local theatrical history. The retirement of no other actress would be felt by patrons of the theatre generally as deeply as that of Modjeska. By her devotion to the cause of the stage and to her own ideals of acting, she has taken a place both in the artistic world and in the hearts of the American public, such as has never been occupied by any other woman.

GOTHAM'S AMUSEMENTS

Rose Stahl's success in James Forbes' comedy, "The Chorus Lady," at the Savoy theatre, is causing her to repeat the experiences of Miss Maxine Elliott in "Her Own Way" and Arnold Daly in "Candida," attractions which two seasons ago were moved from one Broadway play house to another. Henry B. Harris having been unable to secure an extension of her engagement at the Savoy theatre owing to contracts calling for Lillian Russell's appearance there the week of October 8th, has arranged with Charles Frohman to present "The Chorus Lady" at the Garrick theatre for one week commencing Monday, October 8th. On the following Monday, October 15th, Miss Stahl will be transferred to the Hackett theatre for a limited engagement. The triumph of the star and the play is described by the press as "the just reward that waits on work well done." The Sun reasons that the play has won success because the characters "have the very breath of life." The World describes the play as "four acts of keen enjoyment." The Evening World says that "Mr. Forbes' collection of slang makes George Ade seem stingy." The Globe describes Miss Stahl's Patricia as "a wonderful creation," and the entire press pronounce "The Chorus Lady" to be the success of the season.

Mrs. George Dufford, of West Front street, who has been visiting relatives at Middle Valley, has returned.

Mrs. Martin Lance, of Arlington avenue, who recently fractured her collarbone by falling off the porch at her home, is slowly improving.

NIP IT IN THE BUD.
First Appearance of Dandruff a Forerunner of Future Baldness.
That such is the case has been conclusively proven by scientific research. Prof. Unna, the noted European skin specialist, declares that dandruff is the burrowed-up cuticle of the scalp, caused by parasites destroying the vitality in the hair bulb. The hair becomes lifeless, and, in time, falls out. This can be prevented.
Newbro's Herpicide kills this dandruff germ, and restores the hair to its natural softness and abundancy.
Herpicide is now used by thousands of people—all satisfied that it is the most wonderful hair preparation on the market to-day.

Miss Ellersly bit her lip and colored, but I noticed also that her eyes were dancing.

Sam introduced the Englishman to me—Lord Somebody-or-other, I forget what, as I never saw him again. I turned like a bulldog from a toy terrier and was at Miss Ellersly again. "Let me put a little something on Mowghli for you," said I. "You're bound to win—and I'll see that you don't lose. I know how you ladies hate to lose."

That was a bit stiff, as I know well enough now. Indeed, my instinct would have told me better then, if I hadn't been so used to the sort of women that jump at such an offer, and if I hadn't been casting about so desperately and in such confusion for some way to please her. At any rate, I hardly deserved her sudden frozen look. "I beg pardon," I stammered, and I think my look at her must have been very humble—for me.

The others in the box were staring round at us. "Come on," cried Sam, dragging at my arm, "let's go."

"Won't you come?" I said to his sister. I shouldn't have been able to keep my state of mind out of my voice, if I had tried. And I didn't try.

Trust the right sort of woman to see the right sort of thing in a man through any and all kinds of barriers of caste and manners and breeding.

"YOU'RE BOUND TO WIN AND I'LL SEE THAT YOU DON'T LOSE."

Her voice was much softer as she said: "I think I must stay here. Thank you, just the same."

As soon as Sam and I were alone, I apologized. "I hope you'll tell your sister I'm sorry for that break," said I.

"Oh, that's all right," he answered, easy again, now that we were away from the others. "You meant well—and motive's the thing."

"Motive—hell!" cried I in my anger at myself. "Nobody but a man's God knows his motives; he doesn't even know them himself. I judge others by what they do, and I expect to be judged in the same way. I see I've got a lot to learn." Then I suddenly remembered the Travelers Club, and asked him what he'd done about it.

"I—I've been—thinking it over," said he. "Are you sure you want to run the risk of an ugly cropper, Matt?"

I turned him round so that we were facing each other. "Do you want to do me that favor, or don't you?" I demanded.

"I'll do whatever you say," he replied. "I'm thinking only of your interests."

"Let me take care of them," said I. "You put me up at that club tomorrow. I'll send you the name of a seconder not later than noon."

"Up goes your name," he said. "But don't blame me for the consequences."

And my name went up, with Mowbray Langdon's brother, Tom, as seconder. Every newspaper in town published the fact, most of them under big black headlines. "The fun's about to begin," thought I, as I read. And I was right, though I hadn't the remotest idea of how big a ball I had opened.

DANGER SIGNALS.

At that time I did not myself go over the bills before the legislatures of those states in which I had interests. I trusted that work to my lawyers—and, like every man who ever absolutely trusted an important division of his affairs to another, I was severely punished. One morning my eye happened to light upon a minor paragraph in a newspaper—a list of the "small bills yesterday approved by the governor." In the list was one "defining the power of sundry commissions." Those words seemed to me somehow to spell "joker." But why did I call up my lawyers to ask them about it? It's a mystery to me. All I knew is that, busy as I was, something inside me compelled me to drop everything else and hunt that "joker" down.

I got Saxe—then senior partner in Browne, Saxe & Einstein—on the 'phone, and said: "Just see and tell me, will you, what is the 'bill defining the power of sundry commissions'—the bill the governor signed yesterday?"

"Certainly, Mr. Blacklock," came the answer. My nerves are, and always have been, on the watch out for the looks and the tones and the gestures that are just a shade off the natural; and I feel that I do Saxe no injustice when I say his tone was, not a shade, but a full color, off the natural. So I was prepared for what he said when he returned to the telephone. "I'm sorry, Mr. Blacklock, but we seem unable to lay our hands on that bill at this moment."

"Why not?" said I, in the tone that makes an employe jump as if a whiplash had cut him on the calves.

He had jumped all right, as his voice showed. "It's not in our file," said he. "It's house bill No. 427, and it's apparently not here."

"The hell you say!" I exclaimed. "Why?"

"I really can't explain," he pleaded, and the frightened whine confirmed my suspicion.

"I guess not," said I, making the words significant and suggestive. "And you're in my pay to look after such matters! But you'll have to explain, if this turns out to be serious."

"Apparently our file of bills is complete except that one," he went on. "I suppose it was lost in the mail, and I very stupidly didn't notice the gap in the numbers."

"Stupid isn't the word I'd use," said I, with a laugh that wasn't of the kind that cheers. And I rang off and asked for the state capitol on the long distance."

Before I got my connection Saxe, whose office was only two blocks away, came flustering in. "The boy has been discharged, Mr. Blacklock," he began.

"What boy?" said I.

"The boy in charge of the bill file—the boy whose business it was to keep the file complete."

"Send him to me, you damned scoundrel," said I. "I'll give him a job. What do you take me for anyway? And what kind of a cowardly hound are you to disgrace an innocent boy as a cover for your own crooked work?"

"Really, Mr. Blacklock, this is most extraordinary," he expostulated.

DIAMOND DUST.

Linderman is up to his old tricks again, that of pitching Saturday and Sunday. Last week he shut out the Chatham team, pitching for the Elizabeth Invaders, and on Sunday he almost scored a victory for his team against Lancaster, of the Tri-State League. The score was 9 to 8 against Elizabeth.

"Wally" Cosgrave, of Plainfield fame, is holding down center field for the Elizabeth Invaders, and putting up a fine game in the field and at the bat.

"Mistah" Monroe, formerly of the Philadelphia Quaker Giants, has found another birth with the Royal Giants. In a game on Sunday between the Philadelphia Giants and the Brooklyn Giants, the latter were defeated by a score of 6 to 1.

Dave Driscoll is playing first base for the Elizabeth Invaders, and he is hitting the ball very hard, as well as covering the initial sack in faultless style.

GOLF.

The Golf Committee is arranging for a mixed foursome to be played at the Plainfield Country Club on Saturday afternoon, October 20, and an effort will be made to secure eight couples for the event. Foursomes have not been played to any extent at the club this season, although very popular elsewhere. However, since the announcement of the forthcoming event there is considerable enthusiasm manifested.

Robert Abbott, of Yale, and Dudley H. Barrows, of Princeton, are now out of the race for the Golf Committee cup at the Plainfield Country Club, having returned to college. C. B. Morgan stands a very good chance of winning out, with the present position he holds. He and Arthur Murphy are tied for second place with 10½ points each, while C. A. Stover is in first place by the narrow margin of a quarter of a point.

"Marty" O'Loughlin is losing no time these days in practicing for the Eastern Professional Golfers' Association tournament to be held the last of the month at Forest Hill. The local "pro" is in the very best of condition.

In all probability, the entry for the women's national golf championship tournament, which will begin at the Brae Burn Country Club on Monday, October 8, will exceed last year's in numbers. W. Fellowes Morgan, secretary of the United States Golf Association, said yesterday that fifty-seven entries had been received. With overnight mails to be heard from, the chances are that the total will exceed seventy. Out of sixty-nine entries at Morris County last year, all save three started.

Miss Pauline Mackay, of the Oakley Country Club, the national champion, sent in her entry yesterday, but no word has as yet been received from Miss Georgianna Bishop, of the Brooklawn Country Club, nor Mrs. Charles T. Stout, of the Richmond County Country Club. Miss F. Louise Vanderhoef, of the Ardsley Club, is another to be heard from. In fact, both the New York and Philadelphia sections are thus far poorly represented.

Fifty entries have been received for the invitation tournament of the Richmond County Country Club on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. At least a dozen more names are expected. Prizes for three sixteens and cups for the beaten eights in the various divisions have been offered.

A dozen members of the New York Newspaper Golf Association played over the Fox Hills links Monday afternoon. They were practising for the annual team match with the Boston scribes, to take place at the Woodlawn Golf Club next week.

Several professionals played over the links of the Forest Hill Field Club Monday to get a line on the course where the first championship tournament of the Eastern Professional Golfers' Association will be held on October 23 and 24. The professional record for the links is 70, made by George Pearson, the home "pro."

Most of the scores in the qualifying round of the college championship at Princeton Monday afternoon were high, owing to the high wind. Those who qualified were H. J. Gee, 81; D. H. Barrows, 86; H. C. Richard, 86; W. Corkran, 88; W. S. West, 89; R. Peters, 92; H. J. Van Dyke, 82, and S. Funk, 93.

Entries closed Monday with Secretary Morgan, of the United States Golf Association, for the women's national golf championship to begin at the Brae Burn Country Club, near Boston, next Monday. As usual, there will be an allowance made for entries from distant points, but according to the list on Saturday night the Eastern players are the backsliders in sending their names. Miss Pauline Mackay, of Boston, the titleholder, is not among the early entrants. Two Chicago players are named, Miss Jessie B. Brower and Miss Isabella Smith, of the Evanston Country Club. The names of Mrs. A. T. H. Brower's team are expected to swell the Chicago total. There were forty entries booked on Saturday. The Far West is represented by Mrs. George W. Roofe, Denver Country Club; Mrs. R. Gilman Brown, San Francisco Golf Club, and Mrs. Bion Bradbury, Jr., and Mrs. Henry H. Smith, Portland Golf Club. Miss Phepoe, Hamilton, Canada, Golf Club, and Miss Grace Semple, St. Louis Country Club, were also registered. Miss Louisa A. Wells, of the Country Club, was the first Boston entry, while a trio of the Englewood Golf Club, Miss Elizabeth Hurry, Miss Julia Mix and Mrs. S. F. Lefferts, made the same record for the New York players. The earliest entrants from Philadelphia were Miss F. C. Griscom, of the Merion Cricket Club, and Mrs. C. F. Fox and Mrs. W. G. Miller, of the Huntingdon Valley Country Club.

The entries closed Monday with C. West Tainter, 35 Wall street, for the invitation tournament of the Richmond County Country Club on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. It will be the first tournament at the club since 1897 and is intended as an introduction of the rearranged eighteen hole course to the players of the country. Three sixteens will qualify for cups in an eighteen hole round, and there will also be three beaten eight cups, with a thirty-six hole closing handicap.

In the game of golf they say that Scotch blood will tell. If this is true, the success of Rev. J. O. McKelvey in playing the game is accounted for. He naturally takes to the game and his playing is very consistent. Mr. McKelvey is a regular visitor to the Park Golf Club course, where he thoroughly enjoys his favorite exercise.

Dudley H. Barrows, of this city, who is a member of the Princeton 'varsity golf team, showed in his play on Saturday against the Montclair team that he is still improving. He will soon have an opportunity to contest for intercollegiate honors at Garden City.

David Shay, the secretary at the Plainfield Country Club, has received several offers for the coming winter, some of which have been in the South. He has not yet decided upon his plans.

The past season has undoubtedly been the most successful in the history of the Plainfield Country Club. The events have been numerous and varied to suit all classes and the attendance of members on the course has been large.

When all of the improvements are completed at the Westfield Golf Club, and the course made an eighteen-hole one, instead of nine, it will probably be one of the most popular in the State. Plainfielders frequently visit that course and play.

FOOTBALL.

An association game of football will be played on the grounds at Clinton avenue and South Second street, Saturday afternoon, between the Plainfield A. F. C. and the Kearny A. C. The two teams are evenly matched and are capable of putting up a good contest.

N. P. H. S. ELEVEN WINS PRACTICE GAME.

Defeats Cedarcroft Scrubs by Score of 4 to 0 In Snappy Contest.

In a fast practice game yesterday afternoon, the North Plainfield High School eleven defeated a scrub team representing the Cedarcroft school, by a score of 4 to 0. The play was snappy on both sides, although fumbles, as is usual in early-season games, were frequent.

The game was won in the second half, when M. Van Arsdale made a dashing run of fifty yards, and Hamilton capped the performance with a pretty kick for a goal from the field. Mehaffey made a brilliant flying tackle of Van Arsdale, and Loizeaux also showed up well.

The line up:

PICKING DEMOCRATIC CONGRESSIONAL NOMINEE.

Moody Probable Choice in the Fifth District Today.

William H. Stryker, of Morristown, chairman of the Democratic Congressional Committee for the Fifth District, called the Congressional convention to order when it convened at Morristown, this morning, and William J. Curtis, of Summit, was chosen temporary chairman. In his speech accepting the chairmanship, he urged the Democrats to forget past differences and to work hard for the success of the ticket as the prospects of victory are better this year than at any time during the past ten years. After the temporary organization was effected and committees were appointed, an adjournment was taken until 2 oclock this afternoon.

It is generally conceded that John W. Moody, of Cranford, is the probable nominee for Congress, in opposition to Congressman Fowler. Although he is not seeking the honor, it is believed that he will accept it, if offered.

At the caucus of the Morris county delegates this morning there was a unanimous expression of opinion in favor of James E. Martine for the nomination, but the "Farmer Orator" states positively that he will not accept it. In view of this it is thought that he favors Mr. Moody. The Elizabeth delegates, as well as those from all parts of Union county will give their support to the Cranford man. William R. Wilson, of Elizabeth, is also talked of for the nomination, but his boom seems to have little strength.

Democrat on G. O. P. Ticket.

Rahway, Oct. 3.—The Republicans at their meeting Saturday night placed Thomas Lindsay, a lifelong Democrat, in nomination for water commissioner and W. B. Durie for school commissioner. Party lines seem to be breaking all to pieces this year, many old-time Democrats leaping over the boundary into the opposition fold.

IRA WOOD RENOMINATED

Fourth District Congressional Convention Solid For Mercer Co. Man.

MUCH ENTHUSIASM

No Opposition In Delegations Representing Somerset, Mercer and Hunterdon Counties.

Ira W. Wood, the present congressman from the Fourth New Jersey congressional district, was yesterday renominated for another term in the nation's lawmaking body. The renomination took place at Flemington in one of the most enthusiastic conventions the Republicans of this district ever held. The entire borough was ablaze with Republican enthusiasm from the instant the Republican Club, of Trenton, made its appearance, headed by Winkler's band, until the last delegate from the counties of Mercer, Hunterdon and Somerset left the pretty Hunterdon county borough.

Delegates to many conventions said that the enthusiasm was of the most spontaneous character ever seen in this party of New Jersey at any convention.

The solid speech of Candidate Ira W. Wood, the nominating speech of Assemblyman Alfred N. Barber and the speech of former Democratic Congressional Candidate Lewis Perrine were the features of the convention. Astonishment of the delegates was divided between the three masterly efforts.

The congressional committee nominations of those respective conferences, which were ratified by the convention later, makes the new congressional committee as follows: General C. Edward Murray and Elijah C. Hutchinson, the Mercer members; Kennett Sheley, Bernardsville, and George A. Dilts, Bridgewater, the Somerset members, and S. K. Large and John Foran, the Hunterdon county members.

At noon General Murray called the convention to order and James L. Griggs, of Somerville, former prosecutor of Somerset county, was elected temporary chairman, with Walter G. Callis, editor of the Flemington Republican, secretary. William Atkinson, of Trenton, and Newton E. Flack, of Lambertville, were elected vice presidents, and then the several delegations nominated the following committeemen, which nominations were ratified by the convention: Permanent organization, D. H. Scranton, of Mercer; George W. Neff, of Somerset, and James Wyckoff, of Hunterdon; credentials, William R. Leedom, of Mercer; J. H. Schomp, of Somerset, and Thomas Jardine, of Hunterdon; rules, Harry Haveson, of Mercer; N. W. French, of Somerset, and Theodore Moore, of Hunterdon; resolutions, Ammi R. Schanck, of Mercer; H. K. Gaston, of Somerset, and William E. Simpson.

Recess was then taken until 2 o'clock in order to allow the committees time to do their work. Winkler's band after lunch played a concert on the porch of the Hunterdon county court house, in which building the convention was held.

As soon as the convention was reconvened and the permanent organization committee had reported in favor of the temporary officers being made permanent, which was done on motion of Sheriff William L. Wilbur, a Mercer delegate.

Hunterdon being called, and the county having no nomination, Mercer was called and then the cheering broke out, for Assemblyman Barber rose to nominate Congressman Wood. Again and again the cheers resounded for Barber and Wood. When order was restored Mr. Barber made the nominating speech, being frequently interrupted by bursts of applause for the sound sense in his talk.

The call of the convention resulted in no other name being put in nomination. When it came to the call of Somerset, Mr. Suydam said that Somerset had no nomination, but seconded the nomination of Congressman Wood, feeling sure that he had been an ideal candidate, taking care of the business of the people of the whole district.

The vote was: Hunterdon, 40 votes for Ira W. Wood; Mercer, 143 votes for Ira W. Wood; Somerset, 49 votes

Rev. E. E. Roberson, pastor of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, where the bride and groom are attendants, performed the ceremony, in the presence of about 100 guests.

The bride was gowned in white silk, trimmed with lace, and carried a bouquet of bride roses. The couple was unattended. After the ceremony a reception was held, during which congratulations were offered and supper was served. Later Mr. and Mrs. Brouard left for Buffalo and Niagara Falls. Upon their return they will reside in a new house which the groom is building on Hobart avenue.

The groom is employed as a draughtsman at the Pond Machine Tool Works, and both he and his wife are active workers at Monroe Avenue M. E. church.

PETER BLIMM'S FUNERAL.

Rev. George Bower, of Warrenville, In Charge of the Service.

The funeral of Peter C. Blimm, who was killed Monday afternoon by falling beneath a wagon at the Smalley stone quarry, was held at the home of his parents on Somerset street, yesterday afternoon. It was conducted by Rev. George Bower, of Warrenville, and was attended by a large gathering of relatives and friends. Mr. Bower had known the young man all his life and his remarks were in the nature of a personal talk.

There were numerous floral tributes, among them set pieces from the Ladies' Aid Society, of the German Reformed church, of which Mrs. Jacob Blimm is a member, and from the employees at the Woodhull & Martin store, where Harry Blimm, a brother, is employed.

Interment was made in the North Plainfield cemetery, the pall bearers being Walter Lane, Harry Werner, Herman Keller and Lawrence Scheelein.

RATE ON FUNERAL COACHES ADVANCES

LIVERYMEN'S AGREEMENT MAKES DYING MORE EXPENSIVE THAN EVER.

Rates for the carriages used at funerals were boosted by the four principal liverymen of the city last night. After a conference, a new schedule was prepared in which coaches were made $5 apiece for funeral service, instead of $4. The wagonette, in which the pall bearers ride, will cost $6 now, instead of $4.

The advance in coach rates here was practically the only change in the schedule. There was a rumor that the liverymen intended to raise rates on wedding carriages, but the nuptial coach was not tampered with. It may still be hired for the old rate, $5.

The liverymen represented at the conference were Albert Hedden, Adam Blair, the Plainfield Cab Company and the Central Livery Stable. They practically control the livery business in the city. They met at Mr. Hedden's office, East Fourth street. The matter had been talked over among them, and the schedule was quickly agreed upon.

The undertakers of the city and borough were notified of the change this morning, and furnished with copies of the schedule. They had received intimations of the proposed action and were not surprised. The Plainfield rates apply to New Market, Dunellen, Fanwood and Scotch Plains. South Plainfield must pay $6 for its funeral coaches, as hitherto.

The liverymen say the increase was demanded as a matter of self-conservation. They say the old rate was so low as to leave practically no profit in funeral business.

DIES OF OLD WOUND.

John Stevenson, Shot Over a Year Ago, Succumbed Yesterday.

John Stevenson, formerly a resident of this city, and a former policeman of Raritan, who was shot by Charles Kiszonak, a prominent hotel man, more than a year ago, died yesterday morning as the result of his wound at Somerville. Stevenson went to a rear door of Kiszonak's Hotel at an early hour one morning and pounded on it for admittance. Kiszonak said he believed the policeman was a burglar and shot him, but evidence was adduced in court to show that there had been a quarrel between Stevenson and Kiszonak previous to the shooting. Kiszonak was twice tried for the shooting without the jury arriving at a verdict. He was subsequently allowed by the court to plead non vult and fined $500.

Prime Cuts Dearer.

According to the usual custom at this time of the year, there is a slight increase in the price of prime cuts of meat and the local wholesale houses have notified the retail butchers of the change. The increase applies only to the choicest cuts. The prices remain the same on other cuts. The increase on the whole carcass amounts to about a half a cent a pound, but in order to get a fair price for the poorer cuts, as well as the better cuts, the total advance in price will be nearly two cents. This condition, it is said, will exist until the prime quality of beef is more plentiful. The retail butchers accordingly, it is announced, will be obliged to make a slight increase for the choice meat to their customers.

G. Harold Whitney to Wed.

Announcement is made of the approaching marriage of G. Harold Whitney, son of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Whitney, of this city, and Miss Gertrude Wittke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. A. Whitney, of "Breeze Knoll," Westfield. About 350 invitations have been issued for the event, which will take place Wednesday night, October 10, at 7 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents. Dr. Whitney, father of the groom and president emeritus of the Centenary Collegiate Institute, Hackettstown, will perform the ceremony. The couple will reside at Fairview and DeLacy avenues, North Plainfield.

CASTING BROUGHT DEATH

Chain Holding It Slipped and Projection Struck Foreman Kneeland at Pond Shop.

DIED IN FEW MINUTES

Victims' Spinal Column Was Crushed—Employed by the Company Over Eighteen Years.

Within five minutes of the time that he was to quit work for the day, Patrick Kneeland, foreman of the helpers at the Pond Tool Works, was almost instantly killed in the shop yesterday afternoon. The chain holding a heavy casting that was being lifted up by a crane, slipped as he stood beneath it, and one end of the mass of metal struck him a crushing blow on the back just above the shoulders. The spinal column was broken and he sank to the floor unconscious, death ensuing within ten minutes. Dr. P. B. Cregar and Rev. Father Bogan were hurriedly summoned, but the man was beyond all aid before they arrived.

Kneeland had been in the employ of the Pond Company from the time the local shop was built in 1888, coming to Plainfield with the concern from Worcester, Mass. He had charge of the men in the machine department who are kept at the call of machinists who want castings lifted or heavy work done. Shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, an employe asked to have what is known as a "worm gear" lifted to a planer. It weighed about 5,000 pounds and Kneeland assumed charge of the job, directing the placing of the "sling" leading from the crane.

As the gear was being slowly raised, the foreman followed its course, frequently standing directly under it, his long experience making him oblivious to danger. The heavy weight was above his head and being swung over when without an instant's warning, the binding chain slipped and Kneeland was struck by a projecting part. Several other men who were standing by had narrow escapes as none of them had any time to jump. The 5:30 whistle for quitting time blew as the victim was breathing his last and the sight of the inert form unnerved many of the employes as they walked by on their way out.

Superintendent MacMurray said today that an investigation was being conducted but so far as could be learned the affair was purely accidental. Every precaution had been taken to avoid any mishap and Kneeland had placed chains so many times no one dreamed of a slip.

The victim was about forty years old and was one of the best known men in the Pond shop. He was married and lived with his wife and two children on Lee place.

The funeral will be held at St. Mary's church Saturday morning and interment will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

SALARY INCREASE PETITIONS TO COME UP MONDAY NIGHT.

Adjourned Meeting of the Common Council to Act on Two Important Matters.

While the Common Council adjourned to Monday night, October 22, chiefly for the purpose of receiving bids for the construction of the proposed southside sanitary sewer, it is probable that the members will reconsider the petitions of the patrolmen and firemen regarding the increase of salaries according to the new law.

The firemen and policemen say they were put to considerable expense in preparing their petitions and that they fully believed that the Common Council would be willing to allow the question to be voted upon by the people. On the other hand if the Common Council feels disposed to meet the request of the policemen and firemen without taking advantage of the law, there is no doubt but that such action would meet with approval. They feel that an increase in wages is due them, and thought that the best way of getting a fair expression of opinion would be to let the people vote on the question at the general election, as that would relieve the Common Council of all responsibility.

Councilman Tyler, who opposed the action taking advantage of the law, whereby future control of the salary question would be taken out of the hands of the Common Council, stated Monday night that he did not want to be understood as opposing an increase and it is taken for granted that he would be in favor of giving the policemen and firemen more money.

MISSING A MONTH; MAY BE DROWNED

QUIPP LAST SEEN IN BATHING AT MIDLAND BEACH.

The sudden disappearance of Burton Quipp, a young married man of Hoboken, and a relative of J. V. E. Vanderhoff, of this city, is causing much alarm among his relatives and friends. It is about a month ago that Mr. Quipp went to Midland Beach to spend the day. When he arrived at the beach he decided to go in bathing. He hired a bath-house, checked his valuables, and went into the surf. That is the last time he was seen or anything has been heard of him, despite vigilant search on the part of relatives and friends. It is now the opinion that he was drowned while in bathing and that his body was washed out to sea.

Mr. Quipp had not been married very long and during the summer his wife went to Canada to visit relatives, he intending to go there this week, make a short stay and then return home with Mrs. Quipp. It was shortly after she went to Canada that Mr. Quipp decided to make a trip to Midland Beach. Relatives are unable to explain the disappearance. Mr. and Mrs. Quipp lived very happily and he was very successful in business. Mr. Quipp has a brother, Fred Quipp, who resides at Cranford and is employed in the Aeolian Works at Garwood. Efforts are still being made to find Mr. Quipp, either dead or alive. His clothes and valuables were discovered soon after the disappearance, thus making sure that there could be no mistake in the matter.

FREEHOLDER MIXUP.

New Providence Republicans Are in a Dilemma.

The Republicans of New Providence Borough and the township are in a peculiar mixup as a result of the primaries held last week, when delegates were chosen to nominate the various candidates. The trouble exists over the choice of a Republican candidate for freeholder.

In New Providence township, Geo. Wahl was elected delegate by a majority of two, while in the borough George Potter received a majority of seven. The former wants to nominate his cousin, John Wahl, for freeholder, while Mr. Potter desires to name his brother, A. Potter, for the same office. County Attorney W. R. Coddington has advised the factions to hold a conference and decide upon one man for the nominations, but as yet this has not been done. Brad Jones, of New Providence Borough, is the Democratic nominee and, it is said, that he conducting a spirited and successful campaign, with fair prospects of election.

BIRDSALL—PATTERSON.

Miss Isabelle Patterson Becomes Mrs. G. C. Birdsall.

Miss Isabelle Patterson, daughter of Mrs. Andrew Stuart Patterson, formerly of this city, and Dr. Gregg Curtis Birdsall, of Washington, were married at 12 o'clock noon, today, at the home of the bride's cousin, Mrs. William Richards, in New York. The event was witnessed by a number of relatives and friends from this city, and guests were present from Washington, Philadelphia, Brooklyn, and New York. A reception followed the ceremony and this afternoon the couple left on a wedding journey.

The bride is a sister of Edward J. and Stuart H. Patterson, of this city, and is well-known in society circles here and New York. The couple will be at home on Wednesdays in December at 1330 Massachusetts avenue, Washington.

Bolts His Party's Ticket.

Mayor J. B. Furber, of Rahway, announces emphatically that he will not support Councilmen George Van Sant or G. E. Galloway, Republicans, in their candidacy for re-election. The trouble is an outgrowth of their stand on not taking the part of the city in the Councilman Bernhard trial for using his influence against the city's interests.

AGAIN PIT J. E. MARTINE AGAINST C. N. FOWLER

Farmer Orator Unanimously Named by Democrats of 5th Congressional District.

A GENERAL SURPRISE

In Response to Appeals of Solid Delegations of Warren, Morris and Union Plainfielder Accepts Nomination.

James E. Martine is again the opponent of Congressman Charles N. Fowler in his campaign for re-election. The Plainfielder was named unanimously by the Democratic Congressional Convention at Morristown, yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Martine's nomination grew out of the irreconcilable difference between the supporters of William R. Wilson, of Elizabeth, and the adherents of John Moody, of Cranford, in the caucus of the Union county delegation. Warren and Morris counties had no candidates and were agreed that the nominee must come from Union, so the action of the convention hung on the Union county caucus.

As soon as the delegates from Union gathered after recess, the gulf between the Moody men and Wilson boomers yawned wide and unbridgeable. As the caucus proceeded, the gulf became wider and the absolute hopelessness of bringing one side to support the candidate of the other became a certainty. The Wilson men are said to have had no argument to bear against Moody as a candidate; theirs was a boom campaign and nothing else. They wanted Wilson, that was all.

When it became plain that nothing could be done with the opposing factions, as lined up, a compromise candidate was suggested. The unanimity and spontaneity with which all the delegates turned to Mr. Martine when a candidate agreeable to all wings of the party was desired, was a beautiful compliment to the Plainfielder's ever-blooming popularity. Mr. Martine was called into the caucus, and the situation was expained. He was reluctant to take the nomination. The need to which the delegation had come for a candidate of his high party standing, the lack of any other man so thoroughly fitted to meet all the conditions, was eloquently urged upon him, and he finally consented to take the nomination if it was the unanimous desire of the convention that he run. He knew what the battle meant, he said, but if nomination came to him as a call to duty, he would make the fight over again.

Mr. Martine's decision was hailed with unconcealed delight by all three delegations, and the nomination was rapidly accomplished when the delegates reconvened after the recess.

The convention opened at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, at the Morristown Opera House. Some of the Plainfield delegates did not get to the hall until afternoon, but the delegation from this city was pretty well filled out before the convention adjourned.

W. R. Curtis, of Summit, was made chairman, and George Sharp, of Warren, secretary. No Plainfield-

CHARLES A. MILES WEDS MISS ROSETTA ACKOR

CEREMONY WITNESSED BY A LARGE GATHERING OF FRIENDS.

In the presence of a large gathering of friends, Miss Rosetta Allen Ackor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip H. Ackor, of Westervelt avenue, and Charles Albert Miles, of Somerset street, were married at the home of the bride's parents, yesterday afternoon. The ceremony was performed at 5 o'clock by Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, pastor of the First Baptist church.

Miss Beaulah F. Lightfoot, of Westfield, was maid of honor, and Alfred F. Egan, of this city, was best man. Miss Ackor was gowned in white silk mulle over taffeta and carried a bouquet of white roses. Her attendant wore pink silk and carried pink roses. The bride entered the parlor leaning on her father's arm and walked to the center of the room where she was given in marriage beneath a floral bell. The decorations throughout the various rooms and hall were decidedly pretty.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held and later a wedding supper was served. Early last night Mr. and Mrs. Miles left for a wedding trip that will embrace visits to several points of interest in New England. On returning they will make their home at 336 Somerset street. They received a large and attractive array of presents.

The guests present included relatives and friends from New York, Newark, Jersey City, Boston, New Haven, Somerville, Flemington, New Market and other places.

James E. Martine.

WANT A CHAIRMAN.

Democrats Don't Know Yet Who Will Preside Over Big Meeting.

The Democrats have not yet decided on a chairman for their big meeting at the theatre next Wednesday night. City Chairman Walter L. Hetfield, Sr., is looked to by most of the committee to take charge of the platform, but he has not consented to preside. He prefers to put the chairmanship in other hands, and only considers himself as an emergency chairman.

The party leaders are looking forward to the rally. Nothing has stirred them like it for a long time. State Senator James F. Minturn, Congressional Nominee James A. Hamill, and Col. Edwin Stevens—they all come from Hudson county—will surely be here, and the Democrats cannot see how Plainfield can fail to fall into the arms of Democracy after the heavy guns from Hudson weave their spells of eloquence. A big crowd is expected. The theatre orchestra will play.

"Consider Christ."

"Consider Christ—As a Member of Society," was the subject of the mid-week prayer-meeting at the First Baptist church. The pastor, Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, led in the consideration of the subject as to how people can make their social relations bear best Christian fruit. The service was also in the nature of a preparatory meeting, previous to communion which will be held on Sunday.

NEWS IN THE SUBURBS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY

But little excitement is promised by the approaching election. Both parties have been harmonized into perfect serenity and both are convinced that the victory will be theirs. In the township, the internal disorders of the Republican party threaten trouble. South Plainfield remembers the fate of the borough bill, and Dr. Nelson may have reason to be thankful he wasn't brought into the assessorship contest.

The football team has no game on for next Saturday, so far, but Manager Ayers is hustling to provide his men and the patrons of the sport with a practice contest of some kind. It is possible the North Plainfield High School eleven, strengthened here and there, will be the attraction. The school team defeated a heavy city scrub team Tuesday afternoon, and is able to give a good account of itself.

After several weeks' vacation, Miss Estelle Sofield will play at the prayer meeting of the Baptist church tonight. Miss Sofield is still organist of the church, although she has made several efforts in the past three or four months to resign. She agreed to remain in charge of the music until some one else could be secured, and no one able to take her place has seemed available.

C. D. Taylor is trying to interest the bowling cranks in a plan to organize a league among the alleys of Plainfield, Dunellen and New Brunswick. The teams would represent the different alleys, the owners of which would offer a handsome trophy. The teams to be organized by elimination contests which will insure the strongest representation.

Theodore Apgar and Lewis Schneider attended the Democratic county convention in New Brunswick yesterday as delegates from the borough. Assessor Peters was among those who witnessed the work of the party machinery.

George Apgar is organizing a junior football team for Saturday games. The line-up will be filled by the beginning of next week.

R. L. Pierce was in New Brunswick yesterday on business.

The W. C. T. U. will hold a business meeting this afternoon.

John McMahon has returned from a visit to friends in Newark.

Terence Ronayne has recovered from a brief illness.

James Vail has purchased a new double bass horn.

Garretson & Gray have purchased a new team.

LAINS AND FANWOOD

Twilight Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., meets tonight in the library rooms. A delegation from Success Council, of Milburn, is expected and the entertainment committee has arranged to welcome the visiting delegation in a true fraternal manner. A large attendance of members is requested.

The Suburban Club is having the club's bowling alleys planed and overhauled so as to have them in first class condition for the opening of the bowling season the latter part of the month.

Fanwood Ducket and Engine Company met last night in the company rooms. Only the regular routine company business was transacted.

The baseball game Saturday afternoon will be started at 3:15 o'clock sharp, so as to enable the game to be finished before dark.

Miss Mamie Gallagher, who has been visiting Mrs. William Lee, has returned to her home at Metuchen.

Mrs. Thomas S. Young, of the borough, is visiting friends at Albany, N. Y.

The Township Committee meets tomorrow night in the town rooms.

Interior improvements are being made to the Methodist church.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

Application was made at the county court at New Brunswick on Monday for a license for the tavern at the corner of Front street and Oak Tree avenue, formerly kept by Joseph Steirer, which was refused by Judge Booraem. Strong remonstrances were presented from the citizens, headed by John Geary, who employed counsel to protect the inhabitants of the community from further annoyance and nuisance which they allege they have suffered from owing to the manner in which this place has been conducted in the past.

Patrick Kane returned home from Baltimore, where he had a large contract for plumbing, and will leave shortly to go to Philadelphia, where he is superintending another large contract.

Miss Florence Smith took an automobile ride to Madison and spent the night with friends.

Abbie Dorgan has returned home after a visit with her sister, Mrs. Conner.

Fred La Tourette and family moved to Jersey City today.

—Charles Lyman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Lyman, of Washington avenue, has taken a position with the Ingersoll-Rand Company at Easton, Pa.

—The New York and New Jersey Telephone Company yesterday began the work of extending the underground conduits on East Third street and Watchung avenue.

County Registrar of Deeds F. H. Smith and Mrs. Smith, of West Fourth street, who have been spending several days at Atlantic City, returned home last night.

PERSONAL.

Miss May VanFleet, of Liberty street, is visiting out of town friends.

Mrs. Ida Backer, of the borough, is visiting her sister, Mrs. George H. Dalley, of Whitehouse.

Herbert Schutt, formerly of this city, but now of New York, has returned after spending several days in town.

Miss Violet Hague, of West Front street, who has been spending her vacation at Atlantic City, has returned home.

Francis DeLacy Hyde, of Mountain avenue, who has been quite ill with rheumatism, is reported to be much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Barnes, of Mountain avenue, are entertaining their niece from the west. She will make her home in Plainfield for the winter.

Michael Muldowney, who has been taking special treatment at the Casino for pulmonary troubles by living out of doors in a tent, appears to be improving.

Mrs. William Cox, of Lebanon, Hunterdon county, who has been at Muhlenberg Hospital for some time under treatment, has returned home much improved in health.

COUNTERFEITER'S PLEA.

Says Marriage Made Him Repent—Asks Wife's Freedom.

Trenton, Oct. 4.—John Harvey, of Newark, who was indicted by the last grand jury for counterfeiting, made a peculiar plea before Judge Cross in the United States District Court here yesterday. When arrested, a complete counterfeiting outfit, excepting dies, was found in his home. Harvey admitted having made spurious coins but added that when he had completed the job he repented because of his recent marriage and made an effort to destroy the coins. He succeeded in getting rid of all but nine of them, he says, and he got up during the night while his wife was asleep to destroy the rest. The nine coins were thrown into a coal heap and were found by the police.

Judge Cross sentenced him to $100 fine and three years at hard labor in the Essex County penitentiary. Harvey asked that he be not sent to the Essex County institution, because during a term in that prison after conviction on a similar charge, he lost forty pounds. The judge changed the place of imprisonment to Trenton.

"I expect you to send me down," said Harvey when sentence was passed, "but I want you to let my wife out of jail. She had nothing to do with my crime."

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

Miss Anna Day, who appears this season as "Mary Tudor" in Ernest Shipman's grand production of "When Knighthood Was in Flower," has been universally extended the praise of critics and plaudits of the press wherever she has been presented. By many her portrayal of the character of the wilful "Madcap Mary" is said to be even truer and better than that of America's favorite actress, Julia Marlowe, by whom the play was brought out. The production will be seen at the New Plainfield theatre tomorrow night.

"The Shadow Behind the Throne," which comes to the New Plainfield theatre Saturday afternoon and night, goes as far afield as distant, ancient and mysterious Pekin, China, for its scene of action, and its cast is a varied one introducing among other characters a Mandarin, who is "The Shadow," and a dramatic character of marked originality and force; a scheming and merciless Viceroy; Col. Calhoun, American Ambassador to China; George Ingram, his aide-de-camp; Henry Seaton, an attache; Ralph P. Cook, an American correspondent; Bobby Carruthers, the Colonel's nephew; Prince, a spy in the Viceroy's service; Li Ling Foo, a Christian missionary; Dorothy Calhoun, the Colonel's beautiful daughter; Blanche, her exceedingly lively friend; Madame, the Viceroy's mistress; De Roche, attached to the American Legation, and a number of minor characters, including U. S. Marines, Chinese Boxers and native servants. The specially imported costumes are gorgeously unique and the scenery rich and quaint in its Oriental realism.

Arthur Pryor, the great young American bandmaster and his big aggregation of music masters, is cutting a pretty big figure in the amusement world these days. For a number of years, Mr. Pryor has been the acknowledged king of the slide trombone, one of the most difficult instruments to master. His achievements on the trombone, put to blush the accomplishments of the world's greatest masters on the cornet, an instrument which is but little more than a plaything beside the trombone. All the difficult chromatic scales, the musical pyrotechnics, which lends so much of the coloratura effect to cornet solos, are duplicated by Mr. Pryor on the trombone, and tones which have been seemingly impossible hitherto on either instrument, have been produced by Mr. Pryor with the utmost ease and grace. His mastery of the instrument has been the occasion of several summonses from the royal families of nearly every European country for his appearance in concert. He will be seen with his band of fifty at the New Plainfield theatre Monday night.

James H. Decker will present Andrew Mack as Shaun the Post in Dion Boucicault's dear old Irish comedy drama, "Arrah-Na-Pogue," at the New Plainfield theatre next Tuesday night, when Mr. Mack will introduce several new songs of his own composition. The supporting company will number about forty people. A complete scenic and electric production is carried. Mr. Mack's appearance here will be under the auspices of Watchung Council, Knights of Columbus.

Among book plays "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," which appears at the New Plainfield theatre next Thursday night, seems to have the most super-abundant vitality. From the first dramatization of Mrs. Rice's two popular stories, "Mrs. Wiggs" and "Lovey Mary," met with a degree of popular favor more enthusiastic if anything than that awarded those best selling novels of low life in mean streets. In Mrs. Wiggs Hersel, Mis' Hazy, Lovey Mary and Mr. Stubbins, the play presents for salient types, each one of which remains firmly fixed in the most pleasant recollections of the playgoer. Strong as the roles the play has been even more richly cast. Mrs. Madge Carr Cook, mother of Miss Eleanor Robson, has scored the greatest triumph of her life in the title role. It will in all probability be her crowning success, for the public seems disinclined to let her leave the Cabbage Patch, where she makes folk laugh so heartily.

MARTINE FOR CONGRESS.

Without a doubt, the Democrats yesterday placed before the people the strongest candidate they could name when they nominated James E. Martine for congress. It is safe to say that there is no man in the district who can command as many Republican votes as the "farmer-orator," for he is almost as well and favorable known in Morris and Warren counties as he is in Union, where he has been the leading figure in the Democratic ranks for years. As a citizen he holds the respect of everyone and as a party worker he has the esteem if not the support of all who admire a consistent, loyal, devoted and sincere advocate of definite political principles.

Notwithstanding that the Rooseveltian landslide swept Fowler, the absentee-representative back into office again in the last congressional campaign, the run made by Martine was surprisingly good in this county, where both reside. Even Mr. Fowler's own home, Elizabeth, was carried by him. It may be said now that Fowler will have no cause to be alarmed as he in intrenched in a Republican stronghold. That is very true but one only has to go about the county to hear what the voters generally think of the Elizabeth "statesman." The arguments used against him are that he does not represent the district; that he spends little time in Washington and that he has never been known to do anything during the twelve years that he has sat in Congress except to waste time over a banking bill that few people take any stock in. While supposedly representing his district, the congressman has spent much of his time reaping wealth from a marble quarry in Vermont.

If the Fifth district want a representative who will devote his time to its interests James E. Martine is the man. He is one who would be heard from in the halls of congress and one who would at all times reflect credit on his constituents.

WORTHY OF THEIR HIRE.

There appears to be a very good reason why the pay of both policemen and firemen should be increased, but the hitch is over the way to bring it about. The only question is one of red tape and the sooner that it is settled the better. One thing is perfectly certain, if the city desires good men in its departments it will have to pay for them. That they are worth more than they are getting, cannot be denied. There is no use wasting time, let the Common Council dispose of the matter on Monday night.

WEDDED AT ST. MARY'S.

Quiet Ceremony Unites Thomas F. O'Keeffe and Miss Bertha Hess.

The wedding of Miss Bertha Hess, daughter of Mrs. Theresa Hess, of Jackson avenue, and Thomas F. O'Keeffe, of West Fifth street, took place in St. Mary's church at 7 o'clock last night. Rev. Father Bogan officiated and only the immediate relatives of both families were in attendance. The bride was attended by Miss Mary Casey and the groom's cousin, James J. Flynn, acted as best man. Following the ceremony, the wedding party adjourned to the bride's home where supper was served.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Keeffe left last night for a trip to be spent in the New England States. On returning they will reside on Jackson avenue.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The Middlesex County Democratic convention yesterday afternoon at New Brunswick, nominated George S. Silzer, of New Brunswick, as a candidate to oppose W. H. Jackson for the State Senate. Mr. Silzer is a member of the law firm of Adrain, Silzer & Pearse, in Newark, and has been chairman of the Democratic county committee for the last ten years. The Assembly nominees are Dr. Hugh Ramsay, of Perth Amboy; Thomas Hagerty, of New Brunswick, and Alfred Kerr, of South Amboy. The platform adopted denounced bribery and bossism, declares against corporate and machine control of politics, and contained a plank favoring the election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people. This plank pledged the convention's nominees to work for "a corrective of the present improper and vicious system of electing the State's representatives in the United States Senate. Under the present system millionaires and the representatives of corporations buy legislatures and secure control of seats in the Senate, an evil which would be eliminated by having United States Senators elected by direct vote of the people."

There was a stormy time at the Republican City Convention held Tuesday night at Passaic, when the regulars and the Colbyites clashed. Bad feeling was developed over the selection of a chairman, Dineen T. Baxter, an anti-Colbyite, being chosen. The climax of the row was reached when the chairman called for nominations for councilman-at-large. There were two candidates named, Frederick E. Lee, the present incumbent and a Colbyite, and U. S. Freeman, who represented the regulars. After a very exciting scene, during which several of the delegates almost came to blows, Freeman won by one vote. It was then that the rival factions denounced each other in loud terms. The regulars made an attempt to put through a resolution denouncing the Colby faction, but it caused such an uproar that it was withdrawn.

Joseph A. Beecher, who was nominated for Congress by the Democrats of the Seventh New Jersey District, announced yesterday that he would not accept the nomination. Mr. Beecher was named by acclamation to make the running in a strong Republican district against Representative R. Wayne Parker.

Eugene W. Leake, a young Jersey City lawyer, was nominated last night for Congress by the Democrats of the Ninth, Hudson County District. No other name was presented to the convention, and Mr. Leake's nomination was enthusiastically applauded.

THREE ENTERTAINMENTS.

Attractive Series Arranged by Members of Grace M. E. harch.

Plans have been made by the members of Grace M. E. church for a series of three musical entertainments to be given during the coming winter. Splendid talent has been secured from New York and Newark and the artists are all of wide reputation.

The first entertainment will take place on October 23 and will comprise Miss Caroline S. Doll, soprano; Mrs. Elizabeth Lambert VanNeer, reader; William Nelson Searles, baritone; Otto K. Schill, concert violin; John H. B. Conger, pianist. The second will be on December 13 and will be furnished by the Criterion Hand Bell Ringers and Miss Florence Allwood, rearer, while the last is set for January 22, the Metropolitan Quartette and Miss Helen M. Miller, impersonator, appearing.

Matthew H. VanDerveer.

Mathew H. VanDerveer died at his residence at Somerville yesterday morning, at the age of sixty-six years. He served three years as county clerk of Somerset county and was appointed internal revenue collector for this district during the first Cleveland administration. Mr. VanDerveer was born on a farm in Boycefield, and resided in Somerset county until ten years ago, when he retired from public life and moved to Ulster county, N. Y., where he followed agricultural pursuits for the benefit of his health. He returned to his native town several years ago.

Passaic Republicans Nominate.

Passaic, Oct. 4.—In one of the most exciting city conventions held in this city the Republicans Tuesday night nominated O. S. Freeman as their candidate for councilman-at-large. Freeman was the machine candidate and was opposed by Fred R. Low, who was the choice of the Colbyites. Freeman won out by one to spare, the vote being 12 to 11. John Jeleme was nominated for assessor-at-large over Walter Berry by one vote. John J. Bowes and Peter Tornquest received the nominations for surveyors of highways.

Dargue Gets Cadetship.

Herbert A. Dargue, of Boonton, won first place in the competitive examination for appointment as cadet at the U. S. Military Academy, West Point, which was held at Elizabeth on Saturday. The examination was held under the direction of Congressman Charles N. Fowler, who will select a candidate for appointment from the Fifth Congressional District. P. Barton Myers, Jr., of Morristown, finished second as alternate, and A. Bennett Anderson, of Dover, was third.

FREEHOLDERS DISCUSS OIL AND THE DUST NUISANCE.

Will Make a Report at the Meeting This Afternoon.

The members of the County Road Committee of the Board of Freeholders met in Elizabeth Tuesday to go over the roads on which oil had been tried as an experiment in laying the dust. They looked over a good part of St. George's avenue, where the experiment has been given a thorough trial, and also over North avenue.

The committee will report on its findings at the meeting of the Board of Freeholders this afternoon.

After inspecting the streets at Elizabeth the committee went to Westfield, where, together with some citizens of that place, the freeholders looked over a plan to build some sidewalks with pipes under them, to drain off the water as fast os it rains, keeping the walks continually in good condition.

It was the opinion of Freeholder Adams, who is chairman of the County Road Committee, that tar is better than oil to allay the dust in the streets. He said that tar which has been lightly spread over a street will be good for three years, while oil is not effectual long. Though tar for the time being is of greater cost to the county, its use, it is said, would prove cheaper than oil on account of its lasting quality. Mr. Adams said the committee would probably recommend to the board the use of tar along those county roads where automobiles are numerous and traffic is heavy. Residents along much-used country roads in the townships have often petitioned the board to do something to abate the dust nuisance. Street Commissioner Gavett is using tar extensively on the local streets and has found it satisfactory so far.

The County Road Committee consists of Freeholders Adams, Swain, Cladek, Jensen and Krouse.

Krouse Nominated For Freeholder.

Freeholder Henry Krouse has been renamed as the Republican candidate for member of the Union County Board of Freeholders from Roselle. The convention was held in Roselle on Saturday night. The delegates were August F. Compson, Dr. H. C. Pierson and Welcome W. Birdsall, of Roselle Borough; Clarence Winans, of Linden Township, an dHarry D. Houston, of Linden Borough. Mr. Compson was chairman of the delegation. The choice of Freeholder Krouse was unanimous. His selection marked the seventh time that he has been so honored. He has always been an active member of the board, serving on many important committees.

A New Series will be opened by

MARTINE AGAINST FOWLER

ers figured in the committees.

The convention met after recess at 2 o'clock. After a speech by Chairman Curtis, in which he attacked the Republican party for its motherhood of high tariff and the trusts, and charged President Roosevelt with un-American autocratic methods in executing his official duties, former Congressman John T. Dunn, of Elizabeth, placed Mr. Martine in nomination.

There was only one name to be presented, said Mr. Dunn, and in a highly eulogistic speech he placed the farmer-orator's name before the convention. It was greeted with hand-clapping and cheers that made the opera house walls ring.

Morris county, through Irving Galmon, chairman of the delegation, heartily seconded the nomination, and Wm. H. Stryker, former prosecutor of Warren county, who had himself been mentioned for the nomination, declared for his delegation that Warren county would consider only James E. Martine in the matter before the convention. He referred to Mr. Martine's campaign last year, and said his name had become a household word, and his figure as familiar as that of a friend among the people of Warren.

Mr. Martine addressed the convention after the nomination. He realized the responsibility confronting him, he said, but he accepted the trust and would go out and make the battle again.

The district had been carved out for the Republican party, he continued, and he knew the fight that was before him. Still, he believed the people had become disgusted with the Republican party and that they were beginning to look askance at Mr. Fowler. He (Martine) believed that there was a distinct agreement by a candidate, when accepted the nomination, that he would represent his constituents in the deliberations of Congress. He charged Mr. Fowler with being lax and derelict in the discharge of that obligation.

Mr. Martine appealed to all the constituency to help him reach every school district in his campaign. With their help, he would keep Fowler busier as a candidate than he ever had been as a Congressman; he would keep him busier with politics than with his marble yard in Vermont. He realized, he said in closing, that Mr. Fowler was a man of great mind and wealth, and that the great corporations would stand behind him, but he had faith in the good sense of the people, and he knew the unspeakable power of the ballot.

Awaiting the Mayor.

John VanLiew went down and out from drink, last night, and was picked up by Marshal Pope of the borough force. He will be given a hearing tonight.

VETERANS' DIME SOCIAL.

Conducted by Antietam Command and Largely Attended.

Antietam Command, No. 3, Union Veterans, conducted a dime social in its rooms on East Front street, last night. It was attended by a large gathering which thoroughly enjoyed the enterainment provided by the veterans. The programme comprised remarks by Colonel E. E. Townley, General John R. Naylor and Comrade William J. Chattenden; music by Mrs. Harriett Gibbons; reading by Mrs. Henry Frazee; songs by Comrades Townley and Wagner, Henry Frazee and Stephen Seaman, of Elizabeth; and gramophone selections by Walter Stewart.

The committee in charge consisted of Lewis Willett, E. E. Townley, Edward Vanderweg and John Wagner.

Had Rival Fined.

Mary Zwinka and George Fedak, rival boarding-house keepers in the Hungarian colony at South Plainfield, faced each other in Justice Von Minden's court last night, the former as complainant in a disorderly conduct case, and the latter as defendant. Business rivalry has bred harsh feelings between the two and Fetak took to expressing his disapproval of Mrs. Zwinka in ungentlemanly language. Justice Von Minden poked his fingers in his ears when Mrs. Zwinka started to recount some of the things Fedak said, and when the witnesses corroborated her statement, he fined the defendant $10 and costs.

CHARGES HIM WITH BIGAMY.

New York Woman on Trail of Husband and Second Spouse.

New Brunswick, Oct. 4.—As the result of investigations made by his first wife, a charge of bigamy has been made against Carl G. Rollins, who was married here on June 4, 1905, to Miss Ethel M. Raymond, of No. 144 Warren street, Newark, by the Rev. Dr. J. F. Shaw, of the First Methodist church. Justice Swayze charged the grand jury yesterday to investigate the case, the District Attorney of New York, where the first Mrs. Rollins now lives, having brought the attention of Prosecutor Berdine, of this city, to the case.

Three weeks ago Rollins' first wife visited Dr. Shaw and told him she had married Rollins in Los Angeles, three years ago. She and Rollins were then each seventeen years old. At the end of two years of married life they quarrelled and separated, both coming East, but not together. She had since learned of his second marriage.

Dr. Shaw recognized Rollins by a photograph shown him by Mrs. Rollins the first. Rollins told Dr. Shaw when he and Miss Raymond were married that he lived at No. 914 Crane street, Elizabeth, and was single. Both swore that they were of age.

SEA GIRT BULLET TEST.

Experts Say It Was Satisfactory—Army Will Shortly Adopt the New Form.

Washington, Oct. 4.—The army will shortly adopt the new bullet, which was recently tested by several of the target experts at the national rifle meet at Sea Girt and found to be satisfactory by them. Instead of the rounded point of the present bullet it has a long, straight tapering point, and is also about one-third lighter, weighing about 150 grains.

The new bullet has a greater velocity up to 2,000 yards, a greater energy up to 1,400 yards, a flatter trajectory up to 2,000 yards and a little better accuracy up to 2,000 yards. The new bullet will require a slightly different firing chamber in the rifle, but this can be readily effected in pieces now under manufacture, and the necessary changes can be made in the pieces now in use with but comparatively small expense.

No Work for Him.

After a country funeral held in the forenoon, the minister, bearers and friends, as is the custom, had returned to the bereaved household to partake of tendered hospitality, a dinner, before returning to their homes. While waiting, a conversation started embodying different ideas of heaven. One of their number expressed his belief that if all people were earnest, consistent christians this beautiful world would be a heaven. This was overheard by the minister, who rebuked him thus: "Tut, tut, Brother S., is that your idea of Heaven. Would you expect to follow your usual occupation in Heaven?" "I would," responded Mr. S., "if there were need of them; but Dominie there would be no need of your services there, you would have to go to some other place and preach."

Gormans Join Primrose.

George, John and Charles Gorman, for fifteen years leading lights in minstrelsy and who recently quit the management of Melville B. Raymond, have joined George H. Primrosee show and appeared with it at Reading, Pa., last night. All three made a decided hit before one of the largest crowds ever in the Academy of Music at that place. This addition makes the Primrose show the largest organization of its kind on the road and Plainfielders will have the opportunity of seeing it here on Tuesday afternoon and night, October 16.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Williams, who were married in Newark, last week, have returned from their honeymoon, and are now living at 217 Chestnut street, Roselle Park.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning Oct. 7.

By REV. E. H. DOYLE.

Topic.—Christ's Life X. The commandments He left us; our obedience.—John xv, 1-17.

The fifteenth chapter of John forms a part of the last address of Christ to His disciples. It followed the institution of the Lord's supper and preceded His agony in Gethsemane and His death upon the cross the next day. It was most fitting that at such a time Christ should, among other appropriate subjects, remind them of their close relationship to Him and speak to them of the things which He wanted them to do after He should leave them. The parable of the vine and its branches was used to illustrate the relationship existing between Christ and His disciples, and immediately following that He has considerable to say about commandments and obedience to them. Let us ever bear in mind that these are the dying commands of Christ and that this fact should make it impossible for us to disobey them.

The commandments of Christ, as left to us here, are summed up in one command—"Love one another." The laws of Moses were extremely lengthy, yet they were all summed up in the Ten Commandments. Thus the commandments of Christ are summed up in but one commandment, and that may even be limited to one word—love. Love includes all. The character and the attributes of God are summed up in the expression "God is love." The man who will obey this command of Christ will find that he must obey all other commands of Christ. If we love each other we must do unto each other as we would that we should be done by. We must be honest and just and upright with our fellow men if we love them as Christ uses the word love. His own love for us is His standard of our love for others. "Love one another, as I have loved you." And what was the supreme characteristic of Christ's love? It was a self sacrificing love. He gave His life for those He loved. The cross is the interpretation of Christ's love, and he who loves his fellows with such a love will fulfill all the commandments of Christ toward them.

Christ also has something to say on this occasion on the subject of obedience to His commandments. (1) He gives a promise for obedience. "If ye keep My commandments, ye shall abide in My love." If we want, therefore, to have an abiding place in the love of Christ we must keep His commandments, and abiding in Christ carries with it the promise of power in prayer. "If ye abide in Me, and My words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you." (2) Christ declares obedience to be the test of friendship with Him. "Ye are My friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you." The friendship of Christ is greatly to be desired. He is the friend who "sticketh closer than a brother." Of Him it has been written:

One there is above all others
Well deserves the name of friend.
His is love beyond all others
Costly, free and knows no end.

Do we want such a friendship? Then we must obey the commandments of Christ.

Great Demonstration In Ohio.

Ohio has never had such a demonstration in behalf of the Junior Christian Endeavorers as was that in connection with the state convention recently held at Tiffin. One afternoon at 3 o'clock a procession was formed in front of the Methodist Protestant church. The Junior O. U. A. M. juvenile drum corps headed the line. Then followed carriages and automobiles, in which rode the state officers. After them came a long line of boys and girls, followed by a company of well drilled boys clad in white, with wooden guns. This procession marched through the city streets out to Rickly chapel, at Heidelberg university. The citizens came out on the sidewalks and watched the procession of children with great interest. At the chapel a splendid programme of music, fancy flag and marching drills, together with recitations and a story by Miss Frayser, was given to a large and enthusiastic audience. This exercise is called "The Juniors' Love of Country." It was well planned and executed, and in perfect keeping with the general programme of the convention.—Rev. E. A. King in Christian Endeavor World.

Ohio's Banner.

Ohio is the proud possessor of one of the handsomest of the "increase campaign" banners. It was given to the union by the United society, was made in Yokohama, and at present represents quite 400 per cent increase on the part of the Buckeye Endeavorers.

Oct. 7 (Christian Stewardship Day): "The Grace of Giving"—II Cor. viii; ix, 6-8.

By REV. WALTER J. YATES, D. D.

It is a truth recognized by all real Christians that all we have, whether talents of mind, power of body, wealth or ability of any description, is a gift from God. This endowment is given as a matter of stewardship to be administered among men in the service of God. In its use there will be much of incidental pleasure and personal advantage, but it is not by any manner of means a matter of individual ownership. The title ever remains with God. He does not vacate it, however any man may claim it, abuse it or misuse it.

In all our financial and property gains we have a clear duty to use all for the best interests of God's kingdom. This calls for careful discrimination in regard to claims on us for aid, as well as willingness to assist where help should be given.

We are coming to a clearer idea of the best form of stewardship. Indiscriminate giving of alms has in time past had too large a place among Christians. This has been from a variety of causes. A half fanatical fear that refusal of a beggar might somehow injure our standing with God or a superstitious notion that giving to beggars was "lucky" and "a good sign" has had its influence. Pressure of duties, lack of time for investigation of the claimant's needs, lack of skill and knowledge of how to go to work are all responsible in a measure for the haphazard modes of the past. Impulse and emotional appeals, with their inevitable reaction and regret for overliberality, have also been known.

A better day has dawned. The church is coming to believe in the advice of Paul to the church at Corinth.

Paul had preached to the heathen of Macedonia and Greece and organized churches of the converts. Some were poor; some were rich. In Jerusalem was always a large company of poor dependent on the care of the church. The churches of Macedonia, moved by Christly sympathy, wished to show their fraternal feeling by a gift to the poor of Jerusalem. They wished Paul to go with their messengers to the mother church. He had decided to do so and writes to the wealthy church of Corinth to assist in this contribution. As a result of this collection we have in this letter the best exposition anywhere to be found of the principles of Christian stewardship and the practical methods for a cultivation of the real spirit of benevolence.

In these days of rapid and large increase in wealth and luxury our young people need to give special heed to the developing of the spirit of responsibility to God for all possessions and of helpfulness to fellow Christians in all ways. Particularly should habits of systematic and proportionate giving of one's means be cultivated.

No false sentiment should keep preachers and laymen from speaking plainly and persistently on these vital matters.

Religion and Morals.

Some preachers, as well as a great many church members, seem to think that religion is one thing and morals another. Preachers discuss the gospel plan and expound creeds and dogmas. The church members go to church and observe all the rules and regulations of the church, but both seem to forget that a good Christian will be a good citizen in business, social and political life. No greater mistake was ever made. The man who has religion will be moral. He will carry his religion from the church into his everyday life. He can be trusted in a business transaction, in the store or in the office, just as much as he can be trusted in the church edifice. He will conduct himself in the home, in the social gathering, in the place of amusement with just as much decorum as he will in the church. He will be as conscientious regarding his vote at the polls as he is about his ballot for a pastor. The church needs such men just as much as the world needs them, and a little more if the church is to do the world real good.—Christian Work and Evangelist.

How to Win Men to Christ.

Christ won men by loving them, not by judging them. He preached of judgment, it is true, but the central point of His preaching was always love, fulfilled in law, but far transcending it. We shall reach other people and make Christians of them in Christ's way better than in any other way. Denunciation never yet reformed anybody. It is the cross of Christ, His dying love, that touches hearts to a new life and not the day of judgment, certain as it is.—Forward.

Father, Guide Me.

[Invocation.]

Dear Father, guide my soul aright
Within Thy righteous way
That I may follow in Thy path
And never erring stray.
Oh, when my mind is sore perplexed
And knows not how to turn,
Then let me hear Thy guiding voice,
For which my soul doth yearn!

Be ever dwelling in my heart
To teach me what is right,
That erring deeds I may not do
Which others' lives may blight,
And keep me from e'er doing aught
To cause another pain,
But let me always help mankind
Sweet happiness to gain.

Oh, if Thy love shall be my guide
How can I go astray?
When I am listening to Thy voice
And willing to obey?
Oh, do not let me be so weak
That I shall e'er resist
The teachings which I know are Thine
And have life's joy thus missed.

—Martha Shepard Lippincott in Christian Work and Evangelist.

THE DELUGE

By DAVID GRAHAM PHILLIPS, Author of "THE CO[illegible]"

(COPYRIGHT 1905 by the ROBBS-MERRILL COMPANY)

"Extraordinary? I call it criminal," I retorted. "Listen to me. You look after the legislation calendars for me, and for Langdon, and for Roebuck, and for Melville, and for half a dozen others of the biggest financiers in the country. It's the most important work you do for us. Yet you, as shrewd and careful a lawyer as there is at the bar, want me to believe you trusted that work to a boy! If you did, you're a damn fool. If you didn't, you're a damn scoundrel. There's no more doubt in my mind than in yours which of those horns has you sticking on it."

"You are letting your quick temper get away with you, Mr. Blacklock," he deprecated.

"Stop lying!" I shouted. "I knew you had been doing some skulduggery when I first heard your voice on the telephone. And if I needed any proof, the meek way you've taken my abuse would furnish it, and to spare."

Just then the telephone bell rang and I got the right department and asked the clerk to read house bill 427. It contained five short paragraphs. The "joker" was in the third, which gave the state canal commission the right "to institute condemnation proceedings, and to condemn, and to abolish, any canal not exceeding 30 miles in length and not a part of the connected canal system of the state."

When I hung up the receiver I was so absorbed that I had forgotten Saxe was waiting. He made some slight sound. I wheeled on him. I needed a vent. If he hadn't been there I should have smashed a chair. But there was he—and I kicked him out of my private office and would have kicked him out through the anteroom into the outer hall, had he not gathered himself together and run like a jack-rabbit.

Since that day I have done my own calendar watching.

My lawyers had sold me out; I, fool that I was, had not guarded the only weak plate in my armor against my companions—the plate over my back, to shed assassin thrusts. Roebuck and Langdon between them owned the governor; he owned the canal commission; my canal, which gave me access to tide-water for the product of my Manasquale mines, was as good as closed. I no longer had the whip-hand in National Coal. The others could sell me out and take two-thirds of my fortune, whenever they liked—for of what use were my mines with no outlet now to any market, except the outlets the coal crowd owned?

As soon as I had thought the situation out in all its bearings, I realized that there was no escape for me now, that whatever chance to escape I might have had was closed by my uncovering to Saxe and kicking him. But I did not regret; it was worth the money it would cost me. Besides, I thought I saw how I could later on turn it to good account. A sensible man never makes fatal errors. What ever he does is at least experience and can also be used to advantage. If Napoleon hadn't been half dead at Waterloo, I don't doubt he would have used its disaster as a means to a great victory.

When I walked into Mowbray Langdon's office, I was like a thoroughbred exercising on a clear frosty morning; and my smile was as fresh as the flower in my buttonhole. I thrust out my hand at him. "I congratulate you," said I.

He took the proffered hand with a questioning look.

"On what?" said he. It is hard to tell from his face what is going on in his head, but I think I guessed right when I decided that Saxe hadn't yet warned him.

"I have just found out from Saxe," I pursued, "about the canal bill."

"What canal bill?" he asked.

"That puzzled look was a mistake, Langdon," said I, laughing at him. "When you don't know anything about a matter, you look merely blank. You overdid it; you've given yourself away."

He shrugged his shoulders. "As you please," said he. As you please was his favorite expression; a stereotyped irony, for in dealing with him, things were never as you pleased, but always as he pleased.

"Next time you want to dig a mine under anybody," I went on, "don't hire Saxe. Really I feel sorry for you—to have such a clever scheme messed by such an ass."

"If you don't mind, I'd like to know what you're talking about," said he, with his patient, bored look.

"As you and Roebuck own the governor, I know your little law ends my little canal."

"Still I don't know what you're talking about," drawled he. "You are always suspecting everybody of double-dealing. I gather that this is another instance of your infirmity. Really, Blacklock, the world isn't wholly made up of scoundrels."

"I know that," said I. "And I will even admit that its scoundrels are seldom made up wholly of scoundrelism. Even Roebuck would rather do the decent thing, if he can do it without endangering his personal interests. As for you—I regard you as one of the [illegible] men I ever knew—[illegible] business. And even there I believe you'd keep your word, as long as the other fellow kept his."

"Thank you," said he, bowing ironically. "This flattery makes me suspect you've come to get something."

"On the contrary," said I, "I want to give something. I want to give you my coal mines."

"I thought you'd see that our offer was fair," said he. "And I'm glad you have changed your mind about quarreling with your best friends. We can be useful to you, you to us. A break would be silly."

"That's the way it looks to me," I assented. And I decided that my sharp talk to Roebuck had set them to estimating my value to them.

"Sam Ellersly," Langdon presently remarked, "tells me he's campaigning hard for you at the Travelers. I hope you'll make it. We're rather a slow crowd; a few men like you might stir things up."

I am always more than willing to give others credit for good sense and good motives. It was not vanity, but this disposition to credit others with sincerity and sense, that led me to believe him, both as to the coal matter and as to the Travelers club.

"Thanks, Langdon," I said, and that he might look no further for my motive, I added: "I want to get into that club much as the winner of a race wants the medal that belongs to him. I've built myself up into a rich man, into one of the powers in finance, and I feel I'm entitled to recognition."

DIAMOND DUST.

Another game dropped by the Highlanders at Philadelphia on Tuesday shows which way the wind is blowing, and the chances for the team winning the pennant are rapidly fading from view. Even the Athletics in a crippled condition were able to defeat the New York aggregation by the score of 4 to 3. Coombs, the college pitcher, who has been in the American League less than two months, did the trick.

There seems to be no doubt but that the Chicago Nationals and the White Sox, of the Windy City, will have the pleasure of playing the post-season series and the betting is 2 to 1 on the Nationals. This will be the first time in the history of baseball that two teams from the same city have won the pennant in their respective league and will play a post-season series. Chicago fans are simply crazy over the prospects and record-breaking crowds are anticipated.

Manager Bogert Conklin, of the Somerville team, is elated over the prospects of amateur ball for next season, and is anxious to get into the game with the Plainfield teams. He predicts a successful season.

The West Ends, of Somerville, have closed the season, the final game being played on Saturday last with Flemington.

The Clinton Avenues have scheduled a game with the Invincibles, of Raritan, for Saturday afternoon. The contest will be played on Crescent Oval and will start at 3:15 o'clock. Each team has won the same number of games from each other and Saturday's game will be for the championship.

Having defeated the Scotch Plains team in the series and with fair prospects of winning from the Invincibles, of Raritan, on Saturday, the Clinton Avenues are claiming the local amateur championship.

Fred Tenney, manager and captain of the Boston Nationals, has announced that acting on behalf fo himself, Roy Thomas, centre fielder of the Philadelphia Nationals, and several other persons, he has purchased the franchise and firounds of the Boston National League team. Tenney is planning a number of changes and a more liberal policy and says that the Bostons will be after the pennant next year in dead earnest. Thomas expects to play center field for Boston next season, and there will be a general change in the entire team.

Whiting, a young pitcher from Brooklyn, occupied the box for the Trolley-Dodgers on Tuesday, and shut out Pittsburg, 2 to 0. He allowed but four hits, and the great and only Hans Wagner failed to get even a scratch hit.

GOLF.

Eugene McCarthy, whom many will remember as a former resident of this city, and who has been the golf professional at the clubs in Stroudsburg and Delaware Water Gap, has been the guest of "Marty" O'Loughlin, the "pro" at the Plainfield Country Club, for a few days. Mr. McCarthy is the physical director and athletic instructor at the University of South Carolina, Columbia, S. C., and will return there next week. He has been instrumental in having a fine golf course laid out on the university grounds and is developing many good players from the student body, and the people of Columbia are also interested in the game. It is quite likely that "Marty" O'Loughlin will visit the south this winter, if he gets the opportunity and some matches may be arranged. Maurice McCarthy, a brother of Eugene McCarthy, who was formerly the "pro" at the Westfield Golf Club and at the Hollywood Golf Club, but now of Brooklyn, was also in town yesterday. It is likely that he may return to Westfield, if Dave Patrick, the present "pro," makes a change as he planned. Eugene McCarthy is a general all-round athlete and since going south has introduced basketball, cross-country running and handball with great success. He says that "Marty" O'Loughlin is undoubtedly the best home-bred "pro" in this country.

Gilman P. Tiffany is ill at his home in Newburg and will not be able to take part in the Richmond County Country Club's invitation tournament today, tomorrow and Saturday. About sixty entries have been received thus far. The talent will be largely local.

Professional golfers have been trying out the course of the Forest Hill Field Club, this week, and some fine play has been witnessed in preparation for the Eastern Professional Golfers' Association tournament to be held later in the month. From now on frequent visits will be made by the "pros" to Forest Hill, with a view to familiarizing themselves with the course before the championship play.

The weekly competition for the Golf Committee cup will be concluded with the play on Saturday, October 27. At present C. B. Morgan has an excellent chance for winning the trophy, but he had a similiar opportunity last year, finishing in second place. If he continues his good work he should be able to lead the competitors within the next two weeks and possibly then he might hold the lead for the rest of the month. However, Arthur Murphy, who is tied with Morgan, is considered a strong opponent, while Charles A. Stover, who holds the lead by a quarter of a point, may succeed in increasing his number of points.

Police Basketball Five.

The police gymnasium class is making plans for the reorganization of the basketball team. Last year's players have learned a lot about the game, and the combination will be in shape to give the Business Men, and perhaps the school teams, a hard tussle. Detective McCarthyy, who is an enthusiast at the game, will probably captain the five.

ALL NIGHT HUNT FOR BOLD BURGLARS.

Two Thieves Carry Off Several Thousand Dollars Worth of Loot From Somerville.

Somerville, Oct. 4.—There was an exciting burglar hunt here Sunday night after two thieves, who entered houses in the fashionable Cliff street residence section, and got away with several thousand dollars' worth of loot. The burglars, who are described as a tall man of dark complexion and a short, thick-set man, are believed to be local thieves.

They first entered the residence of J. A. Renahan, a New York business man, by forcing a window on the ground floor with a jimmy about 8 o'clock in the evening. The Renahan family was absent at the time, and the thieves went through the house and secured watches, diamond rings and a number of family heirlooms valued at several thousand of dollars.

Robert E. Morton, a member of the New York Colony, met the thieves as they were coming out of the Renahan residence and mistaking them in the dark for members of the Renahan family, spoke to them as they passed. The men made no reply and crossed the street to the opposite corner and disappeared in the rear of the residence of W. E. Sidell, a New York business man.

Mrs. Sidell was startled a few minutes later by a noise in her bathroom. On opening her bedroom door she saw two men retreat to a balcony and jump to the ground below.

The men, who were apparently uninjured by their fall of fifteen feet, ran toward Peters brook. The police and a number of citizens were soon on their trail and kept up an all night hunt without capturing them.

The burglars also gained an entrance to the Sidell house by forcing a window on the ground floor. They carried away two gold watches and a small quantity of the Sidell family jewelry.

NEW FOOTBALL PLAY FATAL.

Coaches Think Open Play Largely Responsible for Death.

Trenton, Oct. 4.—Coroner Bower held an inquest yesterday into the death of John P. Kennedy, of Troy, N. Y., who was killed last week at Lawrenceville. He was a student at the Lawrenceville Preparatory School and was Captain of the school's football team. He was killed while the team was at practice. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

The three coacheds of the team, Dana Kafer, Frederick Kafer and Percy Colwell, were witnesses and testified that in their opinion the new rules, requiring open play, instead of the old style play, were largely responsible for Kennedy's death.

URGE THE STATE TO BUY PROPRIETORS RECORDS

SPECIAL COMMISSION FILES REPORT ADVISING EARLY PURCHASE.

A commission appointed by Governor Stokes to consider a method by which the State should take over the antiquated records and other property of the East and West Jersey proprietors filed a preliminary report with the Governor yesterday, in which it was urged that the State acquire the documents as expeditously as possible and place them in a place for safe keeping.

The commission is composed of John D. Prince, Franklin Briggs, son of the State treasurer, and Henlings Lippincott, and was appointed under authority of a resolution of the last Legislature. The preliminary report says:

"Your commission on the East and West New Jersey boards of proprietors, named by you to consult with authorized representatives of the respective boards, visited the office of the East New Jersey board of proprietors June 8, where they were met by a committee of three, consisting of the following members of the East Jersey board: Willis K. Howell, surveyor general; Andrew L. Cobb, vice-president, and Adrain Lyons, registrar. After listening to the mission of the commissioners, the committee expressed the willingness of the proprietors, who are 50 in number, to part with their records and rights to the State for a consideration to be hereafter fixed at the regular autumn meeting of the East Jersey board of proprietors.

"Your commission then made an examination of the most important records contained in the vaults of the proprietors at Perth Amboy. These documents date back to 1685 and comprise 23 books of surveys, dating from 1719; 12 books of conveyances, dating from 1685; three books of warrants and grants, the oldest of which dates from 1685, thus antedating the present organized board of proprietors. Besides these there are in the vaults at Perth Amboy, which did not appear to be reasonably fireproof, 25 miscellaneous books of grants, wills, etc., as well as 146 excellent maps. There is also a practically complete set of orriginal surveys since 1800."

The report then goes on to tell of the work of the commission in Burlington, where many valuable documents were found. Among these was a deed of lease and release issued by James Duke of York, afterwards James II of England, to Lord John Berkeley and George Carteret, for the entire province of the Jerseys, dated June 23-4, 1664.

Of the manner in which this, along with the other deeds in the possession of the West Jersey council the report says:

"In order to effect a sale of these records to the State, communications must first be had with the general hereditary proprietors who elect the council, as they alone have the right of disposal. Such communication can only be established according to the time-honored precedent by advertisement in many newspapers, some of them in England, others in France and Holland, as the exact number of the general hereditary proprietors is not known."

"In accordance with the request of your commission the following advertisement has been widely circulated and the commission is authorized to expect a definite answer from the West New Jersey council on or before January 1, 1907:

"NOTICE.

"'To the General Proprietors of the Western Division of New Jersey:

"'Notice is hereby given to those holding or claiming shares or parts of shares in unlocated lands of the proprietors of said division that a meeting will be held at the office of the surveyor general, in the city of Burlington, December 5, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, to consider a proposition made by the State of New Jersey to acquire the title to unlocated lands still remaining in the proprietors, and the records now contained in the office of the surveyor general, in the city of Burlington. To entitle a proprietor to vote upon the matter, documentary proof of title in him must be exhibited.

"'Ordered to be published.

"'I. SNOWDEN HAINES,

"'Clerk of Council.'

In conclusion, the report tells of the present almost inaccessible position of the records, and urges that inasmuch as every title to land in New Jersey must be traced to the records of these corporation, and urges the State to acquire them.

J. E. Goodman Seeks Damages.

The Lehigh Valley Railroad Company is defeandant in the Supreme Court, in a suit brought by James E. Goodman, of Newcombe Station, Fanwood township, to recover $25,000 damages for the destruction of his home and several barns on the afternoon of July 19, 1905. The suit was commenced yesterday and is continued today. It will probably not be concluded before tomorrow. Goodman, who is represented by Clark McK. Whittemore, claims that one of his barns was set on fire by a spark from the engine of an express train.

BLOWS IN DISPUTE OVER FIT OF DRESS.

Man Who Espoused Cause of Woman Purchaser Is Held for the Grand Jury.

As the outcome of a dispute as to the fit of a dress, Samuel Shebs, of No. 4 Harrison street, Paterson, is under $200 bail pending the action of the Grand Jury on two charges of assault and battery.

A woman friend of Shebs recently ordered a dress from Mrs. Rose Pinkus, wife of Jacob Pinkus, of No. 16 North Main street. The dress was paid for, but after the buyer had it ten days she returned it, alleging that it did not fit. Mrs. Pinkus said that if the dress did not fit it should have been sent back at once and not kept ten days.

Then there was trouble, in which Shebs, it is alleged, took an active part. It is charged that Shebs accompanied the woman to the dressmaker's house and after a hot argument attacked Pinkus and struck him several blows in the face. He is also accused of having assaulted Mrs. Pinkus when she went to her husband's aid.

Shebs was arraigned before Justice Samuel Percey, by whom he was held for the Grand Jury. He furnished bail. He declined to give the name of the woman friend, and Mrs. Pinkus says she does not know the name.

LIBBIE GARRABRANT EXPRESSES GRATITUDE.

Released Life Prisoner Makes Her First Public Appearance in Paterson.

Libbie Garrabrant made yesterday her first appearance in Paterson since her release from State prison, where she was serving a life term for the murder of Ransom F. Burroughs. She called at the Passaic county court house to thank Orrin V. Vanderhoven, the veteran editor and Passaic county librarian, for the interest he had taken in her case. Mr. Vanderhoven kept up for years the fight for the release of Libbie.

There were tears in the eyes of Miss Garrabrant as she expressed her gratitude.

Since her release Miss Garrabrant has been living quietly with friends on the outskirts of the city. She has regained the color in her cheek, and she seems to be enjoying the full happiness of her freedom.

U. S. Regulars March Across State.

New York, Oct. 4.—The Second Battalion of the Twelfth United States Infantry Regulars ended a 200 mile hike from Mt. Gretna, Pa., at Governor's Island Sunday noon. The command left the national camp in Pennsylvania on September 17 and marched across New Jersey, reaching New York by the Fort Lee ferry. On Friday night the ben bivouacked at Boonton, N. J., and on Saturday the 295 enlisted men and half a dozen Filipino attendants marched through Paterson, going into camp on the Bergen county side of the Broadway bridge over the Passaic River. It was an easy march the balance of the way to Fort Lee heights. The Twelfth Regiment is one of the oldest in the service, the command having served in the Mexican War, the Civil War, and the Cuban, Philippine and China campaigns.

Ten Coal Cars in River.

Trenton, Oct. 4.—The breaking of the axle of a coal car on the Belvidere Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, near the Somerset station, seven miles above here, caused a wreck yesterday, throwing ten of the cars into the Delaware River at that point. No lives were lost, and no one was injured. The train consisted of twenty-six cars, all filled with coal, and when the axle broke the ten cars following the damaged one piled up and tumbled into the river. Tons of coal and debris were strewn about the tracks, and traffic was blocked for several hours.

Holy Name Societies to March.

Elizabeth, Oct. 4.—Very Rev. Dean Gessner, of St. Patrick's church, is planning for a big demonstration by the Holy Name societies of Elizabeth to be held either this month or early in November. The dean, in mentioning the matter last Sunday from the altar, said the liquor dealers and firemen could have parades, and he did not see why an organization that has for its object the suppression of blasphemy and the betterment of the moral conditions of men, should not show its strength in Elizabeth, as it has done in other communities."

A Whittier Service.

Dr. Parsons will make an appropriate address and the Whittier poems in the New Methodist hymnal will be sung. MR. COLBY'S PROGRAM

Leader of Defeated "Idea" to Remain Silent During the Present Campaign.

HE WILL STUDY LAW

Says He Would Vote for Stokes for U. S. Senate If Governor Is Caucus Choice—Record Not a Candidate?

Senator Everett Colby, the new idea representative of Essex county in the New Jersey Senate, in an interview yesterday outlined his plans for the future and explained the stand he will take on issues that will be before the next Legislature, where he will be the lone representative of the reform movement in New Jersey.

Mr. Colby announced that from the Newark headquarters the leaders of the new idea will continue their fight for representative government and as soon as the Legislature convenes literature containing brief and succinct information that voters will be interested in will be sent out regularly. Senator Colby will go on extended tour next Monday and will return in two weeks and take up study which will enable him to qualify for admission to the New Jersey Bar. He will study in Sheriff Frank Sommers' office and announced his purpose to practise law in Newark.

"I will take no part in the coming campaign," said the Senator. Asked if his followers would be quiescent, Mr. Colby replied:

"We are all Republicans. It does not follow that a Republican will necessarily vote a straight ticket. Every man will vote as he thinks is right."

As to his stand in the coming session of the Legislature, Mr. Colby said it did not make any difference to him, that he would stand alone. Asked how he would vote in the caucus for United States Senator he replied, "I will not vote for Senator Dryden."

He answered further that he did not think George L. Record was a candidate. Asked for his opinion of Senator Dryden's possible success, he replied: "I suppose if the Republicans win in Essex county, in view of the assistance which I am informed was rendered to the other counties, Senator Dryden's election is assured."

Senator Colby when asked about Governor Stokes' chances of election to the United States Senate said that he felt that if Essex county should go Democratic "the Governor would undoubtedly obtain the Republican caucus nomination." When asked whether if Governor Stokes was the choice of the caucus he would vote for him Senator Colby said he would.

Asked what his course would be in the Legislature, Senator Colby said:

"Every member in the Senate will have to go on record on the planks in our platform. I shall make an effort to get a rule adopted compelling the chairman of every commitee to report any bill on the request of twenty per cent. of the members of the Senate. I shall make a special effort to have the promoter's liability act repealed. I shall also try to get a bill passed to allow the people to vote directly for United States Senators and will also try to pass a bill providing for the direct primary."

Asked his opinion of the future of the New Idea in the Republican party, Senator Colby replied:

"The Republican party cannot live on money. It must live through the soundness of its ideas and principles, and the object of the New Idea movement is to make the party once more a party fighting for a principal rather than a party being used by the few who do use it as a business asset."

Speaking of the recent defeat sustained at the primaries, Senator Colby said the people do not understand what a tremendous vote was polled. In Elizabeth, in Senator Kean's home, no district was carried by the regulars by more than twenty majority. "And so far as I know, not a cent was spent by us. The result came from work done by men interested in the New Idea movement. We will continue the fight in every county," he continued. "Already many districts have organizations. Many young men have come forward and offered their active support for next year's campaign."

Senator Colby said that the feature that reached strongest against the New Idea was, in his opinion, the Bishops' bill, "which I voted for on the Senate, and which the machine made me responsible for. I believe in this bill, and I am glad that I voted for it."

Asked as to statements that Democrats had voted at he Republican primaries against the reform movement, [illegible] statement is made after every primary contest, just as the cry of fraud is always raised. One can have his opinion regarding these things with-

BOROUGHITES CAN VOTE FOR UPTON SINCLAIR

THAT'S PROVIDED THEY WANT 'JUNGE' AUTHOR FOR CONGRESSMAN.

Upton Sinclair, author of "The Jungle," accepted the Socialist nomination for Congress in the Fourth Congressional district, which includes Somerset, Mercer and Hunterdon counties, in a letter made public yesterday afternoon. He says the prophecies of the party are beginning to come true, recalling that ten years ago he was helping to raise money in a reform movement in New York. Now he sees with wonder even the "slum proletariat of that city of unrighteousness beginning to stir and the pirate chieftains of Tammany Hall beginning to talk of the rights of the people."

Mr. Sinclair urges his comrades not to be discouraged. He says that the politicians steal their thunder; that Mr. Bryan has boldly walked off with one-third of their programme and lapelled it "individualism," while Mr. Hearst is claiming two-thirds of it under the title of Americanism. The people, he says, will no longer be deceived by names. He decries New Jersey as a traitor State which has sold out to corporations and urges a united struggle against concentrated wealth.

The letter declares that corporation Senators and Congressmen who fought President Roosevelt's efforts to regulate predatory corporations at every step have the imprudence to come before the country decked out in his feathers.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL TEACHERS REMEMBER MISS BUTLER

FIRST BAPTISTS PRESENT BIBLE TO A DEPARTING TEACHER.

Following a business session of the Sunday-school teachers of the First Baptist church, last night, Superintendent George H. Batchelor, on behalf of the officers and teachers, presented a handsome teacher's Bible to Miss Linda Butler as a testimonial of their regard and esteem. He referred to her long and faithful service and the regret of the school that the tie of many years would be broken by her departure from the school. Miss Butler is planning to sail for Mexico, where she will make her home with friends.

During the business session of the evening there were received the reports of the various committees. Discussion followed on matters relating to the library, an additional room for the primary department and the advisability of changing the hour for the Sunday-school session. It was decided to have the old books of the library rebound and a new catalogue published. The questions of additional room for the primary department and changing the hour of the session from afternoon ta 12 o'clock noon, were laid on the table for future consideration, both being considered too important to decide last night. The treasurer's report showed a balance of $55.

The meeting was concluded with the serving of refreshments and the enjoyment of a social half-hour.

Gifts for a Bride.

A "kitchen" surprise was tendered Mrs. Wistar M. Weintraub, who was formerly Miss Ethel Wesemann, last evening, at her parents' home on East Sixth street, by a number of her girl friends. The bride was presented with a large dish pan, made to represent a large pie, in which were numerous kitchen utensils, each article bearing an original verse appropriate to its use written by the giver. A pleasant informal evening was passed with games and music, refreshments being served later. Mr. and Mrs. Weintraub expect to leave for Philadelphia in a few days, where they will begin housekeeping in a new home recently purchased by the groom.

LaRue Holmes League Meeting.

A meeting of the LaRue Holmes Nature League, recently organized for the further protection of birds, animals, forests and wild flowers, will be held Wednesday, October 10, at 4 o'clock, in the public school building, Springfield avenue, Summit. All members, teachers, and others interested in nature and especially as it relates to the educational work of the League, are cordially invited to be present.

All the bills are paid and a detailed statement of expenditures and receipts received. It follows:

Bonds authorized, $585,000; bonds issued, $569,000; bonds not sold, $16,000, making a total of $585,000. Bonds sold at a premium, $545,000; premium received on same, $36,256; bonds sold to sinking fund, $24,000; cash from old county building, $701.50, making a total of $605,957.50. After the presentation of the detailed staement, which was filed, congratulatory speeches were made by Jacob Bruchlacher, of Elizabeth, and John Farrell, of Rahway, members of the Court House Commission, and County Atorney W. R. Codington, of this city. Prior to his death J. Frank Hubbard, of this city, was a member of the commission, and had a great deal to do with the erection of the new Court House.

Resolutions on the death of the late County Collector Edward M. Wood were presented, adopted and ordered engrossed. The question of installing an independent electric light plant in the new Court House was discussed and the freeholders decided that owing to the number of lights used in the building it would not pay the county to expend $10,000 to install such a plant and the matter was dropped.

FIREMAN WILLIAM ROSS LAID TO REST TODAY

DETAIL FROM CITY DEPARTMENT ESCORTS BODY TO THE GRAVE.

The funeral of Fireman William A. Ross, who died from injuries received by falling from a trolley car at Bound Brook, Tuesday afternoon, was held at his late home on East Second street, this afternoon. It was attended by a gathering that filled the house to overflowing and included firemen from the local department and others from nearby cities.

Rev. Charles E. Herring, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, was in charge of the service and he delivered a strong address filled with personal reminiscences. At the same time he took occasion to pay a tribute to the faithfulness of the departed who had spent the greater part of his life in the city fire department and who had been one always ready to respond to duty's call. Two selections were sung by Mrs. John Manley.

Following the service, the body was taken to the North Plainfield cemetery for interment, a delegation of firemen in uniform acting as escort. It comprised Captain William Addis, of the truck company; Howard Manning, Charles Graves, Sylvanus Hoffman, Wesley Dunn, Patrick Neylon and James McLean. The jall bearers were also members of the department and were G. H. Freeman, L. S. Kelley, William Yaeger, Joseph Clark, Adolph Karman and William Chamberlain.

Relatives and friends contributed a large array of floral tributes, while an especially handsome set piece was presented by the city firemen. It was in the form of a firemen's badge and bore the figure 4, William Ross' number, and the inscription "Our Brother."

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CONVENTION TONIGHT

HAGUE SEEMS SURE CHOICE FOR THE ASSEMBLY—OTHERS MENTIONED.

The Democratic County Convention will be called to order in Turn Hall, Elizabeth, at 8 o'clock tonight by Judge Owen P. Mahon, of that city. No decision has been reached as to who may be the temporary chairman, nor is their any one or coterie of Democrats in town who will admit knowledge or hazard a guess at what sort of timber the platform will contain.

So far there is a list of six mentioned from which to make a choice of three Assemblyman candidates. These are Joseph T. Hague, James E. Desmond, J. J. Farmer and George Baldwin, a former mayor of Summit.

Joseph T. Hague seems to be the favorite, and those competent to judge are of the opinion that he will be one choice of the convention. He has already served one term in the Assembly and suffered one defeat. The interests of labor are being pushed, however, with vigor, and the leaders hope to have either Reiss or some other equally well-known representative of union labor on the ticket besides James Desmond. During the past week representatives of the labor interests have been actively seeking for such a candidate, but with what success cannot be ascertained.

Ceremony Performed Last Saturday at the Home of Relatives in Rutherford.

Charles James Hulse, formerly of Goshen, N. Y., but now of this city, and Miss Belle Irene Dusenberry, also of Goshen, were married Saturday afternoon at the home of the bride's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis R. Northrop, in Rutherford. Owing to the recent death of the bride's father at Goshen, the wedding was a quiet one, only a few family friends being present.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Ross MacClements, pastor of the Presbyterian church, of Rutherford, and the couple was attended by Clarence S. Hulse, of Goshen, brother of the groom, as best man, and Miss Fannie M. Johnson, of Middletown, N. Y. The couple is now residing on Grove street for the present.

Mr. Hulse is employed as a train dispatcher for the New Jersey Central at Jersey City. He is a member of the Presbyterian church at Goshen, and was formerly manager of the Western Union office at that place. He is also a member of the Goshen Social and Athletic Association. The bride is also a member of the Presbyterian church at her former home; the Goshen Dramatic Club, of the Middletown Euchre Club and of Minisink Chapter, D. A. R.

VOTERS TO HELP MARTINE

Friends of Farmer Orator in Both Parties Will Strive For His Election.

CAMPAIGN CLUB LIKELY

Plans Are Now Being Laid for Non-Partisan Organization—Many Republicans May Join.

That the selection of James E. Martine as the Democratic Congressional candidate has struck a popular chord among Plainfielders, irrespective of party, is evident by talk heard on the street yesterday and today. This talk is especially noticeable among Republicans who express dissatisfaction over the fact that Representative Fowler has been present at few sessions during his last two terms.

Plans are now being discussed among the friends of the farmer orator for the organization of a James E. Martine Club, which will have for its sole aim, the election of Plainfield's favorite son. Republicans as well as Democrats will be eligible for membership. Although the plans are yet in an embroyic state definite steps to organize the club will be taken immediately.

Hundreds of independent Republicans have openly declared that their ballots will be cast for Martine and if present sentiment counts for anything it is not an insane possibility that the Democratic warhorse may carry his home city.

One of the promoters of the proposed club said to a Daily Press reporter last night that if the organization is perfected it will be the aim of every member to get out and work for the candidate from now on until election night.

Early today, Mr. Martine communicated with the chairmen of the Democratic party in Morris, Warren and Union counties asking them to map out an itinerary for him. The "farmer-orator" proposes to make a whirlwind campaign through the district, which he says will be more thorough than the one he made in the last congressional campaign.

"I am going into the highways and meet the voters," said Mr. Martine today. "I want to come face to face with them and tell them where I stand and why I stand there. My campaign will begin early next week. From then on until November 6, I shall not rest for I purpose to let them know just how their district is being represented, or rather not represented, at Washington."

SNAKE STORY RE-UNITES SOME LOST RELATIVES

MICHIGAN MAN HEARS OF PLAINFIELD KIN AFTER MANY YEARS.

A snake story appearing in The Daily Press three weeks ago, which told of Mrs. Harry Kesselring, of North Plainfield, killing a red-eyed adder with a baseball bat, in an exciting combat, has resulted in uniting long lost relatives. The story was copied by other newspapers and found its way into the editorial rooms of a weekly in Hillside, Mich., where it was put into print. In Hillsdale resides Gustav Kesselring, in retirement, he having made a comfortable fortune as a merchant. Forty years ago he came to this country from Bavaria with other relatives to make their fortune. After a stay in New York the family scattered to all parts of the country. One of Gustav's brothers went South, one remained in New York for a time, afterward going West, while one settled in New Jersey. For a time the family kept rack of one another by letters, but as the members died off the letters ceased. Gustav Kesselring made many efforts to locate "Kesselring" families, but was unsuccessful in his attempts. Finally he happened to read the snake story from Plainfield, and at once wrote to Mrs. Kesselring, and succeeded in establishing his relationship. It has now turned out that Mrs. Kesselring's husband is a grandnephew of Gustav Kesselring in Michigan, and that George Kesselring's father, who is proprietor of a barber shop here, is Gustav's nephew. Gustav is overjoyed over the fact of tracing the branches of the family tree, and is planning for a trip to this city to spend the holidays.

TENDER OF RENT TOO LATE, AFTER DEMAND

SOME IMPORTANT DECISIONS IN A LANDLORD AND TENANT CASE.

A Supreme Court case of interest to land-owners and their tenants was tried yesterday before Judge Vail. The court decided that the words of a lease reading "rent payable quarterly in advance" mean payable on or before the first day of each quarter. The court also decided that when the case provides that if any rent shall be due and unpaid, the landlord may re-enter the premises and remove all persons therefrom, and further that it is too late to tender the rent after a proper demand made according to law, and after suit in ejectment has been brought under the covenants of the lease.

The case was that of Ira C. Lambert and other heirs of John Lambert, deceased, in David R Dunn. Craig A. Marsh appeared for the Lamberts and S. S. Swackhamer for Mr. Dunn. On Mr. Mash's motion, the court directed the jury to bring in a verdict in favor of the Lambert heirs, which will give them the possession of the farm, although the lease had more than two years yet to run, and Mr. Dunn had had tendered the rent and fifty dollars costs in open court.

DROPPED BY QUICK SHOT

Supposedly Tipsy Workman Got Reception That William Smith Terry Has On Tap For Burglarious Visitors.

A noise from outside awoke Mrs. William Smith Terry, who lives with her husband in the upper part of the house at 211 New street, at 3:30 o'clock this morning. She thought it was made by a heavy rain, and woke her husband to tell him about it. Terry looked toward a side window and saw a man climbing in from the roof of the porch; he was half-way in, with his right foot poised over the floor. Terry pulled a .32 calibre revolver from under his pillow and fired. The man dropped outside, without uttering a sound.

Terry jumped up and went downstairs with his wife to arouse his uncle, who lives on the lower floor. He returned to the bedroom with his uncle, and a groan reached their ears from the porch roof below the window. Terry knew then that the affair hadn't been a dream, and he hurried across the street to the office of Undertaker Partick Casey to telephone the police.

Sergeant Frederickson hustled Officers McCarthy, Messler and Keeffe to New street in the patrol wagon. They surrounded the house and started a round-up. Terry's target was not in sight anywhere about the grounds, and they went inside. In Terry's bedroom they found the object of their search. He lay on the floor, with a bullet hole in his left breast. He was conscious, but very weak. He must have crawled back into the room almost as soon as Terry and his uncle left to telephone for the police. He was partially undressed, and had apparently tried to prepare to go into the bed.

On the way to the house, the officers had gotten Dr. C. B. Lufburrow, the city physician, from his house on West Front street, and he took charge of the wounded man at once. He told the officers the man was too badly hurt to be questioned, and had the ambulance summoned for his removal to the hospital.

Chief Kiely, who was notified of the case as soon as the men had left headquarters, started an investigation at once. He had learned this morning that the injured man was known as John L. Jones, and had been in this city for three weeks, employed as a rigger in the construction of the cement-block machinery factory on South Second street. He is a man of about 35 years, and has been living at McVey's Hotel, West Front street and Clinton avenue.

Chief Kiely was convinced this morning that Jones was not a crook, and that his presence at the Terry house was the result of a half-drunken act. Absolutely nothing of a burglarious nature was found about the house, the grounds, or his clothes, and Dr. Lufburrow found many evidences that he had been drinking too much. An empty flask was found on the porch roof. He did not return to his hotel after supper last night. A search of his clothes yielded only a small sum in change and two letters, apparently from a sister living in Yonkers, N. Y. The letters were signed only by a first name.

Jones will recover. The bullet struck about two inches from the apex of the heart, but followed the line of a rib, and lodged in his side. It was extracted this morning, and at noon he was resting comfortably. Chief Kiely will given him a day or two in which to recover his strength before subjecting him to an examination. In the meantime, the sleuths will seek to learn where he spent last night before reaching the Terry house.

Mrs. Terry told the police this morning that she noticed a man hanging about the street opposite her house yesterday afternoon, and she thought he looked as if he was watching her place or the house next door. The police doubt if the man had any connection with Jones, but the clue will be followed up.

Dog Carries Water for Chickens.

A noble specimen of this particular breed of dogs is Elcho, a Great Dane, standing, approximately, 33 inches high and weighing 125 pounds, which is the property of former Senator John Conness, of California, and who is now a resident of River street, Mattapan, Mass.

Elcho is four years old, bred in a Medford kennel, and he is of a race that is extensively cultivated by both American and English dog fanciers. While the Great Danes in their early history were noted for their ferocity, Elcho, to the members of the Conness household, is as gentle as a house cat, permits a young boy connected with the place to ride upon his back, and he is sometimes harnessed in a dog cart for a trial of speed about the premises.

On one of these occasions, however, a fleet-footed "cotton-tail" rather interfered with the comfort of the occupants of the dog cart, for Elcho forgot both his dignity and the comfort of his passengers as he sped with all the power of those great muscles in the forelegs after the nimble-footed rabbit.

Elcho is also used as a common carried. He transports water in a pail to the chicken coops, and he is likewise entrusted with a lighted lantern about the lawn, and, when someone is present, in the stables.

But Elcho's greatest achievement was the finding of the trial of two fleeing calves that belonged to the dairy herd, tracking them for half a mile, turning them homeward and safely driving them to the enclosure from whence the two little animals escaped.—Boston Globe.

Wild Beasts In London.

Many persons will earnestly support from their own experience the protests against London's curse of noise which were put forward by high medical authorities at yesterday's meeting of the Sanitary Congress. Whether the bantam, as described by Sir James Crichton-Browne, or the tomcat, whose claims were advanced by Dr. Hyslop, is actually the more intolerable nuisance may be a question of individual experience; but the amazing thing is that these wild-beast noises should be tolerated at all in a modern civilized capital. Dr. Hyslop, the senior physician at Bethlehem Hospital, Southwark, stated, it may be noticed, that the wear-and-tear on the brain of continual city noise not only wrecks the nervous system, but may actually arrest a child's physical growth.—London Globe.

A Scent on the Trail.

The reason Mr. Halloway decided to purchase a second auto was because some of his friends complained that he had been using a new brand of gasoline in his other machine, but on investigation it was learned that he had accidentaly run over a skunk.—Oskaloosa (Iowa) Globe.

Tired of Leading a Dog's Life.

AUTOMOBILING WEDDING IS THE LATEST THING.

Couple Stood in Machine While Jersey City Squire Makes them One.

Jersey City, Oct. 5.—One of the queerest marriages ever performed in this city took place Tuesday night, when a couple who said they were Miss Anna Ryan, of Dodd street, Hackensack, and Joseph Chichester, a business man of New York, were married in the open street, in front of the Second Precinct Police Station. At the conclusion of the ceremony the bridegroom took all hands interested in the wedding to the restaurant in the Pennsylvania Depot and was the host at a midnight supper.

Shortly after 11 o'clock an automobile drew up in front of the Second Precinct Station. It contained a man and a woman. The man went into the station-house and seeing Police Captain Kelly, asked him for a judge to perform a marriage. Judge Ludlow was sent for. The couple stood up in the automobile and the ceremony was performed, with Captain Kelly and Detective-Sergeant Noble as the witnesses. Then the judge, the captain, the detective and the bride and groom went off in the auto for the wedding supper.

Wed New Providence Girl.

New Providence, Oct. 5.—The friends of Laura B. Hill, of this place, and Ted Schroederer, a Newark young man, who has been living in this place for only a short time, are surprised at the announcement of the marriage of the couple. The ceremony was performed by Justice of the Peace William Woodruff last Saturday night. The girl's uncle and guardian, Robert Clark, was the only witness. Of Miss Hill's relatives he was the only one who favored the match. Miss Hill lived with her grandparents in Springfield avenue, and, it is said, they objected to the wedding so strenuously that Robert Clark, who lived with them, was compelled to leave the house. Schroederer was afraid to tell his father, a widower, who lives in Newark, who did not know where his son was. On hearing of the affair the father came to this place last night, and upon hearing his son's story said: "Bring her home, boy; we need a woman in the house, anyway. I'll discharge the housekeeper, and your wife shall look after our home."

SONS OF TEMPERANCE SIXTY-FOUR YEARS OLD.

Howell Division Fittingly Observes Order's Birthday at Rescue Mission.

The sixty-fourth anniversary of the Sons of Temperance was observed by Howell Division at the Rescue Mission, last night, when a special programme was presented. Worthy Patriarch William Ayers presided and delivered an address of welcome. Congratulatory speeches by Sylvester B. Scribner, of Somerville, and John B. Oakley, of Elizabeth, both having been identified with the cause of temperance for many years, were features of the rally.

Following the speeches there were selections by Guest's orchestra, recitations by Miss Try Mattox, vocal and instrumental selections by the Misses Edgar, of Westfield, and the Misses Ackerman, of this city. There were also vocal solos by Alfred and Raymond Manley and William Van-Arsdale. Mrs. John Manley accompanied the vocalists on the piano. After the rendition of the programme refreshments were served. The committee in charge of the anniversary exercises consisted of Mrs. Sarah Mattox, Mrs. Andrew Cox, Mrs. John Manley, Mrs. W. E. Gibbons and Mrs. William Angleman.

Plans to Remodel Building.

Henry Haurand, the proprietor of the Central Bottling Works, who has just had erected a large concrete block building in the rear of his establishment at Somerset and Chatham streets, has had plans drawn up for further improvement to the property. The first floor of the original structure at the corner is to be lowered to the street level and the front is to be extended to the building line. When this has been done the partition now dividing the plane into two stores will be knocked out and the whole thrown into one. The front is to be graced by large plate glass windows and interior improvements will be added to conform with the rest. When completed the changes will make the property one of the best appearing in that section.

W. C. T. U. State Officers.

These officers were elected by the W. C. T. U., of New Jersey, at its annual meeting in Camden yesterday: Mrs. Emma Bourne, of Newark, re-elected president; Mrs. I. H. Demarest, of Closter, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Eva M. Blake, M. D., of Pleasantville, recording secretary, and Mrs. H. F. Coninade, of Camden, treasurer. In all cases the selection of officers was unanimous. There were 208 delegates in attendance. This afternoon delegates to the national convention at Los Angeles will be appointed.

Governor Out of It.

In the absence of Governor Stokes, who is in Pike County, Pa., his secretary, Edward W. Gray, made a statement yesterday, taking exceptions to a published statement that if harmony was wanted the Governor was the only man whom both factions of the Republican party could unite for United States Senator. In commenting upon the article Mr. Graly said: "I know that Governor Stokes is not and has not been a candidate for the United States Senate."

Rockefeller Clans Meet.

Rockefellers from many sections were present at the Rockefeller family association reunion at Flemington, N. J., yesterday. In the evening a banquet was held in the opera house, which was presided over by David Rockefeller, of Philadelphia. Many noted Rockefellers listened to the addresses, which told the early history of the ancestor of John D. Rockefeller who settled near Flemington. Mr. Rockefeller was not present.

out being able to prove positively. That many Democrats voted at our primaries I believe to be a fact. Of my own knowledge, in my district, twelve voters in one hour who attempted to vote were challenged on the ground that they had not a year before voted the Republican ticket, and when challenged had been pursued in every district in the county every hour during which the primaries were open and the same percentage of Democrats was found voting in the Republican box you can figure roughly what the result would have been. As to the use of money, I don't care to discuss that phase of the situation more than to say I believe that it is one of the serious dangers to our institutions.

"I feel that our fight in Essex has already produced splendid results in that it has advertised the primary and has taught voters they can have a say in party affairs if they wish. You may recall that last year an intelligent friend of mine was asked what I was trying to do, making speeches all summer. He replied that he thought I wanted to go to Albany.' That shows how little some intelligent people knew about primaries before the fight of a year ago. Every one knows now what they are and is taking an active interest in them. Again, I believe we will be able to force from the machine some advanced legislation in the interests of the people."

UNION CO. S. S. TEACHERS' CONVENTION ON THURSDAY.

Three Sessions to be Held in Westminster Church in Elizabeth.

Sunday-school officers, teachers and workers in general will be interested in the announcement of the twenty-sixth annual convention of the Union County Sunday-school Association which will be held in the Westminster Presbyterian church, Elizabeth, on Thursday, October 11.

Sessions will be held at 10 o'clock in the morning, 2:15 o'clock in the afternoon and at 7:30 o'clock in the evening, with some special conferences between the sessions, conducted by the officers of the State Sunday-school Association.

Some of the principal addresses will be given by Rev. George H. Trull, assistant minister of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church, New York; Rev. Pascal Harrower, rector of the Episcopal church at West Brighton; Rev. W. H. Morgan, of St. Paul's church, Newark, and Rev. E. Morris Fergusson, general secretary of the New Jersey Sunday-school Association. A special feature will be the music under the direction of Messrs. Tullar and Meredith, of New York. Miss Edith Cairns, of this city, will take a prominent part in the programme.

The first half-hour of each session will be devotional in charge of Grant Colfax Tullar, who will lead a special choir, of many of the best singers in the Elizabeth churches. Isaac H. Meredith is a well-known soloist and will sing at each session. Delegates are to be appointed by each of the 126 schools in the county, representing the various departments. A full programme of exceptional interest has been prepared that cannot fail to interest all Sunday-school workers, from the cradle role to the home department. A collation will be served to delegates from a distance by the women of the Sunday-schools in the vicinity of Westminster church.

Sick Husband Saved Her.

Mrs. Sarah Scott, colored, was saved from fifty days in jail this morning by a sick husband. She was arraigned on a charge of fighting preferred by Mrs. Lulu Dunham, also colored, and her efforts to convince Judge Runyon that she was not entirely to blame were fruitless. "I want to send you down the line for 50 days," said the judge, "but I know your husband is very sick and I guess he needs you. But I'll hang the fifty days over you, and all you have to do to earn them is to let your devilish temper get the better of you again."

Miss Otterson Gives a Luncheon.

Among the delightful social events at the Plainfield Country Club this fall was a luncheon given there yesterday by Miss Otterson. The table was prettily decorated with autumnal flowers. Covers were laid for eight, those present being Mrs. John B. Dumont, Mrs. Henry C. Irons, Mrs. A. L. Otterson, Miss Otterson, Mrs. Edward T. Wilson, Mrs. John B. Drayton, Mrs. Jabez Gilbert and Mrs. Alfred Streuli. After the luncheon the afternoon was spent playing bridge whist.

Car Fender Dished a Wheel.

William Henry Rogers, the Highland Farm real estate specialist, stopped his rig at Somerset and Front streets, yesterday afternoon, just as a trolley car rounded the curve. The fender reached over and picked a wheel off the Rogers vehicle as neatly as the owner can set out a row of celery sprouts. Matters were a little mixed up for a moment or so but they were gradually straightened out and Mr. Rogers got home with the aid of a borrowed wheel.

—The mechanical drawing class of the Y. M. C. A. will begin next Monday night, under the direction of Walter H. Butts. The start of the class will mark the opening of the educational department.

REWARD ON POISONER.

New Marketer Takes Steps to Search Out Slayer of Valuable Dogs.

Edmund L. Mac Kenzie, a wealthy New Market man, has offered $100 reward for information leading to the conviction of the dog poisoner who killed two deerhounds belonging to him early last month. Mr. Mac Kenzie was abroad when the dogs were poisoned, and has just returned to his place in Piscataway. He was strongly moved when he learned of the dogs' death and immediately took steps to run down the poisoner. The reward offer was posted yesterday.

The deerhounds were canines of the bluest blood and worth hundreds of dollars apiece. They were fine specimens of the kind and Mr. Mac Kenzie is determined to trace out and punish the author of their death. They were not vicious dogs, and pure maliciousness or the jealousy of another dog fancier appear to be the only motive for their poisoning.

BOYS FIND A SKELETON.

Body Hanging from a Tree and Badly Charred.

While gathering chestnuts along the mountainside near Asbury, Hunterdon county, yesterday, two sons of Jacob Egerty found the skeleton of a man hanging from a tree and evidence a bon-fire beneath it. The boys informed Coroner Pidcock, of Bloomsbury, who had the body removed.

The finding of the body recalls the disappearance of Former Assemblyman Warren O. Ladenberger, of Hampton Junction. He left home one morning, as usual, to attend to his insurance business, and never returned. It is said that he was financially embarrassed.

Thomas Walsh, of this city, who visited Junction and Asbury, yesterday, and says that there was the greatest excitement over the finding of the body. He says that it was the opinion that the man, whoever he was, had met with foul play.

Luncheon for English Guests.

An informal luncheon was given at the Plainfield Country Club, yesterday, by Harry C. Munger for H. S. Rogers and Miss Rogers, of England, who have been visiting here for a time. The luncheon was given after Miss Rogers and "Marty" O'Loughlin, the "pro" made the round of the course and returned such low scores. This morning Mr. Rogers and his daughter sailed for home.

Mrs. Charles F. Mason and Mrs. William A. Mason, of Jersey City, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pedefious at their hotel in the valley.

CAMPAIGNING AT $50,000 PER DAY.

Manager of International Policyholders' Committee Estimates N. Y. Life Officers' Outlay.

New York, Oct. 5.—The published letter of Vice President Buckner, of the New York Life Insurance Company, in which he stated that no part of the company's funds was being expended in any way for the purpose of influencing or advocating the election of the administration or any other ticket, stirred up George R. Scrugham, manager of the International Policyholders' Association, yesterday. Mr. Scrugham had this to say:

"This published statement form Vice President Buckner is interesting in view of the fact that thousands of agents and special representatives are making a desperate effort to elect the administration ticket, a fact proved by the many hundreds of original letters sent us from all sections of the country, and reports made to us by policy-holders who are interested in placing trustees in control of these great trust funds who represent the policy-holders and not other interests. We believe that there are now engaged in campaigning for the administration ticket over 5,000 agents and special representatives. One who is familiar with campaign work knows that it is impossible to keep a man in the field for less than $10 a day. This would make an aggregate of $50,000 a day that is being spent to elect the administration ticket—exclusive of postage, stationery and circulars that are being sent out.

"If this campaign is being conducted at the expense of the individual members who are candidate for trustees of the power behind the administration ticket it would be interesting to know it. It is ridiculous to suppose that such is the case, but the fact is the policy-holders themselves are being looted to provide the enormous campaign fund that is being used to defeat them in their earnest effort to gain control of their own properties."

Annoyed by Prayer Chain.

Hackettstown, Oct. 5.—Within the last few days a number of people have been annoyed by copies of an endless prayer chain, purported to have been originated by Bishop Lawrence. Along with the prayer is an explanation, requesting that the prayer be recited and sent to nine persons, beginning on the day it was received and sending one each day. It further sets forth that whoever will carry out these requests will, on or after the ninth day, receive great joy and be delivered from all calamity. But those who do not obey are likely to be afflicted by some misfortune. In some cases where these anonymous epistles have been received much anxiety has been experienced. They are principally received by women and young ladies who are active in church work and are not pleased with this method of communication. Local criticism loudly denounces the prayer and efforts will be made to ascertain its circulators unless it has at once abated.

Gave Out Unclean Books.

Hackettstown, Oct. 4.—Geo. Edward Reeves, of Newton, was arrested here Wednesday by Chief of Police Alonzo Wire, for distributing an indecent pamphlet, entitled "Castles in the Air." It was the production of a so-called New York medical institute. The booklet was distributed promiscuously about town and parents complained to Mayor A. C. Van Syckle that their children had been given the literature without restraint. The Mayor immediately ordered his arrest. A few months ago Reeves was in town and distributed a similar booklet, but escaped before he could be arrested. When interviewed by Mayor VanSyckle, he confessed ignorance as to the contents of the pamphlet he was distributing. His occupation, he said, was that of a nightwatchman, and he was distributing the printed matter as a side line, receiving $4 per thousand. It was found that he told the truth, and upon promising not to distribute such literature in this place again he was let go.

WARNING NOTE AGAIN SOUNDED AGAINST TREES.

Heavy Shade Is Making Plainfield Malarial and Rheumatic, It Is Said.

Interest is again being aroused among householders in the campaign against over-shading of the streets. For several years, the street department has sought to secure united and much-needed action among tree-owners to cut down the leafage and tree growth to a point where it will not menace the health of the community, but with little or no success.

Time and again Street Commissioner Gavett and other sanitary authorities have stated that too much shade is unhealthful, and that Plainfield, in many sections, and at many points in other sections, was too heavily shaded. Doctors here have taken note of the conditions here, and now outside doctors have begun to mark the danger to health that lies here, and the city's advancement is threatened with a setback.

Not more than a few days ago a woman in New York was advised to change her place of residence for the betterment of her health, and hit on Plainfield as her new home. She asked her physician if it was all right. He promptly shook his head.

"Too much shade," he said. "Malaria and rheumatism lurk in that town."

The incident came to the knowledge of Commissioner Gavett, and he gave it out as a pertinent object lesson on the tree-thinning question, in which he has always been interested.

The public might be as many druids, for the reverence in which they seem to hold trees. The average tree-owner throws a fit every time a city employe approaches one of his trees with a saw or a pruning instrument, and the bare suggestion that he cut down one or two of his trees is received as if it were a fearful sacrilege. Mr. Gavett still has hopes of bringing tree-owners to a sensible view of the subject, and securing a systematic control of shade areas.

SAY WEDDING RINGS ARE TO BE SCARCE.

If Chicago Jewelry Workers Strike for Eight-Hour Day On Monday Next.

Chicago, Oct. 5.—The jewelry workers are planning a general strike in Chicago, to begin next Monday.

Mass meetings of jewelry employes were held last night in various parts of the city, at which it was decided to inaugurate the eight-hour day without further delay. Committees weer appointed to visit the fifty-seven jewelry manufacturing concerns and demand the new schedule of hours, with the alternative of a strike.

That the manufacturers do not propose to submit to the union rule without a struggle was indicated by a meeting of the leading jewelry men in the evening, when an association was perfected and plans were formed for resisting the union.

The principal jewelry industry in Chicago is said to be the manufacture of wedding rings, nearly three-fourths of the jewelry of this class used here being made in the local shops. An enforced shutdown at a time when large orders for the Christmas season are at hand, it is said, will cause a serious shortage of rings.

DeWitt C. Flanagan Named.

Lee DeForest, the inventor of a wireless telegraphy system, has brought suit for divorce against his wife, Mrs. Lucille DeForest, naming as co-respondent, DeWitt C. Flanagan, of Morristown, who ran for Congress on the Democratic ticket in this district four years ago. DeForest has also commenced action for $50,000 damages against Flanagan for alienating his wife's affections. Mrs. DeForest and Flanagan flatly deny the accusations and both state that the true facts of the case will be given at the proper time. The wife declares she was compelled to leave her husband because of his cruel treatment.

Condemn Voting Machines.

Seabright, Oct. 5.—At the meeting of the Mayor and Council Wednesday night a resolution was offered by Councilman Magill and unanimously passed condemning the use of the voting machines and calling upon the State authorities to remove the machine from here. The Council voted to return to the old-fashioned ballot-box, and the clerk was directed to notify the State authorities of the action taken. Just what percentage of the voters here favor the discontinuance of the voting machines is not known. The result of the action taken will be watched with interest.

Democracy's Mixed Pickles.

The split of 1896 was widened by the episode of 1904. As a consequence the return of Mr. Bryan, factionism's first victim, was welcomed by all the groups except the Hearst group. There was a hope that Bryan might achieve the required union. That hope is not yet extinct. But the Bryan uprising is met by the Hearst demonstration; and Hearstism is Democracy crossed on Socialism, with strong paternal leanings. Thus, in New York the campaign becomes an affair of mixed pickles, the label on neither jar disclosing the contents, and, in case the Hearst label wins, the trade in mixed pickles will extend itself all over the Union.—The Louisville "Courier-Journal."

The Telegram Game.

The head of each paper must bear ten letters selected at random by the hostess, each paper bearing the same letters. Within a given time, usually five or ten minutes, each must write a telegram of ten words whose initial letters shall be those at the head of the paper. For example, given the letters T, T, P, A, W, I, N, R, D, S, one telegram might read: "Take two pellets aconite; wire immediately no relief. Dr. Snow."

Guessing at It.

"Tomorrow's Mr. Lovvett's birthday," said Bobbie.

"Yes," said Elsie, "and sister Edith says she sent him a pair of military hairbrushes. Say, what are they, anyway?"

"Give it up," replied Bobbie. "I don't even know what 'military hair' is. Somethin' fierce and red, I guess."

In Commission.

"Mammy," said little Caesar Snowdrop, "Mistah Galley say he laik to hab dat dress shirt o' his'n dis ebenin', ma'am."

"Yo' go 'long an' tell him he kain't hab it twell termorrah," replied Mrs. Snowdrop, the washlady. "Doan' yo' know dat yo' daddy's done gwine to de Afro-'Merican ball his ebenin'?"

The Ringless Bell.

"What!" exclaimed Mr. McBluff, "hasn't the landlord sent any one to fix the front doorbell? I'll go right down and see him—"

"Don't do it, George," interrupted his wife. "Just wait a week or so; it's about time for the installment callector to come around."

Decidely Lively.

"Well, old man," said Nupop's bachelor friend, "he's the dead image of you."

"Don't you believe it," replied Nupop, who had been up helf the night with the youngster. "He's the living image, if he's anything."

It Would Never Do.

Mr. Newliwed—Why not make Thursday your "At home day?"

Mrs. Newliwed—Gracious, no! That would never do. People would think then that we have only one girl and that I have to stay in to let her go out.

Of Course She Would.

"And then, mind you," exclaimed Miss Passay, "he asked me if I wouldn't marry the first man that came along."

"The idea!" remarked Miss Knox. "Don't those obviously unnecessary questions make you sick?"

Political News.

Ascum—I wonder how the primaries went up in Jay county. The last time I was up there State Senator Cookit told me he was out for a renomination.

Newitt—Well, he's out, but I don't know how much.

The Pharisees.

"Did I understand you to say that the people who choose the narrow path only are the most narrow-minded?"

"Not exactly; I say the people who think they, only, choose the narrow path are the most narrow-minded."

Two Opinions.

"Most of Rimer's poetry is pathetic, isn't it?"

"Well, that's what he calls it, but the editor says it pitiful."

SPORTS HERE AND THERE

DIAMOND DUST

When it is remembered that the New York Giants have lost forty-one games during the past season by one run, they certainly have the right to claim hard-luck. It shows that despite the disadvantages met they have been playing ball throughout the year with a determination that should have given them the pennant.

The Yankees have lost the American League pennant by a small margin, but if they do not look out they will have to be satisfied with third place, as the Clevelands are hunting them very fast. The thousands of friends of the New York Americans fully expected that they would land in first place, but when the real test came they could not measure up to it.

If Frank Farrell, of the New York Americans, can forget the shabby treatment accorded his team in the past by the management of the New York Giants, when he wanted to play post-season series with the former world champions, there is likely to be a post-season series in New York this year between the Yankees and Giants. It is hoped by all the fans that the series will be arranged. The games would be as big an attraction as those of last year between the Giants and Athletics.

Jack Martin will play with the Clinton Avenues in their game against the Invincibles, of Raritan, on Saturday. Martin has been playing third base for Somerville, this season, and his work has given satisfaction. His brother, Brit Martin, has also been covering second base for Somerville in good style.

Now that the West Ends, of Somerville, have disbanded for the year, several players will finish the season with other teams in this vicinity. Some of the members will be found in the Clinton Avenue lineup tomorrow at Crescent Oval.

It is remarkable how the interest in the national game continues at Elizabeth. At present several amateur league clubs are having a lively race, while on Sunday the Stars and the Invaders are putting up good attractions and drawing large crowds. If all the clubs finish the season without going in debt they will establish a record to be proud of.

GOLF.

Not satisfied with a score of 67 for the eighteen holes made at the Plainfield Country Club on Saturday, in competition with Percy Stewart, "Marty" O'Loughlin still further lowered the record for the course, yesterday, when he returned a 64 for the eighteen holes. This is the best score ever made on the course by either professional or amateur. Frank O. Reinhart made a 65 some time ago, while the score of 67 was held by Robert Abbott, prior to the play of O'Loughlin on Saturday. Yesterday's low score was made in competition with Mrs. H. S. Rogers, of England, who returned a score of 90, one of the best ever made by a woman on that course, and especially good considering that it was her first visit there. O'Loughlin allowed his opponent one stroke a hole. The highest number of strokes required by O'Loughlin on any hole was five on the sixteenth, and but for a slight mishap he would have made this in three or four. His card was as follows:

4 4 3 3 4 3 4 3 3—31
3 5 3 3 3 3 5 4 4—33—64

Mrs. Rogers' card follows:

6 6 5 5 6 3 6 4 4—45
3 6 5 4 5 5 7 5 5—45—90

Judging by O'Loughlin's form at present he should have an easy time of it in the championship tournament of the Eastern Professional Golfers' Association at Forest Hill the last of the month, and he is picked by many as one of the probable winners of the event, although it is realized that the field will be the largest and most formidable yet seen at a tournament.

"Dave" Patrick, who has been the "pro" at the Westfield Golf Club for two seasons past, has resigned and will probably be found at one of the larger clubs in the metropolitan district in another year. His successor has not yet been chosen, although the club would like to secure the services of Maurice McCarthy, formerly "pro" there. It is not likely that McCarthy will accept.

The Philadelphia North American bewails the fact that while Quaker City athletes have always taken the lead in various sports, it cannot be said that they have won any distinction in the game of golf. This is true notwithstanding the fact that the city possesses fine golf grounds and included in the membership are some of the best players in the country. The metropolitan district turns out a larger number of good players not only at home, but abroad.

The weekly competition for the President's and club trophies at the Park Golf Club will terminate Election Day, when there will also be special events.

Douglass $4 Shoes for $2.69

Thank your stars, Mr. Man, that this lot of Douglas Shoes was a big one—that the purchase involved thousands of pairs, and that the selling can be continued so long.

These are the regular $3.50 and $4 Douglas Shoes, so well known thruout the States as the best value for the money obtainable. But these shoes are not what the makers call strictly perfect. They have slight factory imperfections which are neither noticeable or of such character as not to affect the wear. You may examine them very closely without finding any defect, but the experts in the factory who examine the shoes find trifling flaws in the making which compels them to throw these aside.

Thus because of these slight defects we are able to buy the shoes much under price, and we sell them to you at savings of 81c to $1.31 a pair.

All sorts of leathers; any number of shapes and styles; all new; plenty of patent leathers in the lot—$3.50 and $4 Shoes for only $2.69

Marshall & Ball Clothing
The Highest Type of Ready-to-Wear.

FALL SUITS and OVERCOATS.

There's often a chill in the air these mornings and evenings that suggests the need of a Fall Overcoat. And you know a man looks rather poverty struck without one on a crisp morning.

But the suit must not be neglected. In the middle of the day when you throw open your overcoat, you can't afford to display a shabby looking suit.

The Marshall & Ball provision of Suits and Overcoats is comprehensive. Here are both Suits and Fall Overcoats modeled on lines thatappeal to conservative men, as well as those cut with all the whims of fashion that dressy young men demand.

Yet every M. & B. Garment is correct in style and reflects the exercise of unusual care and skill from the selection of the fabric to the making of the button-holes.

"Londoncut" Suits, $12 to $25. Sack Suits, $10 to $30. Fall Overcoats, $12 to $35.

FALL SUITS AND OVERCOATS FOR BOYS.

You're probably a little jealous about your boy's looks—what mother isn't? There isn't any question about M. & B. Garments keeping the youngsters as well dressed as their fathers—and they do it economically.

Every popular style is shown, handsome in pattern, including snappy top coats for little men. They're made right inside and out.

Boys' Suits or Overcoats, $3 to $16.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

In the course of the play "When Knighthood Was in Flower," as in the book, the action centers about "Mary Tudor," Princess of England, the madcap sister of irascible Henry the Eighth. This role is portrayed by Anna Day in the most captivating manner in the world. As "Princess Mary" she dances in and out of every scene, as changing as a summer sky, now haughty as only a royal princess can be, now wilful and defiant, again sweet and tender as becomes here, but always winsome, womanly and lovable. It is a difficult role that Miss Day essays, but one to which she proves herself equal in every particular. She will be seen in it at the New Plainfield theatre tonight.

Now is just about the time to bear in mind that in "The Shadow Behind the Throne," which comes to the New Plainfield theatre for matinee and night performances tomorrow, two great masters—Alice Ramsey and Rudolph De Cordova—in the knowledge and application of the true principles of melodramatic action, expression and combination upon which all great plays of a serious character are founded, have earnestly collaborated. The result is a pronounced success from every point of view, including the box office, and while true to nature and the dominating passions of mankind, legitimately so, to the very apex of sensation and realism. It is the incarnate triumph of brains and heroic insight and intuition as against bungling pathos and lurid travesty. Generally this has not been a profitable theatrical season. Why? Because the public is too tired of having bad plays foisted upon it to put its hands into its pocket to patronize them.

To the ordinary theatre-goers the announcement of a band concert means little. This class of entertainment has seemingly had no greater significance in the past than a straight programme of varied standard classics, excerpts from comic operas and a few popular melodies, punctuated with mediocre solos by performers of little ability beyond the knack of a few chromatic pyrotechnics. These features have from time to time been supplemented by grotesque acrobatics and sensational buffooneries on the part of a few conductors who have had to resort to yellow methods in order to attract public notice. All these varied features are conspicuously noticeable by their absence in the Pryor concerts. The strictly concert programme of the Pryor band covers only the first part of the performance, the last half being devoted to "The Triumph of Old Glory," a musical, military, historical spectacle, telling the story of the national flag from its inception by Betsy Ross up to the present time. It is a novelty in the fullest sense, and will appeal to all patriotic Americans. Regular theatre-goers will find entertainment and relaxation in the Pryor concerts, fully as readily as music lovers. Pryor will appear at the New Plainfield theatre next Monday night.

The offering at the New Plainfield theatre next Tuesday night will be Andrew Mack as Shaun the Post in Dion Boucicault's great Irish comedy drama, "Arrah-na-Pogue." The cast will include Miss Mae Stevenson, Miss Alice Gilmore, Miss Georgie O'Meare, J. J. Hylands, J. Palmer Collins, Earl Simmonds, Thomas F. O'Malley, Thomas E. Jackson, Gus Carney and a chorus of twenty picked voices. The entire production is carried, and will be put on here the same as if it were for a year's run.

Maude Myrtle Tannehill, the charming young woman who as the "Christmas lady" brings joy into the "Cabbage Patch," is a student of Hebrew and can already read the Old Testament in the original. The fact that a kinsman is a professor of the ancient tongue determined her to take it up to pass time when on the road. "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" will be here next Thursday night.

When Madame Modjeska appears at the New Plainfield theatre on October 15, she and her company will give the dignity of what may truly be called a Shakespearian festival to the city. The company, scenery, costumes and stage effects have all been selected by herself, and, as Paderewski once said, "No one knows better how to do this artistic work than Modjeska."

OF "GENTLEMEN."

When I got back to my office and was settling to the proofs of the "Letters to Investors," which I published in sixty newspapers throughout the country and which daily reached upward of five million people, Sam Ellersly came in. His manner was certainly different from what it had ever been before; a difference so subtle that I couldn't describe it more nearly than to say it made me feel as if he had not until then been treating me as of the same class with himself. I smiled to myself and made an entry in my mental ledger to the credit of Mowbray Langdon.

"That club business is going nicely," said Sam. "Langdon is enthusiastic, and I find you've got good friends on the committee."

I knew that well enough. Hadn't I been carrying them on my books at a good loss for two years?

"If it wasn't for—for some features of this business of yours," he went on, "I'd say there wouldn't be the slightest trouble."

"Bucket-shop?" said I with an easy laugh, though this nagging was beginning to get on my nerves.

"Exactly," said he. "And, you know, you advertise yourself like—like——"

"Like everybody else, only more successfully than most," said I. "Everybody advertises, each one adapting his advertising to the needs of his enterprises, as far as he knows how."

"KEEP OUT OF MARRIAGE, MATT," HE ADVISED.

"That's true enough," he confessed. "But there are enterprises and enterprises, you know."

"You can tell 'em, Sam," said I, "that I never put out a statement I don't believe to be true, and that when any of my followers lose on one of my tips, I've lost on it, too. For I play my own tips—and that's more than can be said of my 'financier' in this town."

After a while I dragged in the subject. "One thing I am and will do to get myself in line for that club," I said, like a seal on promenade. "I'm sick of the crowd I travel with—the men and the women. I feel it's about time I settled down. I've got a fortune and establishment that needs a woman to set it off. I can make some woman happy. You don't happen to know any nice girls—the right sort, I mean?"

"Not many," said Sam. "You'd better go back to the country where you came from, and get her there. She'd be eternally grateful, and her head wouldn't be full of mercenary nonsense."

"Excuse me!" exclaimed I. "It'd turn her head. She'd go clean crazy. She'd plunge in up to her neck—and not being used to these waters, she'd make a show of herself, and probably drown, dragging me down with her, if possible."

Sam laughed. "Keep out of marriage, Matt," he advised, not so obtuse to my real point as he wanted me to believe. "I know the kind of girl you've got in mind. She'd marry you for your money, and she'd never appreciate you. She'd see in you only the lack of the things she's been taught to lay stress on."

"For instance?"

"I couldn't tell you any more than I could enable you to recognize a person you'd never seen by describing him."

"Ain't I a gentleman?" I inquired.

He laughed, as if the idea tickled him. "Of course," he said. "Of course."

"Ain't I got as proper a country place as there is a-going? Ain't my apartment in the Willoughby a peach? Don't I give as elegant dinners as you ever sat down to? Don't I dress right up to the Piccadilly latest? Don't I act all right—know enough to keep my feet off the table and my knife out of my mouth?" All true enough; and I so crude then that I hadn't a suspicion what a flat contradiction of my pretensions and beliefs about myself

SLACKLOCK GOES INTO TRAINING.

This brings me to the ugliest story my enemies have concocted against me. No one appreciates more thoroughly than I that, to rise high, a man must have his own efforts seconded by the flood of vituperation that his enemies send to overwhelm him and which washes him far higher than he could hope to lift himself. So I do not here refer to any attack on me in the public prints; I think of them only with amusement and gratitude. The story that rankles is the one these foes of mine set creeping, like a snake under the fallen leaves, everywhere anywhere, unseen, without a trail. It has been whispered into every ear—and it is, no doubt, widely believed—that I deliberately put old Bromwell Ellersly "in a hole," and there tortured him until he consented to try to compel his daughter to marry me.

It is possible that, if I had thought of such a devilish device, I might have tried it—is not all fair in love? But there was no need for my budgeling my brains to carry that particular fortification on my way to what I had fixed my will upon. Bromwell Ellersly came to me of his own accord.

I suppose the Ellerslys must have talked me over in the family circle. However this may be, my acquaintance with her father began with Sam's asking me to lunch with him. "The governor has heard me talk of you so much," said he, "that he is anxious to meet you."

I offered to help him, and I did help him. Is there any one, knowing anything of the facts of life, who will censure me when I admit that I—with deliberation—simply tided him over, did not make for him and present to him a fortune? What chance should I have had, if I had been so absurdly generous to a man who deserved nothing but punishment for his selfish and bigoted mode of life? I took away his worst burdens; but I left him more than he could carry without my help. And it was not until he had appealed in vain to all his social friends to relieve him of the necessity of my aid, not until he realized that I was his only hope of escaping a sharp comedown from luxury to very modest comfort in a flat somewhere—not until then did his wife send me an invitation to dinner. And I had not so much as hinted that I wanted it.

I shall never forget the smallest detail of that dinner—it was a purely "family" affair, only the Ellerslys and I. I can feel now the oppressive atmosphere, the look as of impending sacrilege upon the faces of the old servants; I can see Mrs. Ellersly trying to condescend to be "gracious," and treating me as if I were some sort of museum freak or menagerie exhibit. I can see Anita. She was like a statue of snow; she spoke not a word; if she lifted her eyes, I failed to note it. And when I was leaving—I with my collar wilted from the fierce, nervous strain I had been enduring—Mrs. Ellersly, in that voice of hers into which I don't believe any shade of a real human emotion ever penetrated, said: "You must come to see us, Mr. Blacklock. We are always at home after five."

MODEL PRIVATE DAIRY.

Absolute Cleanliness In Barn and Dairy House Pays in Very High Prices.

The necessity of having a specially clean place where milk is to be handled has prompted Mr. R. V. Lindabury, of Bernardsville, N. J., to build for himself one of the finest private dairies to be found anywhere in the State of New Jersey, and it would be safe to say almost anywhere in the United States. It is an ideal place for the handling of clean milk. If any stranger should walk into it he would wonder whether he had not blundered into somebody's residence.

The building itself is constructed of stone with a plaza on the outside for keeping the dairy utensils in the sun as much as possible. The inside is divided into two compartments, one having a subdivision for the refrigerator room. Over the ceiling of this room are laid heavy coils of pipe through which water flows, and on top of these coils ice is kept during the warm months of the year. This ice serves a double purpose. It keeps the refrigerator room cold and at the same time it cools the water flowing through the coils, which is used for the milk cooler.

One room contains the engine, separator, churn, butter worker, aerator, etc.; the other holds the boiler, washtubs, milk tester, etc. The floors and half way up the walls in both rooms are made of white tile, while the other half of the walls and ceilings are plastered, having a hard surface finish to it. All the woodwork, of course, is painted a pure white. All the pipes, valves, shelf bracers, churn hoops and, in fact, all the ironwork is nickel plated. The boiler is covered with a coat of asbestos, making it look white. All the machinery, such as separator, churn and butter worker are run by steam power.

The milk, just as soon as it reaches the dairy, is immediately put through an aerator and cooler. It is then put into quart bottles and put into the refrigerator room, where it is kept until distributed. The surplus milk is run through a separator, and the cream is put into the refrigerator until ready for ripening. Some of the cream is also bottled. This cream contains 45 per cent. of butter fat. Cream is churned into butter three times every week. Some of the dairy products are sold to some millionaires nearby and a very high price is obtained.

Special attention is given to cleanliness wherever the milk is handled, in the barn as well as in the dairy.

THE STOLEN STORY.

"The Stolen Story" has made a genuine hit. It may not be a great play, it may be weak in spots and faulty in dramatic construction, but it does two things which are remarkable in any piece presented on a stage—it gets over the foolights without the least apparent effort, and it opens to playgoers an altogether new sphere for the working of theatrical figures and the manoeuvring of stage devices. Perhaps the presence in the Garden theatre audience of a large number of newspaper men and their more or less sophisticated friends at the opening performance had a great deal to do with the tempestuous reception accorded the play. Two of its four acts are laid in the city room of a well-known metropolitan morning daily, which room, with most of its ancient and honorable furniture, is so carefully copied as to be easily recognized by any one who ever stepped within its dusty precincts. In these two acts the life and atmosphere of a newspaper office are reproduced with sufficient fidelity to satisfy the demand of the average newspaper man. It has never before been done in a New York playhouse. True, there is wanton exaggeration and wilful idealization, but so there is in every play of every kind that was ever shown to an audience. "The Stolen Story," however, comes nearer to being the real thing than does any other play that has attempted to picture the reporter and reportorial life. Jameson Lee Finney in the character of the Great Billy Woods is excellent. He is the best stage reporter ever seen on the metropolitan boards. Dorothy Tennant as the daughter of Gen. Cunningham acts with a naturalness quite in keeping with her work as the original College Widow. Joseph M. Sparks as Jerry McCarter, an Irish politician, has a delicious brogue, and is in every respect one of the hits of the piece.

Want Pure Power.

Samples of the water of various rivers are being sent to Washington, where they will be analyzed to see if they are valuable for industrial purposes. Why is Chicago slighted? We should at once fill a milk bottle with the energetic fluid from our versatile stream and ask the benign and scientific Government to give it a careful analysis for the purpose of ascertaining whether it is good water to make power before we proceed to spend millions in developing the works at Lockport.—Chicago News.

In One Braid.

"She has grown to be a very beautiful girl," said Jigley. "Her hair is positively golden."

"Indeed? That's odd," said Kidder. "I knew her when she was a little girl."

"Well?"

"Well, it was merely plaited then."

SOFTNESS OF SEALSKIN.

Is Rivaled by Human Hair Where Dandruff Is Eradicated.

Sealskin is admired the world over for its softness and glossiness; and yet the human hair is equally as soft and glossy when healthy; and the radical cause of all hair trouble is dandruff, which is caused by a pestiferous parasite that saps the vitality of the hair at its root. Newbro's Herpicide is the only preparation that is fatal to the dandruff germ. Without dandruff there is no falling hair, but a luxuriant growth of glossy, soft hair is certain. Scouring the scalp won't cure dandruff. Kill the dandruff germ. Thousands of women owe their beautiful suits of hair to Newbro's Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. STOLEN PAINTINGS SMUGGLED TO NEW YORK.

Valuable Collection Hidden for Twenty-eight Years By "Fence" in Europe.

A cable despatch from Paris yesterday announced to the New York police and Secret Service agents that a gigantic smuggling case is now before them. The story is about as romantic as burglary, plain stealing and smuggling can be. An art collection, among which are paintings by Rembrandt, Boucher, Rubens, Sir Joshua Reynolds and Nattier will soon be sold in some American city and the pictures are said to be now in the United States, and perhaps in New York.

The belief of the Paris police is that the paintings were got to New York by way of New Orleans, from Havana. There is no record of their entry through any American port. The pictures were accumulated by a celebrated "fence," and have been held from the public gaze for more than twenty-eight years, so that the statute of limitations relieves the "collectors" from the fear of the law. Their value is said to be enormous, and they will be bid for enthusiastically when the auction begins.

Many art lovers will not fail to love the old paintings just a little more because of their interesting experiences in the hands of thieves and robbers for so many years.

"Jack" Carr, who was at the head of the plot which resulted in the theft of Reynolds' Duchess of Devonshire portrait, and who died worth $300,000 in a prison at Copenhagen, one of the lovers of art for mere money's sake, is hinted at as one of the leaders in the securing of the present collection. Carr was known to the New York and Scotland Yard police as one of the slickest of the "collectors."

No trace of the stolen paintings has yet been found in America, but developments are expected soon that may be important.

RED-HAIRED WIFE GONE, SO IS CLERK.

Double Distraction Met Port Chester Merchant on Return from Excursion.

Port Chester, Oct. 5.—Herbert Miner, a merchant of East Port Chester, has appealed to Chief of Police Nedley to help him find his young and pretty wife, who was seen to board a train for Bridgeport Tuesday of last week, and who has not been seen since by her husband.

Those who saw the young woman get on the car thought she seemed in a hurry, and noticed that she carried a heavy satchel. John Kramer, a boarder in the Miner home, and for several months a clerk in her husband's store, sprang on the forward car.

Miner arrived home Tuesday from a three days' trip to Newburg on an excursion of the Knights of Pythias, of which he is a prominent member. He found his home closed and his wife gone, with her clothes. He said when he told his wife of the trip to Newburg she clung on his neck, wept and said:

"Go and have a good time. It will be very lonesome for me, but I love you so much I will be happy to know that you are having a good time."

Kramer is twenty-five and divorced. In the police alarm sent out last night runs the line:

"Look for Mrs. Herbert Miner, red hair and blue eyes."

FEEDS BASS GUMDROPS.

Trained Fish Then Catches Other Fish For His Owner.

Port Jervis, N. J., Oct. 5.—Everybody up Mill Rift way has heard of J. Floyd Monlony's trained black bass. At present it weighs seven pounds. He caught the bass when it was only three inches long, kept it in a washtub, raised it on a bottle and taught it to attack other fish, as well as eels.

Floyd gives a gumdrop to the bass every time it brings in a fish. On the "long track" in the river the other day he fed his pet thirty-nine gumdrops, and then, the supply being exhauted, the bass refused to tackle another fish.

It prefers gumdrops to hojacks, lampers, minnows or angleworms, and during the fifteen years Floyd has owned it the bass has caught more than two tons of fish for its owner.

Any one doubting this story may apply for vouchers to Jim Hayes, H. H. Hazen or Walt Tisdell, Sparrow bush, N. Y.

111 Years Old and Robust.

Malone, N. Y., Sept. 5.—Mrs. Sarah Russell, of Port Covington, N. Y., celebrated her 111th birthday this week and is enjoying good health. She can see and read and takes a keen interest in all that is going on. She was born near Montreal, Que. She remembers incidents of the 1812 war and speaks English, French and an Indian dialect fluently. She says her grandmother lived t obe 114 years old, and it is her ambition to exceed that.

Pastor Catches Big Fish.

Somerville, Oct. 5.—Rev. Dr. William Stockton Cramer, of the First Reformed church, of this place, fearing that members of his flock may believe that even ministers tell fish stories, sent hereyesterday morning a thirty-five pound channel bass caught by him at Barnegat yesterday. The big fish is now on exhibition at Taylor's fish market, where it is attracting great attention.

MISS UHLER IS WEDDED

Charming Young Woman is the Bride of Philip Cuyler Langdon.

CEREMONY AT GRACE

Society Folk Throng Episcopal Church to Witness the Ceremoni—Reception Follows at Fanwood.

Grace church was the scene this afternoon of one of the prettiest weddings that has occurred here for a long time, when Miss Madeline Uhler, a very attractive blonde, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Martin Uhler, became the bride of Philip Cuyler Langdon, of Brooklyn. Mr. Langdon is the son of Mrs. P. C. Langdon, of 130 South Elliot place, Brooklyn, and of the class '02 of Princeton.

The church was very prettily decorated with palms, ferns and white potted plants. William E. MacClymont presided at the organ and rendered some charming selections before the bridal party arrived. While the organ pealed the grand march from Lohengrin the bridal party entered the church, preceded by William E. Greene, of Newton, Mass., as head usher, and James Argesinger H. McClord, of Greenwich, Conn., classmates of the groom, and L. B. Parnell, of Baltimore, Princeton '04, and A. E. Cummings, of Brooklyn.

The maid of honor, Miss Lilla Cornell, of East Orange, preceded the other bridesmaids, who were Miss Jessie Douglass, of Brooklyn; Miss Arline Pearsall, of New York; Miss Beulah Bailey, of Newton, Mass.; Miss Lillian Fancher, of Fanwood. Following them came Mrs. William Crane, of Newton, Mass., as matron of honor. Then came the bride, leaning on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. They were met at the chancel by the groom and best man, Fred Langdon, brother of the groom. The Rev. E. Vicar Stevenson performed the betrothal ceremony. Rev. Morris Kemp, of New York, an old friend of the family, solemnized the marriage ceremony.

The wedding party left the church to Mendelssohn's wedding march.

The bride was gowned in white chiffon cloth, simply made, trimmed with Duchess lace worn by the bride's mother at her wedding. She wore a tulle veil and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and bride roses. The matron of honor wore a gown of pale blue silk radium with baby Irish lace and rhine stone buttons, with picture hat of white Irish lace and pale blue ostrich plumes and carried a bouquet of tea roses and autumn leaves. The maid of honor and other bridesmaids wore pale blue silk radium, the skirts with clusters of tucks, the waists with insertion and medalions of baby Irish lace. With these they wore pale blue felt picture hats trimmed with pale blue tulle and ostrich plumes. They carried American beauty roses tied with green tulle. The bride's mother wore a handsome violet cloth gown, the waist trimmed with Irish lace and hat with wings to match her costume. She carried a large bunch of violets.

A wedding reception took place, following the ceremony, at the home of the bride's parents in Fanwood. The house was tastefully decorated by Stanley. The hall and stairway were strikingly attractive in autumn boughs, and red blossoms. The library, where the bridal party received, was decorated in palms and white potted plants. The dining room in bride's roses and asparagus vine. The piazzas were enclosed and lighted with electric lights in Japanese lanterns. The music was furnished by Wittan's orchestra and Maresi served the wedding supper.

The bride presented her matron of honor, maid of honor and bridesmaids with pearl pendants designed by Tiffany, while the groom gave his ushers amethyst scarf pins.

The bride's gift to the groom was a pearl and diamond scarf pin and Mr. Langdon presented his bride with a pin in the shape of a crown of pearls and diamonds. The couple were the recipients of many handsome presents.

The bride's going away costume was in chestnut brown with hat and ostrich boa to match.

Mr. and Mrs. Langdon left for Aiken, S. C., for a long honeymoon, after which they will take up their residence in Fanwood.

Church Entertainment.

An entertainment will be given in the German Lutheran church on [illegible] evening. A male quartette from Orange will be present and instrumental selections will be furnished by members of the congregation.

PROSPECTS BRIGHTEN FOR WOUNDED RIGGER

CONVICTION THAT JONES IS NOT A CROOK IS STRENGTHENED.

Further investigation of John L. Jones, the rigger who was shot while climbing into the bedroom window of William Smith Terry, on New street, early yesterday morning, has strengthened Chief Kiely's conviction that the man is not a crook. None of the circumstances surrounding his actions and associates here indicate crookedness, on the other hand there are several that point to the opposite conclusion.

That the man had been drinking too much was established yesterday by Chief Kiely in his investigation of the way Jones spent the night before running afoul of Terry's revolver. From 8 o'clock until 11 he was in a saloon, and he "held up his end" with the men at the bar.

That he was not the man Mrs. Terry thought was watching the house Thursday afternoon, is quite certain. He was at work all Thursday, as his foreman and the workmen on the construction of the cement block machinery plant can testify. The foreman says he is one of the best workmen on the job, steadier and more industrious than the average, and he is convinced Jones is not crooked. He said last night, and the police agree with him, that a petty crook is never the kind of a man to engage in hard work and perform his duties as conscientiously as Jones has.

The foreman will call on Chief Kiely tonight and talk over the man's case with him. If Jones, in the light of the investigation up to that point, still appears like the victim of his own drunken foolishness and nothing more, the foreman will assist him in getting clear of the trouble into which it has plunged him. Chief Kiely or one of his men will go to Yonkers today, to look up the sister Jones is supposed to have there.

ARABIAN MISSIONS THEME OF TRINITY MISSION BAND.

Young Women Start the Season's Work With Promises of Renewed Effort.

The Young Women's Mission Band of Trinity Reformed church held its first meeting for the season in the church parlors, yesterday afternoon, and judging by the activity of the organization, the coming year will be a successful one in the cause of foreign and home missions. After the regular business session, which was of a routine nature, Miss Margaret Leggett read an interesting paper on "The Story of a Missionary Barrel." This was followed by the distribution of questions regarding the Arabian missions, and the members were supposed to answer them for the enlightenment of all as to what is being done in that country toward the advancement of Christianity.

A letter from Miss Lillian Hart, M. D., who is stationed at the Ramapetti Mission in Arcot, India, gave an exceedingly instructive story of the work there.

It was reported that during the past year thirty-five articles were made and sent to foreign mission fields and that a Christmas box is now in course of preparation to be sent to Wisconsin in a short time. Three new members were elected and the band begins the new year hopeful of accomplishing very much. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed.

Evangelistic Services.

The evangelistic services commenced at the Monroe Avenue M. E. church last Sunday, under the direction of the pastor, Rev. E. E. Roberson, have aroused considerable interest among the people of the West End. Special music is provided at these services, which will be continued tomorrow night, when the pastor will preach on the topic, "No Difference." Seventy-five new song books have been provided and will be used tomorrow night.

TRIBUTE TO MR. MARTINE

State's Foremost Republican Daily Sizes Up Democratic Congressional Nominee.

IS A GOOD CITIZEN

"Possibility That Office Having Sought the Ban, Has at Last Found Him," Says Newark News.

The Newark Evening News, recognized as New Jersey's leading daily, paid a splendid tribute to James E. Martine last night. Its editorial, headed, "The Office Seeks the Man," follows:

"James E. Martine, the farmer-orator of Union County, the personal friend of William J. Bryan, the most loyal Democrat in the State and one of the best all-round citizens to be met with in a month's march, has again been nominated for Congress in the Fifth District, and will make a second fight for the seat, now held by Congressman Charles N. Fowler. And when it is said that he will make a fight, the term is used advisedly. When Mr. Martine enters upon a campaign he fills it so full of strenuosity and aggressiveness that it is a fight from beginning to end. There is no skirmishing, no tactical retreat; nothing but hand-to-hand fighting all along the line.

"When the district Democratic convention met at Morristown there were two candidates in the field. One of these was John Moody, of Cranford, the fierce denouncer of the Democratic State committee, the courageous exposer of the treacherous, traitorous methods of the leaders and the irrepressible advocate of reform in the party. He had made too many enemies by his frankness and was laid on the shelf to cool. The other was William R. Wilson, an Elizabeth lawyer; but he was not considered aggressive enough. In the emergency, who? Then, as on many similar occasions before, the eyes of the delegates turned with one accord toward James E. Martine, and he was nominated by acclamation.

"Mr. Martine did not seek this honor. He has never sought office. Though he has been a candidate, in years past, for county clerk, for State Senator, for Congress and for pretty much everything that the Democratic party could offer him, when there was no chance of his being elected, all these ephemeral honors have been thrust upon him. He has freely given his whole political life to the Democratic party and has received in return nothing but broad smiles, a minority vote and the consciousness of having done his whole duty.

"It is a long lane that has no turn. For twenty-five years Mr. Martine has involuntarily borne the brunt of hopeless candidacy, and has willingly taken all the heavy campaign work which this involves. Is there any possibility of his election this year? In 1904 President Roosevelt carried this district by a majority of 8,332 over Parker. Stokes carried it by 6,456 over Black, Fowler by 5,234 over Martine. In 1902, with nothing more than DeWitt Clinton Flagan to run again, Mr. Fowler was elected by only 1,149. This year the assistance of such phenomenal vote getters as Roosevelt and Stokes will be missing; both Mr. Fowler and Mr. Martine will stand before the people on their respective merits.

"Hitherto Mr. Martine's candidatures have not been taken seriously by his own party. Good fellow, perfect gentleman, able orator and loyal Democrat that he is, his nominations have always provoked smiles for the reasons already given. Yet if any man in New Jersey has earned the honors of office by party loyalty and hard, unremunerated work, that man is James E. Martine. There is a bare possibility that the office, having sought this man so many times in years past, has at last found him. Stranger things than this have happened in political off years."

Rally Day at Faith Chapel.

There will be rally day exercises at Faith chapel tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, under the auspices of the Sunday-school, with special programme and roll call. In the morning at 10:45 the pastor, Rev. J. W. Musson, will preach on the subject, "The Eleventh Commandment," and his subject for the evening service at 7:45 will be "The Swimming Iron." In the afternoon Miss Jessie Roberts, a well-known elocutionist, will give several recitations.

Chief Doane Off to Texas.

Chief T. O. Doane, of the city fire department, left this morning for Dallas, Tex., to attend the annual convention of the National Fire Chiefs Association. It will begin Wednesday and last three days and promises to be one of the most important in the history of the organization. While Chief Doane is away, the department will be in charge of Assistant Chief Andrew Jennings.

SULZER WILL TALK OF FOWLER'S RECORD

NEW YORK CONGRESSMAN VOLUNTEERS TO SPEAK FOR MARTINE.

Letters from prominent Democrats of New York and throughout this State, congratulating him on his nomination and pledging him all the assistance they can give him in his campaign. One of the first to write was Congressman William Sulzer of New York, who has been a warm friend and admirer of the farmer-orator for several years. Sulzer has something of a silvery tongue himself, and the two have spoken from the same platforms in more than one place.

Mr. Sulzer, after expressing his pleasure over Mr. Martine's nomination with characteristic cordialy, offered to speak at Elizabeth, when Mr. Martine might ask him, and tell the voters what Fowler's record has been plied to the letter, accepting the offer. He has asked Mr. Sulzer to come to Plainfield and has hopes of inducing him to accept the invitation.

Former United States Senator James Smith is among those who have written cordial letters to Mr. Martine, and so is R. D. Foote, the millionaire banker of Morristown.

WILLIAM A. WAGLOW WEDS MISS THERESA FAY.

Ceremony Performed by Rev. Frank Fletcher at His Home in New Market This Afternoon.

Miss Thersea Fay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fay, of North avenue, and William Waglow, also of this city, were quietly married this afternoon by Rev. Frank Fletcher, pastor of the New Market Baptist church, at his home in New Market. The ceremony was witnessed only by the groom's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Waglow, who acted as attendants. Miss Fay was attired in a gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of roses.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Waglow left for a wedding trip which will extend as far as Albany, N. Y., the bride wearing a traveling gown of blue silk. On returning they will make their home at 202 West Second street. Next Friday night they will tender a reception to Plainfield Aerie, No. 866, E. O. E., of which the groom is a member, and other friends, in Findlay's hall.

Elizabeth' Tax Rate $1.46.

Elizabeth's Board of Aldermen at a special meeting Thursday night fixed the tax rate at $1.46. An ineffectual effort was made by former President Ford, of the board, to have the rate fixed at $1.43, and in this attempt he was supported by the Ford faction in the board. A large majority of the board decided on the higher figure.

E. S. HOOLEY DECLINES

His Place on Consolidation Commission May be Taken by C. W. McCutchen.

BOROUGH APPOINTMENT

Not Known Yet Whether Mr. McCutchen Will Accept—Councilmanic Business Last Night.

Edwin S. Hooley, who was named by Mayor Smalley as one of the North Plainfield commissioners to discuss the consolidation question, formally notified the Borough Council last night that he could not accept the appointment. Business matters, he said in a communication, made it impossible for him to give the office the time it needed. Mayor Smalley expressed regret at not being able to secure Mr. Hooley's aid, stating that he selected him from the fact that he took a decided interest in the annexation proposition and knew that he is conversant with the details. In his stead he named Charles W. McCutchen, though it is not known yet that he will accept.

But little business of importance was transacted at the meeting, routine matters taking up the greater part of the time. It was reported that the sewer commission is hard at work and that within a short time, some information of value would be laid before the people. On a resolution offered by Mr. Lee, the new portion of Duer street north of Greenbrook road was accepted and on another, permission was granted the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company to lay conduits in portions of Park place, Duer street and Somerset street. Petitions for the laying of sidewalks on Stone street and Allen place were referred and a petition from William Kirch to build an addition to A. H. Wilson's property at 29 Craig place was granted.

On a resolution by Mr. McGee, the council was empowered to borrow $1,000 to meet bills, providing it was found necessary. Another by Mr. VanArsdale resulted in permission being granted C. B. Manning to erect two frame houses at Washington avenue and Prospect place.

The Mayor, acting recorder, reported 23 arrests during September and $44 in fines collected.

CONGREGATIONALIST C. E. HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING.

After Election of Officers a Novel Entertainment Is Provided.

Officers were elected at a social gathering held by the Christian Endeavor Society of the Congregational church at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Charles L. Goodrich, on West Seventh street, last night, when plans were discussed for the winter. It being the annual meeting, the pastor invited the young people to meet at the parsonage, and in connection with the business a novel programme was provided.

These officers were elected:

President, Rolland D. Rice; vice president, Carl Steiner; secretary, George Bentley; treasurer, Stanley Fisher; chairman of the prayer meeting committee, Miss Lulu Fuller; chairman lookout committe, Harold Millar; chairman of the missionary committee, Miss Alice Morgan; chairman of social committee, Miss Myra Emmons; chairman of the music committee, Miss Jean Millar.

After the business the young people engaged in what was called a "track tournament," several yards of tape were provided and the subject was to see who could cut the strips in two from end to end first. The young people were paired in twos and the affair was conducted similar to a tennis tournament, there being the various rounds, with the semifinals and finals. The tournament furnished lots of fun for all. Stacy Raynolds won the event. After the game, refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Goodrich.

J. K. Arnold, Jr., Now Chief Clerk.

The Public Service Corporation has decided not to put anyone in the place left vacant by the resignation of Assistant Superintendent Ralph P. Bache, who has gone to Colorado Springs, but Superintendent H. S. Richardson, of Metuchen, will have general oversight of the district formerly looked after by Mr. Bache, while James K. Arnold, Jr., who has been with the company for several years, has been made chief clerk with headquarters in this city. This will mean that Mr. Arnold will be in charge of the district including Plainfield and extending to Somerville, under the general supervision of Mr. Richardson.

C. F. Fulmer Sued.

William Kelvie has brought suit against C. F. Fulmer, on contract, in the District Court, for $200. The case is set for Tuesday, October 16. F. J. Blatz is the plaintiff's lawyer.

TO INCULCATE IDEALS IN PLAINFIELD BOYS

PURITY AND MANLINESS OBJECTS OF HOLY CROSS BOYS' CLUB.

The members of the Holy Cross Boys' Club met last night for the purpose of electing officers and planning for the activities of the coming season. After roll-call a temporary secretary was appointed and the club proceded to the consideration of the constitution and by-laws submitted by the committee.

The liberal policy of the club was recognized by the first clause in the constitution which reads: "The object of the club shall be to bring together, without regard to religious belief, boys who are willing to work for the common ideals of honesty, purity and manliness and who will strive for mutual helpfulness and self-betterment."

The nominating committee reported the names of boys selected as suitable for club officers. Twelve names were proposed and out of the number these were chosen:

President, Ira Vail; treasurer, Bert Miller; secretary, Russell Vail; librarian, Edward Schorb.

The committee on athletics met and arranged for a field day competition, open to members of the club, to be held Saturday afternoon, October 20, at 2 o'clock on the Cricket Field, North Plainfield. A football game by the club eleven against a visiting team will follow the sports. Tickets will be issued next week.

The entertainment committee decided on a social to be held Saturday night, November 3. Report was made of the new books, magazines and other gifts to the club. Three new names of applicants for membership were reported favorably by the membership committee and by majority vote of the club were elected to membership. The athletic committee reported three games scheduled for the football team and other games in prospect.

SHOPMATES ESCORT BODY TO THE GRAVE.

Many Others Attend Funeral of Patrick Kneeland in St. Mary's Church.

Escorted by fifty of his shopmates, the body of Patrick Kneeland, who was killed by the falling of a casting at the Pond Tool Works, Thursday, was taken from his late home on Lee place to St. Mary's church, this morning, where a requiem mass was said. It was conducted by Rev. Father Bogan, assisted by Fathers Delehanty and Frederici, a large gathering of relatives, friends and fellow employees being present. During the service, Father Bogan made a touching address, filled with sympathy for the bereaved wife and children.

Included in the large array of floral tributes extended by friends was an immense set piece in the form of a pillow, contributed by the employees of the Pond shop.

At the conclusion of the mass, the body was taken to St. Mary's cemetery where interment was made, the shop-mates again acting as escort. The pall bearers were Patrick Kiely, John Kelley, Daniel Sullivan, Michael Regan, Daniel Fitzpatrick and Edward J. Harding.

Getting Good Jurymen.

Sergeant at Arms Hand, of the District Court, is impanelling twenty-four men to be on hand at the District Court next Tuesday for service, if needed, as jurymen. He is drawing the best kind of citizens he can find and they will not be allowed to slide out of serving. Judge Newcorn is determined to have the best venire-men obtaintable and will enforce the law that permits him to inflict a fine up to $50 for disregard of the summons served by the sergeant at arms.

Baptist Ministers Will Exchange.

Arrangements have been made whereby Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, of the First Baptist church, will exchange with Rev. A. E. Finn, of the Park Avenue Baptist church, tomorrow night. Dr. Chambliss will also make a short address at the rally day exercises to be held under the auspices of both Sunday-schools in the afternoon. He will speak at the First Baptist church first and then at the Park Avenue Baptist church.

Mrs. Bowers Freed.

After two adjournments, the case against Kate Bowers, charged with disorderly conduct by Mrs. Julian Citriane, collapsed in the city court this morning. The complainant failed to appear and Lawyer William G. DeMeza, who appeared for the defendant, secured a dismissal.

MINORITY PARTY TICKET

Desmond, Hague and Coulter Are Nominated For the Assembly.

MARTINE IS CHEERED

Wild Enthusiasm When "Farmer-Orator" Is Escorted to Platform—His Ringing Speech.

For Member of the Assembly,
James E. Desmond, of Elizabeth.
Joseph T. Hague, of Elizabeth.
Harry C. Coulter, of Rahway.

For Coroner,
Dr. F. Otto Wagner, of Elizabeth.

These are the candidates nominated by the Democrats at the county convention in Elizabeth last night. Old-time Jacksonians declared that the gathering was the liveliest convention held by the Democrats in many moons. In the last few years the shattered Democracy has experienced hard times in getting candidates enough to fill the tickets; only last year, it will be remembered, that the roll was called seven times before any one was found loyal enough to make a run for Senator until Mr. Nugent volunteered.

But last night matters were different. Alfred Judson Hancock, the lone delegate from Clark township who has went through many gales with the ship of Democracy without flinching, and who proudly boasts of a record of attending thirty-seven Democratic conventions as a delegate in his career, was boiling over with enthusiasm over the return of old conditions, and after adjournment he gave vent to his feelings by prophescying that Jim Martine and the whole ticket would go through the golden gates of success with a ripping old majority.

Instead of there being a scarcity of candidates, there was enough names mentioned before the convention convened to fill half a dozen tickets. Only five got in the race, however. In addition to the nominations of Messrs. Desmond, Hague and Coulter, LeRoy Gibbs, of Summit, presented the name of former Mayor George W. Baldwin, while John F. Callahan, of Roselle, named George. Reiss, of Roselle Borough. James E. Desmond, was placed in nomination by Joseph Anderson, of the First ward, of Elizabeth. Mr. Desmond is a young man, a plumber by occupation and a member of the Elizabeth Board of Education, and has the endorsement of the Union County Trades' Union. William Eckerson, of the Ninth ward, Elizabeth, nominated former Assemblyman Joseph T. Hague, and Harry E. Coulter, of Rahway, was placed in nomination by R. D. Gibbe, of the same place.

Messrs. Reiss and Baldwin received only a few scattering votes and before the roll was half called it was evident that they hadn't a chance for nominations, and both candidates gracefully withdrew the nominations of Desmond, Hague and Coulter being made unamious.

A platform embodying the following principles was adopted; declares emphatically against campaign contributions coming from the corporations; favors the elections of United States Senators by the direct vote of the people; favors the assessment of railroad properties at local rates; it denounces the Republican policies of government in vogue at Washington and at Trenton; favors a modification of the high prohibitive protective tariff; favors an amendment to the primary law for direct nominations by the people, and enters a vigorous protest against all forms of boss rule.

The platform was presented to the convention by J. J. Lane, of Summit. It originally included a clause endorsing William J. Curtis, a Summit lawyer, as the choice of the Union County Democrats for United States Senator. This called forth a vigorous objection from Walter L. Hetfield, Sr., chairman of the Plainfield delegation. Mr. Hetfield in stating his opinion declared it was not the business of the convention to go into that question for it was a matter for the Legislature to decide. The Plainfielder declared that he favored the platform with the exception of this plank.

This was a cause for a verbal cyclone which waged hot while it last, and made the proceedings look like a real convention. Station Agent Lane jumped to his feet and extolled Mr. Curtis in glowing terms.

After the eloquence of the Summit man had died away, William Atkinson, a young lawyer of Elizabeth, who sat with the delegates of the Twelfth ward of that city, arose and requested to be heard on the subject. The chairman consented. Atkinson got started in his speech and backed up the contentions of Lawyer Hetfield. In flowery language he paid a great tribute to Colonel Stevens

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

At the New Plainfield theatre this afternoon and tonight we are promised in "The Shadow Behind the Throne" the best written, constructed and produced play of the season,

Miss Ethel Blande, in "The Shadow Behind the Throne," at New Plainfield Theatre This Afternoon and Evening.

commanding repeated curtain calls at the close of each of its five acts, arousing enthusiasm to the pitch of furore, and hitting the public in both head and heart.

The concerts given by Arthur Pryor and his really great band of fifty instrumentalists are diametrically opposite to the dry, uninteresting "straight" concerts given by other organizations of that class. Mr. Pryor gives a diversified straight concert programme for the first part of his entertainment only. The second and last part is entirely devoted to the presentation of the massive, military, musical spectacle, "The Triumph of Old Glory," modelled somewhat on the plan of "The Peace Jubilee" as presented by the late Patrick Sarsfield Gilmore, but with the added embellishments of a splendid scenic and electrical equipment. Mr. Pryor and his band will be at the New Plainfield theatre next Monday night.

The revival of Dion Boucicault's beautiful Irish comedy drama, "Arrah Na Pogue," by Andrew Mack, is scheduled for production here at the New Plainfield theatre on next Tuesday night, and will doubtless stimulate lively interest. Throughout the entire English speaking world Mr. Mack has been received by the most enthusiastic and delighted assemblages of the theatre-goers of all ages and conditions of life, who have gone away recommending him and his plays to their friends. Mr. Mack as Shaun the Post has a part that gives him great scope as an actor and singer. Anyone who wishes to appreciate fully the difference between the true Irishman and the stage creation should see Mr. Mack's performance.

Ruth Finley, the cute little Europena of the Wiggs family, has been promised a trip to Europe next summer by Mrs. Wiggs herself, Madge Carr Cook, if she will write a book detailing the marvellous success of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" since its opening in Louisville. Ruth is at work on the volume, which promises to be interesting, as it reveals the fads and foibles of the elder players around her. PLAINS AND FANWOOD

The local ball team and its following Clinton Avenue figure and claim the local amateur championship by defeating the 'Plains team at Crescent Oval, Saturday afternoon of last week. The two teams have met four times this season. The first game rain put an end to the contest in the fourth inning with the score 2-0 in favor of the 'Plains. The next game the Plains won 5-1. The following game also went Scotch Plains' way, score 7-6; the fourth game Clinton Avenue took, score 4-3. With these figures the local followers fail to see what the Clinton Avenue team bases its assertion on, unless they have lost the club's score book.

Services tomorrow at the Baptist church will be held at the usual hours: Sunday-school, 9:30 a. m.; morning preaching by the pastor, 10:45; at the close of the sermon the regular monthly communion will be held; B. Y. P. U. meeting at 7:15, followed at 8 o'clock by the evening preaching service.

SKILLMAN IS ARRAIGNED; AN ALLEGED FORGER.

Aged Horticulturalist, Who Shows Effects of His Trouble, Pleads Not Guilty.

William H. Skillman, a former president of the New Jersey Horticultural Society, was arraigned before Judge Schenck in the Somerset Court at Somerville, yesterday, to plead to the indictment of forging the name of his neighbor, the late William Lanehart, to a will which bequeathed half of the Lanehart estate, valued at $18,000, to Skillman.

The aged horticulturist was accompanied to court by his counsel, former Congressman Alvah A. Clark. Skillman showed signs of great physical weakness, which has been brought about by his trouble. He pleaded not guilty, and was placed under $2,000 bonds to appear for trial on November 19. Judge Schenck, who has already pronounced the will purporting to be that of Lanehart a forgery in the Somerset Orphans' Court, announced that he had arranged for another judge to sit on the case in the criminal action.

Neglected Their Children.

Elizabeth Oct. 6.—John Farrell and his wife were arraigned in police court here yesterday, charged with neglecting to support their five children, four girls and one boy from ten to twelve years old. The complaint was made by Percy A. Shapley, of Newark, an agent of the Catholic Society for the Care of Destitute Children.

Farrell declared his wife was deranged and that was the cause of the whole trouble. He gave a bond in $500 to provide for the maintenance of the little ones, who were taken to the Catholic Home, in Newark. Their mother was committed to the county jail to await an examination to determine her sanity.

A WORD IN PASSING.

John S. Parsons, of Beverly, Mass., accomplished a novel feat in order to get ahead of the Salem city government, which had refused to allow him to move some buildings from Salem to Beverly. Not to be undone, he sawed up his house into pieces and carted it as lumber to its destination, where he had it set up as good as new.

When the water of the Canton river is low the Chinese catch the gobies which lie on the mud. They use a board four or five feet long and a foot broad, slightly turned up at the front end, where a piece of wood is provided for a hand rest. They rest on knee on the sledge and propel themselves along the mud with their other foot.

A woman applied to an Eastport (Me.) overseer of the poor for assistance recently, but as she had been a steady beneficiary the offisial said she would have to enter the poorhouse or further aid would not be forthcoming. "eM enter the poorhouse!" she indignantly exclaimed. "Never! I'll work first" And out she went in high dudgeon.

A net bonus of $1.75 per head is given by the Canadian government to every emigration egent in Breat Britain sending out emigrants to settle the land. To the continental agent a gross bonus of $5 is paid. As a matter of fact, each British agricultural emigrant averages a total of $13 to the Canadian government, and each continental emigrant costs $5.

The requirements of height at West Point for new cadets will be changed so as to keep out of the military service boys who are undersized. The minimum height is slightly increased so that a candidate for a cadetship must not be less than five feet four inches at sixteen years of age and not less than five feet five inches at the age of eighteen and upward.

Sir Lawrence Alma-Tadema, the distinguished painter, is a strong believer in the luckiness of numbers. His wife declares she was seventeen when he first met her, the number of the house he first took her to when married was the same, his present house bears the same number doubled, the first spade was put to work on August 17, and they took possession on November 17.

Recent experiments show that the crystals of olum form in a saturated solution with so much force that they are not repressed in their natural growth by a heavy weight. In like manner the crystals of pyrites forming in slate rock have been known to split layers of slate without in any way changing the form of the crystals which exert the separating force.

The hundredth aniversary of the birth of Johan Snellman, who devated his life to the advancement of the Finnish langauge, was the occasion of a great celebration in Finland in opposition to the efforts of the ruling classes to force the Swedish tongue on the people. To the number of 35,000 they honored the day by dropping names of Swedish origina and assuming purely Finnish patronymics.

A Melbourne (Australia) clerk has just achieved a great feat of penmanship. With a steel pen and without the use of a magnifying glass he has inscribed on a post card no fewer than 10,161 words. The writing consists of selections from the works of Shakespeare and Dickens, a chapter from Genesis and the song, "Home, Sweet Home." The work is so beautifully done that many people have been able to read the writing with the naked eye.

ANSWERS EVERY CALL.

Plainfield People Have Found That This is True.

A cold, a strain, a sudden wrench,
A little cause my hurt the kidneys.
Spells of backache often follow,
Or some irregularity of the urine.
A certain remedy for such attacks,
A medicine that answers every call,
Is Doan's Kidney Pills, a true specific.
Many Plainfield people rely on it.

Mrs. J. C. Manchester, of 120 Lafayette place, Plainfield, N. J., says: "I was a sufferer from kidney and bladder troubles for a long time, and doctored with physicians for same, each time without being cured. In July, 1905, I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and made up my mind to get a box at Randolph's drug store and give them a trial. I did so, and with good results, as the treatment regulated the kidneys and got the bladder into a proper condition. If this cure proves to be a permanent one, as I have every reason to believe it will, I will always recommend Doan's Kidney Pills."

SPORTS HERE AND THERE

DIAMOND DUST.

According to the decision of the National Baseball Commission, which has the matter in charge, the post-season series between the Chicago Nationals and Americans will begin in Chicago on Tuesday, October 9, on the grounds of the National League Club. The other five games will be played on the succeeding days.

Good judges of players maintain that Joe Doyle, pitcher for the New York Americans, will be one of the leading twirlers next season. He joined the Yankees a little too late to be of much service, especially as his arm was well worked out by a hard season in the South.

The Yankees will close their season in Boston, today, and the games of 1906 will soon be a matter of history. Unless some radical concessions are made on both sides it is hardly probable that the Giants and Yankees will come together in a post-season series.

The Clinton Avenues, who have been playing fine ball this season, will meet the Invincibles, of Raritan, on Crescent Oval, this afternoon. The game will be called at 3:15 so as to finish it before dark. Scott will probably pitch for the home team.

There will be a meeting on Monday night at the Y. M. C. A. of those interested in the formation of an amateur league for next season. Physical Director Listman is very enthusiastic over the proposed scheme and he is interesting many others.

Now that the pennant winners in both the National and American Leagues are determined most of the clubs are trying-out new players drafted from minor leagues. It affords the managers an excellent opportunity to get a line of new men while they are in condition from this season's play.

"Phil." Smith has not yet affixed his signature to the New York National League contract sent him by McGraw, preferring to wait until later to make up his mind. Once his name goes on a contract he is under the absolute control of the league in playing ball and it is up to Manager McGraw to say where he will play. It is often a case of being farmed out for a season or two before getting a chance to play with the Giants. "Phil." is considered wise in withholding his signature for something better may turn up, where he would have a chance to play with one of the big clubs.

The last chance to see the New York Americans in this vicinity will be offered tomorrow, when they will play the Invaders at Elizabeth. The Yankees will present their regular line-up, with Doyle and Thomas as the battery. Linderman and Farmer will be in the points for the Elizabeth team. South Broad street trolley cars run direct to the grounds.

Most Exalted Grand Chief Fanner J. Percival Hall, of the Stove Pipe Baseball League, has issued a call for a meeting to organize for the cold weather season. The call is as follows:

"Fellow Baseball Bugs, Knockers, Kickers, Umpire Baiters, etc.:

"You are hereby notified of a meeting of the S. P. B. B. League which will be held in Timbo's Amen corner Monday evening. Officers for the ensuing year will be elected, after which coffe will be dispensed. All fans in good standing are entitled to vote and take part in the proceedings.

"The following officers will be chosen: Most exalted grand chief fanner, worthy assistant chief fanner, exalted lecturer and scorer, loyal supporter of umps, grand chief dopist, grand royal prophet, grand master of argument and dispute, schedule committee, national commission of arbitration.

"Fraternally,
"J. PERCIVAL HALL,
"M. E. G. C. F."

In addition to the election of officers several discussions are billed to take place. A partial list of the subjects and exhorters are:

"How Springfield will win the Connecticut League pennant in 1907," by Warry McLaughlin; "How to run a ball team in Plainfield," by Charles Flynn; "The future of Rube Waddell," by Will Doud; "Baseball in Alaska by Moonlight," by Zeke Smithers; "The spit ball I used against Providence," by Jimmy Beisel; "Baseball, past and present," by Charles H. Denman; "The Yankee's pennant chances for 1907," by Archie Davie; "Peanut privileges," by Tommy Timbo; "The Chicago-World's championship series," by Jack Auten; "Baseball as played in Bull Frog City forty years ago," by Pete Feiring; "John McGraw, the dethroned champion manager," by Harry DeMeza.

A full account of the proceedings of the Stove Pipe Baseball League will appear in the sporting columns of The Daily Press from time to time during the season.

GOLF.

Sixty-nine entries have thus far been received by Secretary Morgan of the United States Golf Association, for the women's national golf championship next week at the Brae Burn Country Club near Boston. The list includes Miss Pauline Mackay, the titleholder, but does not include Miss Bishop, champion of 1905. Her friends say her entry had been sent and Mrs. Sanford has named her for the Eastern team to play the western women on Saturday. Including all points there are fifteen Western entries, with single entries from the South and Canada. New England makes a strong entry, but the representation from Philadelphia and New York clubs is lighter than in other years. It is noticed that Mrs. N. Pendleton Rogers, of this city, is not among those who will play. However, she has not been following the game very close this year, playing less than a dozen times. Recently, she won the women's championship of the Plainfield Country Club, defeating Miss Maud VanBoskerck, 5 up and 4 to play. There are no entries from any of the golf clubs near Plainfield.

There will be the weekly play for the Golf Committee cup and play for the October Handicap cup at the Plainfield Country Club today. As there are but four more Saturday's play for the weekly cup, there is unusual interest in the competition.

The members of the Park Golf Club will compete today for the President's and club trophies and a good field is expected out. Only a few more weeks remain for competition in this event. There will also be the first play for the Hydewood cup, presented by Mrs. Charles Hyde.

Miss Rogers, of England, who played a game of golf in competition with "Marty" O'Loughlin at the Plainfield Country Club on Thursday, when the young "pro" broke the course record, paid a flattering compliment to the Plainfield lad. She said that she had played with Vardon, Baird and many of the best "pros" abroad, but that she believed "Marty" to be the equal of them all. Considering the fact that it was the first time Miss Rogers had been on the course her score of 90 was remarkably low.

Among the golfers who have been able to continue the game and who are missed from the links, is Clarence Lyons, of this city, who is a member of the Westfield Golf Club. Earlier in the season when he was not so busy he devoted much time to the game and was considered one of the strongest players in the club.

The weekly dances have been given up for the season at the Plainfield Country Club, but there will be the usual dinner parties at the club tonight and every Saturday night while the clubhouse remains open. The dances were very popular and were well attended by the members and their friends. Perhaps, one of the most popular features of club life has been the numerous luncheons given by Plainfield society women.

PARSON STOLE 88 CENTS.

Minister of African M. E. Church Confesses of Theft.

Long Branch, Oct. 6.—The Rev. Frank F. Smith, an active minister in the A. M. E. church, who four years ago was pastor of the colored Methodist church at Sea Bright, and now says he has a charge at Morrisville, narrowly missed going to the county jail for larceny.

While making the rounds collecting money for churches Tuesday he stole eighty-eight cents from a table in the summer residence of Mrs. J. B. Dwyer, in Cottage place, when the maid, Mary Clenin, turned her back.

He was caught by Mounted Policeman Ledlard, and in court before Justice William Murphy, did not attempt to deny the charge. At Mrs. Dwyer's request for clemency he was fined only $10.

—Thomas H. Bentham, the Democratic nominee who will oppose Nicholas Longworth for re-election to Congress from the First Ohio district, was a miner in his youth, but is now a lawyer and special counsel for the city of Cincinnati.

—James J. Hill, the big railroad man, has carefully cultivated a knowledge of agriculture with the aid of his model farm near St. Paul. Thus he has been able to tell farmers what they can best grow for their own benefit, for by doing so they profit the Greath Northern road.

—Judge Frank L. Campbell, assistant general for the Department of the Interior, has been appointed to the important office of Judge Advocate General, of the Grand Army of the Republic. Something more strenuous than a fierce political campaign is keeping the aged senior Senator of New York awake at night. "A woman scorned" is the cause of all the fury.

Personal note from the Elizabeth Daily Lemon—Mr. C. N. Fowler, of Vermont, is in our midst. The affable gentleman promises to make this his home until November 6.

The Brisbane-American is keeping up its record for logical argument by laying stress on the distorted fact that a vote for Willie is a vote against Chinese labor. Evidently the "editor" in his own mind—Brisbane's—must be thinking that he is running for congress again.

Special Series of Sermons.

Commencing Sunday night, October 14, Rev. A. E. Finn, pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church, will preach a series of special sermons on succeeding Sunday nights, on the subject of "The Voice of God in the Way of Life—What God Says to Me as a Child." The business meeting will be called to order at 10:30 o'clock in the morning in Lincoln Post rooms, on Broad street, over the New Jersey Central station. There will be a camp fire at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon at the same place to which the citizens generally are invited, especially the women members of comrades' families. P. A. Mathews is commander of the association, and J. O. Peloubet the adjutant.

Seek to Reform Princeton.

Princeton, Oct. 6.—It was rumored here yesterday that the Woman's Christian Temperance Union would hold a convention here next week. It is designed to arouse the citizens against the sale of intoxicants in the town. It is said that the convention will oppose all smoking also. The students ridicule the whole idea, and say the only sphere of usefulness the whole movement will have, will be to afford a new subject for debate in the literary societies.

There will be rally day exercises at the Park Avenue Baptist church, tomorrow afternoon, under the direction of the Sunday-school. An attractive programme has been prepared.

By Tom Muir.

When Arthur Pryor's band comes to the New Plainfield theatre next Monday night it will mark the first appearance in the city of C. B. Sorenson, a former Plainfield boy, in a professional capacity. For the past three years he has been assistant manager of the big musical organization and also acts as Mr. Pryor's personal representative, a position entailing great executive ability and keen foresight. "Chris," as he is known to all his friends, has been "on the road" since he was seventeen years old (he is only twenty-five now) but in that time he has been very successful in his calling. He attracted Mr. Pryor's attention by his manipulation of a trombone in a New York theatre orchestra and was engaged by him for the Pryor band. For the past three seasons he has played only at intervals, devoting his attention to the business end. The present tour of the band was arranged by him and includes all the important cities as far west as St. Joseph, Mo., which is Pryor's home town, and where the season will end. Mr. Sorenson's home was on Webster place for many years but when not on the road now, he resides on Riverside Drive, New York. This season is the first he had the opportunity to bring Pryor to Plainfield and the visit will no doubt be welcomed by his hosts of friends.

The premiere of Ezra Kendall's new play, "Swell Elegant Jones," was given at Wilmington, Del., Thursday night. It is from the pen of Herbert Hall Winslow, who wrote "The Vinegar Buyer," and is said to be the best vehicle the quaint comedian ever had. It will be seen in this city next Saturday.

Announcement has been made that May Irwin and Nat Goodwin will join forces next year and tour the country at the head of a co-star organization. May and Nat once did a team act in vaudeville when they were somewhat younger than they are now and before they were so well off in the world's goods. Miss Irwin has been in Plainfield twice in the past two seasons but Goodwin has not been here since 1895, when he appeared at Music Hall in "The Nominee."

Edmund Pack Injured.

Edmund Pack, who is employed at the grocery of R. W. Barnes on Park avenue, received a deep and painful cut on the little finger of his left hand, yesterday afternoon, which will compel him to lay off for a few days. He was operating a rotary beef shaving machine and the piece of beef being small, the knife on the machine caught the little finger, cutting it to the bone about an inch and a half long. Mr. Pack went to the office of Dr. O. L. Jenkins and had the injured finger dressed.

Avoid alum and alum phosphate baking powders. The label law requires that all the ingredients be named on the labels. Look out for the alum compounds.

NOTE.—Safety lies in buying only Royal Baking Powder, which is a pure, cream of tartar baking powder, and the best that can be made.

FOR THE GENTLER SEX

MAN ON WOMAN'S HAT.

"Lids" Looked Like Pancake, Peak, and Mountain Range.

There is no denying that woman at times neglects details of her toilet, either those she cannot see or those she has not yet thought of. She has been considered bird's eye view, as well as worm's eye view fashion. The latest critic writing anonymously in the New York Tribune, believes in beginning at the top.

But he is quite able to speak for himself. This is what he says:

"If I was a woman I'd pay more attention to the way my hat looks from the top," said a man about town yesterday. "Not that I have any particular regard for the birds, angels or telephone linemen, but a top view of some of the feminine headdress is enough to drive a man to Bellevue before his time.

"I ride in the subway about eight times a day, and seven out of those eight times I stand. It is impossible to read standing and hanging to a strap, and about teh only thing left for me to do is to scan the tops of the heads before me.

"When you look at a woman from the front or side you are likely to get a very good impression of her hat. The lace, ribbons, flowers, fruit and what not are arranged for an effective front view, profile, or, often, rear view; sometimes all in one. But not many women consider the top. And this is strange, too, when you figure out that about 35 per cent. of the patrons of the Interborough have to stand up, and about one in every fifteen of that 35 per cent. is a man, all opinions of some women to the contrary notwithstanding.

"The other day I was standing before three women with big hats. The first one looked like an overdone pancake. It was brown and soiled, it wat flat and homely. Washerwoman! was my thought. The next one to her was peaked to the most ugly extreme. Housemaid! she went in my catalogue. The third looked like a relief map of the Rock Mountains. There were great long stitches of thread of a different color from the straw, and a most disagreeable red bow reposed in the midst of the mountain ranges, to hide a hole, I thought. And I thanked her for that much consideration anyway, but she went down in my list as a cook.

"I was about to turn to the other side of the car to see if I could not find a nice, well-aged bald plate as a relief from so much ugliness, when the three 'servants' got up.

"'Why, Mr. Brown-Jones ,so glad to see you! When did you get back from Soakum Vale?' the leader hurled at me.

"I couldn't escape them. They had me foul, and swept me out of the car ahead of them. They had spent the summer at the same resort I had, and I came to know them very well, one of them quite well, indeed, in fact.

"And there I was, tied to all that lidden ugliness all the afternoon. I took it to dinner, I bought it ice cream soda, and no one probably knew just why I did not look as though I enjoyed myself, for they were certainly in the class of pretty girls. When I took them home in the elevated a man I knew slightly stood, by chance, in front of us. He looked down, he looked up, and then finally went into another car. I am sure he thought I was entertaining some one's house servants and he didn't want to make it uncomfortable for me.

"Now, why, in the name of suffering manhood, don't women pay attention to the top view of their skypieces?"

FOR THE TOILET.

Little white spots on the fingernails are usually caused by contact with steel manicure instruments, the slight bruises causing the fluids of the nails to form in tiny masses. When lifting the cuticle away from the nail never use a steel instrument, but instead depend upon an orangewood stick or a bit of ivory. It is said that a compress of spirits of camphor will remove the spots, but this is doubtful. Time is the only cure for this trouble—as for many others.

Light tan that comes and goes—like rent day and other sorrows—can often be removed by home-made preparations, but when the brown coating is good and substantial it sometimes happens that nothing less active than a proprietary bleach will do the work. Ary either one of these formulas: One pint of rose water, one-half ounce of pulverized borax, one ounce of strained lemon juice. Use freely after being exposed to the sun, and apply creme marquise and antiseptic powder before such exposure. Second formula: Ten grains of borax, two ounces of lime water, two ounces of oil of sweet almonds. If there is a slight peeling of the skin while using this lotion, sooth the surface by anointing it with "The Press" cream or orange flower skin food. Formulas for these delightful preparations appear here frequently. They will be mailed to anyone sending a request and a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

It is a bad plan to rub the face harshly with a coarse towel. Dry it with gentle pats. A course of electric massage treatments would do you a world of good, specialists in these lines are not all fakirs, as some of the scoffers imagine. There are women who have made a careful study of the care of the complexion, and few cases are so bad that they cannot bring a decided change for the better.

Astor Theatre Inaugurated.

The inauguration of the Astor theatre, and the presentation there of a new Shaksperian star, is the dramatic event of the season of New York. The star is Annie Russell, for the first time as Puck, in a production of Shakspere's "A Midsummer Night's Dream," with a company of 172 players. Miss Russell is greeted with the greatest enthusiasm. Her characterization of the part is the embodiment of grace, delicacy and daintiness. The play, abounding in light and sunshine, the revels of fairies, the wooing of lovers, the play within a play of Bottom and his fellows, charmed with its delicacy and the perfection of detail. The company surrounding Miss Russell at the Astor, is an unusually strong one, including Edwin Mordaunt, Atkins Lawrence, Oswald Yorke, Lionel Adams, Edward Longman, Thomas Coffin Cooke, William Gilmore, John Bunny, Richard Lee, Wilmer Lame, Hubert Osborne, Edith Chapman, Catherine Proctor, Lansing Rowan, James Young, Ina Brooks, Bessie Shrednecky, Leon Strauss, Vinnie Burns, William Brown, Bertram Strauss, Belle Fairchild, Jennie Urwin, Elizabeth Doddridge, Dortea DeVeney.

A Society Circus.

New features are bing added weekly to "A Society Circus," the famous New York Hippodrome's most famous production, which continues to amuse and delight thousands at 20th daily performances. That success makes for success was never better illustrated than in the case of "A Society Circus," which has established unparalelled records, because of its intrinsic worth, its wonderful stage pictures, and the one hundred and one incomparable features which go to make up the greatest theatrical programme ever offered to the amusement seeking public. "A Society Circus" is not a circus; it is not an opera; it is not a musical comedy; it is not a drama or a spectacle, but the best of each has been incorporated into it so deftly and happily that the spectator keenly appreciates and relishes all the emotions aroused by these various forms. The great circus programme includes the world's leading champions in acrobatic work; daring equestrianism; thrilling feats leading up to the sensational climax, motoring in mid-air, the thrilling act of the Tom Davies Trio. Matinees are given daily.

Modest Fellow.

"Your friend Pompus has been writing a lot of letters to the papers denouncing all these public houses. He signs them all 'Vox Populi.'"

"You don't say? It's a wonder he doesn't sign his own name. He's that sort of man."

"Yes, but he says he's afraid if he did the public would come to his house and serenade him, and he dislikes that sort of thing."—Philadelphia Press.

He Knew.

A young gentleman with an unmusical voice insisted upon singing at a social gathering.

"What does he call that?" inquired a disgusted guest.

"'The Tempest,' I think," answered another.

"Don't be larmed," said an old sea captain present. "That's no tempest, it is only a squall, and will soon be over."—London, Tit Bits.

A New Kink of Funeral.

Our janitor appeared the other morning with the request that he be allowed to do his work early in the day, as he wanted the afternoon off.

"What's the matter, Fritz?" inquired my mother.

"Vell, you see, I vish to go ofer to Jersey City vid mine vife to see a friendt git hisself buried."—October Lippincott's.

HAIR NATURALLY ABUNDANT.
When It Is Free of Dandruff, It Grows Luxuriantly.

Hair preparations and dandruff cures, as a rule, are sticky or irritating affairs that do no earthly good. Hair, when not diseased, grows naturally, luxuriantly. Dandruff is the cause of nine-tenths of all hair trouble, and dandruff is caused by a germ. The only way to cure dandruff is to kill the germ; and, so far, the only hair preparation that will positively destroy the germ is Newbro's Herpicide—absolutely harmless, free from grease, sediment, dye matter or dangerous drugs. It allays itching instantly; makes hair glossy and soft as silk. "Destroy the cause, then remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

PERSONAL NOTES.

William J. Hopkins, formerly professor of physics at the Drexel Institute, is doing considerable literary work at his home in South Dartmouth.

Robert F. Thompson, who has been connected with the Indian service of the Government for the past thirty years, has resigned owing to ill health.

Meyer Hiller, a Boston newsboy, has been named by President Eliot to be the first holder of the scholarship in Harvard University founded by the Boston Newsboys' Union.

Mrs. Arthur T. Ballentine, the only daughter of the late Hon. Thomas B. Reed, has gone into politics in the extreme West, and as editor of "The Yellow Ribbon" purposes to lend her aid to the cause of women's suffrage.

Lieutenant Soley, U. S. N., in charge of the hydrographic office at New Orleans, has been making investigations and has reported to the Government that the Gulf Stream has an existence oin the Gulf of Mexico, a fact which has hitherto been in dispute.

Senator Allison, who for some time before the adjournment of Congress was in poor health and went to his home to secure a complete rest, has so completely recovered that he expects to take his old place in the Senate in December and to attend to his duties as usual.

Rev. Charles Scadding, for ten years rector of Emmanuel church, La Grange, Ill., on Sunday was consecrated Episcopal bishop of the diocese of Oregon in the presence of thirteen bishops and more than 200 clergymen representing almost every important diocese in the United States.

Harry B. Wolf, who is running for Congress in the Third Maryland District, began his career as a newsboy and became in succession fire lighter, office boy, law clerk, student, lawyer and politician. He is still little mare than 26 years of age and in his canvass is known as "The Newsboy Candidate" and "The Man With the Grip."

BREVITIES.

The richest orchestra in the world will be the Warsaw Philharmonic, which has just received a legacy of $1,000,000 from a music-loving Pole.

A leading Swiss scientist declared that the Roentgen rays can be so applied that white horses become black. eH is now experimenting on old gentlemen's beards.

Over 100 girls of the first families of Korea have been taken to the Korean Imperial Palace, and from among them will be selected a consort for the Crown Prince of Korea.

The cable connecting Cadiz with Teneriffe has become useless, and Spain is hesitating as to whether it will be more advisable to lay a new one or to rely on the wireless system.

By orders of the British Admiralty, the cadets at the naval college at Dartmouth indulge in dancing for twenty minutes five evenings in the week, and for forty minutes on Saturday.

The task of carrying the mails from Liverpool to Hongkong within thirty days has been carried out so far on scheduled time by the Canadian Railway Company, whose ships and trains are performing the service.

In a thousand miles of Europe an observer saw only one rubbish heap—some old metal cans at Carlsruhe. Everywhere else a complete absence of all waste or carelessness, and, above all, of defacement and roadside uncleanliness.

MAN AND HIS TAILOR.

The evening suit for autumn brings few changes from that of a year ago. The approved fabric is still black unfinished worsted or English twill, and the surface of the cloth should be rough, rather than smooth. Square, notched lapels are newer than peaked. The evening coat must fit snugly over the back, and should be rather tightly shaped to the wais to dend that trim, well knit appearance so desirable. Trousers are cut loose, to give ease in dancing and lounging. Many men choose too heavy a fabric for the evening suit, with the result that it does not "drape" well, nor adjust itself readily to the curves of the figure.

A bow tie always helps to make a thin face look plumper, and we advise you to wear a wide tie in preference to a narrow four-in-hand. "Toothpick" shoes were never in fashion among the discerning, however often you may have seen them displayed in shop windows.

Don't adopt a fashion merely because it is pronounced "the thing." What may become one man may be wholly unbecoming to another. Study your face, figure, coloring, and cast of figures, and strive to adapt rather than to adopt. Vivid colors are not usually suited to the man below normal height, and the tall, thin man in vociferous "checks" is a blot on the landscape.

Even Frost Can't Turn Him.

"The autumn tints in red and gold," He said, "are coming soon, I ween," "'Tis true," said she, "and pity 'tis That you still stay a perfect green."

THE DELUGE

(COPYRIGHT 1905 by the BOBBS-MERRILL COMPANY)

I looked at Miss Ellersly. She was white to the lips now, and the spangles on her white dress seemed bits of ice glittering there. She said nothing; but I knew she felt my look, and that it froze the ice the more closely around her heart. "Thank you," I stammered.

I stumbled in the hall; I almost fell down the broad steps. I stopped at the first bar and took three drinks in quick succession. I went on down the avenue, breathing like an exhausted swimmer. "I'll give her up!" I cried aloud, so upset was I.

I am a man of impulse; but I have trained myself not to be a creature of impulse, at least not in matters of importance. Without that patient and painful schooling, I shouldn't have got where I now am; probably I'd still be blacking boots, or sheet-writing for some bookmaker, or clerking it for some broker. Before I got my rooms, the night air and my habit of the "sober second thought" had cooled me back to rationality.

"I want her, I need her," I was saying to myself. "I am worthier of her than are those mincing manikins she has been bred to regard as men. She is for me—she belongs to me. I'll abandon her to no shrinking puppet who'd wear her as a donkey would a diamond. Why should I do myself and her an injury simply because she has been too badly brought up to know her own interest?"

When this was clear to me I sent for my trainer. He was one of those spare, wiry Englishmen, with skin like tanned and painted hide—brown except where the bones seem about to push their sharp angles through, and there a frosty, winter apple red. He dressed like a Deadwood gambler, he talked like a stable boy; but for all that, you couldn't fail to see he was a gentleman born and bred. Yes, he was a gentleman, though he mixed profanity into his ordinary flow of conversation more liberally than did I when in a rage.

I stood up before him, threw my coat back, thrust my thumbs into my trousers pockets and slowly turned about like a ready-made tailor's dummy. "Monson," said I, "what do you think of me?"

He looked me over as if I were a horse he was about to buy. "Sound, I'd say," was his verdict. "Good wind—uncommon good wind. A goer, and a stayer. Not a lump. Not a hair out of place." He laughed. "Action a bit high perhaps—for the track. But a grand reach."

"I know all that," said I. "You miss my point. Suppose you wanted to enter me for—say, the Society Sweepstakes—what then?"

"Um—um," he muttered reflectively. "That's different."

"Don't I look—sort of—now—as if the varnish was still sticky and might come off on the ladies' dresses and on the fine furniture?"

"Oh—that!" said he dubiously. "But all those kinds of things are matters of taste."

"Out with it!" I commanded. "Don't be afraid. I'm not one of those damn fools that ask for criticism when they want only flattery, as you ought to know by this time. I'm aware of my good points, know how good they are better than anybody else in the world. And I suspect my weak points—always did. I've got on chiefly because I made people tell me to my face what they'd rather have grinned over behind my back."

"What's your game?" asked Monson. "I'm in the dark."

"I'll tell you, Monson. I hired you to train horses. Now I want to hire you to train me, too. As it's double work, it's double pay."

"Say on," said he, "and say it slow."

"I want to marry," I explained. "I want to inspect all the offerings before I decide. You are to train me so that I can go among the herds that'd shy off from me if I wasn't on to their little ways."

He looked suspiciously at me, doubtless thinking this some new development of "American humor."

"I mean it," I assured him. "I'm going to train, and train hard. I've got no time to lose. I must be on my way down the aisle inside of three months. I give you a free hand. I'll do just what you say."

"The job's out of my line," he protested.

"I know better," said I. "I've always seen the parlor under the stable in you. We'll begin right away. What do you think of these clothes?"

"Well—they're not exactly noisy," he said. "But—they're far from silent. That waistcoat——" He stopped and gave me another nervous, timid look. He found it hard to believe a man of my sort, so self-assured, would stand the truth from a man of his second-fiddle sort.

"Go on!" I commanded. "Speak out! Mowbray Langdon had on one twice as loud the other day at the track."

"But perhaps you'll remember, it was only his waistcoat that was loud—not he himself. Now, a man of your manner and voice and—you've got a look out of the eyes that'd wake the dead all by itself. People can feel you coming before they hear you. When they feel and hear and see all together—it's like a brass band in scarlet uniform, with a six-foot, sky-blue drum major. If your hair wasn't so black and your eyes so steel-blue and sharp and your chin so big and strong and white, and your jaw such a—such a—jaw——"

"I see the point," said I. And I did. "You'll find you won't need to tell me many things twice. I've got a busy day before me here; so we'll have to suspend this until you come to dine with me at eight—at my rooms. I want you to put in the time well. Go to my house in the country and then up to my apartment; take my valet with you; look through all my belongings—shirts, ties, socks, trousers, waistcoats, clothes of every kind. Throw out every rag you think doesn't fit in with what I want to be. How's my grammar?"

I was proud of it, I had been taking more or less pains with my mode of speech for a dozen years. "Rather too good," said he. "But that's better than making the breaks that aren't regarded as good form."

"Good form!" I exclaimed. "That's it! That's what I want! What does 'good form' mean?"

He laughed. "You can search me," said he. "I could easier tell you—anything else. It's what everybody recognizes on sight, and nobody knows how to describe. It's like the difference between a cultivated 'Jimson weed and a wild one."

"Like the difference between Mowbray Langdon and me," I suggested good-naturedly. "How about my manners?"

"Not so bad," said he. "Not so rotten bad. But—when you're polite, you're a little too polite; when you're not polite, you——"

"Show where I came from too plainly?" said I. "Speak right out—hit good and hard. Am I too frank for 'good form'?"

"You needn't bother about that," he assured me. "Say whatever comes into your head—only, be sure the right sort of thing comes into your head. Don't talk too much about yourself, for instance. It's good form to think about yourself all the time; it's bad form to let people see it—in your talk. Say as little as possible about your business and about what you've got. Don't be lavish with the I's and the my's."

"That's harder," said I. "I'm a man who has always minded my own business, and cared for nothing else. What could I talk about, except myself?"

"Blest if I know," replied he. "Where you want to go, the last thing people mind is their own business—in talk, at least. But you'll get on all right if you don't worry too much about it. You've got natural independence, and an original way of putting things, and common sense. Don't be afraid."

"Afraid!" said I. "I never knew what it was to be afraid."

"Your nerve'll carry you through," he assured me. "Nerve'll take a man anywhere."

"You never said a truer thing in your life," said I. "It'll take him wherever he wants, and, after he's there, it'll get him whatever he wants."

And with that, I, thinking of my plans and of how sure I was of success, began to march up and down the office with my chest thrown out—until I caught myself at it. That stopped me, set me off in a laugh at my own expense, he joining in with a kind of heartiness I did not like, though I did not venture to check him.

So ended the first lesson—the first of a long series.

Useful Knowledge.

They had been talking about the Marquis Townshend.

"I didn't know a marquis ranked so high," said a girl in white.

"Dear me," said an Englishman, "didn't you? Why, a marquis ranks next to a duke."

He paused to sip his tea and take a foie gras sandwich.

"Marquess, not marquis," he went on, "is the more accurate use of the word. Is so spelled and pronounced in Burke. Shall I tell you the degrees of the English aristocracy? The knowledge may be useful to you when you come to contract an international alliance, eh?

"After royalty comes dukes. The premier duke is Norfolk, the fifteenth of his line. After dukes come marquises. After marquises come earls. After earls come viscounts. After viscounts come barons. After barons come baronets. After baronets come knights.

"This, then, is the order: Duke, marquis, earl, viscount, baron, baronet, knight. I don't mention lords. A lord is an earl—the Earl of Craven, for instance, is often called Lord Craven—or else the title is only the courtesy one accorded to the younger sons of dukes—as Lord Randolph Churchill, second son of the Duke of Marlborough."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Italian Train Brigands.

One of the most remarkable features of the widely organized system of train robberies in Italy has been the impunity with which they have long been committed. The police, however, have at last succeeded in striking a blow which, if properly followed up, may for a time cripple the brigands.

On no line of railway has the pillaging of passengers' baggage been more persistentn than on the Rome-Naples line in the touring season. At last, however, the head centre and organizer of the band has been arrested.

He is a Sicilian known among his confederates as "La China." He is a Sicilian, keen and daring, and his band have even had the audacity and the address to rob the Prefect of Reggio di Calabria himself during his railway traveling.

"La China" is a man with many aliases, and has had many convictions recorded against him.—London Globe.

Si Haymow—No; it was not my carelessness. I saw the train coming and got off the track. You might say I missed it by two feet.

Intelligent C. M.—Haw, haw.—Toledo Blade.

The Way He Looked.

"See here," complained Mr. Crabbe, "your shopping is too extravagant. You should never take anything just because it looks cheap."

"Indeed!" exclaimed his wife. "If I had followed that advice when you proposed to me I wouldn't be Mrs. Crabbe now."—Philadelphia Press.

THE OTHER DAY

a Newark tradesman died and left a widow and six children, the eldest a girl of eighteen, to face the battle of life. Being of middle age he had not contemplated the likelihood of being soon cut off, nor was it without reluctance that he was persuaded to take a $500 Prudential Policy. When he died this property formed his whole estate—the only barrier between his family and want. It would surprise the public if they knew in what a large number of cases the Prudential Policy is the family's sole asset.

Congress Convention Date.

George A. Viehmann, of New Brunswick, chairman of the Democratic convention of 1904, has called the next convention to nominate the Democratic candidate for Representative of the Third Congressional District for October 11, at noon, at Long Branch.

and told the convention that it was the duty of all Democrats to stand by a man who had stood for Democracy through thick and thin. Atkinson carried his hearers to all parts of the continent in his eulogy of the Hudson county man. "Go where you will," he declared, "from Greenland's icy mountains in the north, to Georgia's sunny climes in the south, to California's golden gate in the west, to Maine's rock bound coast in the east, you will not find a more loyal Democrat than Col. Stevens, and it is men of his calibre that we need in the Senate."

After this expounding Atkinson gave a gasp, and started out anew. Judge Mahon rapped for order several times, but Atkinson stood his ground and finished his speech. The crowd was with him and his sentiments, and yelled its approval. After he had been quited, the endorsement clause was stricken from the platform, Hetfield had won his point. Station Agent Lane naturally went home feeling very sore. This incident proved one of the most exciting periods, several of the old time war horses of the party looking around in wonderment over such a big commotion at a Union county Democratic convention.

A resolution, introduced by Colonel Collins, of Elizabeth, endorsing the candidacy of James E. Martine for Congress went through like wildfire and was adopted with a grand hurrah.

At this juncture of the proceedings Delegate Gibbe, of Rahway, arose and suggested that the "farmer orator" be escorted to the platform. Col. Collins and J. J. Collins, of Elizabeth, and P. J. Reveille, of this city, was appointed a committee to perform the act.

When Plainfield's favorite son mounted the platform he was greeted by a storm of applause which did not subside for four minutes. Delegates jumped to their feet and frantically waved their hands and hats in the air, and the walls and foundations of old Turn Hall literally shook. It was a great ovation for the Democratic war horse. The farmer orator's voice was in fine fettle and he expounded his Jeffersonian doctrines just as vigorously as of yore.

"It is not strange for me to be here in old Turn Hall," he started off, "and it is not strange that I am running again for office. I really think a Democratic ticket in Union county would be a very funny affair without Martine on it. Defeat has no terrors for me, but because I have lost, it did not mean that I did not want to conquer. I always wanted to win, and I have always used fair and legitimate means to win, and I can truthfully say that I have never done a mean or dishonest thing to make a vote." (Applause and cries "Your right, Jim.")

"Fowler has been your representative twelve years. In that time how has he represented your interests? It is a notorious fact that his seat has been vacant eight-tenths of that time. I hold that when a man is elected to office he takes an implied obligation that he should represent his constituents. If he shirks in this duty he is guilty of a grave wrong. Two years ago I charged Fowler with being present but five times during his last term, and he never denied it. I put him on trial again today for dereliction of duty, and his constituency of the Fifth Congressional district is the jury that is trying him.

"Your district in Congress has not been misrepresented, but non-represented. If elected I'll be there and it won't be necessary for any of you to take off your hat and wipe your shoes before you can see me. I want to teach Fowler a lesson in geography. He is supposed to represent in Congress, Warren, Union and Morris counties, but instead of doing that he spends his time among the marble quarries of Vermont. I declare that he has no right or claims to represent you in Congress under these conditions.

"I charge Fowler with not being in sympathy with organized labor. It is the only hope of the workingmen to organize trade associations. Organized labor has a right to appeal to Congress and the halls of legislation to ask reasonable hours for toil. I believe the God of humanity meant twenty-four hours to be divided in three parts; eight hours for work; eight hours for recreation and eight hours for rest. If it is my privilege my vote will always be cast on that side.

"It is unjust and unholy for railroads and corporations to have their rates fixed specially for their benefit. Roosevelt found it necessary to press upon his party the necessity for a rate bill, and was assisted by those great Democrats, Ben Tillman and Billy Sulzer. Where was Fowler in that controversy?"

Mr. Martine also reviewed the equal taxation matters and other questions and expressed his opinion that the Democrats will have a joint majority in the next Legislature.

Following Mr. Martine the Assembly candidates were introduced and made brief addresses.

The convention was called to order by Judge Mahon who was after elected permanent chairman. Fred Zior was chosen secretary.

These committees were named and served: Committee on Credentials—P. L. Hughes, Elizabeth; Charles Clark, Westfield; Frank Trassler, Rahway.

Committee on Organization—John J. Collins, Elizabeth; Alfred Hancock, Linden; Stephen Schlief, Plainfield.

Committee on Rules—George B. Cladets, Rahway; James H. Laughlin, Elizabeth; P. J. Reveille, Plainfield.

Committee on Resolutions—J. J. Lane, Summit; Philip Donohue, Elizabeth; John M. C. Marsh, Westfield.

Committee on Vacancies—Col. D. F. Collins, Elizabeth; Jacob Bucklasher, Elizabeth; Walter L. Hetfield, Sr., Plainfield.

The Big Stick Wins in Virginia.

Our police officers had quite an exciting experience on Thursday night in attempting to arrest Tom Neale, colored, for whom they had a warrant for selling whiskey. Tom, after a lively scramble in the dark, escaped, but not until after John White gave him a lively beating over the head with a bed slat.—Hamilton (Va.) Enterprise.

RALLY DAY EXERCISES

Special Services Were Held by Three Baptist Congregations Yesterday.

1st M. E. CHURCH, TOO

Promotions at Park Avenue Baptist —Dr. Chambliss Speaks at First Baptist.

The members of the Park Avenue Baptist church and Sunday-school enjoyed all-day rally services yesterday, which were largely attended by members and friends. In the morning the pastor, Rev. A. E. Finn, preached a rally day sermon. There was an anthem by the choir, assisted by an orchestra consisting of G. W. V. Moy, Arthur S. Mosher, Dr. J. Hervey Buchanan, Miss Arline Brown and Miss Marjorie Brown.

In the afternoon at 2:45 o'clock the Sunday-school rally was held. Superintendent George E. Hall presided, and this programme was given: Selection, orchestra; responsive reading, prayer, Rev. A. E. Finn; selection, "Forward," intermediate school; cornet duette, "The Lord is My Shepherd," Whitney C. Frazee and Benjamin Allen; offertory, roll call; selection, "Soldiers," intermediate school; solo "My Prayer," with cornet obligato, Benjamin Allen; remarks, "The Lions in Our Pathway," Rev. A. E. Finn; cornet solo, "Not Half Has Ever Been Told," Benjamin Allen; selection, "I Surrender," intermediates; address, Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, of the First Baptist church; hymn, "Blest Be the Tie that Binds;" benediction, Rev. Dr. Chambliss; postlude, orchestra. Miss Mary Clark was the pianist, and an orchestra consisting of G. W. V. Moy, Arthur S. Mosher, Dr. J. Hervey Buchanan, Martin Stutsman, Miss Arline Brown, Miss Marjorie Brown, Whitney C. Frazee and Benjamin Allen, of Cranford; Charles L. Lewis led the singing.

Superintendent Hall presented every one with a pretty souvenir in the shape of a celluloid pin containing the words, "Park Avenue Baptist Sunday-school, Plainfield, N. J.," with an American flag in the center. The roll-call of the entire membership of the school was a pleasing feature. This was arranged by Mr. Hall and consisted of a large frame work hung upon the wall. Within the frame had been written the names of the entire school and as their names were called by the superintendent, a small red seal was affixed to the names of each absentee. This exercise held the close attention of the school, for not until the last name had been called, was it noticed that the blocks when put in places, contained very large figures "1906."

In the address by Dr. Chambliss he spoke of how all should rally around the Sunday-school, the Bible and the Cross. His remarks were helpful and held the attention of every one. This committee arranged the programme: George E. Hall, Miss Florence G. Hawkins, Miss Cora R. Brokaw, Mrs. W. S. Lowry, Miss Mary Clark and Miss Elmira C. Runyon.

Promotions were a feature of the rally day in the primary department. The following were promoted from the beginners' to the primary class: Francis Hale, J. Wesley Johnson, Jr., Arthur Dayton, John Thompson, Percy Stelle, Virginia Gary, Irene Moy, Milton Shoemaker. These children were promoted from the primary to the junior department: Madeline Moy, Edison Middlekauff, Chester Chamberlain, Isabelle Harvey, Ida Odam, Jessie Odam, Frank Gary, Ethel Naylor, Leonard Lewis, Katherine Lee, Mary Hale, Willie Watts, Edith Lowry, Marion Thompson, Hilda VanWinkle, Randolph Stelle, Edgar Dean, Philip Schuyler and Lyle Smith. During the exercises Rev. A. E. Finn addressed the children.

The primary department exercises were in charge of Miss Elmira C. Runyon, superintendent.

First Baptist.

Rally day exercises were held at the First Baptist church yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the Sunday-school, of which George H. Batchelor is the superintendent. The programme opened with a violin solo by Miss Florence Wohlfert, followed with devotional exercises by Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss. There was songs by the beginners' class and the primary department, another violin solo by Miss Wolhfert and a vocal solo, "Just for Today," by William Holmes.

Then followed the roll-call and short talks by Superintendent Batchelor and Dr. Chambliss. The latter urged every officer, teacher and pupil to rally to the Sunday-school and he laid emphasis on the importance of parents attending Sunday-school. In his remarks Superintendent Batchelor referred to the fact that Miss Linda Butler, who has been connected with the school for thirty-five

CHIEF KIELY GETS A STATEMENT FROM JONES

REMEMBERS NOTHING CONNECTED WITH THE SHOOTING.

John L. Jones, the man who was shot by William Smith Terry last week, was examined at Muhlenburg hospital by Chief of Police Kiely, yesterday afternoon. He spoke freely, and the statement he made, together with things favorable to him that developed from the investigation carried on by the police, removed any lingering doubt in Chief Kiely's mind that the rigger was engaged in anything but the senseless escapade of a drunken man when he climbed into Terry's bedroom.

Jones told the chief he remembers nothing of his actions on the night of the shooting after travelling about West End saloons for a couple of hours. He drank heavily, he says, and his recollections end with a visit to Clark's saloon at Liberty and Third streets. New street, where the Terry house is located, is only a block above Liberty.

Jones says he was born in Rockland, N. Y., where his mother and two sisters live. A brother, J. Griffith Jones, is manager of a livery stable in Yonkers. This part of his statement was fully confirmed this morning by a visit to the Chief from the livery stable manager himself. He had cards and other credentials ample to prove he was what he represented himself to be. He came here in response to a message the police sent to Yonkers.

As soon as he is strong enough, Jones will be arraigned before Justice Mosher to plead to a charge of breaking and entering. The case will be laid before the grand jury, but it is expected that the body will take no action on it. It is the opinion of the police that Jones has been punished more than enough for the disorder involved in his drunk, and the grand jury will undoubtedly regard the case in the same light. Jones is rapidly recovering from the effects of the bullet wound.

SMALL BOYS LOSE THEIR PUTTY BLOWERS.

Jackson Avenue Parents Become Active After Little Louis Jeffrey Cuts His Mouth.

Because 6-year-old Louis Jeffrey was foolish enough to have an accident where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Jeffrey, of Jackson avenue, couldn't see it, all the small boys in the neighborhood lost their tin putty blowers Saturday afternoon. Louis fell with the tin-tube in his mouth, and when the parents of Jackson avenue heard of the painful result they made a raid on the stores of their offsprings and confiscated all the putty blowers in sight. Wherefore, the small boys of Jackson avenue are nearly as sore on Louis as his mouth, which is full of pain.

Louis' accident occurred in the house. He was playing with the blower between his teeth, when he fell and struck the end of the tube on the floor. The other end was driven into the flesh along the side of his mouth, gauging out a half an inch of it. The tube barely missed the palate.

Dr. A. H. Dunhan was called in and dressed the wound. The injury is not serious.

G. O. P. Committee to Meet.

The October meeting of the Union County Republican Committee will be held at the committee rooms, Dix building, Elizabeth, tomorrow night, at 8 o'clock. The members are urged to have the names of challengers ready to hand in at this meeting and they are urged to send the names of members of this committee from the respective districts to County Chairman Frank H. Smith.

Frankness Won Freedom.

Engaging frankness won suspended sentences for William Calloway and Wilson F. Bellis, when they were arraigned for fighting in the city court this morning. They acknowledged fighting and didn't even attempt to explain away the jags that led to it, and Judge Runyon commended them for it in freeing them. Calloway was represented by William G. DeMeza.

Usher at Newark Wedding.

Lucius Koons, of Sanford avenue, was one of the ushers at the wedding Friday afternoon of his cousin, Miss Eleanor Savery Benjamin, daughter of Alfred Benjamin, to Daniel B. Crane, both of Newark. The marriage was solemnized at the Benjamin home, 144 Wakeman avenue, in the presence of seventy-five guests.

Y. M. C. A. Basketball Team.

Re-organization of the Y. M. C. A. basketball team has not been completed yet. An unexpected hitch has set back the re-formation. Several changes in the line-up will be made, but Physical Director Listman expects to put a team in the league that will bring honor enough to the association standard.

STOVER INCREASES LEAD FOR COMMITTEE CUP

SATURDAY'S RESULTS AT COUNTRY CLUB AND PARK GOLF CLUB.

Charles A. Stover returned to the Plainfield Country Club course Saturday afternoon and by winning first honors and three points for the Golf Committee cup, increased his lead for this trophy. He now has a total of 13¾ points, while C. B. Morgan, who finished second, broke his tie with Arthur Murphy, who failed to get any points, and he is a close second with 12½ points, with Murphy in third position with 10½.

As usual at this time of the year the course was crowded with players, but a majority of those who competed for the Golf Committee cup did not post their scores, either because they were too high or did not have a chance to be up among the leaders.

The leading scores returned were as follows: Charles A. Stover, 93, 10—73; C. B. Morgan, 80, 2—78; Hugh F. Fox, 97, 18—79; S. D. Lounsbery, 89, 7—82.

In the competition for the October Handicap cup, there was a tie between Frank O. Reinhart and W. Lester Glenney, Each playing from scratch, returned a score of 81. The tie will be played off this week.

There were a half dozen players who returned their scores for the President's, club and Hydewood cups at the Park Golf Club, on Saturday, the play for the Hydewood trophy being a new event for October only. For the President's cup, Charles A. Reed, Leon R. Thurlow, John L. Watson and Alexander Gilbert were the point-winners, while for the scratch cup those who won points were Mr. Reed, Rev. J. O. McKelvey and Mr. Thurlow. Mr. Reeed also scored a win for the Hydewood cup, which is offered by Mrs. Charles Hyde.

These scores were posted for the three cups:

Charles A. Reed, 97, 5—92; Leon R. Thurlow, 105, 10—95; John L. Watson, 114, 18—96; Alexander Gilbert, 113, 17—96; Rev. J. O. McKelvey, 104, 0—104; Rev. C. L. Goodrich, 115, 2—113.

Among the latest enthusiasts to enter the game is Rev. L. R. Howard, who played his first game at the Park Golf Club on Saturday. Although a novice, he made a score of 130, doing very well. As yet the handicap committee has not given him a handicap and his score did not count in the weekly competitions.

A social event at the Park Golf Club in the evening was a dinner given to a number of friends by the Misses May and Hattie Shreve. Covers were laid for twelve and the affair was a delightful one.

SHOOK UP CELL.

Magistrate Heard Noisy Drunk and Dropped Fine On Him.

James Frazee paid $10 in the city court this morning for the fun he had Saturday night with a noisy jag. When he was locked up, Frazee nearly wrecked the interior of his cell by banging the swinging iron bunks up and down. He varied this amusement with much language of a loose nature.

Frazee didn't remember anything about it when he was arraigned in the city court, but Judge Runyon did. He happened to come into headquarters while Frazee was at the height of his rampage.

"It won't happen again," pleaded Frazee.

"It'll cost you $10 if it does," said the magistrate, "and that is what you will pay for what you did Saturday; $10 or twenty days." The fine was paid.

Democratic Orators.

Democratic guns of heavy calibre will thunder at the mass meeting to be held at the New Plainfield theatre, Wednesday night, by the Democratic City Committee. Col. Edwin Stevens, of Hoboken, who has been mentioned as Senatorial candidate; State Senator James F. Minturn and James A. Hamill, of Jersey City; James E. Martine, congressional nominee for this district, and the Union county assembly nominees, Joseph T. Hague, James E. Desmond, of Elizabeth, and Harry C. Coulter, of Rahway, will speak.

Hospital Board Meeting.

The Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital will hold the regular October meeting tonight. It is expected that a successor to Dr. W. C. Boone, as a member of the medical staff will be chosen. There are two or three candidates for the place.

Ordered to Cuba.

Lieut. Col. James Parker, 13th Calvary, son of Cortlandt Parker, has been detached from his regiment and ordered to Cuba on speciil duty with Gen. Funston, commanding the U. S. troops in the occupation of that island.

HOOLEY STABLE WINNINGS

Second Only to Otto Kahn at Three Days Horse Show at Morristown.

TOOK SEVEN FIRSTS

"Quaker Maid" and "Darthea" Received Three Blues On Saturday in Rapid Succession.

Still further honors were won by Plainfield horses in the closing of the Morristown Field Club horse show on Saturday. The feature of the afternoon was the hunt club competition, in which three teams took part. In this event the riders wore hunting costumes and presented a pretty sight. The Watchung Hunt Club, of this city, entered two teams, and the Essex Club one. The riders were Messrs. Freeman, Fisk and Bellows for Watchung No. 1; Messrs. White, Howard and Schmidt for Watchung No. 2, and Messrs. Pfizer, Hyde and Wilderding for Essex. The Essex Club was an easy winner on performance, as the Watchung horses could not go in the mud, even though sawdust was spread freely about the jumps.

Mrs. Edwin S. Hooley's chestnut team, Quaker Maid and Darthea, started off the day by capturing three first prizes, but the going was so heavy they soon lost their form. The Hooley stable was a close second to Kahn during the three days, taking seven firsts, three seconds and three thirds. Saturday's results:

Class 32—For local harness horses over 15 and not exceeding 15.2 hands. First, "Quaker Maid," Mrs. Edwin S. Hooley.

Class 2—Pair of roadsters. First, Miss Banahan and Miss Westcott, W. J. Buttfield.

Class 38—Local horse and runabout over 14.3 and not exceeding 15.2 hands. First, Darthea, Mrs. Edwin S. Hooley; fourth, Quaker Maid, Mrs. Edwin S. Hooley.

Class 36—Local lady's phaeton and horse, not over 15.2 hands, ladies to drive. First, Quaker Maid, Mrs. Edwin S. Hooley.

Class 27—Hunt Club competition for three hunters from one club. Second, Watchung Hunt Club.

Class 41—Local pairs of horses not exceeding 15.3 hands shown before a victoria, cabriolet or brougham. Second, Quaker Maid, Mrs. Edwin S. Hooley.

SERVICE IN MEMORY OF JOHN G. WHITTIER.

His Life Reviewed and His Poems Sung By Grace M. E. Church Congregation.

The memory of John Greenleaf Whittier, the poet, was honored by the congregation of Grace M. E. church, last night, when a special service dedicated to him was given. It was conducted by Dr. Parsons and was greatly enjoyed by the large gathering.

In an address dealing with Whittier's life and works, Dr. Parsons paid him a glowing tribute and dwelt especially on his patriotism. He compared him with Longfellow and Lowell and pointed out how in many ways his poems reached the hearts of the people more than did those of his contemporaries. Seven of Whittier's poems are in the new Methodist hymnal and all were sung by the congregation.

Another poem by the some author was sung as a solo by Miss Winifred Carroll, contralto, accompanied by Miss Alice Carroll, organist, and Dyckman Winckler, violinist.

A service for reception of members was held in the morning and seventeen persons joined the church, fourteen from probation and three by letter.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall Home.

Mr. and Mrs. David Prescott Hall have returned to Plainfield, having spent several weeks with Mrs. Hall's mother, Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, at her place near Newport, R. I. They report Mrs. Howe as being in excellent health, and busy on articles ordered for the magazines. Miss Caroline Minturn Hall will remain with her grandmother until the end of October, in order to complete the landscapes which she is now painting, as also a portrait of Mrs. Howe.

Suing Mrs. Sanford.

Another suit has been started against Mrs. Alice H. Sanford, of New Market. She is being sued for a medical bill by Dr. T. H. Platt, of Dunellen. The case is set for October 15, before Justice Von Minden, of New Market. Deputy Sheriff Robert Pierce served the papers.

Miss McLaughlin Entertains.

Miss Hattie McLaughlin, of Somerset street, gave a "blind" euchre at her home, Saturday night, to a party of friends. Thirty in all were in attendance and there was spirited play for prizes. Refershments were served at a late hour.

FIREMEN'S PARADE TO BE 6 MILES LONG

ESTIMATED THAT 5,000 MARCHES WILL BE ELIZABETH PAGEANT.

Final arrangements for the parade which will be given at Elizabeth, Thursday, under the auspices of the Veteran Volunteer Firemen's Association, indicate that it will be the greatest pageant of the kind that has ever been conducted in the city. One hundred companies from New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Connecticut and Massachusetts will be in line and the number of men is estimated at 5,000. The procession is to be in six divisions and will start promptly at 11:30 from North Broad and Prince street, passing over a route about six miles in length. The parade will be four miles long.

Plainfield will be well represented in the parade and there is no doubt but what hundreds from this city will view it. The Exempt Firemen's Association with the old Amity silver hose carriage and headed by the Independent Fife and Drum orps will be in the fifth division. Captain William B. Martin, of Company K, is to be chief of staff, and William J. Whelan, of the Plainfield Water Supply Company, is to be one of the aides in the first division. The latter has had considerable military experience, having been captain of the horse marines in the Hagerstown Academy for two years.

Provision has been made by the Elizabeth veterans to feed 7,000 guests on that day. Big tents and all the halls and large buildings in the city have been engaged. The citizens have subscribed over $3,000. Decorators are working night and day to adorn the city. All the factories and schools will close and business will be generally suspended.

Pryor at Asbury.

Arthur Pryor's band, which appears in this city tonight, gave concerts at Asbury Park, yesterday afternoon and night, that were attended by capacity audiences in the Casino. They were given under the auspices of Wesley Fire Engine Company and are reported to have been the best of the many the shore resort has had in years. Howard Leroy, the fire chief, and his entire staff, were present, and personally congratulated Mr. Pryor at the close of the evening concert. The chief personally wired Manager Counihan that it is the greatest band organization he ever heard.

Jersey Chiefs Off to Texas.

Chief T. O. Doane and a party of other New Jersey firemen left Saturday over the Pennsylvania Railroad for Dallas, Texas, to attend the convention of the National Fire Chiefs Association. Those who accompanied the Plainfielder were Chief Norton, of New Brunswick; Chief Stagg, of Paterson; Chief Kiersted, of Elizabeth; Chief Allen, of Trenton, and William Sheppard, of York, Pa., one of the editors of Fire and Water, the firemen's publication.

Recover Mileage Book.

Seven moths after her purse disappeared with a new mileage book on the entral Railroad in it, Mrs. H. E. Butler, of West Seventh street, has recovered the book through the activity of Chief of Police Kiely. The latter struck the trail of the book a few days ago and this morning he succeeded in locating it. The mileage is intact, and Mrs. Butler will receive it exactly as it left her hands early in the year. It is supposed her pocket was picked.

Wedded at Parsonage.

Miss Sarah Luwina Ammerman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Ammerman, of East Fourth street, and George Walter Emmons, of East Second street, were quietly married Saturday night by Rev. Dr. Schenck at his home. The ceremony was witnessed only by the groom's parents. Following a short trip Mr. and Mrs. Emmons will make their home on West Second street. The groom is employed by Neuman Brothers.

Plainfielder Was Scrappy.

The serenity of Scotch Plains was disturbed late Saturday night by a belligerent Plainfielder, who had done two kinds of skating, entering one of the hotels and attempting to clean house. He mixed with a bartender and the latter got the worst of the argument. It is said that a warrant has been issued for the Plainfield man and his arrest will follow.

Rasores Club.

The first meeting of the Rasores Club for the season of 1906-07 will be held tomorrow morning at the home of Mrs. B. O. Bowers, Franklin place. The subject will be "Vacation Experiences."

—Cool weather makes the people step right lively toward Neuman Brothers' store where there is to be seen the largest fruit and vegetable display in the city. Make sure you see it before purchasing elsewhere.

ONE MORE FAST GAME BEFORE SEASON CLOSES

WASHINGTONS, OF NEWARK, WILL PLAY A WILTSE COMBIMATION.

While the excitement of the post season games in the big leagues are stirring the blood of fandom, the Plainfield fanatics will have another chance to see a fast game at home. Arrangements have been completed for a contest on Crescent Oval next Saturday, between the Washington A. A., of Newark, and a swift local combination.

Lou Wiltse is at the head of the scheme to organize the Plainfield aggregation, and that insures the strongest representative line-up. The Washingtons are the champions of the semi-professional clubs of Newark, and hard, fast playing will be necessary to lower their colors. Jimmy Montross plays with the Washingtons, and will be seen in the game on Saturday. Jimmy took the place of Reeves, who went Manager Daab, several weeks ago, on the pitching staff. Kelly, who pitched several games for Daab early in the season, is also on the twirling staff of the Washington club.

Wiltse has arranged a tentative line-up that looks good for any pace the Washingtons may set. Lou himself is slated for first. Phil Smith will probably twirl and there is every likelihood of getting Jack O'Neil to receive his stunts. Brit Martin at second and Joe Alberts at third, complete the plans for the infield. A snappy shortstop—Jack Martin has been thought of—will be signed in a day or two. Harry McLoughlin, who is back from New England, has agreed to play, and will care for the outfield with George Allen and some other heavy sticker.

It is understood from the Washington's end that Jimmy Montross will start for them in the box, and Kelly will take up the burden in a middle inning. The Washingtons play great ball, and a contest to warm the cockles of the long-denied fans is sure to be seen.

POPULAR YOUNG COUPLE PLIGHT THEIR TROTH.

Quiet Ceremony Unites Miss Mary J. Duckworth and Walter F. Emmons.

Miss Mary Josephine Duskworth, of North avenue, daughter of the late John Duckworth, and Walter Frederick Emmons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter A. Emmons, of Jackson avenue, were quietly married Saturday afternoon. The ceremony was performed at 2:30 by Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck at his home on West Front street and was witnessed only by the near relatives of the bride and groom. Miss Duckworth was attired in a becoming travelling gown of blue material.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Emmons left for Atlantic City, where they will spend a week. On returning they will make their home on Bank place for the winter. They were the recipients of numerous presents of a useful nature, among them a substantial check.

Both Mr. Emmons and his bride are widely known locally and for several years have been prominent in the social affairs of the younger people. The former is an employe of the Woodhull-Martin Company.

A. H. SOUTHWICK NAMED

Trenton Man Nominated by Fourth District Congressional Convention.

AN UNANIMOUS CHOICE

Swackhamer Withdrew Before Convention—A Boom for Frech —All Harmony.

Upon a platform that demands the abolition of bribery in elections and corruption in politics, advocates the election of United States Senators by direct popular vote, the gradual reduction of the tariff upon certain products and the necessaries of life, and the development of the American merchant marine, the Democrats of Mercer, Somerset and Hunterdon counties, in convention assembled at Masonic Hall, Trenton, Saturday afternoon, nominated J. Allan Southwick, of that city, for congress from the Fourth Congressional district.

The nomination of Mr. Southwick, who is a councilman in Trenton, was somewhat of a surprise. It had been confidently expected that either Robert L. Stevens, of Bernardsville, or former Assemblyman Samuel S. Swackhamer, of North Plainfield, would be nominated. However, both Mr. Stevens and Mr. Swackhamer declined the honor just prior to the opening of the convention, and after a short conference a committee appointed to select a candidate announced that Mr. Southwick was their choice.

Thunderous applause and cheering that lasted a full minute followed when former Prosecutor Bayard Stockton, of Princeton, placed Mr. Southwick's name in nomination. The nomination was quickly seconded by the Somerset county delegation, and at the instance of the Hunterdon contingent it was made by acclamation.

In a short, terse speech, Mr. Southwick accepted, and thanked the delegates for the honor they had conferred upon him. His remarks were punctuated with displays of enthusiasm that made the hall ring, and left no doubt of the popoularity of the convention's choice.

These were the delegates who conferred on a candidate: Mercer delegates, J. Allan Southwick, Dr. Walter Madden, Harry C. Hartpence; Hunterdon delegates, Paul A. Queen and Jacob Dilts, Flemington; Robert T. Heath, Locktown; Somerset delegates, F. C. Sutro, Basking Ridge; T. C. Gibson, Franklin Park, and Martin Wyckoff, Bedminster.

Upon the convention approving the congressional committee, which is composed of H. L. Stout, of Flemington, Frank S. Katzenbach, Jr., Trenton, and John A. Frech, Somerville, the Fourth congressional convention of the Democratic party passed into history.

WOES OF TROUBLE-SEEKER.

Stevens Got a Licking and the Court Fined Him $5.

Jack Stevens, a hackman, went looking for trouble last Friday night, and he got it; a second installment of it was handed to him this morning in the city court. Stevens collected a jag Friday night, and went after Joseph Parsons, a colored hackman, to wipe out a grudge. He found him at the North Avenue station, and was soundly whipped for his pains.

The police heard of the scrap, and sleuthed out the principals. Parsons had a witness to establish his innocence, this morning, and Judge Runyon fined the bunged up Stevens $5 or 20 days as a warning against trouble-hunting.

Entertainment at Hope Chapel.

Under the auspices of the ways and means committee, a musical entertainment will be given at Hope chapel, Friday night, for the benefit of the music fund. A splendid array of local talent has been secured and it will include favorite readings by Mrs. G. S. Simons; Scotch ditties by Mrs. L. R. Howard; mandolin and banjo selections by the Sagamore Club; vocal and instrumental selections by Judge William N. Runyon; novelty musical numbers by Musical Stewart and baritone selections by Frederick J. Pope.

Drunk Freed.

Stephen Bolan, who has been in this county only a year and a half, was arrested Saturday for sleeping off a drunk in Blimm's alley. He was contite and full of good promises this morning, and Judge Runyon suspended sentence.

Good Seats Left.

Rumors that all the seats are sold for Andrew Mack's appearance at the New Plainfield theatre tomorrow night, under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus, have no foundation in fact. There are plenty of good seats left.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY

If reports that persist with the persistency of truth have any foundation in fact, there will be an independent candidate for assessor before the Piscataway township voters this election. Dr. Whitford is said to have made up his mind to go before the people, and ask for their ballots. He is said to feel that he did not get a square deal at the primary election and that he can convince the electorate of that and win support enough to succeed in his canvass. The supporters of George Corlell comment on the report and on the Doctor without any particular gentleness. They say he is sore without reason, and that the vote at the primary, some fifty against him, indicated just exactly what the people thought of the two candidates before them.

Frank Van Nuis is nursing a broken head, the result of helping in the capture of some horses that got into his cornfield last week. While trying to round up one of the liveliest of the equines, the animal turned on him and kicked him in the head. The injury is painful enough, but not serious.

Arthur Pryor and his band of fifty will be the attraction at the New Plainfield theatre tonight, presenting a high class musical entertainment and the great electrical spectacle, "The Triumph of Old Glory."

Andrew Mack, the popular young Irish singing comedian, will be the attraction at the New Plainfield theatre tomorrow night, in a revival of Dion Boucicault's most successful comedy drama, "Arrah-na-Pogue." The tour this season is to be brief, because of the engagements which call Mack back to Australia within a few months. Under the direction of Jas. H. Decker, who is now furnishing the star with the necessary managerial support, a production such as it never had before has been made for the Boucicault drama, and it is the beauty and appropriateness of this combined with the memory of Mack's former success in the offering that was used as an argument by his booking agents to induce Mack to consent to a tour in this country before his departure for the Antipodes.

English theatrical managers who saw the performance of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" at the Savoy theatre, New York, during its record run, declared that it was the genre play par excellence that is to say, it excelled in the truthful delineation of types, and gave not one but many for the memories of the thousands who saw the dramatization of Mrs. Rice's two popular stories. "Lovey Mary" and "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" have been and are still enormous sellers in the bookstores, but the stage presentation of Mrs. Rice's whimsical creation has outdone in public popularity the books themselves. It is unusual for the dramatist to improve upon the material furnished in books, but Mrs. Anne Crawford Flexner has done and in decided fashion. She has enriched the play with wit and humor, and keen, kindly observation, and made its action interesting from start to finish. "Mrs. Wiggs" will be at the New Plainfield theatre next Thursday night.

At New Plainfield Theatre Tonight.

An attraction of exceptional merit is announced for next Friday night at the New Plainfield theatre, when the greatest of all emotional dramas, "East Lynne," will be presented by Joseph King's New York company. The engagement is for the one night only.

Viola Allen, the brilliant and gifted actress who enjoys the distinction of having made her appearance at fifteen in a leading role and of having never played in any lesser capacity, comes to the New Plainfield theatre next Saturday night, with her splendid production of Shakespeare's "Cymbeline," appearing as Imogen, a role that since the days of Adelaide Neilson has seldom been successfully played by even the most prominent exponents of Shakespearean roles. Following an engagement in Washington, where her first performance of "Cymbeline" was given, and a week in Baltimore, Miss Allen will appear for a single performance in each in six cities, of which this is one, previous to beginning a long engagement at the new Astor theatre, New York.

The final opportunity to see one of the greatest artistes of this generation in one of the plays in which she rose to prominence, is not likely to pass ungrapsed by any true lover of the theatre. Such a chance will be presented when Madame Modjeska appears at the New Plainfield theatre next Monday night. This actress, magnificent in art, superb in achievement, honored by many nations and hailed with acclaim by countless thousands, is now on a farewell tour of America. So momentous an event is her good-bye appearance, one so fraught with loss to our stage, that it has been decided to make it take the form of a grand testimonial and allow the patrons to select the play in which she will appear. Each purchaser of a reserved seat ticket at the advance sale will have the right to cast a vote for either "Macbeth," "Camille" or "Mary Stuart," by simply leaving his or her name and address and with it the name of the play preferred at the time the tickets are purchased.

George Primrose and his all-star minstrel company will appear at the New Plainfield theatre Tuesday, October 16, matinee and night. The company contains many well known minstrel comedians, dancers and singers, also an operatic orchestra of forty pieces.

Walter Scott, of East Front street, who has been seriously ill, continues to improve and is now able to be about the house.

Mrs. W. J. Luckey, of Kenoza Lake, N. Y., is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. W. H. Addis, of East Second street. Mrs. Addis has been seriously ill for the past three weeks but is now convalescent.

2,835 PERSONS DIE IN N. J. IN SEPTEMBER

VITAL STATISTICS FOR GROWTH IN THIS STATE JUST ISSUED.

Trenton, Oct. 6.—Davis S. South, State registrar of vital statistics, has issued a statement showing that the total number of deaths reported for the month of September is 2,835, a decrease of 403, compared with the month of August. Continuing, the report says:

"Infantile diarrhea caused 119 less deaths than were reported in August from this cause. Pneumonia shows a decrease, the figures for the previous month having been 112 and for July 162, while for September the number of deaths from this cause was ninety-five. Diseases of the brain and nervous system also show a decrease, the number being fifty-three less than were reported during August.

"The mortality from whooping cough continues unusually high, the number of deaths from this disease having been forty-eight. For August the number was forty-two and for July thirty-five, whereas the monthly average for the year 1905 was only fifteen. Cancer caused 103 deaths. This disease has shown a steadily increasing mortality since the records of this bureau were begun."

The report then gives a table showing the number of deaths from cancer for each year since 1878 and the percentage on the basis of 10,000 population. In 1879 there were 378 deaths from this cause and the percentage was 3.70. In 1905 there were 1,292 deaths, the percentage being 5.51. The intervening years show an almost regularly graded increase in both number and percentage of death from cancer.

WIFE OF NEWARK'S MAYOR TRAPS A BOLD ROBBER.

Mrs. Doremus, of Newark, Causes Capture of a Man Wanted By the Police.

Giving his name as Eugene W. VanDorn, has address as No. 331 Littleton avenue, Newark, and confessing himself a sneak thief, a man was sent to jail yesterday in Newark to await the action of the Grand Jury.

He was arrested in the home of Mayor Henry M. Doremus. He called there and represented that he had been sent to take down the awnings. Mrs. Doremus permitted him to do so, but sent a maid to accompany him to each room and to keep a close watch on him. On the second floor the man asked the maid to get a screw-driver for him, but the young woman did not leave the room. She got the screwdriver without doing so. Mrs. Doremus became suspicious, and, while the man was still at work, she telephoned to the firm he said he represented and was told that the man was a fraud. The firm at once notified the police and in a few minutes a patrol wagon arrived. The man suspected nothing until two policemen walked into the room where he was at work and arrested him.

Little importance was attached to the arrest until the prisoner was taken to police headquarters. After he had been photographed he admitted that on September 19 he worked the "awning game" in the home of Mr. McNee, in Maplewood, and stole $500 worth of diamond rings. On September 28 he did the same thing at the home of David Taylor, in Madison, but carried away several hundred dollars worth of valuables. He recently committed a burglary in the home of George Harvey, No. 536 Clifton avenue, Newark.

Van Dorn is a carpet salesman. He says that the money he made at that occupation was not enough to meet his demands and that some time ago he conceived the idea of using his knowledge of the business for robbery.

John Conway and niece, of this city, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Louis Coombs, of Bound Brook.

SWEET TONED PIANOS.

It is a pleasure for any one to pick a piano from the splendid stock assembled in our Music Hall Warerooms, because there is not an instrument in the house that does not possess a full, rich, sweet tone. This is true of the very best makes and the very cheapest. Other differences make the difference in price.

If you want an exceptionally high grade instrument you will select a Kranich & Bach or the Hardman as a matter of course. If you want something a little more moderately priced you will take a Ruckstuhl or Spencer or Hazelton. Still more moderately priced are the Liens and Hensel Pianos. They are all good, all well made and capable of giving forth the richest melody when a capable performer takes them in hand.

Besides presenting the instruments named we are also Newark's agents for the famous Hardman Automatic Piano, which can be played by hand or mechanically with equal facility. This is truly a wonderful instrument and marks a great advance over the piano players you have heretofore known.

Any of these splendid instruments can be bought by making a small first payment and easy monthly payments thereafter.

We rent good, new pianos for only $4 a month, and after using them awhile you should desire to own the instrument, we will allow the rental paid on the purchase price—certainly an inducement to those who are not sure that they want a piano permanently.

SPORTS HERE AND THERE

GOLF.

In an effort to make the course of the Plainfield Country Club more difficult than ever, the greens committee has made arrangements to buy 120 tons of white sand which will be placed at different points on the course, in front of hazards, bunkers, etc. While the course has been lengthened to about 5,000 yards, it is not yet up to the regulation length and for this reason the committee want to make it just as difficult as possible to lower the record. Recent performances of "Marty" O'Loughlin show that he is able to cover the eighteen holes with a remarkable low score. He returned a 64 last week and it is doubtful if this will be equaled for some time to come, unless O'Loughlin does the trick. The young "pro" has the advantage of many others of his class in that he has exceptional habits and is very steady. He has proven this by his work in the many tournaments in which he has taken part. It is a well-known fact that some professional golfers are not as dependable as "Marty" and for this reason he is given every advantage and the united support of the club in his worthy ambition to success in his chosen profession. A member of the club in speaking of O'Loughlin recently remarked that when he first entered the employ of the organization at the old grounds on Plainfield avenue as a caddie, he was always in demand because of his obliging ways and willingness to do everything possible to learn the game.

There is a revival of interest in golf at the Park Golf Club through the offer of Mrs. Charles Hyde in presenting a cup, to be known as the Hydewood cup, for competition during October. The competition will be medal play and there promises to be a large field out during the month to capture the trophy.

It is a fact regretted by many members of the Park Golf Club that that organization does not use the same system in handicapping as the Plainfield Country Club and other similar organizations in the metropolitan district. There are instances cited where the handicapping at the Park Golf Club does not appear to be as fair as it might be and it does not tend to encourage the best effort. It is admitted that the system used by the Metropolitan Golf Association is the best yet conceived and one never hears any kicks about it. There may be good reasons why the borough club has not taken advantage of it, but it would seem that in the interest of the game it might be well to try it at least.

TO UPHOLD ROOSEVELT.

It is amusing to hear the arguments being used by some Republican politicians who seem to think that the average voter is a blockhead pure and simple. The stock story about the necessity of voting the party ticket straight to "uphold the hands of the President" is being worked to death as it usually is in every campaign, particularly when there is a Senator or Congressman to be elected. Representatives who have done little while at Washington except to draw their salaries suddenly awaken to the fact when renominated that the country is in peril and that it is absolutely necessary for its welfare that they be reelected. Their aim is to fool the voters and ride into office on a shallow pretense, just as they have in the past. Whether they will be allowed to do so this time depends entirely on the good sense of the people.

On this pertinent subject, the Newark Evening News, Republican, said incidently on Saturday:

"Practically every Republican who wants to go to Washington in an official capacity this year wants to go there to help Roosevelt. It seems to be the universal impulse of candidates of all degrees. The junior United States Senator wants to be returned to help Roosevelt. Every Republican candidate for Congress is eager to get into the House of Representatives to help Roosevelt. The Senatorial and Assembly candidates want to go to Trenton to hold a joint session which will select a Senator who will help Roosevelt. The candidates for county offices want to get elected in order to strengthen the Republican party, which is the party to help Roosevelt, and the city and ward aspirants want to perfect the organization which strengthens the party which elects the Assemblymen which choose the Senator who is to help Roosevelt.

"It doesn't follow, however, that these candidates who are now seeking votes for themselves through Roosevelt's unprecedented popularity will be so extremely zealous to help Roosevelt during the next two years. He is not a candidate for re-election. He will not be so much of a power by and by as he is now. He seems inclined to further restrain the trusts, to control the corporations, to limit the accumulation of vast fortunes, and to do other things that will help the people to restore and maintain their sovereignty. Not all the United States Senators are in favor of these Rooseveltian experiments; not all the Congressmen like to hear about curbing the trusts, yet all of them are now exceedingly profuse in their declarations of friendship for Roosevelt and exceedingly desirous of being elected so as to help him.

"It would be wise for the people to inquire why Roosevelt needs so much help, and also to investigate the records and see who helped Roosevelt and who didn't. There are men today who are extolling him to the skies who have secretly sought to defeat him ever since he has been in Washington. They are exploiting their records as if the votes they cast were conscientious and voluntary, when in fact they only made a virtue of necessity. To help Roosevelt is all right, but to merely hold fast to his political skirts so as to be dragged into office is quite a different matter."

Because they have not made the Bishops' bill an issue, the Trenton True American says that "the Union county Democrats" are entitled to be ranked with the wise ones." Had they done otherwise, they would certainly be counted as "dead ones" in Plainfield at least.

The irrepressible Noah W. Pike has issued a circular letter addressed to the Republican mayoralty nominee signing himself "Tax Payer." A big red apple is offered anyone who can tell what Mr. Pike is driving at in his epistle.

By Tom Muir.

In "The Triumph of Old Glory," which is given by Pryor's band, the services of a large number of men and a moving picture machine are needed in addition to the musicians. It tells in a vivid way the story of the American flag, from the time of its inception to the present day.

Plainfield is one of six cities outside of Washington, D. C., in which Viola Allen will appear with her new production of "Cymbeline" before going to New York. It is booked for a long run at the handsome new Astor theatre.

The critics of Hartford, Conn., where "Brigadier Gerard" had its first performance in this country a few nights ago, believe that Sir Conan Doyle has written a play that is a worthy successor to "Sherlock Holmes," and that Kyrle Bellew, who assumes the title part, has a role in which he will be as popular as he was in "Raffles."

Miss Edna Barbour, the daughter of Professor and Mrs. E. Livingston Barbour, of College avenue, New Brunswick, will go on the stage. She makes her debut at Albany soon as member of a stock company. Professor Barbour is professor of elocution and oratory in Rutgers College.

Upton Sinclair, the author of the novel, "The Jungle," will appear as an actor when the dramatization of his book is staged. He will play the role of Ostrinsky, a young Lithuanian workman in a Chicago packing-house. Charles Richman has been engaged for the part of Jurgis.

Mrs. Alice Hegan Rice, the creator of "Mrs. Wiggs" and "Lovey Mary," has drawn nearly $250,000 in royalties from the two stories and the play, "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," founded upon them. Liebler & Co., who own the piece, expect to continue paying Mrs. Rice a yearly fortune in royalties for a long time to come, as the play increases in popularity and drawing power.

WROTE TO HIS WIFE, THEN TOOK POISON.

No Apparent Motive for Attempt at Suicide in Saloon by Newark Man.

George A. Atwood, forty-seven years old, assistant superintendent of the Celluloid Manufacturing Company, of Newark, swallowed yesterday poison, believed to be cyanide of potassium, with suicidal intent, in a saloon attached to Harburger's Hall, No. 82 Hamburg place. He is at St. James Hospital in a serious condition. Atwood refused to give any reason for his act.

Shortly before noon Atwood entered the saloon and asked for writing paper. He wrote two letters, one to his wife and the other to a friend. Soon afterward Atwood walked up to the proprietor of the hall and said he had taken poison because he wanted to die. He collapsed a moment later.

A search of Atwood's pockets disclosed a bottle that had contained cyanide of potassium. He had not been at his place of employment for two days. He had complained of feeling unwell and when he kissed his wife goodby yesterday morning he told her he was going to procure medicine at a nearby drug store. Atwood lived happily with his wife and stepson at No. 11 Elizabeth street, according to Mrs. Atwood's statement, after she was informed of the attempt of her husband to end his life.

HAS HIMSELF INDICTED.

North Arlington Mayor Takes This Course to End a Controversy.

Mayor Bayliss, of North Arlington, has had himself and the members of the Borough Council indicted for the purpose of determining who is responsible for the dangerous conditions of Belleville turnpike.

The road, which is almost impassible, is owned by Hudson and Bergen counties. Hudson county has been willing for some time to pay its share of the cost of improving the road, but the Bergen officials have repeatedly refused to spend any money on the road. Mayor Bayliss for nearly a year has tried to prevail on the Bergen county Board of Freeholders to agree to pay Bergen county's share of the cost, but without avail, hence the indictment, which will bring the matter before the courts.

Mrs. James Middledith has returned to Truell Court after spending the summer in Canada.

LeRoy Ellis, of Park avenue, is entertaining his mother and niece from the south, and Mrs. Ellis is visiting relatives at her former home in the south.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bauer and son, Kenneth, of Somerville, and William Smith, of Sayreville, were guests yesterday of Mrs. J. C. VanDyke, of East Fifth street.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Evelyn Lock, graduate of the Plainfield High School, class '02, to Arthur Walker, of Forest Hill, London, England.

PRAYER CHAIN HERE.

Anonymous Religious Annoyance Comes to Local Young Woman.

The prayer chain, which has been annoying the church workers of Hackettstown, as reported in yesterday's Daily Press, has reached this city. A young married woman received the prayer, with its accompanying threat of Heavenly visitation if the chain be broken, yesterday afternoon. The prayer and communication read as follows:

"Dear Friend:

"O, Lord Jesus Christ we implore Thee O God to have mercy on all mankind, keep us from all sin by thy precious blood, and take us to be with Thee, Eternally. Amen."

"This prayer was written by Bishop Lawrence, recommending it to be rewritten and sent to nine other persons.

"One person who paid no attention to it, met with a terrible accident. He who will rewrite this prayer, and send it to nine other persons, commencing on the day it is received and sending it on each day, will on or after the day experience some great joy. At Jerusalem during the holy feast it was here said, he who will write this prayer will be delivered from every calamity.

"A FRIEND."

"Please do not break this chain."

SHE SAW SNAKES.

They Were Real Ones, Big and Black —Neighbor Killed Them.

Mrs. Frank Allen, of Lake street, Bloomfield, entering a shed in her yard yesterday afternoon discovered a good-sized blacksnake coiled up in a corner. Her screams brought Herbert Springfield, a neighbor, who killed the reptile with a stick.

A few minutes later Mrs. Allen again entered the shed and was almost paralyzed with fright when she saw another snake larger than the other. Springfield again came to the rescue and killed the second snake as he had the first one, but not without a battle. The snakes were mates and no doubt came out at Watsessing Swamp nearby.

—A valuable horse belonging to Goldson Smalley, of Greenbrook, is dying of lockjaw.

—Jack Frost made his first annual visit to Plainfield this morning. It was not a killing frost, however, as the thermometer was thirty-eight degrees.

—Naval Cadet Arthur S. Carpender, of New Brunswick, has been given two weeks' extension of sick leave from Annapolis. He expects to join his class in a few days, fully recovered.

THE "LITTLE CHURCH" CELEBRATES ITS BIRTH

EDIFICE MADE FAMOUS BY JEFFERSON IS 58 YEARS OLD.

"The Little Church 'Round the Corner," New York, had a birthday yesterday. It celebrated its fifty-eighth anniversary in the edifice that has grown as the big city grew around it, and yet stays small and hidden away between much more lofty piles of stone and brick. Special services were held in commemoration of the event, and old parishioners, many of whom live far uptown, flocked to the church until all the seats were filled and men and women were standing at the back of the nave.

The Church of the Transfiguration, which is the proper name of the church, was founded by the father of the present rector, George Hendric Houghton, S. T. D. The first services were held on the first Sunday in October, 1848, in the private home of Mr. Lawton Carter at 48 East Twenty-fourth street. It was on Mid-Lent Sunday, 1850, that the first services were held in the church itself. It was a very small edifice then, even in comparison with its proportions today, for what was the whole church at that time is now only the west end of the nave adjoining the chapel.

When the first congregation came out into the sunlight on that Mid-Lent Sunday they had an unobstructed view to the south across Madison Square and northward to the crest of Murray Hill. To east and west there were a few scattered buildings of mean architecture, but the church stood quite alone; a low brown structure, not unlike the parish church of some English village.

It was through the late Joseph Jefferson that the church gained the name of "The Little Church 'Round the Corner," and the incident that led to the application of the name also endeared the church to thousands of the theatrical profession.

An actor had died. Jefferson, then a comparatively young man, had been nursing him, and when the end came he sought a minister, believing that his fellow-actor would wish to be buried from some church. Jefferson made application at the parsonage of a large church in the neighborhood, but he was told:

"I am very sorry, but I have not the time at present to bury an actor. However, there is a little church 'round the corner, and it is possible that you will find a minister there willing to do as you wish."

Jefferson found Dr. Houghton, who gladly officiated, and the actor, who afterward became the dean of the theatrical profession in this country, spread the story, and frequently attended the church.

When Dr. Houghton, the founder of the church, died, his son, the Rev. George Clarke Houghton, took up the charge and he has conducted the church strictly on the lines laid down by his father. The church is kept open at all hours, and, with its green trees and wide church yard hemmed in by apartment houses and residences, it is one of the sights of the city. From the number of runaway marriages that have taken place there it has come to be regarded as a sort of Gretna Green of New York city.

What "The Little Church 'Round the Corner" stands for and what has made it so popular with so many classes of people is possibly best shown in the late Dr. Houghton's words:

"In the personal ministry of mercy and blessing, no sin, no degradation, no sickness, no possible peril can be a barrier to that ministry; there must be no man or woman hesitating to seek it in time of need; and, thanks be to God, in five and forty years not once has the foot of that personal ministry withheld itself from crossing any threshold through fear of possible personal peril."

Sea Eats British Land.

It has been estimated that some 3,000,000 tons of detritus—mud, sand and shingle—are eroded each year from the Holderness coast between Bridlington and Spurn Point, and the great probability is that much of this material contributes to the silting up of the Humber estuary and the Wash.

years, is soon to move to Mexico, and he expressed the regrets of the entire school in losing such a valuable member. Another feature of the programme were the recitations by Lawrence French.

Faith Chapel.

Under the auspices of the Sunday-school of Faith chapel rally day services were held yesterday afternoon, with a special programme. L. W. Randolph, the superintendent, was in charge. After the opening exercises including a song, and Scripture reading by Assistant Superintendent Frank Stewart and prayer by the pastor, Rev. J. W. Musson, the superintendent gave an address of welcome.

Then followed songs by the primary department. A feature was the recitations by Miss Justine Roberts, of Brooklyn. She gave "Luther's Cradle Hymn," "A Little Fellow's Sunday," "The Oak of Geisman," and "Seein' Things at Night," by Eugene Field.

There were also songs by the school, responsive reading and selections by an instrumental trio, violin, cornet and piano, and the calling of the roll. Mr. Randolph reported the following number in the school: Primary department, 50; cradle roll, 15; intermediate and Bible school, 100; Home department, 68. At the close of the exercises the superintendent distributed souvenirs to each one present in the form of motto cards large enough to frame and hang on the wall.

First M. E. Church.

Musical selections, recitations, promotions, awarding of prizes and an address by Rev. Dr. H. K. Carroll, comprised the features of the rally day exercises of the First M. E. church Sunday-school in Vincent chapel, yesterday noon, following the morning preaching service. Superintendent Nelson A. Miller was in charge.

There was a welcome address by Alice Joy, songs by the school and recitations by the members of the beginners' department. These children were promoted from the beginners' department, of which Mrs. Arthur E. Crone is the superintendent, to the primary department, which is in charge of Mrs. Thomas MacDonald: Caryl Dunavan, Harold Seal, Harold Vail, Earl DeNise, John Bolsterli, Mildred Rathbun, Constance Swackhamer, Charles Carson, Cora Bender, Lillian Apgar, Frank Tallman, Jr., Harold Hartpence, Mabel Bolton, George Reed, Louise Snowden, Ruth Carver.

Those promoted from the cradle roll to the beginners' department are the following: Bertha Starbuck, Charles McKinley, Jr., John McVoy, Walter Dawe, Carry Greager and David Flammer.

In the beginners' department Margaret Evans, the youngest child in the school being three years, received the first prize for the best attendance, the next best attendance was awarded to Frank Rowley, Jr., and Harold Vail and Harold Seal and Loren Pope received honorable mention. The prize was "Hurlbut's Story of the Bible." In the primary department the prize for best attendance was given to Margaret Little.

A feature of the programme was an address by Rev. Dr. H. K. Carroll, who has just returned from a trip abroad in the interest of missions. He gave the pupils an interesting short talk on missions, telling something of his trip.

PLEASANT TRUTHS.

We can be honest without making ourselves hated and shunned because of our brutal candor.

Why not give the cheery word, the truthful word that will brighten the load of a fellow burden bearer.

Do we not deprive the world of a joy we might have given when we do not hasten to speak the pleasant truth?

There are truths which are so joyous that it is only gladness to speak them—truths which seem to have no unpleasant side at all.

Happiness is a quality of which we might obtain a larger share than usual if we determined to discover the pleasing side of the most unpleasing truths.

Now if one side is always more pleasing than the other, why, the question may be asked is it not more honorable to choose always the pleasant side to present our friends.

There is always more than one side to a truth. Two sides, at least, can be seen, by the most simple minded person and those whose minds are complex can readily see many sides to the same question.

Unpleasant truths may often be suppressed without loss of rectitude, or if compelled to speak them, one may persistently show the pleasing side, and leave the hearer to find out for himself, if he must know it, that there is an unpleasing side as well.

HOW MUCH PEOPLE EAT.

In finding a unit for the food consuming power of each family it was assumed as generally true that—

Husbands consume a like amount of food.

The wife consumes 90 per cent. as much as the husband.

A child from eleven to fourteen years of age consumes 90 per cent. as much food as the husband.

A children from seven to ten years of age consumes 75 per cent. as much food as the husband.

A child from four to six years of age consumes 40 per cent. as much food as the husband.

A child of three years or under consumes 15 per cent. as much food as the husband.

Children of fifteen years of age and over are considered as adults so far as the consumption of food is concerned.—Boston Transcript.

THE N. J. FARMERS ARE PROSPEROUS

STATE TAKES HIGH RANK FOR AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTS.

The advances scored by Jersey manufacturers in recent years have been so remarkable that they have withdrawn general attention from Jersey as a farming State. The principal news published about farming this year has been the fact that the cranberry crop is only half of the normal yield, and that the Jersey apple and peach crops have continued to dwindle. In spite of these facts, however, reports gathered from over a large farming area in the State lead to an estimate that the products of Jersey's farms and dairies will yield this year in the neighborhood of $50,000,000.

As a matter of fact Jersey, in spite of its small area, takes high rank as an agricultural State in many respects, and the prosperity of its farmers far exceeds the average throughout the country. All New England, for instance, produces a corn crop which is only about half that of Jersey. In the value of its crops of rye, Jersey stands sixth among the States, in buckwheat eighth, and in potatoes twelfth. In no other State in the Union is the average farm value of swine so high as in Jersey, and only four States—New York, Connecticut, Indiana and Illinois—surpass Jersey in the average farm price of sheep.

As a dairy State New Jersey has exceptional advantages in the matter of its markets. The State today not only furnishes over 10 per cent. of New York's supply of 1,500,000 quarts of milk a day, and in the neighborhood of 35 per cent. of the 115,000,000 quarts that Philadelphia consumes annually, but in addition the dairymen have to meet the large demands of Newark and all other cities of the home State. It is estimated that this year Jersey dairymen will realize over $11,000,000 from their milk business.

According to the best estimates obtainable at Trenton, the Jersey farmer is unusually prosperous this year, and he enjoys the advantages of advanced civilization which are denied to farmers in more thinly inhabited States. The transportation facilities for his products are unequaled by those of any other State. The trolley brings him into close touch with the nearest towns and with his neighbors. In addition the State is so closely settled that a large portion of the farmers are able to use gas and electricity for cooking and lighting at the same cost that obtains in the neighboring towns, while the telephone put them in instant touch with the outside world.

Joe VanDeventer, of the Plainfield High School, has successfully passed his preliminary examination for Princeton.

Phil. Smith has given up his studies at the Plainfield High School and has decided to retain his position with the Edison Electric Company, of New York.

TO KILL THE DANDRUFF GERM.
Is the Only Possible Way of Having An Effective Cure.
If you see a woman or a man with luxuriant glossy hair, you may be sure neither has dandruff to amount to anything. In nearly every case where women and men have thin brittle hair, they owe it to dandruff. There are hundreds of preparations that "claim" to cure dandruff, but not one but Newbro's Herpicide tells you that dandruff is the result of a germ burrowing into the scalp, and that permanent cure of dandruff and its consequent falling and baldness, can only be had by killing the germ; and there is no other preparation that will destroy that germ but Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, and you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

WILLIAM J. LEE AFTER JUDGE VROOM AGAIN.

Threatens His Life Unless He Leaves The Court of Errors.

Trenton, Oct. 8.—William J. Lee, who distinguished himself by escaping from the State hospital in this city twice, after which he went to New York and was adjudged sane, has again launched into invective against prominent men in letters written to Governor Stokes, Prosecutor Crossley and members of the board of managers of the State hospital. In these letters Mr. Lee renews his threats against the life of Judge G. D. W. Vroom, of the Court of Errors and Appeals, who is also president of the managers of the hospital.

In his letter to the Governor, Lee asserts that he is in earnest when he says he will kill Judge Vroom, and says that such action on his part can only be avoided by his immediate removal from office.

He also demands that Judge Vroom make a public statement to the effect that he (Lee) is not insane, and adds that if he is not insane, he is justified in taking Judge Vroom's life on account of his alleged persecutions, and that if he is insane he is irresponsible and therefore cannot be punished for his contemplated action.

All of Lee's letters are in the extravagant strain in which he has made his threats in the past.

Marked Superiority.

"Who was the best man?" inquired the able editor of the Polkville (Ark.) Weekly Clarion.

"Well, I reckon, all things considered, the groom was," replied Mr. Lab Juckett, from out at 'Possum Trot, who had percolated into the sanctum with the news of a wedding which had been solemnized in his bailiwick upon the previous evening.

"The groom?" repeated the scribe, in some surprise.

"Er-yah!—or, 'tennyrate, that's the way he 'peared to me. He got the bride's father so drunk, before the ceremony, that the old gentleman had to say hid in the hay mow all night and was seeing green dogs and such like, when I came by this morning. The groom also throwed the bride's two brothers out of the window for objecting to their sister's flinging herself away on him, and talked her mother to a gasping standstill when she sorter started in to remonstrate with him—and she's never been what you'd call an unable lady, that-a-way, herself. Yep!—looking the gent up on one side and down on the other, I shorely reckon the groom was the best man present upon that interesting occasion."—Puck.

VIII.

ON THE TRAIL OF LANGDON.

I had Monson with me twice each week-day—early in the morning and again after business hours until bed time. Also he spent the whole of every Saturday and Sunday with me. He developed astonishing dexterity as a teacher, and as soon as he realized that I had no false pride and was thoroughly in earnest, he handled me without gloves—like a boxing teacher who finds that his pupil has the grit of a professional. It was easy enough for me to grasp the theory of my new business—it was nothing more than "Be natural." But the rub came in making myself naturally of the right sort. I had—as I suppose every man of intelligence and decent instincts has—a disposition to be friendly and simple. But my manner was by nature what you might call abrupt. My not very easy task was to learn the subtle difference between the abrupt that injects a tonic into social intercourse, and the abrupt that makes the other person shut up with a feeling of having been insulted.

Then, there was the matter of good taste in conversation. Monson found, as I soon saw, that my everlasting self-assertiveness was beyond cure. As I said to him: "I'm afraid you might easier succeed in reducing my chest measure." But we worked away at it, and perhaps my readers may discover even in this narrative, though it is necessarily egotistic, evidence of at least an honest effort not to be baldly boastful. Monson would have liked to make of me a self-deprecating sort of person—such as he himself, with the result that the other fellow always got the prize and he got left. But I would have none of it.

All this time I was giving myself—or thought I was giving myself—chiefly to my business, as usual. I know now that the new interest had in fact crowded the things down town far into the background, had impaired my judgment, had suspended my common sense; but I had no inkling of this then. The most important matter that was occupying me down town was pushing textile up toward par. Langdon's doubts, little though they influenced me, still made enough of an impression to cause me to test the market. I sold for him at ninety, as he had directed; I sold in quantity every day. But no matter how much I unloaded, the price showed no tendency to break.

"This," said I to myself, "is a testimonial to the skill with which I prepared for my bull campaign." And that seemed to me—all unsuspicious as I then was—a sufficient explanation of the steadiness of the stock which I had worked to establish in the public confidence.

I felt that, if my matrimonial plans should turn out as I confidently expected, I should need a much larger fortune than I had—for I was determined that my wife should have an establishment second to none. Accordingly, I enlarged my original plan. I had intended to keep close to Langdon in that plunge; I believed I controlled the market, but I hadn't been in Wall street twenty years without learning that the worst thunderbolts fall from cloudless skies. Without being in the least suspicious of Langdon, and simply acting on the general principle that surprise and treachery are part of the code of high finance, I had prepared to guard, first, against being taken in the rear by a secret change of plan on Langdon's part, and second, against being involved and overwhelmed by a sudden secret attack on him from some associate of his who might think he had laid himself open to successful raiding.

The market is especially dangerous toward Christmas and in the spring—toward Christmas the big fellows often juggle the stocks to get the money for their big Christmas gifts and alms; toward spring the motive is, of course, the extra summer expenses of their families and the commencement gifts to colleges. It was now late in the spring.

I say, I had intended to be cautious. I abandoned caution and rushed in boldly, feeling that the market was, in general, safe and that textile was under my control—and that I was one of the kings of high finance, with my lucky star in the zenith. I decided to continue my bull campaign on my own account for two weeks after I had unloaded for Langdon, to continue it until the stock was at par. I had no difficulty in pushing it to ninety-seven, and I was not alarmed when I found myself loaded up with it, quoted at ninety-eight for the preferred and thirty for the common. I assumed that I was practically its only supporter and that it would slowly settle back as I slowly withdrew my support.

To my surprise, the stock did not yield immediately under my efforts to depress it. I sold more heavily; textile continued to show a tendency to rise. I sold still more heavily; it broke a point or two, then steadied and rose again. Instead of sending out along my secret lines for inside information, as I should have done, and would have done had I not been in a state of hypnotized judgment—I went to Langdon! I who had been studying those scoundrels for twenty-odd years, and dealing directly with and for them for ten years!

He wasn't at his office; they told me there that they didn't know whether he was at his town house or at his place in the country—"probably in the country," said his down town secretary, with elaborate carelessness. "He wouldn't be likely to stay away from the office or not to send for me, if he were in town, would he?"

It takes an uncommon good liar to lie to me when I'm on the alert. As I was determined to see Langdon, I was in so far on the alert. And I felt the fellow was lying. "That's reasonable," said I. "Call me up, if you hear from him. I want to see him—important, but not immediate." And I went away, having left the impression that I would make no further effort.

I went up to his house. You, no doubt, have often seen and often admired its beautiful facade, so simple that it hides its own magnificence from all but experienced eyes, so perfect in its proportions that it hides the vastness of the palace of which it is the face. I have heard men say: "I'd like to have a house—a moderate-sized house—one about the size of Mowbray Langdon's—though perhaps a little more elegant, not so plain."

"Mr. Langdon isn't at home," said the servant.

I had been at his house once before; I knew he occupied the left side—the whole of the second floor, so shut off that it not only had a separate entrance, but also could not be reached by those in the right side of the house without descending to the entrance hall and ascending the left stairway.

"Just take my card to his private secretary, to Mr. Rathburn," said I, "Mr. Langdon has doubtless left a message for me."

The butler hesitated, yielded, showed me into the reception room off

"SUPPOSE YOU WANTED TO ENTER ME FOR — SAY THE SOCIETY SWEEPSTAKES—WHAT THEN?"

the entrance hall. I waited a few seconds, then adventured the stairway to the left, up which he had disappeared. I entered the small salon in which Langdon had received me on my other visit. From the direction of an open door, I heard his voice—he was saying: "I am not at home. There's no message."

And still I did not realize that it was I he was avoiding!

"It's no use now, Langdon," I called cheerfully. "Beg pardon for seeming to intrude. I misunderstood—or didn't hear where the servant said I was to wait. However, no harm done. So long! I'm off." But I made no move toward the door by which I had entered; instead, I advanced a few feet nearer the door from which his voice had come.

After a brief—a very brief—pause, there came in Langdon's voice—laughing, not a trace of annoyance: "I might have known! Come in, Matt!"

COMPANION'S PLUCK SAVED BOY FROM DEATH.

Pulled Friend from Under Car After His Arm Had Been Badly Crushed.

William Quinlan, eleven years old, of No. 220 John street, Harrison, is in St. Michael's hospital, Newark, minus an arm as the result of an accident to him on the Pennsylvania Railroad in Harrison.

Quinlin attempted to run between two freight cars that stood a couple of feet apart, when one of the cars was backed down and caught his left arm between the bumpers, crushing it so badly that it had to be amputated.

When the arm was released he fell across the tracks and would have been run over but for the prompt action of William Dansbury, a companion, who seized his legs and dragged him from under the car.

Dansbury then carried Quinlan a half block in his arms to a store, from which an ambulance was telephoned for.

ALIS ELEVEN DEFEATS PLAINFIELD HIGH SCHOOL.

A Safety Constituted the Only Scoring in the Two Halves.

The Alis football eleven defeated the Plainfield High School team, Saturday, by a score of 2 to 0. This was the first contest of the season between the two teams. The playing was not particularly fast, because of the radical changes in the rules of the game. The forward pass, however, worked successfully for Alis. No trick plays were tried and the score was made on a sefty. The thirty yard run of Douglass, of the High School eleven, was the feature. Following is the line-up:

P. H. S.		Alis.
Tilltonson		L. Manning
	right end.
Fisher		Echert

The organizers of the proposed bank at Dunellen have effected temporary organization, with Dr. P. W. Brakeley as chairman and A. S. Corfell, Jr., as secretary. A meeting will be held next Thursday night for organization of a permanent character. The promotors want a capital of $25,000 to start with. Shares would be limited, only five going to any one person.

Sparks Start a Fire.

Sparks from a grate at the home of William E. Lowe, on Park avenue, set fire to the floor, last night at 8:30 and started a good-sized blaze. The family could not put it out and the city department was notified by 'phone. Acting Chief Jennings and the chemical engine responded. They stopped the trouble in a few minutes but the loss will reach $100.

Schoolrooms Were Cold.

The sudden cold snap caught the janitors of the borough schools unawares this morning. As a result the rooms in the Watchung building and two in the Somerset building were too cold for the pupils any they were dismissed. The heating apparatus was gotten in perfect working order later in the day and the trouble is not likely to occur again this season.

Deterioration of Cement.

The deterioration of neat cement when subjected to oil is not of serious import commercially, since the material is never used by iself in practice. In the case of the 3-to1 mixture, on the other hand, experiments show that if concrete is allowed to set in water for some time before the application of oil no ill result need be feared.

FORMED 5-CLUB LEAGUE

Amateur Baseball Combination Permanently Organization at 2nd Meeting.

J. W. GAVETT PRESIDENT

Y. M. C. A., Clinton Avenue, Dunellen, Scotch Plains and Bound Brook to Contest for Pennant.

Permanent organization was effected by the promotors of the amateur baseball league, last night. Representatives of the clubs that will figure in the pennant chase met at the Y. M. C. A., and before the session closed officers were chosen, a name adopted and rules framed.

Five clubs will make the pennant fight, under the name of the Inter-city Amateur League. The nines are Y. M. C. A., Clinton Avenue, Dunellen, Bound Brook and Scotch Plains. Somerville's application was denied on account of the distance. Westfield dropped out because prospects for the organization of a team there were very, very faint. It was felt, anyway, that a five-club league was desirable, the arrangement giving each club an open Saturday now and then for outside games. The Suburban A. C., which claims to be faster than the Clinton Avenue combination, applied for membership, but it was decided that two Plainfield teams filled out the desired representation for this city.

Joseph W. Gavett, president of the Y. M. C. A., was elected president of the league. Physical Director Listman is secretary and George Johnston, of Scotch Plains, who managed the Alis team, is treasurer.

Rules governing the registration of players were among the first to be adopted. Each club is allowed fifteen players, names of whom must be registered thirty days before the season opens, with the league secretary.

A player may not leave one club ond sign with another without his manager's permission, and no transferring player may go into action with his new mates for fifteen days after the change is allowed.

Each club will post a $25 forfeit to insure the completion of its schedule. Besides the pennant, prizes for the highest batting average, for fielding and for stolen bases will be offered.

A committee composed of the club managers and the league officers will make out the schedule. Each club will play four games with every other club, two at home and two abroad. The same committee will sit on all protests, and designate the official umpires. A stringent rule against paying any player a single cent for his services in a game will be strictly enforced.

At the next meeting, which is to be held Monday, November 5, the schedule will be arranged. It is planned to start the season about the middle of May. It cannot be gotten underway earlier because of the thirty-day registration clause, which will make the managers hustle for players early enough to keep them on the anxious seat all through March and the first two weeks of April.

The five clubs will be managed by the following: Y. M. C. A., Physical Director Listman; Clinton Avenue, J. H. Kriney; Dunellen, J. L. Ayers; Bound Brook, J. C. Hawk; Scotch Plains, Briant Johnston. The five managerial lights were at last night's meeting.

Cary and Robert Fisher, and the negative by George Hewlin and Thomas H. Bridges. Installation of officers will be a feature.

GRACE CHURCH MEN'S CLUB OPENS SEASON

MAGICIAN AND MUSICAL COMEDIANS FURNISH ENTERTAINMENT.

The Men's Club of Grace P. E. church held its first meeting of the season, last night, and a most enjoyable programme of entertainment marked the occasion. There was a large attendance.

In the absence of President H. B. Coombe, who is in Europe, Vice President Howard Fleming welcomed the members back to active club life. He read a cablegram of greeting from Mr. Coombe, from Oxford, England.

The entertainment was furnished by professional talent. Irving the Magician turned off a lot of mystifying tricks, accompanied by bits of foolery that were as amusing as the sleight-of-hand and magic, and Haley & Bond, musical comedians, tickled the ears and the risibilities of the audience mightily. The performers made hits that would mean much money on Broadway, and they had as good a time as their audience.

Refreshments were served during an intermission. The sub-committee of the programme committee, in charge of the affair, was made up of J. P. Nolting, Owen Fleming and A. Willis West. The programme committee is made up of J. P. Notling, chairman; L. A. Williams, Jr., A. Willis West, H. B. Coombe, Charles Du Bois, F. R. Stevens, Arthur Murphy and Owen Fleming.

The next special event on the club programme is an illustrated lecture on Sicily, by John M. Whitoh.

LESSON FOR MORLEY.

Young Man Thought He Could Fight Until Cop Dobson Came.

Michael Morley, a young man without clamps on his thirst, objected when Patrolman Dobson sought to remove him and his jag from West Fourth street last night. "I can lick any man in Plainfield," he said, and made a swipe at Dobson's head.

Dobson ducked and slapped him on the point of his jaw. Morley was staggered but he tried another crack. Dobson countered, and pushed his face out of the way. Morley followed his face into the gutter. When the earth steadied herself a bit, he consented to go meekly along. Judge Runyon looked at the marks on his face this morning, and let him off with a $5 fine.

Children's Home Leads.

The contest being conducted by V. W. Nash. Sr., the Park avenue coal dealer, is exciting considerable interest among the members and friends of the various religious organizations in the city and borough. In this contest the purchaser of a ton of coal is allowed a vote for his favorite religious institution, and the one receiving the greatest number of votes will get five tons of coal free. The vote to date is as follows: Children's Home, 216; Salvation Army, 172; Muhlenberg Hospital, 50; Warren chapel, 15; St. Mary's Alliance, 17; Bether Mission, 6. The contest will close January 1.

Buyer Has Seller Arrested.

Herman Michaelson was arrested in Trenton yesterday, on a warrant sworn out before Justice Mosher by Peter Zimmerman, a grocer, whose store is at Watchung avenue and Fourth street, charging him with the larceny of $35 worth of goods, including a dozen brooms, canned peas, and evaporated cream. Zimmerman bought his store recently from Michaelson, and he charges the latter with taking out goods that should have been turned over to him. Michaelson gave bond before a Trenton justice for his appearance before the Union County Grand Jury.

Peter's Pence Collection.

Father Bogan, in conjunction with all the priests of the Newark Diocese, read last Sunday Bishop O'Connor's circular on the Peter's Pence Collections. This collection will be taken up next Sunday in every church and chapel in the Roman Catholic diocese of Newark, for the purpose of giving substantial aid to the Catholics of France. This does not apply to St. Joseph's church, which belongs to the Trenton diocese. Bishop McFaul, of Trenton, has not issued his circular as yet.

Cold Wave Coming.

Weather Prophet Neagle received word this morning of a decided change in the weather this afternoon and night, the prediction being that a cold wave is on the way. Persons having flowers out-of-doors are advised to make provision for their protection if they want to save them. The cold wave, it is said, will remain for several days.

Hunt Club's Annual Meeting.

The Watchung Hunt Club will hold its annual meeting at the Casino tonight. After the usual reports are read, officers will be elected and plans made for the coming year.

ISOLATION WARD NEXT

Building For Contagious Diseases to Be Erected at Hospital.

GIFT FOR INSTITUTION

Directors Have $4,200 At Hand for Purpose—Reports for the Month.

An important step was taken by the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital, at the October meeting, last night, when the committee on buildings and grounds was authorized to erect at once a building for the reception and care of contagious diseases. The action was made possible by the donation of $4,000 by one of the members of the board and his wife, which has since been increased by accrued interest to $4,200.

The building, which will be especially designed for the use to which it will be put, will be intended chiefly for the treatment of scarlet fever and diphtheria and although at present the city is almost free from such diseases and rarely has many at any one time, yet the opportunity for the isolation and suitable care under most favorable conditions of the cases it is said will bring great relief and satisfaction to the residents of Plainfield and especially to physicians and to the Board of Health.

The Medical Board reported the number of patients treated at the hospital in September as follows:

Remaining at date of last report, 30; admitted, 42; discharged cured, 41; improved, 5; died, 1; remaining, 25; hospital days, 898; operations, 31; dispensary patients, 59; visits, 125; operations, 18.

The board elected Percy H. Stewart as a member to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Charles E. Brooks, but no action was taken regarding the vacancy in the medical board caused by the resignation of Dr. W. H. Boone. The meeting was held at the Casino.

SEVENTH-DAY BAPTISTS SOCIETY ELECTS OFFICERS.

Christian Work Society Chooses Mrs. David E. Titsworth President.

The Women's Society for Christian Work of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, at its annual meeting held on Sunday, elected these officers for the ensuing year:

President, Mrs. David E. Titsworth;; vice-president, Mrs. Henry M. Maxson; treasurer, Mrs. F. A. Dunham; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. C. Hubbard; recording secretary, Mrs. O. S. Rogers; chairman of the refreshments committee, Mrs. F. J. Hubbard; chairman of the entainment committee, Mrs. J. E. Kimball; chairman of directresses, Mrs. W. C. Hubbard.

The reports for the year were received, showing that the society has had a very successful twelve months of endeavor in Christian work. There has been increased interest in all departments and the prospects for the year are bright. The society will meet on Wednesday, October 17, to plan the winter's work.

Pryor Pleases Plainfielders.

Arthur Pryor and his band entertained a good-sized audience at the New Plainfield theatre, last night, rendering a carefully selected programme of classical and popular selections. It was the young bandmaster's first appearance in this city and he fully verified advance reports of his ability as a baton wielder. His own compositions, "The Whistler and His Dog" and "The Baby Parade," were enthusiastically received as was a Pryor trombone solo. The closing spectacle, "The Triumph of Old Glory," is an inovation in band effects but it is a decided contrast to straight numbers and rouses the audience to a high pitch o fpatriotic enthusiasm.

Plan Young People's Work.

During the coming winter the Young People's Society of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, expect to have addresses by Rev. Dr. J. S. Zelie, the pastor, and Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards, of the Brick Presbyterian church, New York, in connection with its study of missions. The social committee is planning for four meetings. Definite arrangements will be given later.

Collector George F. Brown is busy on the last of the borough tax bills. In all probability they will be issued the latter part of the week.

CONGRESSIONAL NOMINEE WILL GO ON THE STAGE

UPTON SINCLAIR, 4TH DISTRICT CANDIDATE, TO APPEAR IN "JUNGLE."

Upton Sinclair, of Princeton, who has been nominated for Congress in the Fourth district by the Socialist party, and for whom North Plainfielders can vote, has decided to go on the stage. He is the author of the novel, "The Jungle," which led to the Chicago stock yards' investigation, and it is being dramatized. He will play the role of "Ostrinsky," a young Lithuanian workman in a Chicago packinghouse, and the part is one that will call for exceptional dramatic ability.

Sinclair is a young man but one of many talents and his admirers assert that he will make a name for himself as an actor. He was originally a newspaperman and graduated from the ranks to a novelist. He wrote several books before "The Jungle," but it required the latter to bring him fame and fortune. It is considered the most widely read work of the day and the demand for it shows no sign of decreasing. It has done more than any other publication for the betterment of the working class in Chicago and the Socialists look to him as their leader, his nomination for Congress being one of the honors accorded him. He has gone ahead with his plans for a stage career, however, and will appear in the production of "The Jungle" no matter how the election goes.

UNION WORKMEN FORM A STATE ASSOCIATION

PLAINFIELDER MADE FIRST VICE-PRESIDENT IN ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

Union workmen from all parts of New Jersey assembled at Montclair, yesterday, and formed a State association of the International Laborers' Union. In the election of officers that followed, James Brown, of this city, was made first vice-president. He is connected with the local machinists' union and has represented it in numerous conferences and conventions.

The other officers elected were State President Thomas Healey, of Montclair; second vice-president John Somerville, of Dover, secretary and treasurer John McKee, of Montclair. The places represented by delegates were Newark, Montclair, Dover, Phillipsburg, Plainfield, Long Branch, Red Bank, Passaic, Paterson and also Easton, Pa. W. J. Crichtlow, of Dayton, O., the international president, was to have been present, but was prevented by sickness.

The session was called to order by John McKee, who previously had been appointed State representative by the national president. He gave an address on organized labor and its objects. James Beirne, president of the Montclair local union, then took the chair. The objects of the union were explained and a committee was appointed to draw up a set of by-laws, in conformity with the international by-laws, and another committee was named to select the officers.

Dover was selected as the place for the next meeting, which will be held Sunday, January 6, 1907.

Attending Supreme Council Session.

Dr. J. Hervey Buchanan, of Freedom Castle, No. 48, Knights of the Golden Eagle, who is also past grand chief of the State, paid an official visit to Ocean Castle, No. 11, at Atlantic City, last night, and is also attending the sessions of the Supreme Castle, of the United States, which opened at Atlantic City, today.

FARMER-ORATOR'S PLANS

The Democratic Congressional Nominee to Invade Warren County on Thursday.

ATTACKS HIS OPPONENT

He Declares That Mr. Fowler Voted Against Eight-Hour Law and Opposed Roosevelt Measures.

James E. Martine will begin his campaign for the Congressmanship of the Fifth district tomorrow night at the New Plainfield theatre, when he is scheduled to speak at the Democratic mass meeting. On Thursday morning he takes leave of Cedar brook farm and will spend the rest of the week in Warren county where he hopes to interest the farmers in his candidacy. His first stop will be Dover where it is expected he will speak at night.

After covering Warren county, Mr. Martine will move on to Morris county. There several big meetings will be held and a whole week of straight talks to voters will be put in. When that task is finished, the farmer-orator will devote his attention to Union county. Arrangements are now being made for a mass meeting in Jacobs' theatre in Elizabeth. Among the speakers will be Congressman William Sulzer, of New York, who promises to tell Mr. Fowler's record in Congress.

Mr. Martine says that he will devote his speeches largely to Mr. Fowler and his record. In an interview with a reporter this morning, he declared that Mr. Fowler had voted against the eight hour law and that his whole course in Congress had been inimical to the workingman. He also declared that instead of supporting President Roosevelt, the Elizabeth statesman had voted time and again in opposition to measures supported by Roosevelt.

Mr. Martine will wind up his campaign with a series of cart-tail meetings at the big manufacturing plants in this city and in Elizabeth.

JUDGE ORDERS A VERDICT OF SIX CENTS.

In Case Against Thomas McBride Arising Out of Property Sale.

Shortly before noon yesterday the case of Klementena Batura and Joseph Batura, her husband, against Thomas McBride, was brought to a close by Judge Vail, in Elizabeth, who directed the jury to return a verdict of six cents damages in favor of the Baturas.

The Baturas, who were represented by John J. Stamler as counsel, sued to recover damages for alleged false representations made by McBride to them through his agent in the sale of a piece of property.

The property is at 226, 228 and 230 First street, Elizabeth, for which the Baturas paid McBride $16,000. Adolph Reitman, the agent, it was alleged, gave the Baturas to understand that McBride had informed him that the property was bringing in a monthly rental of $152, and that one of the tenants, the George W. Wiedenmayer brewing Company, had a lease on the premises occupied by Frank O'Neill, which had four years to run at a monthly rental of $35. The Baturas, after buying the property, discovered that the lease held by Wiedenmayer had expired and that the rental of the place had been $25 instead of $35 per month as had been represented by McBride, whereupon they at once brought suit.

O. F. C. vs. Clark Club.

The Orange Field Club eleven will play its first regular game of the season at Crescent Oval on Saturday when the team from the Edward Clark Club, of Elizabeth, will be the opponents. The Elizabeth eleven has previously laid claim to the 150-pound championship of New Jersey, but the Orange Field Club boys have defeated the county seat players three years in succession. The Elizabeth team is much stronger this year and feel confident of winning Saturdays' game, as does also the local eleven. The Orange Field Club players are urged to be at Concert Park at 8:30 o'clock tonight for heavy practice.

Crowfoot, who is in charge of the boy's school in Shanghai, China, under the auspices of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, and who is in this country on a furlough, will speak at the Seventh-Day Baptist church Saturday morning. JERSEY CENTRAL MAY HAVE ONE BIG PARK

MAKES OFFERS FOR MORE PROPERTY ON SOUTH SIDE OF STATION.

The extensive real estate operations in Park avenue property, between the railroad and Fourth street, has given rise to considerable talk as to the purpose of the New Jersey Central in its attempt to acquire additional land adjoining that it now owns. The company has given notice to V. W. Nash, Sr., whose building occupies a site next to that owned by Miss Lincoln, the florist, that he must remove the same by December 8. It was also desired that Miss Lincoln move her building, but her lease runs for another year and nothing can be done until then.

The company has also offered John Manley $16,000 for his property on Park avenue, and it is said, that an offer of $28,000 has been made for the Miller building at Park avenue and Fourth street. Overtures are said to have been made for the Bird property, adjoining that of the telephone office.

It is reported that the company desires to lay out this property in one big park, extending from Park avenue back to the Eastbound Station.

Mr. Nash has planned to tear down his old buildings and store the material, and it is quite likely that he and William Classen, the barber, who occupies one of the stores in his present building, will lease one of the vacant stores in the Marsh building on Park avenue, opposite The Plainfield Trust Company.

Another improvement planned by the railroad company is the removal of the brick building formerly used as a city jail and the water pumping station close by, and the land will be converted into the large park proposed.

NEW MINISTER.

Rev. Mr. Short Succeeds Rev. Mr. Doupe at Heavenly Rest.

Rev. Charles H. Doupe, formerly in charge of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, has been succeeded by Rev. Charles L. Short, who has been sent here from the Mission House, Trenton, by Bishop Scarborough. He has already entered upon his new duties. The parish regret the departure of Mr. Doupe.

Bishop Scarborough transferred Mr. Doupe to New Brunswick, where he will have charge of a larger parish.

Mr. Short has been given a hearty welcome and the prospects for successful Christian work are promising.

Rally Day at Bethel Mission.

Under the direction of A. W. Duxbury, superintendent, interesting rally day exercises were held at Bethel Mission Sunday afternoon. There was an address by Rev. Dr. J. S. Zelie, of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, an organ selection by Miss Carrie Dewey; flute solos by Walter Sampton and the singing of appropriate songs by the school. There was a large attendance of members. Rev. F. D. Tildon, pastor, also had a part in the programme.

Chestnutter Hurt.

Richard Randolph was seriously injured near New Market yesterday, by a fall from a cherry tree. A limb broke beneath him, and the thirty-foot fall left him unconscious. He was discovered and carried home by Dr. William Nelson. His senses were brought back with the greatest difficulty, and it is feared internal injuries will complicate the effects from the terrific blow his head must have suffered. Randolph is married and lives in New Market.

Under K. of C. Auspices.

There are still many good seats left for Andrew Mack's performance at the New Plainfield theatre tonight. The production appears under the auspices of the local Knights of Columbus and they are interested in it financially. Accordingly, the purchase of tickets not only assures an enjoyable evening's entertainment but will aid the efforts of Watchung Council.

Successful Rehearsal.

Another successful rehearsal of "The Chimes of Normandy," was held at the Camera Club rooms, last night, by the Plainfield Operatic Association, under the direction of William Holmes. Several new members were elected, and considerable progress was made in learning the score of the opera.

IMPORTS ARAB STEEDS

A. G. Hooley Part Owner In Splendid Shipment of Horseflesh.

MR. DAVENPORT'S TRIP

Backed By the Sultan, Cartoonist Succeeded In Getting Eight Arabian Mares From Bedouins of Syrian Desert.

Under an irade such as had never been issued before by the Sultan of Turkey, A. G. Hooley, of Rockview terrace, in partnership with Homer Davenport, the famous cartoonist, and Peter B. Bradley, a Boston millionaire horse enthusiast, has become possessed of the finest lot of Arabian horses ever brought to this country—and that means the finest lot of equine emigrants the horsemen of America have ever had a chance to see. Davenport, who is a personal friend of Mr. Hooley and Mr. Bradley, went to Arabia, himself after the animals. He landed in Boston last Wednesday, and on Saturday the horses, twenty-seven in all—stallions, mares and colts—were taken ashore at New York from the steamship Italia.

It was only through an autocratic decree by the Sultan, induced by a special letter given to him by President Roosevelt, that Mr. Davenport was enabled to get his horses. The Arabas are as jealous of their steeds as they are fond, and never before has Ang Occidental been permitted to take such a number of Arabian horses out of the county. Eight splendid mares are in the lot, and that fact is the most noteworthy thing in connection with the importation. Before Davenport's coming, no Arab mare had even been allowed to go out of the country. Much has been written of the Arab horses and the love of the Nomads for them, but the people of this country can scarcely realize the exact light in which the Bedonin regards his horse. The jealous love of a man for his wife or children is said to be a feeble affection compared with it, and something of what the result of Davenport's visit meant to the tribes of the Syrian desert and to the horsemen of this country may be only faintly imagined by the average person.

The twenty-seven horses arrived in excellent condition, and were passed by the veterinarians of the Bureau of Animal Industry, as healthy, sound and entirely free of any disease or ill effect from the long journey.

Davenport made his word good beyond all expectations. He started upon his long journey with the avowed intention of bringing over the handsomest and purest-bred Arabians that came from the Bedouin tribes, and as one after the other the magnificent animals were hoisted from the upper deck of the Italia and taken out of their stalls on the pier, after a voyage of more than a month, the big group of horse fanciers who were present, pronounced them the most magnificent lot of horses ever landed in this country.

In a letter from Naples printed some days ago in a New York paper, Davenport said that he was bringing over a white stallion which would make a sensation among horsemen of the country. This horse was one of the first to land yesterday, and if ever there was a beautiful Arabian steed in history or poetry, this white animal is he. In all respects he is a most perfect individual and a thoroughbred representative of the famous Arab breed.

The brown stallion Haleb, which was presented to Davenport by the Governor-General of Aleppo, is also a grand individual, and the pick from the Gommusa tribe of the desert. He has a long pedigree attesting his pure breeding from a long line of blooded ancestors.

Haleb is a 5-year-old Manaka—Sebelle, one of the most highly valued strains among Arab breeders.

Special care had been taken in the selection of the mares for which the cartoonist carried a special permit from the Yildiz Palace, Constantinople, to the friendly sheiks of the desert, and through this secured and brought over a grand lot of high class mares.

Two of the mares, purchased at great cost, have each a colt about 4 months old, and are certainly beautiful individuals.

The majority of the horses landed yesterday are chestnuts of a beautiful golden color, while there are several grays and bays, every one bearing the marks of pure breeding, as recognized by the Arab breeders.

One handsome bay mare, of perfect conformation, bears several sword marks on her neck and haunches, showing that she has passed through many bloody battles and has been a war trophy of the tribe that exchanged her for American gold.

The horses were separated Sunday morning as the young stock and the

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

Andrew Mack in a revival of Dion Bouccicault's great play, "Arrah-na-Pogue," will hold the boards at the New Plainfield theatre tonight. The production is handsomely staged and is brought to the city under the auspices of Watchung Council, Knights of Columbus.

Charles Wagner, the apostle of the simple life, approves of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch." He saw the play which has just closed its remarkable runs in New York and Chicago and is now on tour, and remarked that it was the "simple life lived humorously." He recommended the dramatization of Mrs. Rice's stories of Mrs. Wiggs and Lovey Mary as an excellent tonic for melancholia or lack of energy. The New York critics united in declaring that the play had enough heart interest and sufficient powerful types to make the fame and fortune of half a dozen productions. It was freely predicted that Mrs. Wiggs would remain on the stage as long as has Rip Van Winkle. The play will be seen here Thursday night.

Local theatre-goers will be interested in the announcement of the appearance next Friday night of the favorite emotional drama, "East Lynne," the greatest of emotional plays. The company has been selected with discrimination and in the matter of scenic equipment and accessories the presentation of "East Lynne" will measure up to a high standard.

When Ezra Kendall comes to town, theatre-goers know there is a treat in store for them, and this year they are to have the pleasure of seeing Mr. Kendall in a new play, "Swell Elegant Jones." He will appear at the New Plainfield theatre for a matinee and night on Saturday, October 13. Ezra Kendall plays the part of "Swell Elegant Jones" on whom dame fortune has bestowed a million dollars through an investment in a mine, is a very happily married man, until he takes a journey to look after his mining interests, and remains away for a period of seven months. In the meantime a scheming lawyer, and former suitor for his wife's affections learns that Mrs. Jones is about to fall heir to her uncle's estate, and finding Jones is away, and that he and his wife are not on the best of terms, starts scheming to separate them, by telling malicious lies, and when Swell Elegant Jones does return he places him in compromising positions by the aid of a female detective, and Mrs. Jones whose mind is poisoned by the evidence that confronts her, starts proceedings for a divorce. Of course, it all comes out right in the end and ends happily as it should, and everyone leaves with the impression that Swell Elegant Jones is a dear old loving spendthrift with many virtues, and whose only fault is his eagerness to see others happy even if it costs suffering on his own part.

A great artiste passes forever out of the theatrical life of our city next

Madame Modjeska, at New Plainfield Theatre Monday Night, October 15.

Monday night, when Helena Modjeska and her splendid company, under the management of Jules Murry, appears at the New Plainfield theatre. Never after that time will the opportunity be presented here of seeing this distinguished and well beloved actress. After she has visited all of the American cities which she loves best and where she is most welcome, she will leave the stage to spend the declining years in quiet, following domestic pursuits which always have had rare attractions for her, but in which she has been able to indulge but little because of her itinerant life.

George Primrose and his big minstrel company will be the attraction at the New Plainfield theatre next Tuesday afternoon and night. The performance will consist of negro melodies, songs, dances and humor, with scenic surroundings typical of negro life. The entire performance will be given in blackface.

Viola Allen's production of "Cymbeline," which comes to the New Plainfield theatre Saturday, October 20, is said to be as complete and as elaborately beautiful as were her notable presentations of "The Winter's Tale," and "Twelfth Night." In Miss Allen's supporting company are such important players as J. H. Gilmour, Sidney Herbert, H. Leslie Allen, Fuller Mellish, Jefferson Winter, Myron Calice, Henry K. Hadfield and Alison Skipworth.

POLITICAL NOTES.

J. Allan Southwick, whom the Democrats have chosen as their standard bearer in the Fourth congressional district, was born in Trenton in 1837. For many years he has been actively interested in the growth and development of the city, and was for an extended period one of Trenton's representative merchants. He retired from active business three years ago. Always a Democrat, Mr. Southwick has taken a lively interest in his party, and in politics generally. He is at present the representative of the First ward in the Common Council, being elected a year ago.

Allan H. Southwick, nominated for Congress here against Ira W. Wood, Republican, is probably as strong a candidate as the Democrats could have selected. He is a retired dry goods merchant, and one of the most representative business men of Trenton. He is well and favorably known in Trenton and has many warm friends. He is a public spirited citizen, and has been active in promoting public improvements. Mr. Southwick is rather old for an active campaign, and the fight will have to be made for him by younger men. Mr. Wood carried the district two years ago by nearly six thousand majority.—New York Herald.

Miss Linda Butler, of East Front street, who planned to leave this week for Mexico, has been obliged to defer her departure for another month.

SPORTS HERE AND THERE

DIAMOND DUST.

The Philadelphia Athletics, with Plank and Powers in the points, defeated the Hobokens at St. George's Cricket Field on Sunday by a score of 3 to 1. Deegan and O'Neil formed the battery for Hoboken. The Quakers got seven hits to six for Hoboken off of Plank, but the home team were credited with three errors. However, it was not until the seventh inning that the visitors scored and they tallied three runs at that time.

The Elizabeth Invaders came mighty near defeating the New York Americans at Elizabeth on Sunday. The score was 3 to 2, but the Yankees did not score until the ninth inning, while the Invaders scored one in the fourth and one in the sixth. Linderman held his opponents to four hits, while only three were made off of Clark Griffith.

Reports come from Chicago that everybody is going or has gone crazy about the world's championship games to be played there this week, and it is said that in some quarters people are selling all their possessions to pay fancy prices for admission to the games. The first contest will be played today.

Fred Odwell, a Cincinnati cast-off, led the American Association in batting this season. He played center field for the Toledo Club.

Pitcher Joe Wetner, who has been playing with Flemington this year, and who was given a try-out by Manager Dunn, of Providence, has the ear-marks of a successful twirler, plenty of speed and curves, and with proper coaching, being a willing subject, will soon gain good control. His work this season has been of the best.

Mike Leonard, captain and third baseman of the Hoboken team, is the bright particular star of the semi-professional firmament. His playing this season has surpassed all his prior efforts.

Barberich, who pitched for the Cedars and other metropolitan semi-professional clubs, has gained a wonderful reputation up in New England. He was the find of the season.

Now that the National League season is over, "Christy" Mathewson will probably come to Plainfield for the winter.

GOLF.

It has been decided to have a best four-ball match at the Plainfield Country Club on Saturday, any active member of the club being eligible to play.

There are now thirty entries for the veterans' handicap on Thursday at the Apawamis Club, in which the starters must be fifty-five years of age. There will be six prizes and the competition is open to all members of the United States Golf Association clubs. The entries close tomorrow and should be sent to Sidney A. Lawton at the Apawamis Club. The All-Staten Island championship will be on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, with fifty or sixty starters, at the Fox Hills Golf Club. John M. Ward, the ball player of other days, now holds the title and the Branch medal. There will be three sixteens to qualify for cups and cups for the three beaten eights.

Robert Abbott, of this city, will be called upon to defend his title as Intercollegiate golf champion at the Garden City Golf Club, October 16 to 20. The tournament will also include players from Williams College, which has been elected a member.

Not wishing to go stale in playing the game, "Marty" O'Loughlin is taking it a little easy at present. He wants to be on edge for the big tournament of the Eastern Professional Golfers' Association at Forest Hill the latter part of the month.

The delightful weather of the past few days is ideal for the game of golf and there is a notable increase in the number of members on the local courses. The fall of the year with its cool bracing weather appeals to a majority of golfers as the best of the whole season and it is very healthful as an exercise.

The active season will close at the Plainfield Country Club on Thanksgiving Day with a cross-country tournament. Last year the club held a similar event to close with and it proved to be very popular, hence the decision to try it again this year. There remains three more Saturdays in which to decide the weekly competition for the Golf Committee cup, and to conclude several other attractive events, including some specials on Election Day and Thanksgiving.

MARKS ON WIFE'S CHIN START SUIT.

Husband Says They Were From Another Man's Kisses—She Says Glove Stains.

Black finger marks on the chin of young Mrs. Kate A. Schorr were one of the causes of a divorce suit called yesterday before Vice Chancellor Garrison in the Jersey City Chancery Chambers.

Her husband, Henry Schorr, saw the marks when Mrs. Schorr returned home the evening before New Year's, 1904. He said then, and still believes, according to his affidavit, that the spots were made by a railroad man who had kissed his wife.

Mrs. Schorr's answer is that they came from a black kid glove she wore, and on which she rested her chin.

Mrs. Schorr is suing for a separate maintenance. The couple were married February 12, 1899, and, after a very discordant life, separated last January. They formerly lived at No. 82 Clinton avenue, Jersey City. Mrs. Schorr now lives with her parents in Jersey City. She charges cruelty and neglect.

Her husband became jealous within ten days after their marriage and often accused her of improper associations.

She always was a dutiful wife, her answer says. He struck her and made it impossible for her to live with him.

Schorr's answer denies many of his wife's specific charges, but admits that he struck her once when she attacked him with a carving knife, and another time when she jabbed a knife into his shoulder. A week after their marriage she punched him in the face and formed a habit of throwing dishes at his head.

The affidavit of Mrs. Tilen Huber, of No. 82 Clinton avenue, says that Schorr was intensely jealous, but that Mrs. Schorr acted like a good wife. Mrs. Huber's husband, Philip Huber, furnished an affidavit for Schorr that a letter came to Huber's house for Mrs. Schorr addressed to Mrs. Huber. Huber opened the letter and found a note addressed to a man boarder in Huber's house, in which Mrs. Schorr wrote:

"I will skiddoo my Coney Island company and meet you."

The Vice Chancellor ordered Schorr to pay his wife $7 a week until a decision is reached. The date for the trial was not fixed. Neither of the principals was in court. The couple have no children.

Deny They Were to Elope.

Trenton, Oct. 9.—Told by Mrs. Lizzie Woolverton that her husband was about to elope with Mrs. Matilda Beerman, the police of the Second District shadowed the railroad stations Saturday night and, it is said, witnessed a meeting between the man and the woman, the latter being accompanied by a girl friend. The couple were at once arrested and locked up, although they emphatically denied that any elopement was intended. They will be allowed to explain in court today.

Mayor and Council Indicted.

Hackensack, Oct. 9.—Mayor Bayliss and the members of the Borough Council at North Arlington went to Hackensack a few days ago to have the Bergen County Board of Chosen Freeholders indicted because the board would not grade and macadamize that portion of the Bellville Turnpike that passes through that borough. This portion is about a mile long, and it would cost $25,000 to put it in good condition.

By Tom Muir.

William A. Brady's production of Lottie Blair Parker's perennial "Way Down East," with "Hi Holler," the sheriff who sings "all bound 'round with a woollen string," the village quartette and all the other delightful characters, is booked for appearance at the local house on October 25.

Julia Marlowe copies the statute of Jeanne d'Arc in Fairmount Park, Philadelphia, in designing the armor she is to wear in her new play of that name.

Mrs. Madge Carr Cook, who plays the part of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," in the play of that name, is the mother of Eleanor Robson, now starring in "Nurse Marjorie," one of the reigning New York successes. Mrs. Cook has been off the stage for many years, but returned at the earnest solicitation of Liebler & Co., who believed that she was just the one to interpret the role. She has more than verified their predictions and will remain before the footlights for many years to come.

Lillian Russell returned to New York last night and for the first time in her career appeared as a comedienne in a straight, unmusical farce, "Barbara's Millions." This morning's New York papers declare the play and the star to have been "twin failures." The same publications gush all over Richard Carle's new piece, "A Spring Chicken," which opened at Daley's, and Blanche Ring, who began an engagement at the New York in "Miss Dolly Dollars" seen in Plainfield last month.

Ezra Kendall, who will appear here Saturday in his new play, "Swell Elegant Jones," tells the following story about two Irishmen who were coming home after having attended some joyful gathering, probably a birthday party: They had consumed just enough liquor to make them talkative. "Sure," said the biggest man of the two, to his companion, just as they came upon the famous Flatiron building, "I just think enough of you my boy to buy you that old sky scraper." "Sure," said his friend, without a moment's hesitation, "If I was as drunk as you, I'd give it to you."

Leon W. Washburn, the well-known circus man, has purchased the farm formerly owned by Adrian Vermeule, just outside of New Brunswick. It is understood that he intends to make it the winter quarters for his animals. It is understood also that the trained ponies of Mr. Washburn will be brought to the new farm.

two mares with colts at foot will be shipped to Boston, and from there to the Arabian Stud Farm of Peter B. Bradley, at Hingham, Mass., while all the rest go to Davenport's farm at Morris Plains.

Mr. Bradley has been a breeder of Arabian horses since he purchased a lot of them at the close of the World's Fair in Chicago. Mr. Hooley stated to a Daily Press reporter last night that the horses would be used, solely for breeding. "Not one of them is for sale," he said.

Next in interest to the horses are some of the sketches which Davenport has made in the desert. They represent the different types of the Bedouins, from the sheiks down to slaves, and are most true to the real life of the desert.

Among this collection is a sketch of the Sultan, who never had a picture taken or painted. The sketch was made immediately after the cartoonist was presented to the Sultan, and another when he saw His Majesty going to Friday prayers. One of them represents the potentate talking to his two favorite sons, another receiving strangers, and a third driving a pair of spirited horses to the mosque.

Throughout the journey his sketches produced a most profound sensation among the Bedouins, most of whom looked upon him as a possessor of divine power or magic.

One of Davenport's most highly valued souvenirs is a picture which was taken in company with all of the leading sheiks of the Anazeh tribe, an honor perhaps never before accorded to any other "infidel" by the religious heads of the greatest of all nomadic tribes.

This special honor was due to the fact that the cartoonist carried a personal card from President Roosevelt, the "Great Sheik" of all America, as the Arabs called him.

A most pathetic cartoon is one in which an old Bedouin is bidding farewell to his mare, which he was ordered to sell to the "American guest" of the tribe.

Much to the disappointment of his friends Davenport is still confined to a sick bed. After feasting on young roast camel, eating boiled lamb stuffed with rice and nuts, and drinking gallons of camel's milk, he landed in Boston last Wednesday in fine condition, but got a dose of ptomaine poisoning by eating oysters at the "Hub." He will soon be out and tell more of his Holy Land experiences.

DRYDEN TROPHY PLACED IN THE STATE CAPITOL.

Testimonial of Jersey Soldiers' Expert Markmanship Stationed In Rotunda.

The Dryden trophy, which was won by a team of eight of New Jersey's crack marksmen on the State rifle range at Sea Girt, September 1 last, was installed in the rotunda of the State Capitol at Trenton yesteday.

The trophy is of bronze and of handsome design. The army and navy are represented by statues of a soldier and a sailor. Between this is a tablet on which are fastened a number of medallions, some of which bear the names of teams that have won it.

The prize will remain on exhibition at the Capitol for the period of one year when it will again be placed in competition under the auspices of the New Jersey State Rifle Association.

The trophy is the gift of United States Senator John F. Dryden, who presented it in 1903.

The same year a team representing the army infantry won the trophy, while in 1904 New Jersey was the successful competitor. Last year Ohio marksmen won it.

It was by a magnificent exhibition of long distance shooting that the Jerseymen won the trophy this year. iPtted against the best shots in the country the local marksmen were invulnerable at the 1,000-yard stage. The members of the team who won the trophy were: Major Arthur Rowland and Lieutenant Herbert L. Smith, of the First Regiment; Captain William B. Martin, iLeutenant Silvester and Sergeant John R. Williams, of the Second; Major Winfield A. Price, of the Third, and Captain William A. Lewes and Lieutenant William A. Baker, of the Fourth Regiment.

BROUWER JURY PICKED 80 WITNESSES IN COURT

SIXTY TALESMEN EXAMINED BEFORE BOTH SIDES ARE SATISFIED.

Toms River, Oct. 9.—After examining sixty talesmen, which consumed three hours, a jury was selected here yesterday to try Dr. Frank Brouwer for the murder of his wife. Justice Hendrickson, who will try the case, did not appear until nearly noon. By that time the little court house was crowded.

The selection of the jury brought out in no uncertain language that men born and bred in the rural districts have opinions on the matter of capital punishment. At least a dozen declared themselves unalterably opposed to capital punishment. Others offered various reasons for not serving and were excused. Still others had formed opinions about the case and were allowed to go. The jury selected follows:

S. Judson Ridgeway, grocer, of Little Egg Harbor, foreman; John M. Cobb, bayman, of Stafford; Calvin D. Parker, of Little Egg Harbor; Henry Seaman, bayman, of Eagleswood; Thomas B. Mick, bayman, of Toms River; Walter Bell, of Plumstead; Cornelius Matthews, of Jackson township; Harry W. Errickson, of Plumstead; George A. Leek, of Little Egg Harbor; Samuel G. Cranmer, of Union township; Thomas Hartshorne, of Plumstead, and Joel H. Sprague, of Long Beach.

Dr. Brouwer watched the selection of the jury closely, and several times objected to talesmen. At other times Dr. Brouwer was evidently well impressed by the appearance and answers of the men questioned, and signified his willingness to accept them as jurymen.

The prosecuting attorneys are T. J. R. Brown and Frank McDermott. J. W. Carmichael and Edmund Wilson, of Red Bank, are the counsel for the physician. A number of citizens who believe Dr. Brouwer is innocent, have raised a fund of $2,500 to aid in his defence.

Trevanian Hyer, brother of the dead woman, was in court. He is as firmly rooted in his belief that the physician murdered his sister as he was months ago. Each side has more than forty witnesses.

The alleged murder of Mrs. Brouwer occurred on September 23, 1905. Mrs. Brouwer was taken sick on September 14, 1905, and died two weeks later. There were two nurses in attendance. Dr. Brouwer himself diagnosed the case, and was said to have administered the medicine. Arsenic and ground glass were found in the dead woman's stomach when an autopsy was performed.

After the jury was selected court adjourned until today when the trial began.

AUTO AND HORSE IN CRASH: NONE SERIOUSLY HURT.

"Diamond Jim" Brady's Machine Hurled Animal Against Tree and Held It There.

"Diamond Jim" Brady, of New York city, who met with an automobile accident, near Rockville Centre, Long Island, on April 22, 1906, in which one of his party, Miss Harriet Waters, an actress, was so badly injured that she died a day later, had another narrow escape yesterday when his big machine, going at a good clip, struck a horse attached to the conveyance of H. H. Haight, at Main and Wall streets, in Raritan. Brady owns a farm along the Raritan river, two miles north of the estate of James B. Duke. He was making the trip from New York to his farm yesterday in his big Mercedes machine, accompanied only by his driver.

As he neared Main and Wall streets in Raritan the Haight conveyance carrying Mr. Haight, his son and several women to church came down Wall street and turned into Main directly in front of Brady's machine. Mr. Haight's young son, who was driving the spirited horse, made the turn on the wrong side of the street. Brady's driver swerved his machine to the opposite side of the street to escape him, and at the same instant young Haight started out to rectify his mistake and turned his horse directly in front of the automobile.

The machine struck the horse broadside, lifted it from its feet and stood it up against a tree. The automobile crashed into the tree with a force that threw Brady and his driver in the street and crushed in the front of the machine. It was necessary to back the machine off in order to allow the horse to regain its feet. Had it not been for the tree holding the horse up the Haight conveyance would have been overturned and the occupants thrown out. The pinioned horse was seized before it had a chance to bolt and the occupants of the carriage, Brady and his driver, escaped with slight injuries.

Rescue by Pony from the Surf.

Atlantic City, Oct. 9.—Isidore Goldsmith, of Philadelphia, while apparently temporarily insane yesterday afternoon, walked out into the surf. James Irvin, 18 years old, who was riding on a pony, galloped up, rode the pony into the water, and reached Goldsmith, who was floundering about. He then got a hold on Goldsmith's collar, and turning the pony about, dragged the man ashore.

IDENTIFICATION FOR THE AUTOMOBILES.

Commissioner of Motor Vehicles J. B. R. Smith to Suggest Changes.

J. B. R. Smith, State commissioner of motor vehicles, after several months' experience with the operation of the Frelinghuysen automobile law, will advise some changes in the act at the next session of the Legislature. One great defect in the automobile law Commissioner Smith says, is the lack of means for prompt and certain identification.

He states several instances which have occurred lately in which a machine breaking the law got away without its number having been taken. Mr. Smith has not yet devised a plan to overcome this difficulty, except in a general way. He believes the numbers should be larger and is rather inclined to the idea that two numbers, one in front and one in the rear are not enough on a car for proper identification.

Commissioner Smith also desires that the law shall be amended so as to make the more serious offenses of automobilits misdemeanors, in order that the offenders shall be extraditable. This would eliminate the necessity of immediate arrest and the taking of offenders into custody without warrant.

Automobilists generally object to the section of the present act which allows arrests without warrants because they may be held up at the pleasure of every country constable whom they meet. Mr. Smith is devising a system that he hopes to have adopted by which there will be an inter-state numbering of cars the trouble of changing numbers when passing from one State to another can then eb obviated.

RAINFALL.

The Processes of Nature by Which It Is Produced.

Rain is, as we all know, the moisture of the atmosphere condensed into drops large enough to fall with perceptible velocity to the earth. The variation in the sizes of the drops is dependent upon the difference in the height from which they have fallen and to the amount of atmospheric disturbance present at the time. If they fall from great heights the drops suffer gradual division into smaller and smaller parts until they are at last converted into mists. In calm weather, with the clouds near the earth's surface, the drops are apt to be large and heavy. The formation of rain is in general a continuation of an enlargement of the processes by which clouds and fogs are formed. The deposition of moisture depends upon the cooling of the atmosphere, but concerning the precise process by which the cooling is effected various opinions are entertained even among those who have made meteorology a life study. In considering the matter we have deduced our reckonings from what is considered the best authority on the subject. From this it appears that the temperature of a given mass of warm air is lowered in the ordinary course of atmospheric phenomena by one or the other of the processes mentioned in the following: By radiation to the cold sky, by radiation to the neighboring masses of clouds or the cold ground, by mixture with cool air or by the absorption of heat in the expansion of ascending columns of air. Whatever the process may be, one thing is sure—the cooling must take place before the moisture will collect into drops of sufficient size to cause them to fall from the mass of vapor in which the constituent parts have been floating.

Great Men's Childhood.

"Many great men," a psychologist, "gave signs of greatness even in their childhood. Mozart at the age of five composed a piece of music so difficult that his father, a professional musician, had some trouble in playing it.

"Macaulay before he was eight wrote the 'Compendium of Universal History, Being an Account of the Leading Events From the Creation Down to the Present Century.'

"Hartley at seven wrote a long and abstruse essay on the 'Nature of Man.' Bacon at nine finished a work on philosophy, Milton at twelve wrote two epics.

"On the other hand, Goethe, Steele, Dr. Johnson, Wagner, Voltaire, Tennyson, Poe and Fenimore Cooper were deemed stupid in their childhood."

There are many men who wear their hats practically all the time when awake, and are blessed with a heavy shock of hair; yet if the scalps of these same men once became infested with dandruff germs, the parasites would multiply all the quicker for lack of air. Baldness would ensue as the final result. Newbro's Herpicide kills these germs and stimulates unhealthy hair to abundant growth. Herpicide is a pleasant hair dressing as well as a dandruff cure and contains not an atom of injurious substance. Sold by leading druggists. NOMINEES COMPARED.

Summit Record Tells Why It Prefers J. E. Martine.

"The Democratic nominee for Congress in this district is one whom every citizen should be glad to vote for except of course the hidebound Republican organization men who believe in their party right or wrong. James E. Martine is too well-known in every city and hamlet in the Fifth Congressional District to require any extended review of his work as a public-spirited citizen or the ideals he has always tried to maintain in every capacity. An eloquent speaker and a deep student of national and State questions he would make such a representative in Congress as Union county has not had in generations.

"Contrasted with Charles N. Fowler it is impossible to see how any citizen having the welfare of the district at heart could be in doubt about which candidate to support. Mr. Fowler has had no interest in the district for years. He has never visited it except when he deemed it advisable to come here to attend to his political fences and these occasions have been rare because his lavish use of money for political purposes has been enough to hold the organization in line for him. During the sessions of Congress the time of Mr. Fowler has been spent looking after his private business or in attending to the work of the corporations in Wall street with which he has always been so closely identified. It is about time that the voters of the Fifth Congressional District secured a Congressman who will represent them and not one who is so wrapped up in the affairs of the Standard Oil and Typewriter Trusts that he can give no thought to New Jersey."—Summit Record.

CLERGYMAN'S ODD BILL.

State Fair Paid Him $1.75 for "Catching Gamblers and Fakirs."

Trenton, Oct. 9.—A queer bill has been paid by the Inter-State Fair Association when Secretary Margerum sent a check for $1.75 to the Rev. Joseph Howell, on his bill for that amount rendered against the fair association for volunteer services in "catching gamblers and fakirs."

When the bill came in the officers of the association marveled, but when payment was requested they willingly sent the check, just to get the receipted bill. The Rev. Mr. Howell has for many years waged war against games of chance and questionable shows on the grounds, but he has never been in the employ of the association. Hence the surprise when he rendered a bill for services this year.

His Most Accurate Counterfeit.

The genial Mark Twain complains that he has a most surprising number of "doubles." Only the other day a gentleman wrote to him from Florida, saying that he had been taken so often for Mr. Clemens that he thought it a matter of duty to send his photograph to the real original.

The likeness, as shown by the picture, was certainly remarkable—so much so, indeed, that Mark sat down and wrote the following reply:

"My Dear Sir—I thank you very much for your letter and the photograph. In my opinion, you are certainly more like me than any other of my doubles. In fact, I am sure that if you stood before me in a mirrorless frame I could shave by you."—October Lippincott's.

Car Shops for Harrison.

Plans for the large terminal and power station to be erected in Harrison by the Pennsylvania Railroad are completed, and active operations will be begun at once. The plans provide for a more extensive system than at first proposed. In addition to building a large terminal station and a large power-house there will be a large power-house and repair shop with laths, boring mills, bending rolls and other machinery. There will also be a blacksmith shop, coach shop, storage houses and pattern shops.

Where He Was Dry.

The Rev. Mr. S—— was by many considered somewhat tedious in his delivery. On one occasion, after being booked to preach at a camp meeting, he was caught in a sudden shower. He appeared at the appointed time quite wet.

As he was excusing himself to the camp manager, a waggish clerical brother said:

"Oh, go on up in the pulpit. You'll soon be dry enough there."—The Bohemian for October.

An Apt Quotation.

"Yes," said Marryat, "I'm pretty busy these days. Getting ready for my wedding, you know."

"Ah! that's a reminder of what Washington said," remarked Hennipeck.

"'What was that?"

"'In times of peace prepare for war.'"

So Aggravating.

"Ma," said Mrs. Schoppen's little boy, looking up from his book, "what's a 'counter-irritant?'"

"A 'counter-irritant?'" repeated his mother, who had been in among the department stores all day. "That's what nose every salesperson is these days."

—"Dolph" Giles, formerly of this city, who has been in the U. S. Navy for several years, is now located at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, after having traveled around the world. He has a clerical position.

LANGDON AT HOME.

I entered, with an amused glance at the butler, who was giving over his heavy countenance to a delightful exhibition of disgust and discomfiture. It was Langdon's sitting room. He had had the carved antique oak interior of a room in an old French palace torn out and transported to New York and set up for him. I had made a study of that sort of thing, and at Dawn Hill had done something toward realizing my own ideas of the splendid. But a glance showed me that I was far surpassed. What I had done seemed in comparison like the composition of a school boy beside an essay by Goldsmith or Hazlitt.

And in the midst of this quiet splendor sat, or rather lounged, Langdon, reading the newspapers. He was dressed in a dark blue velvet house suit with facings and cords of blue silk a shade or so lighter than the suit. I had always thought him handsome; he looked now like a god. He was smoking a cigarette in an oriental holder nearly a foot long; but the air of the room, so perfect was the ventilation, instead of being scented with tobacco, had the odor of some fresh, clean, slightly saline perfume.

I think what was in my mind must have shown in my face, must have subtly flattered him, for, when I looked at him, he was giving me a look of genuine friendly kindliness. "This is—perfect, Langdon," said I. And I think I'm a judge."

"Glad you like it," said he, trying to dissemble his satisfaction in so strongly impressing me.

"You must take me through your house sometime," I went on. "I'm going to build soon. No—don't be afraid I'll imitate. I'm too vain for that. But I want suggestions. I'm not ashamed to go to school to a master—to anybody, for that matter."

"Why do you build?" said he. "A town house is a nuisance. If I could induce my wife to take the children to the country to live, I'd dispose of this."

"That's it—the wife," said I.

"But you have no wife. At least——"

"No," I replied with a laugh. "Not yet. But I'm going to have."

Suddenly my mind reverted to my business. "How do you account for the steadiness of textile, Langdon?" I asked, returning to the carved sitting-room and trying to put those surroundings out of my mind.

"I don't account for it," was his languid, uninterested reply.

"Any of your people under the market?"

"It isn't to my interest to have it supported, is it?" he replied.

"I know that," I admitted. "But why doesn't it drop?"

"Those letters of yours may have overeducated the public in confidence," suggested he. "Your followers have the habit of believing implicitly whatever you say."

"Yes, but I haven't written a line about textile for nearly a month now," I pretended to object, my vanity fairly purring with pleasure.

"That's the only reason I can give," said he.

"You are sure none of your people is supporting the stock?" I asked, as a form and not for information; for I thought I knew they weren't—I trusted him to have seen to that.

"I'd like to get my holdings back," said he. "I can't buy until it's down. And I know none of my people would dare support it."

"Well, then, the price must break," said I. "It won't be many days before the public begins to realize that there isn't anybody under textile."

"No sharp break!" he said carelessly. "No panic!"

"I'll see to that," replied I, with not a shadow of a notion of the subtlety behind his warning.

I hope it will break soon," he then said, adding in his friendliest voice with what I now know was malignant treachery: "You owe it to me to bring it down." That meant that he wished me to increase my already far too heavy and dangerous line of shorts.

Just then a voice—a woman's voice—came from the salon. "May I come in? Do I interrupt?" it said, and its tone struck me as having in it something of plaintive appeal.

"Excuse me a minute Blacklock," said he, rising with what was for him haste.

But he was too late. The woman entered, searching the room with a piercing, suspicious gaze. At once I saw, behind that look, a jealousy that pounced on every subject that came into its view, and studied it with a hope that feared and a fear that hoped. When her eyes had toured the room, they paused upon him, seemed to be saying: "You've baffled me again, but I'm not discouraged. I shall catch you yet."

"Well, my dear?" said Langdon, whom she seemed faintly to amuse. "It's only Mr. Blacklock. Mr. Blacklock, my wife."

I bowed; she looked coldly at me, and her slight nod was more than a hint that she wished to be left alone with her husband.

I said to him: "Well, I'll be off. Thank you for——"

"One moment," he interrupted. Then to his wife: "Anything special?"

She flushed. "No—nothing special I just came to see you. But if I am disturbing you—as usual——"

"Not at all," said he. "When Blacklock and I have finished, I'll come to you. It won't be longer than an hour—or so."

When we were seated again Langdon, after a few reflective puffs at his cigarette, said: "So you're about to marry?"

"I hope so," said I. "But as I haven't asked her yet, I can't be sure." For obvious reasons I wasn't so enamored of the idea of matrimony as I had been a few moments before.

"I trust you're making a good marriage," said he. "For you may be [illegible] clear sight thing to make one feel he wasn't wholly an ass."

"Very sensible," I replied with emphasis. "I want the woman. I need her."

He inspected the coal of his cigarette, lifting his eyebrows at it. Presently he said: "And she?"

"I don't know how she feels about it—as I told you," I replied curtly. In spite of myself, my eyes shifted and my skin began to burn. "By the way, Langdon, what's the name of your architect?"

"Wilder and Marcy," said he. "They're fairly satisfactory, if you tell 'em exactly what you want and watch 'em all the time. They're perfectly conventional and so can't distinguish between originality that's artistic and originality that's only bizarre. They're like most people—they keep to the beaten track and fight tooth and nail against being drawn out of it and against those who do go out of it."

"I'll have a talk with Marcy this very day," said I.

"Oh, you're in a hurry!" He laughed "And you haven't asked her. You remind me of that Greek philosopher who was in love with Lais. They asked him: 'But does she love you?' And he said: 'One does not inquire of the fish one likes whether it likes one.'"

I flushed. "You'll pardon me, Langdon," said I, "but I don't like that. It isn't my attitude at all toward—the right sort of women."

He looked half-quizzical, half-apologetic. "Ah, to be sure," said he. "I forgot you weren't a married man."

And so I left him, with a look in his eyes that came back to me long afterward when I realized the full meaning of that apparently almost commonplace interview.

The same day I began to plunge on textile, watching the market closely, that I might go more slowly should there be signs of a dangerous break—for no more than Langdon did I want a sudden panicky slump. The price held steady, however, but I, fool that I was, certain the fall must come, plunged on, digging the pit for my own destruction deeper and deeper.

TWO "PILLARS OF SOCIETY."

I was neither seeing nor hearing from the Ellerslys, father or son, but as I knew why, I was not disquieted. I had made them temporarily easy in their finances just before that dinner, and they, being fatuous, incurable optimists, were probably imagining they would never need me again. I did not disturb them until Monson and I had got my education so well under way that even I, always severe in self-criticism and now merciless, was compelled to admit to myself a distinct change for the better.

When my education seemed far enough advanced, I sent for Sam. He, after his footless fashion, didn't bother to acknowledge my note. His margin account with me was at the moment straight; I turned to his father. I had my cashier send him a formal type-written letter informing him that his account was overdrawn and that we "would be obliged if he would give the matter his immediate attention." The note must have reached him the following morning, but he did not come until, after waiting three days, "we" sent him a sharp demand for a check for the balance due us.

A pleasing, aristocratic-looking figure he made as he entered my office, with his air of the man whose hands have never known the stains of toil, with his manner of having always received deferential treatment. There was no pretense in my curt greeting, my tone of "despatch your business, sir, and be gone;" for I was both busy and much irritated against him. "I guess you want to see our cashier," said I, after giving him a hasty, absent-minded hand-shake. "My boy outside will take you to him."

The old do-nothing's face lost its confident condescending expression. His lip quivered, and I think there were tears in his bald, dim, gray-green eyes. I suppose he thought he had a profoundly pathetic case; no doubt he hadn't the remotest conception what he really was—and no doubt, also, there are many who would honestly take his view. As if the fact that he was born with all possible advantages did not make him and his plight inexcusable.

"No, my dear Blacklock," said he, changing now as easily as he had condescended—how to cringe and bow to condescend are taught at the same time—the one he had come to all his life. "It's you I want to talk with. And frankly, I owe you an apology. I who was never trained to business methods I've always been like a child in those matters."

"You frighten me," said I. "The last 'gentleman' who came throwing me off my guard with that plea was shrewd enough to get away with a very large sum of my hard-earned money. Besides"—and I was laughing, though not too good-naturedly—"I've noticed that you 'gentlemen' become vague about business only when the balance is against you. When it's in your favor, you manage to get your minds on business long enough to collect to the last fraction of a cent."

He heartily echoed my laugh. "I only wish I were clever," said he. "However, I've come to ask your indulgence. I'd have been here before, but those who owe me have been putting me off. And they're of the sort of people whom it's impossible to press."

"I'd like to accommodate you further," said I, shedding that last little hint as a cliff sheds rain, "but your account has been in an unsatisfactory state for nearly a month now."

"I'm sure you'll give me a few days longer," was his easy reply, as if we were discussing a trifle. "By the way, you haven't been to see us yet. Only this morning my wife was wondering when you'd come. You quite captivated her, Blacklock. Can't you dine with us to-morrow night—no, Sunday—at eight? We're having in a few people I think you'd like to meet."

ROD AND GUN.

Arthur Decker, the young son of "Anse" Decker, the well known Lake Hopatcong guide, hauled a sixteen-pound catfish from the lake near Raccoon island last Friday. It stands as the record fish for the inland water sheet and is all the more remarkable from the fact that the boy is only twelve years old. It took him forty-five minutes to land his prize.

WORLD'S BASEBALL SERIES.

Championship Games Will Begin in Chicago Today.

Chicago, Oct. 9.—Preliminary to the world's championship baseball games which begin here today, members of the National Commission, members of the Chicago National and American League teams, the umpires, and others directly concerned, met here yesterday.

Rules governing the series and the importance of preserving decorum on the field were among the matters thoroughly discussed.

The advance sale of seats indicates that a record crowd will be present when play is begun in the National League Park at 2:30 p. m. today. Anticipating that thousands must be turned away from the gates, two local newspapers have leased several of the largest halls in the city where those disappointed at the park may receive by wire prompt reports of every play made.

The two teams are in remarkably good condition. The Nationals will go into the field with their line-up intact, with the exception of centre fielder Slagle, whose place will be taken by Arthur Hoffman. It is believed that shortstop Davis of the White Sox will be able to appear in Comiskey his regular team.

WADDELL MAKES RECORD.

Strikes Out Sixteen Men in Game at Hartford.

Hartford, Oct. 9.—Striking out sixteen men in nine innings, eight of them being in consecutive order, "Rube" Waddell, "Connie" Mack's pitcher, established what is believed to be the season's record for nine innings in the exhibition game here yesterday afternoon for the benefit of a free bed for workingmen in the tuberculosis hospital, Philadelphia defeating Washington, 2 to 0.

Waddell struck out every man on the Washington team at least once, and he made Smith, the Senator's first baseman, fan the air four times. There were a few features, aside from his pitching and the good throwing to second base of both catchers. Hickman was the only man to get a hit off Waddell, singling in the fourth inning and again in the sixth. A large crowd, including Mayor Henney and the heads of the city commissions, attended the game.

BASKETBALL LEAGUE.

Interscholastic Combination Reorganizes, With P. H. S. Boy as the Head.

The Interscholastic Basketball league was reorganized at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon. Plainfield High School, North Plainfield High School and Leal's entering as last year. Bertram Leggett, of P. H. S., was elected president, and Physical Director Listman, of the Y. M. C. A., secretary.

Last year's rules were continued. Each team will play three games with the other two, all games taking place at the Y. M. C. A. Players must be registered thirty days before the first game. The schedule will be fixed up at another meeting.

A prize will be given to the winning team, and medals will be awarded the individuals on the five.

HORSE SHOW ENTRIES WILL CLOSE TONIGHT.

Exhibition to Be Held at Riding and Driving Club Park Saturday.

Entries for the horse show to be held at the new show grounds of the Plainfield Riding and Driving Club on Saturday will close tonight at the Casino. There promises to be a larger number of entries and each class will probably have a full list. This will be strictly a local show and is held for the purpose of encouraging owners of fine horses to exhibit them. Heretofore, many local owners have refrained from entering the annual show in this city because of the numerous out-of-town entries of thoroughbred stock. As a result the local interest has been a little lax.

The officers of the club realizing that there are a number of fine horses here have sought to encourage an exhibition of them and for the purpose of stimulating rivalry the owners of horses in towns between Elizabeth and Somerville and New Brunswick have also been invited to compete for honors. Horses which have won blue ribbons at other shows are barred from exhibition on Saturday and this should bring out a strong list as there are any number of horses who have not taken ribbons before. It is expected that a large number of Plainfield and North Plainfield horses will be entered. Another feature that will tend to bring out a large crowd of spectators is the popular price which includes admission and a seat in the grandstand and parking spaces will be free to those driving to the grounds. The show will offer an exceptional opportunity to see the handsome grounds and buildings under most favorable conditions.

BUNCH OF SCRAPPERS BAGGED BY BOROUGH COPS.

They Were Having a High Old Time at 1 O'clock in the Morning.

The neighborhood in the vicinity of Greenbrook road near Duer street was aroused from slumber shortly after 1 o'clock this morning by a racket that sounded mid-way between a Hearst mass meeting and a pile driver at work. There was an occasional sound as though a fist had swung through the air and landed on something or somebody, and now and then a yell like a Comanche Indian's would rise up. The noise brought Marshals Flack and Pope on the run and from a distance they made out four figures having a rough-and-tumble in an open lot.

The cops executed a flank move and captured the quartette while two of them were locked in a strangle hold and the others were practicing "Bob" Fitzsimmon's new left hook jab. They were escorted to police headquarters where they described themselves as Frank Swackhamer, Al Emmons, Joseph Farley and William Williams. They were still behind the bars at noon awaiting trial.

LONG JURY CASE IN THE DISTRICT COURT.

Siche Gas Co. Against W. W. Warnock Takes Up Almost All the Session.

The suit of the Siche Gas Company against W. W. Warnock, the West Front street baker, on contract, took up practically all the session of the District Court this morning, and was just closing when the noon adjournment was taken. The company sues for payment on a machine installed in Mr. Warnock's shop, which he will have nothing further to do with. Mr. Warnock claims that Louis Arnett, manager of the Siche Company, guaranteed the machine to reduce his light bills, and that, as it didn't, he was not required to keep or pay for the outfit. Mr. Arnett claims he did not guarantee a lower bill, and that the excess in the cost came, not from the machine, but from the antiquated system of piping in the Warnock place.

The case was tried before a jury. Both sides had finished at noon, and when court reconvened at 2 o'clock, the lawyers, former Judge W. A. Codington, for the plaintiff, and V. W. Nash, Jr., for the defendant, summed up.

The cases disposed of are as follows: Anna A. Ginn against George E. Collins, on contract, judgment for plaintiff; Millswood Farms Dairy against W. A. Lord, on contract, judgment for plaintiff; Niles-Bement-Pond Co. against Michael Armstrong, on contract, judgment for plaintiff; Antony Morelli, agent, against Emma L. Codington, landlord and tenant, settled.

SOMERSET CO. G. O. P. CONVENTION ON OCT. 20.

Chairman Joseph S. Frelinghuyen Issues the Usual Call.

Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, chairman of the Somerset County Republican Executive Committee, has issued the call for the county convention, which will be held in Somerset Hall, Somerville, on Saturday, October 20, for the nomination of candidates for Member of Assembly and Coroner.

There are several Assembly aspirants, although there is a sentiment in some parts of the county for the renomination of Irving W. Hoagland, of Franklin Park, who has served two terms. It is understood he can be the candidate if he desires the honor. If not, William W. Smalley, of Bound Brook, and Clarence E. Case, of Somerville, may get it. Mr. Case is the law partner of former Congressman Alvah A. Clark.

DR. CARROLL'S CENSUS OF THE METHODISTS.

In Proportion to Population, Greatest in Delaware.

The Rev. H. K. Carroll, of North Plainfield, statistician for the Methodist Episcopal church in America, has just completed a compilation of the census of Methodists in this country. The result, Dr. Carroll says, shows that Delaware "is the most Methodist State in the Union, having one Methodist to every nine persons in the State."

In New York State, on the basis of the Conference reports on membership, there are 313,135 members of the denomination—more in point of membership than in any other State of the Union. Pennsylvania has 309,122, Indiana 203,307, Iowa 152,260, Michigan 114,398, New Jersey, 105,529, Kansas 104,358 and Illinois 225,266.

SOMERSET MAY VOTE TO ABOLISH FREEHOLDERS.

Proposition To Be Submitted to the People at the Coming Election.

The voters of Somerset county will be called upon at the next general election to decide whether the old Board of Freeholders is to be abolished and the county governed by commissioners. A petition has been filed with the County Clerk, demanding that the question be submitted to the voters. It is argued that several counties of the State have tried the new form of government with success.

The Board of Freeholders, as now constituted, is composed of eleven members, whereas, if the proposition to abolish the board is indorsed only three commissioners will be chosen.

Mr. Martine will speak early in the meeting. He has prepared some hot shot for Congressman Fowler and the Democrats at the meeting will have something to shout over.

The chief orator of the evening will be Col. Edwin Stevens, of Castle Point, Hoboken. The Stevens have been in politics in New Jersey since Revolutionary days. Col. Stevens will probably be the party's choice for United States Senator.

—Will F. Williams, of Westervelt avenue, is again at his place of business after a week's illness with malarial fever.

GIBBONS ON CAMPAIGN.

Compares Christian Race With Political Fight.

Baltimore, Oct. 9.—Taking for his theme "The Race for the Kingdom of Heaven," Cardinal Gibbons in his sermon Sunday made reference to the Presidential campaign. He said:

"In Washington a few months ago I had the honor of conversing separately with six distinguished statesmen, all of whom are available candidates for the Presidency. I found them all in a receptive mood, and any of them, in my judgment, would fill the office with credit to himself and with honor to his country."

Referring to the campaign, he said:

"All the candidates will be compelled to stand on the pillory to be lashed with the scourge of vituperation. Their family records will be searched and all their shortcomings and those of their forefathers will be laid bare. And if the record is not dark enough it will be blackened by the brush of calumny.

"Oh, my brethren, if you and I were to endure so much for the crown of eternal glory we would be regarded as idiotic or fanatical."

The cardinal then drew comparisons between the rewards of those who win the kingdom of heaven and those who gain earthly honors.

Boy Shot Big Eagle.

Bridgeton, Oct. 9.—William Fralinger, a boy, living on Irving avenue, this city, shot an eagle Sunday which measured six feet six inches from tip to tip. The huge bird was carrying off a chicken, and Fralinger shot it, injuring a wing, so that it could not fly. When the eagle landed it savagely attacked the boy, and he had to kill it in self-defense.

DEMOCRATS ALL ON EDGE

Eagerly Awaiting the Big Meeting at the Theatre Tonight.

HETFIELD CHAIRMAN

Induced to Accept the Honor This Morning—Long List of Vice Presidents Announced by Committee.

All plans for the big Democratic mass meeting at the New Plainfield theatre tonight were completed this morning, and the energized Democrats rested on their oars and prayed for good weather. The meeting will be the biggest bolt of the campaign, and they hope to start the fight for a rousing vote in this city with a display of enthusiasm that will freeze the soles of all Republican feet.

Walter L. Hetfield, Sr., was induced, this morning, to act as chairman. Mr. Hetfield was the first choice of the Democratic City Committee for the post, but he asked that somebody else be secured, and efforts were made to find another Democrat of high and impressive standing for the central position on the platform. They were numerous enough, but none of them desired to take the burden of the chairmanship on their shoulders, and the committee finally insisted that Mr. Hetfield accept the honor.

The following list of vice presidents was given out by the committee this morning:

William M. Sanford, Frederick Sandford, John J. Kenney, Albert G. Thorn, Thomas Hughes, Thomas Callahan, Joseph Blimm, Sylvester Sharkey, Dr. C. M. Luckey, George H. Alcorn, William A. Coddington, DeWitt C. Ivins, Joseph Harrigan, James P. Homan, Leonard Spangerburg, Joseph Hawkins, J. V. F. Dilts, James B. Guttridge, John Ross, Lewis Ross, Adam C. Hill, Fred W. Yates, William Martine, Peter H. Latourette, Lewis G. Timpson, A. H. Atterbury, William C. Boone, Joseph Shepherd, M. D. O'Keefe, Frank Shattle, Frank McInerney, John Gaffney, William H. Harding, Stephen Schleif, Frederick Endress, Arthur P. Gallup, M. Lechtentritt, Albert Lederer, John F. Casey, P. J. Reville, Charles DeGraw, John Kinniery, John O. Stevens, George O. Stevens, Edward McCue; North Plainfield, William L. Saunders, John H. Van Winkle, Andrew Love, Sr., S. S. Swackhamer, David Carney, Andrew Kenney, Elston M. French, Charles H. Lyman.

Good music and oratory aplenty will be enjoyed by the assembled voters. The regular theatre orchestra will play, and all the speakers who have been announced will be on hand. The issues of the campaign, National, State and county, will be presented by James E. Martine, Col. Edwin Stevens, Senator James F. Minturn, James A. Hamill, and the assembly candidates, Hague, Desmond and Coulter.

VERDICT, $7,645.13.

L. V. R. R. Must Pay Damages to Fanwood Man.

After six hours' deliberation the jury in the damage suit of James E. Goodman, of Fanwood township, against the Lehigh Valley Railroad, came in at Elizabeth at 11 o'clock last night with a verdict of $7,645.13 for the plaintiff.

Mr. Goodman sued the railroad company, claiming that as the result of sparks from a locomotive his barns were set on fire and destroyed and he sought to recover damages. The trial lasted several days and was bitterly contested.

Skating Rink Opens Saturday.

The members of Co. K will open their skating rink at the armory on Saturday night, under the direction of the ways and means committee, consisting of Corporal Conkling, First Sergeant Charles Peterson, Sergeant Alfred Tranchand and Corporals Clarence Bilyeu and Arthur Phillips. The committee has purchased 150 pairs of up-to-date roller skates. It is proposed to have skating three nights a week and the ways and means committee will delegate different members of the company to take charge.

Report of State Conference.

The October business meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union will be held in the rooms on Madison avenue, tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, at which time Mrs. T. C. Bodine, who attended the recent State convention of the Union, will give a report of that conference.

Will Conduct Bowling Alleys.

"Lou" Wiltse, of this city, the well-known baseball pitcher, has leased the bowling alleys connected with the Somerset Hotel, Somerville, and will conduct them during the winter. As a result of his change in business Mr. Wiltse will move to Somerville.

STEWARDS ELECTED BY WATCHUNG HUNT CLUB

NEW CLUB HOUSE NEAR ISELIN WILL OPEN TOMORROW.

Most of the very long session held by the Watchung Hunt Club at its annual meeting, at the Casino, last night, was devoted to the reading and adoption of new by-laws. The following board of stewards were chosen:

Charles D. Freeman, Iselin; S. A. Cruikshank, Plainfield; Henry A. Bourne, Westfield; Eads G. Schmidt, Morristown; C. E. S. Bellows, Plainfield; Louis G. Treadwell, New York; Chauncey B. Sayre, South Orange; Charles W. Fisk, Plainfield; George C. White, Glen Ridge; Lewis E. Waring, Dr. M. O'M. Knott, Plainfield. The stewards will elect their officers at the next meetin.

The new club house, at Iselin, will be opened tomorrow, for the reception of members and guests. A tea will be held after a run. L. G. Treadwell, E. S. Savage and W. de la R. Anderson are on the house committee.

The club stables will be completed in a short time. Competent men will have them in charge, and hunters will be cared for and exercised there. A shed will be provided for traps, and a separate entrance and parking space for automobiles.

When things get to running according to the full plans of the club, a bus will be run by the organization between the club house and Iselin station, which is about a mile away.

LOCAL HORSE SHOW WILL NOT BE HELD

LACK OF INTEREST AMONG HORSE-OWNERS KILLS THE PROJECT.

Convinced that the exhibition could not be made as big a success as was at first hoped for, the Riding and Driving Club abandoned its plans for the local horse-show last night. Lack of sufficient interest among horse-owners was officially stated as the reason for the death of the project.

The exhibition was voted out at a meeting of the directors held at the Casino. There was a long discussion before definite action was taken, but early in the session it was seen that no other step would be wise.

The show was to have been held Saturday. There were entries enough after a fashion, but they were received in such a way as to kill the prospects of the show as a spectacle. Between forty and fifty entries were filed, but they were not sufficiently diversified to promise any interest at the ringside. The same horses were entered in several classes, and the spectators would have found a monotonous sameness about the exhibition that could only have evoked criticism.

With the local show off their minds, the members have turned all their thoughts to plans for the fourth annual big show next spring. The show will be even bigger than the one of last spring. In anticipation of it, the club has begun to plan the erection of more stables.

Fine Performance by "Gossip."

In the story of the Morristown Field Club horse show on Monday, reference was made to the hunt club competition in which two teams were entered by the Watchung Hunt Club, of this city. There was an impression that the local horses made a poor showing, when in fact "Gossip," ridden by C. E. S. Bellows, was the only horse that took the jumps clear and clean, and both the rider and horse received favorable comment for the performance. The muddy condition of the ring was a barrier to good work on the part of some of the horses entered.

Young Couple Quietly Wedded.

Samuel J. Bowden, Jr., of West Front street, and Miss Bertha Mercier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mercier, of Bergen street, were quietly married, yesterday noon, by Rev. L. R. Howard, pastor of Hope chapel. The ceremony was performed at his home and was attended only by the necessary witnesses. Following a short sojourn at Atlantic City, Mr. and Mrs. Bowden will make their home in the West End. The groom is a machinist by trade.

Franklin Council to Celebrate.

Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., will celebrate its twentieth anniversary in Junior Hall tomorrow night, with a special programme. The council, the oldest in the city, was organized on October 6, 1887, and has steadily increased in membership and influence ever since. Owing to the fact that the anniversary date this year fell on Saturday, it was decided to celebrate on the next meeting night.

ANOTHER VICTIM AT THE FANWOOD "HOODOO" SPOT

MAN BELIEVED TO BE JOHN PINTON KILLED BY ROYAL BLUE EXPRESS.

Stepping out of the way of a freight train directly in front of a Royal Blue express, John Pinton, of either Newark or Berwick, Pa., was instantly killed at the "hoodoo" spot near the Fanwood station, at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was struck by the engine and thrown beneath the wheels almost before he realized his danger. The head was severed from the body and it was otherwise badly mangled.

The name of the victim was learned from cards and lodge books found in the pockets of his clothing. They showed that he had recently lived at Berwick and that if he had not resided at Newark he had been there but a short time ago. He wore a gray suit of good material, nearly new patent leather shoes, two suits of underwear and other clothing of good material. Because of the decapitation it was impossible to tell anything about his age but from a picture taken recently and found in the clothes it has been judged at forty.

Pinton was seen walking up the track carrying an umbrella over his head, as it was raining at the time, and when about 100 yards east of the station, he noticed the freight approaching. Without looking about to see what he was doing he stepped over to the west bound passenger track and was hit. The spot is where four men have been killed in less than a year.

SOMERSET FREEHOLDERS HOLD ROUTINE MEETING.

Favorable Report On Application to Mark Line Between North Plainfield and Warren Townships.

At the regular meeting of the Somerset county Board of Freeholders, yesterday, the committee entrusted with the application to establish the line between North Plainfield and Warren townships, reported that favorable action had been taken. At its request, it was ordered that the counsel of the board proceed to have commissioners appointed to survey and mark the division. This action will be taken at once.

The New York and New Jersey Telephone Company applied for permission to lay conduits for cables under the county road in Bernardsville. Messrs. Bunn, Philhower, Baird and the counsel were appointed to have a contract drawn up for adoption by the board. The application of the same company to lay conduits on the Elm street bridge, this city, was reported favorably. The committee on the Somerville and North Branch road reported favorable action on the Somerville Water Company's application to lay pipes along the thoroughfare.

The bill of $10 from J. H. Cooley, of the borough, for clerical services to the County Board of Taxation, was tabled. The board will meet Friday morning at 10:30 at the Abrams bridge in Montgomery township.

HERSH & BRO. TO BUILD IN PARK AVE. NEAR R. R.

Grocers Purchase Strip of Land from Boice, Runyon & Co.

L. F. Hersh & Brother, wholesale grocers of Elizabeth and this city, have purchased a strip of land of the Boice, Runyon & Co., on Park avenue, adjoining the railroad, and they propose to erect a four-story building on the site where they will conduct a wholesale grocery business. The firm originally purchased the property at West Second street and Central avenue, and had plans prepared for the erection of a building there. Difficulty in arranging for a railroad siding led to a change of location.

It is understood that the West Second street property is part of the consideration in the deal with Boice, Runyon & Co. Inquiry at the office of the company brought forth a denial that it had any dealings with the grocery firm or had sold it a foot of land, but from another source it was ascertained that the deal was effected by John G. MacLaughlin, who was also the agent for The Plainfield Trust Company, adjoining the Stirling building, where its office will be moved and a driveway to and from the coal and lumber yards will be located.

Judge Cut Claim Down.

A six-man jury in the District Court awarded Aleck Kane, the second-hand lumber dealer, $17 in his suit against William Bohl. Kane sued for $46.03. S. S. Swackhamer appeared for Kane and F. J. Huff for the defendant.

——Lieutenant Berald Olliff, U. S. N., who has been spending several weeks of shore leave at the home of his wife's mother, Mrs. H. M. Runyon, of Arlington avenue, left for his new port at Newport, R. I., yesterday.

THE COMING OF SULZER

What the Appearance of New York Congressman in 5th District Campaign Means.

A REPUBLICAN VIEW

Number of G. O. P. Votes In Plainfield For Farmer Orator Not Likely To Be Unsignificant.

The Newark Evening News, Republican, said editorially yesterday:

"Congressman Sulzer, of New York, is coming to New Jersey to add voice, vigor and vivacity to the campaign in the Fifth Congressional District. He has sent his congratulations to James E. Martine, the Democratic candidate for Congress against Charles N. Fowler, and has offered to speak for him. 'Command me,' he says in the way that Sulzer alone can say it, 'to do anything in my power to further your success in this fight. It is my sincerest hope that you may at last be rewarded for the inestimable and self-sacrificing work on behalf of the party these many years.'

"Mr. Sulzer has given an advance outline of his remarks. He will be delighted to tell the people of the Fifth district Mr. Fowler's record in Congress, and Mr. Martine has promptly accepted Mr. Sulzer's offer. That this subject will be treated in a way to delight the Democratic voters there can be no doubt, and it is even possible that some few Republicans will feel inclined to attend the mass-meetings and hear what the New York Congressman has to say.

"For it ought to be remembered that Congressman Sulzer is a Jerseyman. He was born at Roselle and got his schooling in Elizabeth. He was a Republican in his earlier days, and remained so 'until he got his eyes open,' and then he became a Tammany Democratic politician. He came very near being an anti-Hearst candidate for Governor of New York State at the recent Buffalo convention, and came out of that disgraceful scrimmage with much more credit than almost any other delegate.

"There is abundant evidence that the Democrats are going to make a very vigorous contest in the Fifth this year, whether with success or not remains to be seen. There is in some parts of the district, and particularly in Plainfield, the home of Mr. Martine, a mingled feeling of sympathy and admiration for the man who has so often and so courageously taken up the burden of hopeless candidacy. They hold him to be worthy of better treatment than he has thus far received and do not hesitate to say so. How many actual votes this will obtain for him cannot be foretold, but the number is not likely to be insignificant. The coming of Sulzer, with his impassioned eloquence and burning invective, will undoubtedly add interest to the campaign, and will compel actively on the Republican side."

VETERANS ENTERTAIN WOMEN'S RELIEF CORPS.

Musical Programme and Addresses Combine to Make a Pleasant Evening.

Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., provided an entertainment and social for its auxiliary, the Women's Relief Corps, last night, and there was an unusually large attendance of veterans, their wives and sisters. Past Commander I. L. McVoy was in the chair and had charge of the programme.

There was stirring addresses by Past Department Commander Lawrence, of New Brunswick, and Past Commander Samuel W. Reese, of Westfield. There were vocal solos by Mrs. John Manley, her sons, Alfred and Raymond Manley, and Miss Mary Smith. Mrs. Manley accompanied the vocalists on the piano. A feature were several popular selections by an orchestra in charge of Dr. Berg. There were several encores.

After the entertainment refreshments were served by a committee of women from the Relief Corps and a social hour followed.

Keys, chairman of the Somerset county Democratic executive committee, today issued the call for the county convention, which will be held in Germania Hall at Somerville, Friday, October 18, at 11 a. m. A candidate for member of assembly and another for coroner will be named. Those prominently mentioned for the assembly nomination are former Prosecutor William V. Steele, of Somerville; A. V. D. RAHWAY WELCOMES VOLUNTEER FIREMEN

CROWDS APPLAUD THE LADDIES IN GREAT PARADE.

Sixty-five exempt firemen from North Plainfield took part in the firemen's parade held at Rahway, yesterday, and it is estimated that several hundred Plainfielders were among the spectators. It was the first parade of the kind Rahway has had in eleven years and the town did everything in its power to make it a banner affair. There were distinguished guests from far and near and Rahway did itself proud in providing such a fine demonstration.

There were firemen from Somerville, Raritan, Allentown, Pa., Perth Amboy, Passaic, Atlantic City, Newark, Bound Brook, White Plains, Elizabeth and other nearby towns and the parade was one of the most creditable ever seen in Rahway or vicinity. Each division was headed by a band, while the Independent Fife and Drum Corps, of this city, had a place in line. It is estimated that fully 10,000 guests of private families were in town for the day and the decorations were very elaborate, every house and store along the line of march being handsomely decorated in honor of the firemen. At noon the general committee entertained the officials and guests from out of town in the Woodruff building, where Mrs. Cowie, wife of Admiral Cowie, and Miss Sara Esterbrook acted as hostesses.

After the parade Protection Hose Company served a banquet in the Rahway Opera House; Lincoln Hook and Ladder Company entertained its guests in a large tent and Franklin Hose Company served a banquet in a hall on Hamilton street. Last night Franklin Hose Company celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary, when a concert was given by the Seventy-first Regiment Band, of New York.

Another feature last night was a Venetian festival and open-air ball, which was held in Cherry street. It is seldom that such a grand display of illumination has been seen and Rahway presented a sight never to be forgotten. There are five volunteer companies in the city and all united in arranging the parade and celebration, while George D. Wilson, chief of the department, had general direction of the arrangements.

The borough exempts were under the leadership of Foreman L. B. Bodine and they made a very natty appearance in their neat blue suits.

LARGE AUDIENCE GREETS MACK AND 'ARRAH-NA-POGUE'

COMEDIAN AFTERWARD ENTERTAINED BY THE KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

The efforts of Watchung Council, Knights of Columbus, to bring Andrew Mack to the city, were rewarded by a capacity house at the New Plainfield theatre, last night, when the popular singing comedian appeared with his big company in "Arrah-Na-Pogue." The play deals with life in Ireland at the time of the English oppression and struck a responsive chord in the hearts of sons and daughters of the Emerald Isle who applauded enthusiastically again and again. Mack's singing of "The Wearin' of the Green" with a humming accompaniment, and several other Irish songs was greatly enjoyed.

Following the performance, the council tendered a reception to Mack and members of his company at Knights of Columbus Hall. It was attended by 250 of the Knights, their wives and friends and two hours were passed in a social way. The comedian rendered several songs, Miss Anna Daley also favored, Father Bogan made an address and Armagh O Donaghey and Earle C. Simmonds, of the company, sang and recited. Miss May Smith acted as accompanist.

The committee from Watchung Council which arranged and had charge of the performance consisted of John J. Kenney, chairman; H. P. Greenwood, Francis J. Blatz, John Traynor and Arthur A. Cannon.

OVER $150,000 RAISED BY WOMEN'S AUXILIARY

MISS EMERY SPEAKS AT HOLY CROSS ON P. E. MISSION WORK.

Despite the stormy weather, twenty women of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Board of Missions, Holy Cross church, met yesterday afternoon in the parish house. The meeting was opened by the rector, Rev. George A. Warner, all joining in the litany for missions.

Miss Emery, from the Church Mission House, New York City, was introduced and spoke at length on the inception of the Woman's Auxiliary, its small beginning and its remarkable growth, as well also of its present strength. The first year's special offering of the women at General Convention was $72; at the last General Convention this united offering was over $150,000. Miss Emery pointed out that the antagonism to and the ignorance concerning missionary effort was in large degree due to lack of information.

The Woman's Auxiliary is now doing its best work, not in packing and sending of missionary boxes, nor in contributing large sums of money, but in the educational sphere where it teaches the need of missionary effort, what has been done and the opportunities to be seized. In this connection Miss Emery spoke of the church publication "The Spirit of Missions" with its wide grasp on the missionary field—a publication which a prominent Presbyterian has declared to be the finest missionary magazine published.

At the conclusion of Miss Emery's talk a letter from a worker among the Mountain Whites was read. The contents appealed to the women present in such manner that it was decided to obtain a list of hospital supplies needed and the auxiliary attend to furnishing the same.

It was announced that Mrs. J. Bloomfield Beach had accepted the presidency of the auxiliary with freedom to select her own vice president. Miss Nettie Davis has been selected for the position of recording and corresponding secretary with Miss Pearson as assistant. The treasurer has yet to be chosen in place of Mrs. Beach, resigned.

Wheel Wrecked by Track.

With one of the wheels of his wagon caught in the high guard rail of the trolley tracks opposite Voehl's bakery on West Front street, yesterday afternoon, one of Expressman A. E. Hoagland's drivers turned sharply to avoid an approaching rig. The wheel was ripped to pieces and the driver was thrown out, injuring his shoulder. Mr. Hoagland will file a claim for damages with the P. S. C.

Jury Disagreed.

After a two hours' consideration of the evidence, the jury in the case of the Siche Gas Company against W. W. Warnock, a report of which, up to the time of the counsels' summing up, was in yesterday's papers, were discharged yesterday afternoon, unable to agree. It is said the jury stood seven to five for the defendant. The case will be tried again in two weeks.

GIFTS FOR MR. MANNING

And For the Retiring Secretary's Wife Too at Y. M. C. A.'s Reception.

CO-WORKERS ADDRESSES

William D. Murray, J. W. Gavett and Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck Express Their Appreciation of His Services.

Twenty years of devoted service to the local Y. M. C. A., on the part of J. Harry Manning, who recently resigned his position as general secretary, was appropriately recognized at a farewell reception given in the large hall of the association building, last night. Despite the stormy weather conditions the hall was filled with friends and well-wishers of Mr. Manning, who rejoiced with him in what has been accomplished during his long term and regretted that he has given up his position.

J. H. Manning.

There was a pleasing programme of music by Martin A. Korff and Robert Spier, violins, and Charles Spier, pianist, during the evening, interspersed with short addresses by association workers and the presentation of a handsome gold watch to Mr. Manning, and also one to Mrs. Manning, as tokens of appreciation. The social features of the affair were greatly enjoyed, and the fact that the wives of members were present lent a charm to the reception.

Joseph W. Gavett had charge of the programme, and after a selection by the orchestra, he made a few remarks expressing his appreciation of Mr. Manning and what he had done for him. He also paid deserving tribute to his earnest work for the association, and to prove how vigorously he employed his time he cited an instance at a ball game, in which the association boys were playing an outside team. It was at a critical stage in the contest. Two men were out and the association team wanted one run to win, when Mr. Manning approached Mr. Gavett and asked him if it was time to pass the cards advertising the Sunday afternoon meeting for men.

Mr. Gavett said that he was glad that Mr. Manning was going to remain on the board of directors and still continue his interest in the work. He introduced some pleasantries of a personal nature which were enjoyed by all.

Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck, of Trinity Reformed church, was then introduced as representing the pastors of the city, many of whom were present. Dr. Schenck said it gave him great pleasure to speak on behalf of the ministers. He had never considered the association a rival or competitor, but the church at work. He was also pleased to speak of Mr. Manning because of his character; always kind, courteous, obliging and a true Christian with the spirit of the Master. He thought Mr. Manning excelled in the respect that in his faith was found the efficacy of Christ to save. He possessed a good character and a clean, pure noble life and he hoped that God would bless him in the future even more than in the past.

General Secretary H. A. Cozzens, of the Newark Y. M. C. A., was called upon and said that he considered it a privilege to speak concerning Mr. Manning, whom he had known so long, and he extolled his many excellent traits, impressing upon all that he was a manly Christian.

Perhaps the greatest interest was shown in the remarks by William D. Murray, who expressed the joy and sorrow of the occasion; joy that Mr. Manning had rendered such a noble service and sorrow that he had resigned. He was especially able to speak of the retiring secretary because of the twenty years' service he had been president of the association eleven years. He referred to Mr. Manning's self-sacrificing devotion to young men, and also that it was largely due to his efforts that the present building was erected.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

"De-light-ed!" cried President Roosevelt when in Louisville he was shown the veritable "Cabbage Patch" wherein Mrs. Alice Hegan Rice found Mrs. Wiggs and Lovey Mary. And then the chief magistrate went on to say that he regarded the Mrs. Wigg's life quite as highly as the Simple Life preached by his friend, the Rev. Charles Wagner. Presidential praise is high praise always, but in this the executive is thoroughly in accord with the American people, who love Mrs. Wiggs as they have loved few other women of literature and the stage. As a dramatic force "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" is unique in its defiance of technique in playbuilding and its sheer reliance upon heart interest pure and simple. It is a mine of truest sentiment, it is crowded with types of humble Americans that endear themselves. "Mrs. Wiggs" comes to the New Plainfield theatre tomorrow night.

Lovers of emotional drama will be interested in the announcement that an exceptionally adequate presentation of the favorite play, "East Lynne," will be given at the New Plainfield theatre next Friday night by a company which has been selected with a view to the peculiar fitness of each member for the role assigned. Competent stage management will insure a smooth and harmonious performance and the scenic equipment and accessories will be fully up to requirements.

The appearance in this city next Saturday afternoon and night of Ezra Kendall in a new play, "Swell Elegant Jones," is incentive enough to make theatre-goers sit up and take notice. Never before has Ezra Kendall scored such a complete triumph, or had a part that gave to his versatile talents, as he has in the title role of "Swell Elegant Jones." Critics are unanimous in their praise and predict a long life for "Jonsey." It is just one of those parts filled with pathos and humor that appeals to all classes of theatre-goers.

Modjeska will apepar at the New Plainfield theatre next Monday night under practically perfect conditions. The occasion will be a fitting close to the end of the great actress' professional career so far as this city is concerned. The artiste will be seen in one of her most fitting roles, and will be supported by an uncommonly capable company, the scenic dress of the play will be magnificent, and the large and fashionable audience certain to be present will be prepared to welcome and Godspeed the star with warmth and enthusiasm. It was a happy thought by which the lovers of the best in drama, with almost one voice, decided that Mojeska's farewell tour should be a series of testimonials. In no other way could the real depth of the admiration, not to say affection, in which the actress is held be as definitely and profoundly expressed.

On next Tuesday afternoon and night the stage of the New Plainfield theatre will be the scene of a genuine old-time minstrel festival with George Primrose and his big minstrel company of cemedians, singers, dancers and musicians, depicting negro life in the "land of cane and cotton." Mr. Primrose for this season secured the best vocal talent available, together with an operatic orchestra of first-class musicians, some of the best comedians and dancers in the minstrel realm.

Viola Allen's splendid production of Shakespeare's "Cymbeline," in which that delightful actress will appear at the New Plainfield theatre on Saturday, October 2[illegible] was staged by Frank Vernon, who has produced many of the most important English classic presentations of the last few years, both in London and in this country.

HEALTHY MINORITY DESIRABLE.

It will be a favorite cry with Republican campaigners this year that President Roosevelt must have Congress with him, and the voters will be besought to elect every Republican in sight. It would be no good thing for the country if all the independent voters were stampeded by the appeal. What the country needs—we are not thinking of what would be good for this or that political organization—for the most rational advancement, for the best administration of its business, is a good, healthy and impresseive opposition to the dominant party, whatever it may be, in the halls of Congress. An active and threatening minority is a wonderful safeguard against carelessness and arrogance on the part of the majority.

Judge Scores Man Accused of Attempted Elopement Whose Child Sees Him in Court.

Trenton, Oct. 10.—"Oh, mamma, there's papa!" rang out Monday a childish voice in the Central Police oCurt when William E. Williver was arraigned before Justice Harris, on complaint of his wife, who accused him of an attempted elopement with Mrs. Matilda Bierman.

It was the voice of Williver's little daughter, who had accompanied her mother to the trial. She was too young to understand the plight of her parents.

Justice Harris severely scored Williver for his alleged misconduct, telling him that the police had learned of his record and had also learned that his wife's reputation was the best.

"You are a disgrace to mankind!" Justice Harris declared. "It is a shame that the law does not give me authority to inflict corporal punishment on you."

The Justice regretted that he was compelled to discharge the man because of a lack of evidence. He also discharged Mrs. Bierman and advised her husband to go to the Court of Chancery if he had any evidence against his wife.

After the arrest of the eloping couple Sunday night Mrs. Williver was informed that Mrs. Bierman and Williver were planning for another meeting. She caught them together and attacked the woman. Williver ran away. A crowd of men, women and boys chased Williver two miles, finally overtaking him. He begged for mercy and the crowd allowed him to go when he promised to keep away from Mrs. Bierman.

and he considered it a testimonial to his work.

He said that in his opinion one reason why Mr. Manning had been so successful was that first and foremost he always considered the spiritual work. The work for men was dear to his heart and he knew that everyone would agree with him. At this time Mr. Murray presented to Mr. and Mrs. Manning each a watch and a check for a substantial amount. Both watches are of solid gold handsomely engraved and bear the monogram of the recipient on the outside case. On Mr. Manning's watch was also the association triangle engraved and inside was this inscription: "1889-1906. Presented to John H. Manning by his friends and fellow-workers as a token of their esteem and in recognition of his faithful services for nearly twenty years as general secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, of Plainfield, N. J." This inscription was on the case presented to Mrs. Manning: "Mrs. Clara D. Manning, from the friends and members of the Young Men's Christian Association, Plainfield, N. J., October 9, 1906."

Mr. Manning in responding to all the kind words and the gifts, thanked one and all heartily on behalf of his wife and himself. He said that he had heard that if a man could read the inscription on his tombstone he would swear that he had been buried in the wrong grave. He wanted everyone to know that he was very much alive and that it was due to the directors and workers that success had been attained, as well as to Him who giveth power. He paid a tribute to the new general recretary, Kenneth Robbie expressing confidence that the work would be well done in the future.

Then followed a social time and during the evening Mr. and Mrs. Manning attended by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Gavett, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Murray and Dr. Henry M. Mason, received their many friends and congratulations for future success.

The hall was attractively decorated for the occasion, all of the regular seats being removed and in their place comfortable rockers were used. The platform was decorated with palms, ferns and flowers and large rugs were placed about the hall, together with an arrangement of cozy corners and banquet lamps. This work was in charge of the Women's auxiliary which also arranged for the light refreshments. The committee from the association having charge of the reception consisted of William D. Murray, A. B. Beers, O. S. Rogers, Dr. Norman H. Probasco and George M. Rittenhouse. Among those present was Elkanah Drake, of Newark, a veteran worker in the association.

RELATE FUNNY STORIES.

Novel Form of Entertainment at Faith Chapel.

Under the auspices of the King's Daughters and Ladies' Aid Society of Faith chapel, a social and entertainment was held last night. H. B. Crane, chairman of the social committee, was in charge of the programme and he introduced some novel features. He proposed that each one present tell in five minutes a funny story, something that they had read or seen, and the result was very funny. The various stories kept the audience in an uproar of laughter, especially when one of the young men passed up a lemon as his part of the entertainment.

During the evening there were musical selections by Percy Cannon on an ocarina, anthems by the choir and piano duets by Miss Jeter and Miss Conger. After the entertainment refreshments were served by the women, under the direction of Mrs. Valentine Utzinger.

ETCHINGS OF HISTORICAL PLACES IN NEW JERSEY.

Subjects Selected by the Historical Society for Art Work of the Colonial Society.

In response to an official request from the Colonial Society of America, the board of trustees of the New Jersey Historical Society has chosen the following subjects, which are to be drawn and etched by the artists of the Colonial Society: "Washington's Headquarters," Morristown; "Nassau Hall," Princeton; "Tennent Church," Tennent; "Liberty Hall," Elizabeth; "Old Barracks," Trenton, and the "Dey House," Preakness (once the headquarters of Washington).

Work upon these subjects is to be begun immediately under the direction of Robert Shaw, the American artist, who has just returned from several years' work in sketching the ancient castles of France, Germany and England. The Colonial Society of America has been engaged for several years in making etchings of historic buildings in the New England States and is now ready to take up the work in the Middle and Southern States.

It is purposed by the New Jersey members of the society to give a free exhibition of the etchings that are completed in Newark within the coming winter—probably at the Free Public Library. The etchings are not for sale, being made exclusively for members, but it is purposed to give a complete collection to the Historical Society in each State. At the present election of the Colonial Society these officers were chosen: President, Major General Henry E. Tremain, New York; vice president, the Rev. Dr. Edward Everett Hale; treasurer, Benjamin F. Buck, New York; recording secretary, G. Wilfred Pearce, Newark, N. J.; advisory committee, the Honorable Winslow Warren, president general, Order of the Cincinnati, Boston; the Hon. Arthur Lord, president of the Pilgrim Society, Plymouth, Mass.; the Hon. Joseph G. Cannon and the Hon. John Sharp Williams, Washington.

In connection with the etchings of Colonial buildings in this State the Colonial Society purposes to set forth a sumptuous book upon the prominent part performed by the patriots of New Jersey from the dawn of the Revolution until the establishment of the Federal Union. The letter press of this work will be committed to New Jersey historiographers.

ARRESTS TO PREVENT A TROLLEY WRECK.

"Fast Line" Tired of the Doings of Mischievous Boys Along Its Line.

Abraham Velon and Garret Velon were arrested last week by Constable Quackenboss on a charge of obstructing the car tracks of the Trenton Fast Line, near the power house in New Brunswick. The complaints were made before Justice Housell by the superintendent of the road, Howard Fravell.

Between that city and Trenton the motormen on the "Fast Line" cars have been experiencing all kinds of trouble caused by mischievous boys. It is said to be a remarkable thing that the cars have been running so long without being wrecked.

The motormen have repeatedly found the switches turned, the locks plugged, spikes and other things on the rails and many other things that would be liable to throw a car from the track had they not discovered them in time.

The railway authorities have determined to break up this practice, and after a long wait these boys are the first to be arrested. They gave bail for a hearing.

Bishops' Act Hurt His Trade.

Jersey City, Oct. 10.—Herman Blummer, who kept a saloon at 338 Ocean avenue, was found dead, hanging by a rope from a nail in the back room of his saloon Sunday morning. Ever since the new excise law went into effect Blummer had complained to his friends of the falling off of trade. He was fifty-seven years old, and had a wife and several children.

Attempt on Farmer's Life and Seeming Endeavor to Fire His Barn.

Andrew Maraz, who has a grocery store on Brook street, Boonton, N. J., was attacked early Monday by three men when on his way home and an attempt was made to stab him. Three men who apparently intended to fire the grocer's barn were frightened off later, before they could accomplish their purpose.

Maraz was driving home when he was held up near Parsippany. One of the highwaymen attacked him with a knife. It cut through his coat, but the point struck the hard cover of a book which he had in his vest pocket. The blade glanced off and inflicted only a slight wound.

Just then the lights of an approaching automobile were seen and Maraz's assailants fled, disappearing in the woods nearby.

About midnight Mrs. M. Bowden, a neighbor of Maraz, who was sitting up with a sick child, saw three men acting in a suspicious way at Maraz's barn. She despatched a messenger to Maraz, whose house is some distance from his barn, and he dressed quickly and started for the barn. As he approached it the men ran off. A search resulted in the finding of a bottle of flerosene oil near the barn.

Maraz says he knows of no enemies who would be likely to seek his life or try to damage his property. He is unable to explain the attack made on him and the seeming attempt to burn his barn.

HUNTERDON MURDER MYSTERY CLEARING UP.

Flemington Coroner Believes Skeleton to Have Been of a Newark Contractor.

Coroner George M. Pidock, of Flemington, is now hopeful of solving the horrible murder of the man whose skeleton was discovered, last week, in a heap of cinders at a lonely spot in Asbury Mountain, where it had lain possibly two months unobserved.

The skeleton is now believed to be that of Frank L. Hopkins, of Newark. Hopkins was a member of the firm of Hopkins & Apgar, contractors. July 21 last he left Newark to visit his wife and child, who were stopping with relatives a mile from where the body was partly cremated. The height, size of shoes, color of hair, shape of nose and other points tally exactly with that of Hopkins. He was thirty-two years old. Hopkins usually carried in the neighborhood of $100.

He is believed to have gotten off the train at the junction and started to walk where his wife and child were visiting when he was waylaid. Coroner Pidock said last night that it was his opinion the man had been held up, robbed and taken to the place and burned.

Romance Which Began in Italy Culminated in Marriage.

A romance which began several years ago in Italy, culminated Saturday night in the marriage of Ernesto Cattivelli, of 1106 Clinton avenue, Irvington, and Miss Alicia Vigvoani, of Corte Maggiore, Italy. The ceremony was performed by Justice of the Peace Henry Bossett, at his office in Newark, and the attending witnesses were Emilio Vigevoani, a brother of the bride, and Emilio Machetti, a boyhood chum of the bridegroom.

The bride is twenay and her husband, who is a few years her senior, conducts a store at the address in Irvington given above.

The couple plighted their troth in the vineyards of Maggiore and shortly afterward Cattivelli came to America to seek his fortune. Locating in Irvington he built up a prosperous business, and after preparing a home for his intended he forwarded her money to defray her passage here. Miss Vigevoani arrived Saturday and was met at the dock by her fiance and her brother, whereupon arrangements were made for the wedding. The couple left Monday night on a short trip, and upon their return will reside at 121 Myrtle avenue, Irvington.

Might Mislead Policyholders.

New York, Oct. 10.—A circular letter was mailed yesterday by G. R. Scrugham, manager of the International Policyholders' Committee, to the State Superintendent of Insurance of every State of the Union, informing them that the Mutual Life Insurance Company is sending out ballots bearing only the "administration" ticket to the policyholders of that company in advance of the official ballots. The State insurance officials are called upon in the letter to prohibit the use of these slips by the agents, on the ground that the circulation of them is a violation of the intent of the insurance laws recently enacted in this State, and it will tend to mislead policyholders.

Collapsed While Marching.

While marching with the North Plainfield Exempts in the firemen's parade at Rahway, yesterday, William Krewson, of Manning avenue, collapsed from a rush of blood to the head and had to be carried from line. He was removed to one of the engine houses where medical treatment was furnished him by Dr. Gradek. He was afterward taken in charge by William Debele and J. J. Stahl, who brought him home in a carriage. He has since fully recovered.

PENNSY TUNNELS UNDER THE HUDSON FINISHED.

Big Tube Completed Yesterday, After Record-Breaking Execution of the Engineer's Plans.

New York, Oct. 10.—Never were cheers given more heartily than those which came from the throats of a hundred men standing in the centre of the south Pennsylvania Railroad tunnel under the Hudson River at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when the chief engineer, Charles M. Jacobs, surrounded by his staff of engineers and workmen, announced the completion of the tube in the record-breaking time of fourteen months after the work was begun.

It was a weird and tremendously impressive scene down there in the great electrically lighted steel tube, eighty feet below the surface of the Hudson. Thirty-four men, including Mr. Jacobs, Dr. A. J. Loomis, the heads of the various sections of this and the East River tunnel, and seven newspaper men had entered the air lock on the New York side of the river, after descending the shaft at Tenth avenue and 33d street.

The running of trains through the tunnels may not be accomplished for from eighteen months to two years, much depending on the completion of the terminals. Each tunnel is to be lined with concrete two feet thick, and at the base of the tube steel piles, in sections four feet long, will be driven down, fifteen feet apart, until they rest on rock foundation. It will not be necessary to open the bottom of the tube to do this, as the heads of the tubes, which form the piles, were placed as the tunnel was built, and they will be screwed down in sections until they strike the rock. These will bear the weight of the trains as they pass through the tunnel. There will be only one track in each tunnel.

Routine Business at G. O. P. Meeting.

Only routine business was considered at the meeting of the Union County Republican Committee at Elizabeth, last night. There was a report from the various commitees as to the names of challengers, but as the list was not complete no attempt was made to appoint and confirm it. This will be done at another meeting to be held within a short time. All of the Plainfield members of the committee were present.

P. H. S. Notes.

Clyde Doane has been chosen captain of the Plainfield High School basketball team.

The Plainfield High School team will line up against the East Orange High School Saturday afternoon. The game will take place here.

In Matter of the Application of Vincent W. Nash, Administrator of Amos Moffett, Deceased, For Sale of Land to Pay Debts. | Order to Show Cause.

Vincent W. And it is further ordered, that this order be set up and published in one of the newspapers of this State, as by the statute directed.

CLEANLY WOMAN.
Erroneously Thinks by Scouring Her Scalp That She Cures Dandruff.
Cleanly woman has an erroneous idea that by scouring the scalp, which removes the dandruff scales, she is curing the dandruff. She may wash her scalp every day, and yet have dandruff her life long, accompanied by falling hair, too. The only way in the world to cure dandruff is to kill the dandruff germ, and there is no hair preparation that will do that but Newbro's Herpicide. Herpicide by killing the dandruff germ, leaves the hair free to grow as healthy Nature intended. Destroy the cause you remove the effect. Kill the dandruff germ with Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

THE DELUGE

(COPYRIGHT 1905 by the BOBBS-MERRILL COMPANY)

glad to come," said I, wishing to be rid of him, now that my point was gained. "We'll let the account stand open for the present—I rather think your stocks are going up. Give my regards to—the ladies, please, especially to Miss Anita."

He winced, but thanked me graciously; gave me his soft, fine hand to shake and departed, as eager to be off as I to be rid of him. "Sunday next—at eight," were his last words. "Don't fail us"—that in the tone of a king addressing some obscure person whom he had commanded to court. It may be that old Ellersly was wholly unconscious of his superciliousness, fancied he was treating me as if I were almost an equal; but I suspect he rather accentuated his natural manner, with the idea of impressing upon me that in our deal he was giving at least as much as I.

My petty and inevitable success with that helpless creature added amazingly, ludicrously, to that dangerous elation which, as I can now see, had been growing in me ever since the day Roebuck yielded so readily to my demands as to National coal. The whole trouble with me was that up to that time I had won all my victories by the plainest kind of straightaway hard work. I was imagining myself victor in contests of wit against wit, when, in fact, no one with any especial equipment of brains had ever opposed me; all the really strong men had been helping me because they found me useful. But for my self-hypnotism in the case of Roebuck, I find no excuse whatever for myself.

He sent for me and told me what share in National coal they had decided to give me for my Manasquale mines. "Langdon and Melville," said he, "think me too liberal; far too liberal, my boy. But I insisted—in your case I felt we could afford to be generous as well as just." All this with an air that was a combination of the pastor and the parent.

I can't even offer the excuse of not having seen that he was a hypocrite. I felt his hypocrisy at once, and my first impulse was to jump for my breastworks. But instantly my vanity got behind me, held me in the open, pushed me on toward him. If you will notice, almost all "confidence" games rely for success chiefly upon enlisting a man's vanity to play the traitor to his judgment. So, instead of reading his liberality as plain proof of intended treachery, I read it as plain proof of my own greatness, and of the fear it had inspired in old Roebuck. Laugh with me if you like, but before you laugh at me, think carefully—those of you who have ever put yourselves to the test on the field of action—think carefully whether you have never found that your head decoration which you thought a crown was in reality the peaked and belled cap of the fool.

But my vanity was not done with me. Led on by it, I proceeded to have one of those ridiculous "generous impulses"—I persuaded myself that there must be some decency in this liberality, in addition to the prudence which I flattered myself was the chief cause. "I have been unjust to Roebuck," I thought. "I have been misjudging his character." And incredible though it seems, I said to him with a good deal of genuine emotion: "I don't know how to thank you, Mr. Roebuck. And, instead of trying, I want to apologize to you. I have thought many hard things against you; have spoken some of them. I had better have been attending to my own conscience, instead of criticising yours."

"Thank you, Blacklock," said he, in a voice that made me feel as if I were a little boy in the crossroads church, believing I could almost see the angels floating above the heads of the singers in the choir behind the preacher. "Thank you. I am not surprised that you have misjudged me. God has given me a great work to do, and those who do H' will in this wicked world must expect martyrdom. I should never have had the courage to do what I have done, what He has done through me, had He not guided my every step."

XI.

ANITA.

On my first day in long trousers I may have been more ill at ease than I was that Sunday evening at the Ellerslys', but I doubt it.

When I came into their big drawing-room and took a look around at the assembled guests, I never felt more at home in my life. "Yes," said I to myself, as Mrs. Ellersly was greeting me and as I noted the friendly interest in the glances of the women, "this is where I belong. I'm beginning to come into my own."

As I look back on it now, I can't refrain from smiling at my own simplicity—and snobbishness. For, so determined was I to believe what I was working for was worth while, that I actually fancied there were upon these in reality ordinary people, ordinary in looks, ordinary in intelligence, some subtle marks of superiority, that made them at a glance superior to the common run. This ecstasy of snobbishness deluded me as to the women only—for, as I looked at the men, I at once felt myself their superior. They were an inconsequential, pattern lot. I even was better dressed than any of them, except possibly Mowbray Langdon, and if he showed to more advantage than I, it was because of his manner, which, as I have probably said before, is superior to that of any human being I've ever seen—man or woman.

"You are to take Anita in," said Mrs. Ellersly. With a laughable sense that I was doing myself proud, I crossed the room easily and took my stand in front of her. She shook hands with me politely enough. Langdon was sitting beside her; I had interrupted their conversation.

"Hello, Blacklock!" said Langdon, with a quizzical, satirical smile with the eyes only. "It seems strange to see you at such peaceful pursuits." His glance traveled over me critically—and that was the beginning of my trouble. Presently he rose, left me alone with her.

"You know Mr. Langdon?" she said obviously because she felt she must say something.

"Oh, yes," I replied. "We are old friends. What a tremendous swell he is—really a swell." This with enthusiasm.

She made no comment. I debated with myself whether to go on talking of Langdon. I decided against it because all I knew of him had to do with matters down town—and Monsia had impressed it upon me that down town was taboo in the drawing-room. I rummaged my brain in vain for another and suitable topic.

She sat, and I stood—she tranquil and beautiful and cold, I every instant more miserably self-conscious. When the start for the dining-room was made I offered her my left arm, though I had carefully planned beforehand just what I would do. She—without hesitation and, as I knew now, out of sympathy for me in my suffering—was taking my wrong arm when it flashed on me like a blinding blow in the face that I ought to be on the other side of her. I got red, tripped in the far-sprawling train of Mrs. Langdon, tore it slightly, tried to get to the other side of Miss Ellersly by walking in front of her, recovered myself somehow, stumbled round behind her, walked on her train and finally arrived at her left side, conscious in every red-hot atom of me that I was making a spectacle of myself and that the whole company was enjoying it. I must have seemed to them an ignorant boor; in fact, I had been about a great deal among people who knew how to behave, and had I never given the matter of how to conduct myself on that particular occasion an instant's thought, I should have got on without the least trouble.

TO AILING WOMEN.

A Little Sound Advice Will Help Many a Sufferer in Plainfield.

No woman can be healthy and well if the kidneys are sick. Poisons that pass off in the urine when the kidneys are well are retained in the body when the kidneys are sick. Kidneys and bladder get inflamed and swollen, crowding the delicate female organ nearby and sometimes displacing them. This is the true cause of many bearing-down pains, lameness, backache, sideache, etc. Uric poisoning also causes headaches, dizzy spells, languor, nervousness and rheumatic pain.

When suffering so, try Doan's Kidney Pills, the remedy that cures sick kidneys. You will get better as the kidneys get better, and health will return when the kidneys are well. Let a Plainfield woman tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. O. C. Moore, of 63 Manning avenue, Plainfield, N. J., says: "My kidneys were diseased for years and I also had trouble with my heart. I have endured the severe torture of a backache that comes from diseased conditions of the kidneys and likewise those heavy dull aches in the head. Many nights I have been unable to rest at all, and when I awoke in the morning my limbs would be so stiff and sore that I would be obliged to slide out of bed. When I caught cold it always settled on the kidneys and any little strain or over-exertion that involved the muscles of my back would cause intense pains. I have doctored with physicians at Washington, D. C., and here at Plainfield, but none of their medicines ever did me the good that I got from Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Randolph's pharmacy. This remedy went right to the seat of the trouble, dispelled the pains and aches, corrected the kidney derangement and made me feel like a different person."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New Yor, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Early Morning Scrappers Fined.

The quartette of scrappers arrested in the borough early yesterday morning had been increased to five by the time they were ready to appear before Mayor Smalley last night. The fifth was Jake Sutphen, colored, who slid off in the darkness when the cops appeared but who was caught later in the day. He and the others, Frank Swackhamer, Jack Williams (Joseph Farley and Al Emmons, were fined $3 each. This morning another young man named Jack Haberle, also mixed up in the affair, was arrested by Chief Weiss and gave bail to appear tonight.

Miss Krietling and Miss Mabel Vanderhoef, of West Front street, were among the Plainfielders who attended the firemen's parade at Rahway, yesterday.

GOLF.

Charles A. Reed, chairman of the handicap committee of the Park Golf Club, comes to the defense of the club's system of handicapping by claiming that it practically eliminates all guessing in giving a player a handicap. He contends that with the system used by the Metropolitan Golf Association a player's handicap when once fixed, after considering his three best scores, must remain so for the season, while with the one employed at the Park Golf Club, it is changed as frequently as the player's work warrants, either lowering or raising his handicap according to his play, thus encouraging him to do better work and lower his scores. Mr. Reed is of the opinion that the system used by the Metropolitan Golf Association is purely one of guess and does not tend to increase the interest in the game.

Frank O. Reinhart and W. Lester Glenney will play off the tie this week for the October handicap cup, each returning a score of 81 last Saturday. This match should be of more than ordinary interest as both players are in tip top form.

An additional attraction at the Plainfield Country Club on Saturday will be a best four-ball match in which any active member of the club can take part.

There are no more enthusiastic golfers hereabouts than Alexander Gilbert, who is president of the New York Clearing House Association. Although a member and officer of the Plainfield Country Club, he does not devote his time entirely to playing there. He frequently visits the Park Golf Club to play with friends, and in fact it is not unusual for him to post a score at each club on Saturday, playing on one course in the morning and on the other in the afternoon. George A. Chapman, of the Plainfield Country Club, is another enthusiastic member who plays on the borough course.

FOOTBALL.

The Dunellen football team will have heavy practice tonight and Friday night. The eleven meets the Hamilton Lyceum, of New Brunswick, on the Dunellen grounds, Saturday afternoon.

INTERCITY PIGEON RACE.

Plans Being Made for Contest Between Newark and Plainfield Birds.

Efforts are being made for an intercity homing pigeon contest between Plainfield and Newark associations. At a meeting of the local association last night the matter was talked over and a conference will be held between representatives of both organizations within the next two weeks.

A race of 150 miles for young homers was flown yesterday by local birds from Baltimore to Plainfield, in which fifty-eight birds were entered. In the flight the birds made fifty-five miles an hour. M. B. Mellor took first and second diplomas. The race was a very close one considering the distance, there being only 101 yards per minute difference in the flight of the first and last ones in for five different lofts. The birds were liberated at 7:22 a. m. in Baltimore, arriving in Plainfield at 10:05 a. m.

The record of the flight in yards per minute is as follows: M. B. Mellor, first, 1,576.85 yards; M. B. Mellor, second, 1,567.35 yards; William P. VanEps, 1,564.17 yards; T. D. Wilson, 1,512.78 yards; D. C. Anderson, 1,475.46 yards.

ON EVE OF ELIZABETH FIREMEN'S PARADE

PLAINFIELD EXEMPTS WITH AMITY HOSE CARRIAGE TO BE IN LINE.

Elizabeth stands bedecked with flags and bunting today, awaiting what promises to be the greatest firemen's parade in her history. It will take place tomorrow and from present indications will exceed anything of a similar nature that Jersey has witnessed in years. Plainfielders has taken great interest in the preparations and a conservative estimate places the number of its citizens that will view the procession at 1,000.

For those who have planned to go from here, the train leaving the North avenue station at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning will reach the county seat in ample time for the start. This is scheduled for 11:45 on North Broad street and the route will include parts of the Port, disbanding at a point near Broad and Grand streets. Several hours will be required to traverse the line of march so that those who cannot get away until after the noon hour will not miss the display.

Plainfield's contribution to the parade will be the Amity silver hose carriage, escorted by the Plainfield Exempt Firemen's Association. It has been polished and brightened until it shines as in days of old and is counted upon to attract a great deal of attention. The Exempts will be headed by the Independent Fife and Drum Corps with its full complement of men. A short parade will be held about the city tomorrow before the start is made.

DEMOCRATS MAY NAME A. C. HILL FOR MAYOR.

City Convention To Be Held Either Friday or Saturday. Night.

No call has been issued yet for the Democratic city convention, but Chairman W. L. Hetfield, Sr., said this morning that it would be held before the end of the week. It is not likely to be called before Friday night, and it may be held off until Saturday.

A candidate for mayor is still among the missing quantities of the organization. The leaders say positively, however, that a full ticket will be nominated, even to an opponent of John W. Murray, Jr., for collector.

One of the most interesting things in connection with pre-convention talk is the rumor, which is a little more than well defined, that the councilmanic nominee for the Second ward will be Adam C. Hill. The interest lies in the fact that Mr. Hill was an enthusiastic Colbyite in the late primary battle.

It was voted early in the meeting to offer a cup for the highest average in athletics and scholarship among the boys of Leal's, Plainfield High and North Plainfield High Schools. The details of the prize offer were left to the executive committee. The club has been giving a prize for the best entrance examination paper at Yale among Plainfield young men.

New York Registration.

New York, Oct. 10.—Republican leaders were considerably disappointed with the results of the second day's registration yesterday. The total for the two days, while showing a slight lead over that of last year, was mush less than in the last two State elections. When the polls closed last night 132,052 voters had placed their names upon the registry during the second day, making a total of 355,428 for the two days.

DEMOCRATS FIRE OPENING GUN OF CAMPAIGN

Stevens, Hamill, Minturn and Martine Pour Shot Into Enemy's Camp.

CHEERS FOR MARTINE

Good Sized Audience At Mass Meeting in the Theatre—Attacks on Dryden and Fowler.

Flanked by heavy political ordinance from his home county, Col. Edwin A. Stevens, of Hoboken, appeared before the Plainfield public, last night, as a candidate for United States Senator, at the Democratic mass meeting in the New Plainfield theatre. It was designed as a Stevens meeting, but it looked at one time as though it were a Martine ratification.

There was a large attendance. The orchestra was solidly filled, and City Chairman Walter L. Hetfield, Sr., and his lieutenants expressed great satisfaction over the size of the audience and the cordiality displayed toward Democratic doctrine. It was not by any means, a solidly Democratic audience, as Mr. Martine, who was the only speaker thoroughly conversant with local affairs, readily acknowledged in opening his speech but there was a general air of friendliness about the crowd that warmed the hearts of the speakers.

Four speeches were made. Col. Stevens spoke first, and was followed by James A. Hamill, candidate for Congress in the Tenth District, State Senator James F. Minturn, of Hoboken, and Mr. Martine. Mr. Hetfield presided.

In his brief opening speech, Mr. Hetfield said the meeting was the result of a suggestion from the Col. E. A. Stevens Association, of Hoboken, which is booming the Colonel for the Senate. Col. Stevens, he said, was holding meetings all over the State to meet the voters and talk to them frankly of his aims and political ideals.

Col. Stevens simply and earnestly, without any attempt at eloquent flights. He won the close attention of his audience. In part, he said:

"I am before you tonight as a candidate for the United States Senate. I am asking for your votes for the Democratic nominees for the Legislature, and for such endorsement of my candidacy as shall make it clear to the voter how, in the event of Democratic success, the vote of your representatives in the Legislature will ultimately be cast for this most honorable and important office.

"There could be no doubt of Democratic victory if every men in New Jersey who believes in Democratic principles would vote the Democratic ticket next month; there can be likewise no doubt of the result if only the Strictly Democratic vote can be relied on.

"Let us face the facts. It is not beyond question that if the party commanded the confidence of the people, Democratic victory would be assured, and is it not because the party has not in the past commanded this confidence that it has met with defeat? Why this lack of confidence? Here is one reason. There have been repeated demands in the platforms of the party for the election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people. There is no doubt today but that the people in casting their vote for candidates for the Legislature want to do so with the knowledge as to how these candidates, if elected, will stand as to the United States Senatorship, and yet to date the party has given no assurance, and has provided or attempted to provide no means for giving it. I ask you does such failure invite confidence? An endeavor is being made to secure such action as would make the party mind clear in this matter.

"Whether I be or be not the candidate chosen matters but little. I can assure you that my candidacy will not be a cause for disunion. The Democracy owes it to the people to name its choice before asking for their votes, and no interest of mine will impede the party in discharging this duty.

"It has been said, and with justice, that I am not so weel known throughout the State as to command the confidence of the people. A word, therefore, as to my views is fairly owing those whose support I am asking.

"I favor an immediate and progressive revision of the tariff. I hold the tariff legislation of the Republican party directly responsible for much of the corruption in public life. This is enough to make its revision

G. HAROLD WHITNEY WEDS MISS WITTKE

REV. DR. GEO. H. WHITNEY, GROOM'S FATHER PERFORMS THE CEREMONY.

Miss Gertrude Wittke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Wittke, and G. Harold Whitney, son of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Whitney, of this city, were married last night at 8:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, "Breeze Knoll," Westfield, in the presence of over 300 relatives and friends from New York, Brooklyn, Orange, Westfield and this city. The ceremony was performed by the groom's father in the new handsome music room, which was elaborately decorated with roses, palms, chrysanthemums and carnations.

The bride's attendants were Mrs. Lee Roberts, of Westfield, as matron-of-honor; Miss Helen Meeker Whitney, sister of the groom, and Miss Margaretta Cruikshank Runyon, of this city, and Miss Katharyn Hill, of Trenton, as bridesmaids, and Lucile Wittke, of Summit, niece of the bride, as flower girl.

Charles Wittke, of Westfield, brother of the bride, was the best man, and the ushers were J. Leonard Beckley, of New York; Leland Smith, of Westfield; Rolland Rice and Louis Wilson, of Plainfield.

The bride's gown was of soft white satin, trimmed with duchesse lace, and she carried lillies-of-the-valley honor was gowned in creme net over light green taffeta, trimmed with lace, and she carried pink roses. The bridesmaids wore gowns of pink messaline, trimmed with lace and they carried pink roses. The flower girl's dress was of white material, with a pink sash and she carried a basket of flowers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held and the couple received congratulations. An elaborate supper was served during the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Whitney are now on their honeymoon and about the middle of November they will be at home at Fairview and DeLacy avenues, North Plainfield.

Tuesday night the bride entertained the members of the bridal party at her home, when there was an exchange of gifts. The matron-of-honor, the bridesmaids and flower-girl each received gold bow-knots with forget-me-knot decorations. The ushers and best man each received a suit case umbrella with a silver handle. The bride's gift to the groom was an emerald and diamond stick pin, while the groom gave his bride a bracelet of diamonds. The bride was the recipient of a very large number of gifts of value.

SANITARY SEWER BIDS TO BE RECEIVED OCT. 22.

Common Council To Award Contract for Southside Sewer.

It is probable that a number of bids will be received at the adjourned meeting of the Common Council Monday night, October 22, for the construction of the proposed southside sanitary sewer. Among those who presented bids at the regular October meeting were the Harrison Construction Company, of Harrison, and W. B. Travell, of this city, and they are sure to renew them.

This improvement, if made, will cost the city several thousand dollars, and will provide for a large section of the city which cannot now be sewered by gravity. In view of the extensive building operations in the southside, Chairman Gloak, of the street committee, as well as the other members of the committee, are anxious to have the sewer installed as soon as possible, provided it can be done within a reasonable future.

The proposed system would require a pumping station and it has not been decided what kind of motive power to use. Several kinds have been under consideration and it is said that electricity is favored over other systems. The continued scarcity of labor and the prevailing high prives of iron will of course bring the expense for the improvement to a higher figure than under other conditions. However, the street committee intends to do all in its power to extend the sewer system. The matter was delayed at the last meeting because of the failture of the city clerk to advertise for bids in the local papers.

Engagement Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Cuthbertson, of 3317 West Huntingdon street, Philadelphia, has announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Frances Cuthbertson, to Frank Nelson Wheeler, also of Philadelphia. Miss Cuthbertson is a sister of Mrs. Charles W. Runyon, of the New Madison avenue, and she has many friends here where she has been a frequent visitor.

COMMON COUNCIL MAY INCREASE THEIR PAY

NOT LIKELY THAT QUESTION WILL BE SUBMITTED TO THE PEOPLE

While it is not probable that the Common Council will take advantage of the new law which gives it the privilege of placing the question of raising salaries of policemen and firemen before the people for a vote, it is said there is a growing sentiment among the members that the salaries of these men should be increased. It is said that a majority of the members will vote for any reasonable increase that may be proposed.

It has been suggested that if the Common Council does not want to take advantage of the law and thereby lose all future control of the salary question in the police and fire departments, it can adopt the same increase provided by the law under the same conditions, which is believed by many to be a fair proposition.

One councilman in speaking of the matter yesterday, said that he thought that the question would be taken up at the meeting of the Common Council Monday night and settled, and by that he intimated that both the firemen and policemen would get an increase of salary, and it would be surprising if the raise would be practically that provided for by the new law and under similar conditions.

Among those who favored the increase at the October meeting were Councilmen Tolles, Gloak, Frank Randolph, Buxton, Tyler, Charles Randolph, Mellick and Montgomery, either by word of mouth or intimation. Mr. Mellick stated that if he was assured that his colleagues would be in favor of an increase without the application of the law, he would be willing to lay the matter over for further consideration, with the understanding that something would be done. He spoke earnestly if favor of an increase, adding that he believed the men were entitled to it.

Counting the members who are generally believed to be in favor of giving the firemen and policemen more money it would seem to be an easy matter to adopt a reasonable change in salaries. Chief Kiely has contented that it is a difficult matter for the department to get men who are suitable for police duty at the prevailing wages, for he reason that they can get more money at the trades or in other lines of work. Every time an examination is held, it is said, there is always a scarcity of applicants for positions on the force, and the same thing applies to the fire department, although men seeking positions there are not obliged to take an examination like the applicants for the police department.

It is said that Councilman Tyler will vote for the increase, in fact he said at the last meeting that he thought the time had arrived when such action should be taken.

The patrolmen argue that if a place like Passaic can give the increase as provided in the law, Plainfield, which is much larger, should be willing to take similar action. The patrolmen and firemen in asking that the people be given a chance to vote on the question did so purely for the reason that it would relieve the Common Council of any responsibility and would be a means of getting a true expression of opinion for or against the proposed raised. The only objections to the law on the part of the Common Council is that it would take the salary question out of their control in the future.

Vaudeville Artists for Fair.

The T. A. B. fair for the benefit of St. Mary's parish opens in Stafford hall tonight. It will embody all the useful features on a large scale and will vary in that a professional entertainment will be given every night. There will be a regular change of programme in charge of E. J. Sheehan, formerly of Plainfield but now of New York. He will present a number of artists familiar to patrons of the Keith and Proctor houses, among them Dan Harrington, ventriloquist; Murphy and Palmer, funny oddities; Miss May Russell, "the talkative lady;" Billy Smith, the Pennsylvania tramp; John F. Clark, wit, song and story; Iva Donnette, "the washerwoman and her dog," and The Great Roltaire, master of magic. Illustrated songs and motion pictures will also be given.

Prize for P. H. S. Graduate.

Russell Stryker, of Bound Brook, a graduate of the Plainfield High School, has been announced as winner of the second honors in the Sloan entrance examination prizes at Rutgers College. These prizes are the most valuable of the college course and consist of $400 scholarships and $100 and $50 to first and second prize winners respectively. The first prize was won by Frank Mason, a graduate of the Rutgers Preparatory school and a resident of Jamesburg.

WILSON HIT BY FAILURE

Plainfield Man Member of Ceballos & Co. Which Went to the Wall.

LOSS IS ONE MILLION

Havana Agent Said to Be Defaulter—Anderson C. Wilson Resides in West Seventh Street.

J. M. Ceballos & Co., Wall street commission merchants and bankers for more than fifty years prominently identified with American trade with Cuba, Puerto Rico and Spain, announced their failure, yesterday, owing to a defalcation amounting to $1,000,000, alleged to have been stolen by the firm's Havana agent, Manuel Silveira, head of one of the largest banking and commission houses in Cuba. The crash involves a Plainfield man, Anderson C. Wilson, of West Seventh street, a member of the Ceballos firm and one of its most potent directors. He is not widely known locally from the fact that he and his family have lived quietly since coming here five years ago. His wife was questioned about the failure this morning but declined to say anything, informing the reporter that it was a matter that concerned her husband and he was absent from the city.

A sensational feature of the failure is that Silveira chartered a steamship, the Carmelina, a Norwegian cattle carrier, and sailed from Havana on October 2 last with $1,000,000 in cash anr property for parts unknown. On board the vessel is Silveira's wife and family.

News of the failure of J. M. Ceballos & Co. was a great surprise to the banking and commission houses in the financial district, where the head of the house, Juan M. Ceballos, is known as a director in many corporations and was regarded as the most aggressive merchant and banker in Cuban-American trade.

In a statement issued from the office of the banking house it was said the liabilities would amount to between $3,00,000 and $4,000,000. The assets consist mainly of sugar enterprises, plantations in Cuba and railroad enterprises of embyronic character. The firm was not a member of the New York Stock Exchange, although ten years ago the firm had Stock Exchange connections.

The assignment was made to William V. Rowe, of the law fiam of Sullivan & Cromwell, and William Nelson Cromwell is named as counsel to the assignee. Mr. Cromwell said the firm had decided to place its affairs in the hands of an assignee in view of the heavy loss sustained by the defalcation of Silveira.

The firm's New York offices are located in Lord's Court, 27 William street.

PLAINFIELDERS' PART IN SUNDAY-SCHOOL CONVENTION.

Miss Edith Cairns and George E. Hall Active at Union County Meeting.

Miss Edith Cairns, of the First Baptist church Sunday-school, and George E. Hall, superintendent of the Park Avenue Baptist church Sunday-school, will have important parts in the twenty-sixth annual convention of the Union County Sunday-school Association at Elizabeth, today. This morning Miss Cairns gave a report of the elementary work and this afternoon Mr. Hall will give a talk on State work.

Miss Cairns was in charge of "The Elementary Conference," this afternoon, and she will conduct a conference of elementary district and townships superintendents from 5 to 6 o'clock tonight. The local Sunday-schools are largely represented at the convention.

PROMINENT IN PARADE.

Plainfield Exempts Make a Fine Showing in Elizabeth.

Plainfield Exempts made a fine showing in the big firemen's parade at Elizabeth today. Headed by the Independent Drum Corps they pulled the old silver-plated Amity hose cart past the cheering thousands of spectators, one of the features of the pageant.

Nothing but parade is heard in Elizabeth. The city is crowded with sight-seers, and a lot of Plainfielders are among them. The line started on its way at 12 o'clock, almost on time to the minute. It took an hour and a half to pass a given point. Mayor Berry and the city officials reviewed it at Union Square.

James E. Martine was in the thick of the crowd and all over the city. The farmer orator has a lot of friends in Elizabeth, and the exempts' know him well.

—Neuman Brothers don't ask you to accept their word for the superiority of their fruit and vegetable display, but they do want you to see it for yourself. Lots to interest you tomorrow.

CITY COMMITTEE OPENS DOORS TO REPORTERS

PUBLICITY IDEAL STILL FURTHER PURSUED BY THE ORGANIZATION.

Future meetings of the Republican city committee will be thrown open to the public, through the newspaper men. At the committee's meeting last night it was voted to admit the reporters to the sessions.

After opening the doors to reporters, the committeemen gave seats to the Colbyite delegates elected by the Second, Third and Fourth warders, disregarding the fact that the reformers were not entitled to sit until January 1. The Colbyites were cordially welcomed, and put to work. There is a desire to show them just how politics is run by the city committee, and they will be kept busy doing chores.

Leaders of the various election districts, for the coming campaign, were selected as follows: First ward, James T. MacMurray, first district; William S. Gloak, second district; Second ward, Howard C. Tracy, first district; E. E. Iremonger, second district; Third ward, G. W. V. Moy, first district; Charles Foster, second district; Fourth ward, Harry C. Runyon, first district; Herbert Buxton, second district; Andrew McCardell, third district. They will all be held responsible for the vote, and the organization leaders are wondering what the ticket will poll in the Colbyite districts.

CHARMING LUNCHEONS AT PLAINFIELD COUNTRY CLUB.

Mrs. Francis Hyde and Mrs. E. H. Booth Entertain.

Two charming luncheons were given at the Plainfield Country Club, yesterday, one by Mrs. Francis DeLacy Hyde for twelve and the other by Mrs. E. H. Booth for nine. Especially attractive were the decorations, autumnal foliage being used with good effect. The prevailing colors were red and green. After the luncheons the afternoon was spent in social chat.

Those present at Mrs. Hyde's luncheon, including herself, were Mrs. Elliot T. Barrows, Mrs. Edward H. Ladd, Jr., Mrs. Walter M. McGee, Miss Munger, Miss Stewart, Mrs. Weir, Mrs. Daniel F. Ginna, Mrs. B. A. Hegeman, Mrs. Babwell, Mrs. James R. Joy and Mrs. Augustus V. Heely.

Those at Mrs. Booth's luncheon were Mrs. A. H. Atterbury, Mrs. DeWitt C. Ivins, Mrs. Frederick G. Mead, Mrs. John B. Dumont, Mrs. William E. Lowe, Mrs. J. E. Corlies, Mrs. W. Brown and Mrs. Waite.

Reception to Bride and Groom.

Mr. and Mrs. James Quackenboss, who were recently married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George MacGinnis, of Somerset street, were given a reception Monday night at their home in New street, New Brunswick. At that time Postmaster Russell and Assistant Postmaster Richardson and the post-office clerks of New Brunswick presented the couple with a handsome kitchen cabinet. John P. White, the oldest clerk, made the presentation speech. As Mr. and Mrs. Quackenboss have just moved into their apartment, the reception was something of a housewarming. After the presentation the evening was spent in listening to a programme of music, after which refreshments were served.

Miss Jessie Bryant, of Wilkesbarre, Pa., and Charles Tupper McDonald, of Nova Scotia, were quietly married yesterday afternoon by Rev. Charles E. Herring, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. They will reside at No. 410 East Second street.

CABINET OFFICER ENLISTED FOR THE CAMPAIGN

Secretary of Treasury to Speak For Congressman Charles N. Fowler.

TWO MEETINGS HERE

Shaw to Address Elizabeth Voters—A Whirlwind Tour for Republican Nominee.

Every nook and corner of Union county is to be invaded by the Republican campaigners between now and Nov. 6, plans having been made for a whirlwind tour for Congressman Charles Newell Fowler and other candidates of the party. Chief among the mass meetings arranged is one to be held at Elizabeth where no less a national light than Secretary of the Treasurer Leslie Shaw, of Iowa, will speak. It is announced that the Cabinet officer of President Roosevelt will address the voters at Jacobs' theatre in the interest of Mr. Fowler, whose services as the chairman of the Congressional Banking Committee, the Administration does not want to lose through any failure of the party in the Fifth New Jersey district to get out a full vote. Mr. Fowler, himself, will also speak at this meeting.

Two meetings have been arranged for this city. The first will be held on Wednesday night, October 23; the other on Thursday night, November 1. It is likely that the New Plainfield theatre will be engaged for the purpose. Mr. Fowler will also be here during the day to meet the active party workers. The reason that so much attention will be devoted to Plainfield is that Mr. Fowler realizes that his opponent is popular in his home town and that a friendship vote is apt to cut a considerable figure in the Congressional here.

In addition to these meetings, the Republican nominee is scheduled to speak in other parts of the county. On Tuesday, October 30, he will start on a whirlwind tour of the county. It is his intention to speak at mass meetings to be held at Summit, Rahway and possible Westfield. He will also visit Roselle, Cranford, New Providence and other commuities.

The Republican leaders say that they feel sanguine that Mr. Fowler will receive at least 2,000 majority in Union county, and the present activity is due solely to the fact that they want him to be given a rousing majority as an endorsement of the National administration and of Mr. Fowler's course as the representative of the Fifth Congressional district.

BACK TO REFORMATORY.

Eugene Britton, Colored, Broke His Parole a Second Time.

Eugene Britton, colored, was returned to Rahway Reformatory, yesterday, for breaking his parole. He was first committed in 1904, for assaulting a white man in the Kensington Hotel barroom with a pool ball.

This is the second time Britton has misconducted himself on parole. He was released for the first time a year ago, but the Reformatory authorities didn't like the way he resumed his old habits and brought him back. They gave him another chance, but Britton failed to change and his third arrest followed.

Van Deventer Wins Tourney.

The Plainfield High School tennis tournament was finished Wednesday on Brigg's court, when Van Deventer won the championship. In the last match of the semi-finals Fountain defeated Doane, 6-2, 10-12, 8-6. Martin was out of the finals by default, and Van Deventer defeated Fountain, 7-5, 4-6, 6-4, 6-2. The committee has not definitely decided on the award, but say it will be either a medal or watch fob. This prize will be awarded at the Christmas exercises.

Trouble Heaps on Haberle.

A fine of $3 was imposed on John Haberle, one of the Greenbrook road peace disturbers, when arraigned before Mayor Smalley in the borough court last night. The amount was paid and Haberle was about to walk away when Roundsman Flynn, of the city force, who had been in waiting, served him with a warrant for another offense. He is charged by his father-in-law, John VanFl[illegible] with disorderly conduct and will be given a hearing tomorrow.

Local Firemen on Hand.

Captain George Feiring, Joseph Clark and Lewis Kelley, members of the city fire department, are among the spectators of the parade at Elizabeth today.

NEW YORK MAN WEDS MISS ANNA A. TEXIER

CEREMONY PERFORMED BY FATHER MILLER IN ST. JOSEPH'S CHURCH.

In the presence of only relatives and near friends, Miss Anna A. Texier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Texier, of Watchung, and John J. O'Connor, of New York, were married in St. Joseph's church, yesterday afternoon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Miller at 4 o'clock.

Miss Emma Kiehl, of New York, was Miss Texier's attendant, and John Nolan, also of New York, was best man. The bride was gowned in white liberty satin with embroidery trimmings. She carried bride roses. Miss Kiehl's gown was of blue silk and she carried carnations. The ushers were William Smith, of New York, and Edmund Texier, brother of the bride. The wedding march was played by Mrs. A. E. LaPorte.

Following the wedding, the bridal party and guests adjourned to the home of the bride's parents, where Mr. and Mrs. O'Connor were tendered a reception. A wedding supper was served and several hours were passed in a social way.

The young couple left last night on a wedding trip that will include Niagara Falls and other points in that vicinity. They will make their home in the Bronx, the groom being engaged in the hotel business in New York. Both received many handsome presents and there was an exchange of gifts among the bridal party.

Usher at Newark Wedding.

F. Rowland Horn, of Willow avenue, was one of six ushers at the wedding Tuesday evening of Miss Carol Elizabeth Underwood, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Finney Underwood, to John Ralph Van Duyne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Van Duyne, all of Newark. The ceremony took place in the Park Presbyterian church and was followed by a large reception at the home of the bride's parents. The six ushers were all classmates of the bridegroom at Lehigh University. He gave a dinner in New York Saturday night in their honor and presented to each an amethyst stick pin.

A Home Wedding.

James Ross and Mrs. Lizzie Dillard, both of this city, were married last night at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. William Ransom, of West Third street. The ceremony was performed at 9 o'clock by Rev. G. W. Bailey, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church, and was witnessed by a large gathering of friends. The bride wore a cream colored albatross gown and carried a Bible. The couple was attended by Hans Mitchell, brother-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. Ransom acted as attendants. A reception followed during which refreshments were served and phonograph selections were furnished by W. M. Layton.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

Mrs. Madge Carr Cooke and the original New York cast in "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" will be the attraction at the New Plainfield theatre tonight. The advance seat sale indicates a large attendance.

The favorite emotional drama, "East Lynne," will be presented by Joseph King's Company at the New Plainfield theatre tomorrow night. Competent stage management, an adequate scenic equipment and complete accessories are promised. The engagement is for one night only, and special prices will prevail.

Ezra Kendall, who will appear in "Swell Elegant Jones," at the New Plainfield theatre Saturday, tells the following story about a poker game: "I had stayed out a little later, than usual, this particular night of my story, playing cards, and thinking to square myself with my wife, I decided to give her my winnings. 'Here, my dear,' said I, 'are forty dollars which I won playing poker over at the club last night, you may have it to buy that new dress you wanted.' Reluctantly my conscientious wife took the money and then said with an expression of rigid recitude, 'I simply shudder at the thought of using money gained in such a way. Ezra promise me that after you have won enough money to buy me a new hat to go with my dress, you'll never play that terrible game again? I don't want my husband to become a gambler.'"

A theatrical event that is attracting the interest and support of the best people of the community is the approaching Modjeska testimonial at the New Plainfield theatre. So assured is this actress' position, both as an artiste and as a woman, scores who visit the theatre but seldom, or almost, one might say, not at all, will join the big throng that will assemble next Monday night to enjoy the revelation of the genius and to show the warmth of their feeling for her in the hour of farewell. Such a tribute has been extended to Modjeska in every city she has visited this season, showing that the public recognizes the great debt of gratitude Americans owe and are willing to pay her for a life time spent in successful endeavor to elevate the artistic plane of our stage. She is one of those who lifted acting to a place among the fine arts and helped the theatre take its stand in the front and most honored rank of American institutions. If there were more Modjeskas—and pity 'tis there's not a single other one—the last trace of opposition to the stage soon would die away.

George Primrose and his all star minstrel company will be the attraction at the New Plainfield theatre next Tuesday afternoon and night. This engagement will emphasize the fact that negro minstrelsy is not dead, as this form of entertainment is entirely an American feature which has gradually drifted away from the ideas of its originators. One of the surest signs of its popularity is that every writer of comic opera and musical comedy introduces negro songs, melodies and dances in all their works, and invariably their biggest hits have been made with these numbers. Knowing that the public wants this form of entertainment, Mr. Primrose was the first to furnish this joyful form of amusement, but with modern embellishments of a kind that enhances the effect. The gaudily bedecked costumes and white-face minstrelsy has seen its day. In its place has come the merry darkey fun intermingled with up-to-date songs and humor, led by George Primrose.

Joseph Murphy's famous play "The Kerry Gow," with Allen Doone, Ireland's sweetest singing Irish comedian in the cast as "Dan O'Hara," is coming to Plainfield. The "Kerry Gow" is interwoven with the most charming touches of nature, brightness and artistic excellence, a true Irish story that is pure and clean and offends none, is interpreted by a thoroughly good and competent company, in every particular amplified to do justice to the play, a delightful story of true Irish life, no unnatural situations. The acting of Mr. Doone as Dan O'Harra is true to life and his portrayal of the warm-hearted Kerry blacksmith is thoroughly artistic. The carrier pigeons, the horse race upon which depends a fortune, and the realistic blacksmith shop all contribute to make "Kerry Gow" a true picture of Irish life. "The Kerry Gow" will be the attraction at the New Plainfield theatre next Wednesday night.

Viola Allen, who, by way of variety, last season turned from William Shakespeare to Clyde Fitch, has returned to the bard of Avon and will be seen at the New Plainfield theatre on Saturday night, October 20, in an elaborate production of "Cymbeline." While the character of Imogene offers an actress of rare and versatile talent a role that is considered by many authorities to be the most human of Shakespeare's heroines, it is one that has seldom been played of late years; and modern theatre-goers familiar with the Juliets, Ophelias and Portias of the stage, know little or nothing of the character which, since the days of Adelaide Nielson, has seldom been attempted by even the most gifted and ambitious actresses.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD

The trolley company, in raising its tracks between here and Plainfield, put a sharp turn in the track near Terrill road, which beats the shoot-the-chutes at Coney Island, and is apt to cost the company something when the summer travel begins. Motormen taking the turn, unless they slow down, are apt to leave part of the passengers laying alongside the track.

Manager Johnston has arranged a game Saturday afternoon with the Suburbans, a combination team composed of Plainfield, Westfield and local players. This will be the last game of the season.

It begins to look as though Freeholder John Robison will have a walkover at the election in November. The Democrats have failed to name a candidate to oppose him as yet.

No tidings have as yet been received of the whereabouts of David Steel, of Alton, who disappeared from his home two weeks ago.

A large delegation of local members of the party attended the Democratic mass meeting held last night in Plainfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Muir, who have been boarding since their marriage, have started housekeeping in Newark.

Mrs. Thomas S. Young has returned from a visit with relatives and friends at Albany, N. Y.

Miss Minnie Hosinger has returned from a visit with friends in Philadelphia.

MARRY, LOSES FORTUNE.

Newport Multi-Millionaire Jealous to Death.

Newport, R. I., Oct. 11.—James A. Garland, a young multi-millionaire, who created a sensation three years ago by remarrying the woman he had divorced, left her the use of virtually all his large estate in his will, just filed in Portsmouth, provided she remains single.

It was said he remarried her because he was jealous of the attentions of others. Before he died he fixed it so she will not be likely to choose another husband.

Upon her death the income of the estate goes to three sons—Charles, James and Hamilton—and upon the death of their survivors to Harvard College for aid of poor students. Garland left personal property worth $10,000,000, and there is much real estate.

Mrs. Garland receives an income of $10,000 a year, provided she does not remarry; also, on the same condition, the use of the fine country place on Prudence Island, in Narragansett Bay.

Miss Steele, of Worcester, Mass., who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Steele, of West Third street, has returned home.

DIAMOND DUST.

Joe McGinnity, pitcher for the New York Nationals, has been engaged to coach the Princeton 'varsity baseball team for '07, and already the Tigers are at work on material for the nine. Candidates were called out this week for light practice. From the class teams which have played a series of games this fall two teams are to be picked, and they will play a number of games. The Tigers won the intercollegiate championship last spring by one of the most exciting games ever witnessed at Princeton, when they pulled a victory from Yale by a two bagger in the ninth inning after two men were out. The score was 3 to 2. The prospects for a championship team this year are very encouraging, as Princeton has lost only three of last year's team. Heyniger, the big sophomore, from this city, who won a great game from Harvard last spring, is back in college in fine trim, having settled all his conditions. McGinnity is paying especial attention to the development of pitchers for the coming season, and has some very promising material upon which to work. He will keep the men at work until snow flies, and they will begin their spring practice in the cage early next year.

Of the large number of young men from this city, who entered college this fall there should be some good material for future 'varsity baseball and football teams, as many of them have distinguished themselves here in both games. George Hooley, formerly of Leal's, who entered Swarthmore, is in hopes of making the football team there.

The loyal supporters of the American League were much pleased that the Chicago Americans took the first game in the world's championship series with the Chicago Nationals. The initial game proved one thing beyond a doubt, and that is the Americans were stronger at critical points. Not a single error was charged to them, while two misplays were credited to the Nationals. Altrock, who has not been considered the American's best pitcher this season, gave a fine exhibition.

The amateur league idea has revived interest in baseball here to a considerable extent and although next season is a good ways off, lovers of the game predict that with a five-club league there will be great interest and rivalry.

There is no question about getting good amateur players for the local teams next year and it will be the means of developing many stars in the National game. All that is needed is an opportunity to show that Plainfield has plenty of promising material.

Plainfield is fortunate in having such a man as Physical Director Listman, of the Y. M. C. A., to encourage baseball and his interest assures a strong association team.

GOLF.

An encouraging feature of the game of golf both at the Plainfield Country Club and the Park Golf Club is the fact that both old and young can be seen playing every week. The sport is not alone followed by the young men and women of the clubs, but older men and women find an equal pleasure in the exercise. A glance through the scores or a visit to either course will prove this statement, and sometimes the older players make as good scores as the younger ones.

Since he gave up the chairmanship of the golf committee and took the head of the greens committee, Leighton Calkins has devoted considerable time to improving the course at the Plainfield Country Club. It is admitted that the course this season has been in the best of condition, which is of course due in a measure to the earnest work of preceding members of the greens committee, as well as that of Mr. Calkins and his associates. This condition is greatly appreciated by the playing members of the club.

Including all classes the Plainfield Country Club has a membership of nearly 800, which is gratifying to the officers and supporters of the organization, especially as it is not what is known as a "Sunday" club. While it is believed that by opening the club on Sunday many more players would be induced to join, it is agreed that under present conditions it is one of the most successful golf clubs in the East. It is doubtful whether the Sunday question will be raised for a long time to come as the majority appear to be against it.

While Plainfield boasts of two good golf clubs, it is quite remarkable that there are not more women who follow the game more closely and enter some of the big tournaments for women. Up to the present time the Plainfield Country Club is the only one which has been represented at the various tournaments by women. Mrs. N. Pendleton Rogers, Miss Maud VanBoskerck and Miss Margaret Goddard have taken part in outside events and made creditable showing, but other women players have never seemed anxious to play in the big tournaments.

The Westfield Golf Club has had better success among its women players, a large number usually taking part in the club events and occasionally in the outside events, and at Baltusrol the club makes a big feature of women playing, encouraging the fair sex to improve their game.

Mrs. N. Pendleton Rogers, who in years past has been a figure at outside tournaments, has not been active this year, and she has been missed from the course. She has played less than a dozen times, not having the time to devote to the game.

NEW RETIREMENT FUND MEMBERS ARE NAMED.

Former Judge William R. Codington, of This City, One of Them.

Governor E. C. Stokes Tuesday appointed the trustees of the Teachers' Retirement Fund under the new act of the Legislature reorganizing the fund. The three non-teacher members appointed by the Governor are William R. Codington, of this city, two years; Addison P. Rosenkranz, Paterson, one year, and Mrs. Frances O. Seeley, Bridgeton, three years.

The Governor also confirmed the nomination of the five teacher members recently named by the fund as follows: Thomas M. White, principal of the Charles Skelton school, Trenton; Addison B. Poland, principal of the Newark schools; James E. Bryant, Camden; Miss Elizabeth A. Allen, Hoboken, and Mrs. Georgia B. Crater, Newark.

GRAPHOPHONE CAMPAIGN.

Hearst Will Use Brass Lungs and Canvas Gestures in New Yor.

New York, Oct. 11.—Arrangements were made yesterday to introduce graphophones and moving pictures into the Hearst campaign. Between now and election eve the special attraction on every village green will be Mr. Hearst talking through the graphophone and in the background Mr. Hearst in action on canvas. Nothing but high power apparatus will be used.

This feature of the campaign was decided on after it became known that the speeches of Mr. Hearst up State had proved disappointing. The farmers had expected to hear a speech bristling and snapping with all the life of a Hearst editorial and they questioned how there could be such a vast difference between Mr. Hearst as a writer and Mr. Hearst as a speaker. So to correct this embarrassment as much as possible the graphophone business was inaugurated, and yesterday Mr. Hearst spent much time talking "hot stuff" into a big brass funnel, while his words were being burned into "records" enough to last until election. After that was done the moving picture machine took him in hand, and everything was ready for the performance on the village green.

TRUST INDICTMENTS.

Federal Grand Jury Moves Against Sugar Kings for Rebating.

New York, Oct. 11.—Eight indictments for violation of the Elkins anti-rebating law were returned by the Federal Grand Jury Tuesday. All of them involve the Sugar Trust, together with trunk lines and their subsidiary companies. Various indictments charge that rebates ranging from two to nineteen cents a hundred pounds were secretly handed back to the Sugar Trust and its subsidiary corporations.

When asked yesterday if these indictments ended the Grand Jury's investigations of the alleged rebating the Federal authorities intimated that the incoming Grand Jury would take up the matter and that indictments for the granting of rebates upon commodities other than sugar were not among the impossibilities.

AFTER THE PACKERS.

Chicago Building Commissioner Will Close All Their Unsafe Buildings.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 11.—Open war was begun on the packing plants at the Union Stock Yards Tuesday by the Building Commissioner here. It is declared that the packers have broken their promises to the city.

A report from building inspectors was made to the Commissioner yesterday showing that the packers have only pretended in a small way to obey the orders of the department given at the original inspection of the stock yards three months ago.

Commissioner Bartzen will make a personal tour of the yards today and will order every building closed where he considers there is any serious danger.

"DEATH TO HEBREWS."

Remarkable Speech of President of Union of Russian People.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 11.—M. Dubrovin, President of the Union of Russian People, made a remarkable address at Odessa Tuesday. He spoke to a band of 300 armed members of the union who had carried him on their shoulders to the railroad station on his departure for Kiev, and said:

"The holy Russian cause is the extermination of rebels. You know who they are and where to find them. Clear the Russian soil of them. Death to the rebels and Hebrews."

SENATOR JOHNSON CALLS ON GOVERNOR STOKES.

Bergen County Man Has Political Chat With the Executive.

Governor Stokes appeared at the State House at Trenton Tuesday shortly after noon and seemed to be much benefited by his few days' rest in the Pennsylvania mountains.

Governor's day at the State Capitol saw only a small crowd of pilitician, but there was a sufficient number to create interesting gossip. Former Senator William M. Johnson, of Bergen, was there and called on the governor. Senator Johnson had a conference with some of the leaders later. It was said about the building now that the United States Senatorship had been setled, the leaders had time to discuss the gubernatorial nomination for 1907. Just how Senator Johnson will figure is at this time hard to determine.

It was said that the reason of Senator Johnson's presence at Trenton was because of the opposition to Senator Dryden in Bergen county. One assemblyman has pledged himself against Dryden. It is desired to fix up matters in Bergen at once.

Senator Johnson explained that his absence from the regular Republican gathering at the State House were due to the fact that he was away from home part of the time past.

Mr. Johnson had read some of the predictions that election day would show decided Democratic gains, but said that he personally did not incline to this belief. His inquiries were directed largely to the conditions in the southern sections of the State and practically all the reports he received were that there was little dissatisfaction among the Republicans of that section.

Governor Stokes expressed much pleasure at seeing Mr. Johnson again and the two had a chat over political affairs.

It was announced yesterday that Senator Minch, of Cumberland, had endorsed Walter Bacon, first assistant United States district attorney, for the county court bench to succeed Justice Trenchard, recently elevated to the Supreme Court bench. This it is believed will settle the contest that has been waged in Cumberland for the position.

There was a small boom for Assemblyman Elvins, of Atlantic county, for speaker of the house. Assemblyman Elvins was at the State House with Senator Minch, of Cumberland county. Mr. Elvins claims the speakership because this will be his sixth consecutive term as assemblyman, and he will be the father of the house in point of continuous service.

There was some talk also of making Senator Minch president of the Senate. Of course both offices will not be alloted to South Jersey.

Governor Stokes left Trenton last night to visit his home in Millville.

Big Mission Meeting.

North Adams, Mass., Oct. 11.—Clergymen and missionaries from all parts of the world are in this city to attend the annual meeting of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, known this year as the "Haystack Centennial Meeting," which opened here Tuesday. Part of the sessions will be held in North Adams and part in the adjoining town of Williamstown, where one hundred years ago, in the shade of haystack, a few men formed the plans which resulted in the inception of the foreign missionary movement. A commemorative monument marks the field where the haystack stood.

New York Flower Exhibit.

In the Botanical Garden, Bronx Park, the Horticultural Society of New York opened the winter session yesterday at one o'clock with an exhibition of rare and unusual vegetables, fall flowers, &c. Rahlias will be a feature.

Miss Viola Allen, who comes to this city next week in a gorgeous revival of "Cymbeline," is the wife of Peter Duryea, a former well known Plainfielder. He resided at Seventh street and Central avenue in the house afterward moved back on the latter thoroughfare. Miss Allen and he were married quietly in Kentucky last year.

David Belasco has announced that his new play to succeed "The Girl of the Golden West" will be "The Rose of the Rancho." It deals with the Spanish settlements in California about the time of 1850. Rehearsals commenced at the Belasco theatre yesterday and it will be produced first at the Majestic theatre in Boston next month. Richard Watson Tully is the author and Mr. Belasco added his customary finishing touches.

Manager Counihan, Miachel Shannon and several friends witnessed Richard Carle's production of "The Spring Chicken" at Daley's theatre, last night. They report it to be a "knockout" with capacity houses at every performance. Because of the success attained by the comedy its appearance in Plainfield has been postponed until late in the winter.

Henry W. Behman, of the theatrical firm of Hyde & Behman, died at his home in New York, Tuesday, of pneumonia, after an illness of about ten days. Mr. Behman was forty-seven years old. The firm of Hyde & Behman control half a dozen theatres in Brooklyn, the Newark theatre, of Newark, and Hyde & Behman's thearte in Pittsburg, Pa.

THE SUPREME COURT HAS REVERSED ITSELF

Two Opinions on the Road Law Which Are Diametrically Opposed.

Lawyers of the State are greatly interested in a curious complication in the New Jersey road improvement law, which the court of errors must straighten out because it involves the remarkable discovery that the Supreme ourt of the State promulgated two decisions that are diametrically opposed to each other rendered within a period of eight months. Attempts to reconcile the two opinions have failed. One of them must be absolutely repudiated and reversed.

The point involved is the liability of property owners along a public road, who petitioned for its improvement under the general road act of 1895, to pay their share of the ten per cent. of the cost of improvement in cases where the work was not completed until after the passage of the road act of 1903, which casts the entire burden of cost on the State and county.

In the case of I. Snowden Haines against the freeholders of Burlington county on certiorari to review a road assessment, the Supreme court held that the act of 1895 was revoked by the act of 1903 and the assessment must stand. In the case of Cortelyou against Anderson involving exactly the same question in Somerset county, decided eight months later, the Supreme Court hold that the road law of 1895 is repealed by the act of 1903. One of the cases will now go to the Court of Errors as a test case. In the first case the late Justice Dixon wrote the opinion and in the second Justice Pitney penned it.

In accordance with Justice Dixon's opinion Mayor Gnichtel in March last sent to common council a message urging that the board of freeholders be asked to collect more than $14,400 of unpaid assessment due for the improvement of road in recent years, some of which were made as early as 1889, and in which the city of Trenton was interested to the extent of seventy-two per cent. Much of this has been collected, and if Justice Pitney's opinion is sustained must be paid back to the property owners, along with other sums collected for road improvements under way in April, 1903.

Capt. Parker Seeks Nomination.

Perth Amboy, Oct. 11.—Captain James Parker, of this city, who was one of the counsel for the defense in the famous Schley court martial, has announced himself a candidate for the nomination for Congress on the Democratic ticket in the Third district. Captain Parker, in a signed statement, gives the platform on which he stands. Among other things he believes in a moderate revision of the tariff.

Public Service Loses Suit.

Elizabeth, Oct. 11.—Another verdict was rendered Tuesday afternoon in the Union county court against the Public Service Corporation. The case was that of Marie Levins, of Elizabethport, who sued for $5,000 damages for injuries which she sustained in trying to board a trolley car. The jury awarded the woman $350 damages and her husband $150 for the loss of her services from the accident.

DOUBT SKELETON TO BE HOPKINS.

Newark Police Chief and Missing Contractor's Partner Think He May Have Gone to Panama.

Newark, Oct. 11.—Doubt was expressed yesterday by Chief of Police Adams, of Newark, and also by Frank R. Apgar, business partner of Frank L. Hopkins, that the charred skeleton found in Asbury Mountain is that of Hopkins.

Hopkins disappeared from Newark last July 26. That morning he kissed his wife and child good-by at their home, 65 South Twelfth street. He went to the office of Apgar & Hopkins, contractors of which he was junior partner, at 25 Green street.

From Apgar and Mrs. Hopkins Chief Adams learned that while the missing man was of a quiet disposition and without any business, financial or domestic troubles, he had acted queerly at times prior to his disappearance.

He had worked hard, they said, often sitting up far into the night after a hard day's work planning new structures. Overwork, it was feared, had slightly affected his mind.

Apgar and Chief Adams both expressed the belief that Hopkins had gone to Panama to better his fortune and did not want to be encumbered with his wife and child.

SCALPED GIRL SUES.

Was In Newark Hospital for Thirty-two Months.

New Brunswick, Oct. 11.—Teresa Burian, a girl of 17, told to a jury before Justice Swayze in the Circuit Court here Tuesday afternoon how she was mutilated for life by having her scalp torn off in the pants factory of Isaac Schienman at Perth Amboy, where she was employed when only twelve years old.

Teresa, by her father, Martin Furian, is suing Isaac Schienman for damages for the loss of her hair and scalp. Alan H. and Theodore Strong, of this city, are conducting her case, while Congressman Marshall Van Winkle, of Jersey City, and Willard P. Voorhees, of this city, represent Schienman.

Teresa told the jury that she was 17 on July 29 last, and that in January, 1902, she worked in the Schienman factory for twenty-one cents a day, and had been working there since the summer of 1901. One day in January, she said, she started to work on piece work, and remained until 7:30 in the evening, working by electric light. When she started to go home, she said, she went for her hat, and the light suddenly flickered down. She slipped and fell, so that her hair caught in a sewing machine. The next that she knew was when she was in St. Michael's Hospital, Newark, where she found that her hair and scalp were gone. She remained in the hospital until August, 1904, when she was allowed to go home. Her life was saved by a process of skin grafting.

The defense claims that the girl remained in the factory after she was supposed to go home, and that she had no business around the machine in which her hair caught. The machine was produced in court to show that it was harmless if properly handled.

Bonuses on Canal Work.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11.—Bonuses to contractors to insure the quick completion of Panama Canal work, now that it has been decided to perform the great task by contract, is one of the recommendations made by Chairman Shonts to the Secretary of War, in which he gives his views as to how the contracts should be let. The greatest abilities of American contractors will, if his plan meets with success, be drawn into a vast association which, using equipment owned by the government and working under a policy laid down by the Conal Commission will undertake to do the actual work of excavation, construction of locks, disposal of material, etc., within a certain specified time.

PROSECUTOR SURE HE HAS MASKED HIGHWAYMEN.

Dick Turpins Have Been Terrorizing Bergen County Folk for Some Time.

Prosecutor Ernest Koester, of Hackensack, is certain he at last has in custody the two mysterious masked highwaymen who for several weeks have been creating uneasiness in the northern part of Bergen county and near Paterson.

Constable Abraham Bonneman, of Garfield, arrested yesterday James Young and Archie Babcock, each eighteen years old, who had in their pockets a dark electric lantern, a revolver and a mask. The men were caught near the water tank on the Erie short cut line, where tramps and thieves generally board Erie freight trains in making their escape.

Young said he lived at No. 354 Market street, Paterson, and Babcock said his home was at No. 528 East Eighteenth street, the same city. Both said they were about to board a freight train for Buffalo. They refused to tell Justice Brown their need of a dark-lantern, mask or revolver.

WON HIS HEART ON HOSPITAL COT.

Sick Soldier, Discharged from Service, Will Marry Woman Who Nursed Him.

Sergt. James J. McCarthy, who for four years had been stationed at the United States recruiting office, No. 47 Montgomery street, Jersey City, was honorably discharged yesterday. He immediately started for Toronto to marry next Monday Miss Charlotte Jakway, a trained nurse whose acquaintance he made when he was sick in a Rochester hospital.

He was a sergeant when he returned from the Philippines in 1900, broken down by a fever which for weeks threatened his life. When he was in the hospital Miss Jakway, then fourteen years old and learning to be a trained nurse, had sympathy for the soldier and gave him fruit, flowers and smiles.

After his recovery he got leave of absence from Philadelphia and visited Miss Jakway, who had moved with her family to Toronto. He laid aside his uniform for plain clothes yesterday and told the few to whom he said good-by that he believed himself the happiest man on earth.

CHINESE BECOME CHRISTIANS.

High Peking Official's Children, Students at Blair Academy, Forsake Father's Religion.

Blairstown, Oct. 11.—Alfred and Grace Jewell, the Chinese children, who are attending Blair Academy, returned here Tuesday from York, Pa., where they went to embrace Christianity and become members of the Fawn Grove Central Presbyterian church. The ceremony was performed on Sunday and was most impressive. They are children of a wealthy retired Chinese official at Peking, China, and were brought to this country by Rev. Robert R. Gailey, of York, who spent eight years in the Y. M. C. A. work at Tientsin, and who returned to America to raise funds for his work.

The father had such regard for Mr. Gailey that the children were cheerfully permitted to forsake Confucianism for Christianity. Mr. Gailey and his family were among the Americans who passed through the exciting Boxer troubles. On their return to China they will locate at Peking. The Jewell children have already made themselves very popular with their fellow-students at the academy and are exceedingly bright and apt pupils. Until they become accustomed to American ways they are living with a family in town.

Mrs. William B. Sharp, of West Front street, is entertaining her cousin, Howard Force, of Saltic, Montana.

SUPREME CASTLE TO MEET ANNUALLY.

Golden Eagle Knights Defeat Plan to Hold Biennial Sessions—Past Grand Chiefs Created.

Atlantic City, Oct. 11.—The Supreme Castle of the Knights of the Golden Eagle will meet annually as heretofore, as the plan to hold biennial sessions, after a warm debate, was defeated by a vote of 37 to 32.

The argument in favor of the change was economy. Ten new members had the honor of past grand chief conferred upon them.

The amendment to hold elections of subordinate officers every years instead of twice a year was laid over until morning. It is claimed that better results will accrue from the longer term.

The decisions of the supreme chief were taken up this afternoon and in almost every instance sustained.

The fight for the next convention has narrowed down to Huntingdon, W. Va., and Jamestown, Pa.

MAYOR REED RENOMINATED.

Morristown Official Named for a Third Term Without Opposition.

Morristown, Oct. 11.—The Democratic city convention to nominate a candidate for Mayor to serve two years was held Tuesday, Mayor Charlton A. Reed being renominated without opposition.

Harrie A. Freeman was elected chairman and Irving E. Salmon secretary of the convention. A committee on resolutions presented a platform opposing the expenditure for current expenses of a surplus fund for $10,000 heretofore set aside by a Democratic administration for specific purposes; pledging the nominee to establish a modern system of street lighting; advocating the extension of the trolley; urging the building of sewers, street improvements and improvements in other departments without incurring a bonded debt.

Both the chairman and secretary of the meetining were called upon for speeches and resuonded, eulogizing Mayor Reed's administration of municipal affairs, he having served two terms.

ATLANTIC CITY ROBBED.

Clerk in Controller's Office Took $4,900 in Bonds, But Made Good.

Atlantic City, Oct. 11.—City Controller A. M. Heston, after a secret meeting of the Finance Board yesterday afternoon, confirmed reports involving the misappropriation of $4,900 of municipal funds. The person responsible is alleged to be a clerk in the City Controller's office.

The man accused has not been arrested and probably will not be. He has assigned to City Controller Heston a sufficient portion of his personal interest in a hotel here to reimburse the city for the full amount involved.

Controller Heston personally discovered the deficiency about two weeks ago. Inquiry convinced him that there had been something wrong for more than a year. The man as a result of the discovery left the city's employ on October 1. Curious persons were told he was "on his vacation."

Controller Heston yesterday afternoon declared the city would suffer no loss. The course pursued by him and City Solicitor Wotton for the protection of the city was approved by the Finance Board.

Former Plainfielders Robbed.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Clark, former residents of this city, but now of Brooklyn, were victims of a sneak thief one day last week. While both were absent from their home, the rooms were entered and silverware, jewelry and valuables worth in all $400 were removed. The matter was reported to the police but so far none of the loot has been recovered.

Miss Elsie Suffern, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Suffern, of Sycamore avenue, has gone to Chicago to visit friends.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning Oct. 14.

By REV. S. H. DOYLE.

Topic.—Who are foolish and who are wise?—Matt. xxv, 1-13.

The parable of the virgins was spoken in connection with an address of Christ concerning His second coming. The duty of His disciples during the time of His absence from the earth is summed up in two parables—the virgins and the talents. The former teaches the necessity of waiting and watching for Christ's coming, and the latter the importance of working until He comes. The chief business of Christians during the absence of Christ is to wait and to watch for Him, since no one knows the day nor the hour of His coming. But we are not to wait and watch in idleness. The talents which He has given us are to be used in His service. We are to wait and watch, and while we are doing so we are to work.

In the parable of the virgins there are ten characters. In most respects they were all alike. They were invited to the same wedding feast. All had the lamps accustomed to be carried upon such an occasion. All desired to participate in the wedding festivities. But in one vital point they differed. Five of them "took their lamps and took no oil with them;" the other five "took oil in their vessels with their lamps." The five who took lamps without oil are called foolish, and the five who took lamps and oil are called wise. And they are justly so described, for when the Bridegroom came those who had oil entered in with him, while the others were excluded from the feast. The wisdom of having oil and the folly of neglecting to procure it are thus clearly seen.

The application of the parable of the virgins is easily made. Christ, the Bridegroom of the church, is absent for a time, but He is coming again and His union with the bride is to be celebrated with festivities in heaven. All desire to enter in and to enjoy these heavenly blessings. The foolish are those who are postponing complete preparations for this great event; the wise are those who are fully prepared for it at all times. The supreme folly of the foolish virgins lay in the fact that they had opportunities to procure oil, but did not do it. When the announcement of the Bridegroom's coming was made they speedily procured oil, but then it was too late. "While they went to buy, the Bridegroom came; and they that were ready went in with him to the feast, and the door was shut." They had had their day of opportunity, but neglecting it, they lost it. Lost opportunities cannot be recalled. Yet many today are following in the footsteps of the foolish virgins. They are living in their day of opportunity. Christ is freely offered to them now, but they are postponing acceptance of Him. They want to be saved. They intend to accept Christ, but not today. But how foolish. Today alone is ours. Christ may call for us at any moment, day or night. Let us therefore be fully prepared.

The British Secretary.

REV. W. KNIGHT CHAPLIN.

Of all the ardent workers who have espoused the cause of Christian Endeavor in England none has done it with more success or with greater enthusiasm than Rev. W. Knight Chaplin, who in the office of secretary of the British Christian Endeavor union is rendering invaluable service to the cause from which much good has resulted to all classes in the British isles. Mr. Chaplin has filled the position with marked credit for several terms.

"Ordered of the Lord."

Just as the plowman takes furrow by furrow, one ended before another is begun, so our duties come to us, not in battalions, but singly. Our life's plan, if we read it aright, is beneficently designed. We are not abandoned to blind chance. Confusion and entanglement can come only by our choosing to refuse guidance and to shape our lot for ourselves. So it will seem to us when we have come to the end of it and can look back, a divinely ordered whole, which even our failures cannot mar, for God only asks of us our best and bravest, and if we give Him these we need not grieve overmuch if some of the furrows refuse to run straight. The failure may be success after all, so far as our discipline is concerned. Our very failures may be an answer to our doubts, evidence of a time when we shall neither faint nor fail, when the acre will be freed from weeds and ready for a fair harvest. For in the midst of our saddest blunders we have visions of higher things, unfulfilled aspirations, cravings for growth; and these will be satisfied, every one of them. We who have tested the bitter fruit of the tree of knowledge are meant to inherit the tree of life, and somewhere else the task dropped here may be taken up and made good.—Sunday at Home.

Favors and Blessings.

Many favors which God giveth us ravel out for want of hemming, through our own unthankfulness, for, though prayer purchaseth blessings, giving praise doth keep the quiet possession of them.—Thomas Fuller.

HAIR TELLS CHARACTER.

Color of Hair Said to Indicate a Person's Temperament.

Some people believe that blonde, or light hair denotes affection and dark hair constancy. A person without hair is not devoid of character; far from it. The disposition of the average bald-headed man is to show such solicitude for the welfare of others, that he neglects himself. A germ causes baldness. Prof. Sabouraud, of Paris, France, inoculated a rabbit with Dandruff germs, causing it to become totally bald in five weeks' time. To rid the scalp of these dangerous germs it is necessary to apply Newbro's Herpicide.

Oct. 14: "Who Is My Neighbor and What of Him?"

By REV. WALTER J. YATES, D. D.

A Jewish misconception corrected.—Luke x, 29-37. The sum of obligation to my neighbor.—Rom. xiii, 8-10. Setting a good example.—I Pet. ii, 11, 12. Behaving wisely.—Col. iv, 5, 6. Pray for him.—I Tim. ii, 1-4.

In the Levitical law it was written, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." In the law as found in Deuteronomy it was enjoined regarding Ammonites and Moabites that they should never be allowed to become Israelites, nor should the Israelite seek their peace or prosperity (Deut. xxiii, 3-6).

This seems to have been in the mind of the Lord Jesus when He said in the sermon on the mount: "Ye have heard that it hath been said, Thou shalt love thy neighbor and hate thine enemy. But I say unto you, Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you and persecute you."

The old Deuteronomic law was the high water mark of ancient ethical attainment. To hate an enemy was as much a moral duty as to love a friend. This was not alone the code of Israel, but was the practice and teaching of the best nations of the world and of the most advanced teachers of truth.

At a single stroke Jesus overthrows this whole conception of human society and the relations of man to man. Men are brothers. God is the Father of all. Human destiny is to be worked out on this basis. Every other conception of mankind has failed in the testing to establish society on an enduring foundation. It will take time to adjust men's thinking and still longer to conform their practices to this new theory. But the kingdom of God is among men. The leaven of righteousness has been hid in the meal, and the whole mass is leavening slowly, but surely.

The whole world is neighbor. Would that the world knew it! Would that the world would be neighborly! How good it would be to live a few days on this old earth with everybody acting and speaking as friends! Can you imagine how great the change would be? No angry words, no black looks, no fraud, no jealousy, no seeking gain for self at the loss of another—just kindness and helpfulness on every hand. What a change! Dream over it a bit in the daytime! Imagine how it would work! Work it a trifle yourself just as an experiment. Be courteous, be kindly affectioned and show it. Neighbor folks a little more and see how they will take it.

Perhaps some will be suspicious and think it is all done for an evil purpose. Some may resent it as a reflection on them. Others may treat it all with contempt and pass you by. Don't be discouraged. You have gained the essential point, you have made of yourself a good neighbor, and if you keep at it you will find others are coming to like it and will soon or late take it up and follow your example.

The hard thing is not to get the other fellow to do as he ought, but to get yourself to do the part of neighbor and keep steadily at it when the trials come. It is easy to be nice to nice folks. The difficulty comes in being nice to the disagreeable ones. But remember they will find it easy to change and be nice only as you show the pattern. Find or create in others something likable, then like them and show it. They will end by loving you.

How We Get Rest.

Of course there is a sense, and a very wonderful sense, in which a great personality breathes upon all who come within its influence an abiding peace and trust. Men can be to other men as the shadow of a great rock in a thirsty land. Much more Christ; much more Christ as perfect Man; much more still as Saviour of the world. When Christ said He would give men rest, He meant simply that He would put them in the way of it. By no act of conveyance would or could He make over His own rest to them. He could give them His recipe for it. That was all. But He would not make it for them. For one thing, it was not in His plan to make it for them. For another thing, men were not so planned that it could be made for them. And for yet another thing, it was a thousand times better that they should make it for themselves.—Henry Drummond.

Using Our Privileges.

The eldest brother in the parable of the prodigal son was his father's child, but he did not get what he might from that relationship. His father said, "Son, thou art ever with me, and all that I have is thine." Yet he had never taken a kid. There is much more for us in being children of God than we have ever appreciated. "Heirs of God and joint heirs with Christ" and yet living on the husks of an unworthy life—"children of God" and yet fretted and anxious about the provision for our needs or because we cannot have our way!—Rev. Emory W. Hunt, D. D., President of Dennison University, Granville, O.

A Good Gardener.

God is a good gardener. He plants no root or seed in a barren soil. Where God has set us there is always room for our growth and fruitage. We may think not, but that is not because we are wiser than God, but because of our profound ignorance.—Forward.

Your Purpose.

Set yourself earnestly to see what you were made to do, and then train yourself earnestly to do it; and the loftier your purpose is the more sure you will be to make the world richer with every enrichment of yourself.—Phillips Brooks.

THE DELUGE

By DAVID GRAHAM PHILLIPS, Author of "THE COST," etc.

(COPYRIGHT 1905 by the BOBBS-MERRILL COMPANY)

It was with a sign of profound relief that I sank upon the chair between Miss Ellersly and Mrs. Langdon, safe from danger of making "breaks," so I hoped, for the rest of the evening. But within a very few minutes I realized that my little misadventure had unnerved me. My hands were trembling so that I could scarcely lift the soup spoon to my lips, and my throat had got so far beyond control that I had difficulty in swallowing. Miss Ellersly and Mrs. Langdon were each busy with the man on the other side of her; I was left to my own reflections, and I was not sure whether this made me more or less uncomfortable. To add to my torment I grew angry, with myself. I looked up and down and cross the big table noted all these self-satisfied people perfectly at their ease; and I said to myself: "What's the matter with you, Matt? They're only men and women, and by no means the best specimens of the breed. You've got more brains than all of 'em put together, probably; is there one of the lot that could get a job at good wages if thrown on the world? What do you care what they think of you? It's a damn sight more important what you think of them, as it won't be many years before you'll hold everything they value, everything that makes them of consequence, in the hollow of your hand."

When the ladies withdrew, the other men drew together, talking of people I did not know and of things I did not care about—I thought then that they were avoiding me deliberately as a flock of tame ducks avoids a wild one that some wind has accidentally blown down among them. I know now that my forbidding aspect must have been responsible for my isolation. However, I sat alone, sullenly resisting old Ellersly's constrained efforts to get me into the conversation, and angrily suspicious that Langdon was enjoying my discomfiture more than the cigarette he was apparently absorbed in.

Old Ellersly, growing more and more nervous before my dark and sullen look, finally seated himself beside me. "I hope you'll stay after the others have gone," said he. "They'll leave early, and we can have a quiet smoke and talk."

All unstrung though I was, I yet had the desperate courage to resolve that I'd not leave, defeated in the eyes of the one person whose opinion I really cared about. "Very well," said I, in reply to him.

He and I did not follow the others to the drawing-room, but turned into the library adjoining. From where I seated myself I could see part of the drawing-room—saw the others leaving, saw Langdon lingering, ignoring the impatient glances of his wife, while he talked on and on with Miss Ellersly.

At last Langdon arose. It irritated me to see her color under that indifferent fascinating smile of his. It irritated me to note that he held her hand all the time he was saying good-by, and the fact that he held it as if he'd as lief not be holding it hardly lessened my longing to rush in and knock him down. What he did was all in the way of perfect good manners, and would have jarred no one not supersensitive, like me—and like his wife. I saw that she, too, was frowning.

In an aimless sort of way Miss Ellersly, after the Langdons had disappeared, left the drawing-room by the same door. Still aimlessly wandering, she drifted into the library by the hall door. As I rose, she lifted her eyes, saw me, and drove away the frown of annoyance which came over her face like the faintest haze. In fact, it may have existed only in my imagination. She opened a large, square silver box on the table, took out a cigarette, lighted it and holding it, with the smoke lazily curling up from it, between the long slender first and second fingers of her white hand, stood idly turning the leaves of a magazine. I threw my cigar into the fireplace. The slight sound as it struck made her jump, and I saw that, underneath her surface of perfect calm, she was in a nervous state full as tense as my own.

"You smoke?" said I.

"Sometimes," she replied. "It is soothing and distracting. I don't know how it is with others, but when I smoke my mind is quite empty."

"It's a nasty habit—smoking," said I.

"Do you think so?" said she, with the slightest lift to her tone and her eyebrows.

"Especially for a woman," I went on, because I could think of nothing else to say, and would not, at any cost, let this conversation, so hard to begin, die out.

"Your are one of those men who have one code for themselves and another for women," she replied.

"I'm a man," said I. "All men have the two codes."

"Not all," said she after a pause.

"All men of decent ideas," said I with emphasis.

"Really?" said she, in a tone that irritated me by suggesting that what I said was both absurd and unimportant.

"It is the first time I've ever seen a respectable woman smoke," I went on, powerless to change the subject, though conscious I was getting tedious. "I've read of such things, but I didn't believe."

"That is interesting," said she, her tone suggesting the reverse.

"I've offended you by saying frankly what I think," said I. "Of course, it's none of my business."

"Oh, no," repiled she carelessly. "I'm not in the least offended. Prejudices always interest me."

I saw Ellersly and his wife sitting in the drawing-room, pretending to talk to each other. I understood that they were leaving me alone with her deliberately, and I began to suspect she was in the plot. I smiled, and my courage and self-possession returned as summarily as they had fled.

"I'm glad of this chance to get better acquainted with you," said I. "I've wanted it ever since I first saw you."

As I put this to her directly, she dropped her eyes and murmured something she probably wished me to think vaguely pleasant.

"You are the first woman I ever knew," I went on, "with whom it was hard for me to get on any sort of terms. I suppose it's my fault. I don't know this game yet. But I'll learn it, if you'll be a little patient; and when I do, I think I'll be able to keep up my end."

She looked at me—just looked. I couldn't begin to guess what was going on in that gracefully-poised head of hers.

"Will you try to be friends with me?" said I with directness.

She continued to look at me in that same steady, puzzling way.

"Will you?" I repeated.

"I have no choice," said she slowly.

I flushed. "What does that mean?" I demanded.

She threw a hurried and, it seemed to me, frightened glance toward the drawing-room. "I didn't intend to offend you," she said in a low voice. "You have been such a good friend to papa—I've no right to feel anything but friendship for you."

"I'm glad to hear you say that," said I. And I was; for those words of hers were the first expression of appreciation and gratitude I had ever got from any member of that family which I was holding up from ruin. I put out my hand, and she laid hers in it.

"There isn't anything I wouldn't do to earn your friendship, Miss Anita," I said, holding her hand tightly, feeling how lifeless it was, yet feeling, too, as if a flaming torch were being borne through me, were lighting a fire in every vein.

The scarlet poured into her face and neck, wave on wave, until I thought it would never cease to come. She snatched her hand away and from her face streamed proud resentment. God how I loved her at that moment!

"Anita! Mr. Blacklock!" came from the other room, in her mother's voice. "Come in here and save us old people from boring each other to sleep."

She turned swiftly and went into the other room, I following. There was a few minutes of conversation—a monologue by her mother. Then I ceased to disregard Ellersly's less and less covert yawns, and rose to take leave. I could not look directly at Anita, but I was seeing that her eyes were fixed on me, as if by some compulsion, some sinister compulsion. I left in high spirits. "No matter why or how she looks at you," said I to myself. "All that is necessary is to get yourself noticed. After that the rest is easy. You must keep cool enough always to remember that under this glamour that intoxicates you, she's a woman, just a woman, waiting for a man."

Sam Houston.

The limited engagement of Jesse Lynch Williams' newspaper play, "The Stolen Story," will close at the Garden theatre, New York, Saturday night, to be followed next week by Clay Clement in the American historical drama, "Sam Houston." Mr. Clement is regarded as one of the coming great American actors. Owing to fortunate investments he retired from the stage and spent a number of years in travel in Africa, Australia and Alaska, where he accumulated large mining interests. One of his investments is a big ranch in Texas where he has also spent a few years and where he became fascinted with the dramatic story of the life of the famous Sam Houston. General Houston, the close personal friend of Andrew Jackson, for a time was looked upon as the logical White House successor of the great Democratic President. This was in the early days when he was Governor of Tennessee. He, however, sacrificed his political career and ambitions and emigrated to Texas, where for years he loomed up as the greatest political figure of the South. Mr. Clement is the author of "An American Gentleman," "The New Dominion" and other successful plays, and, in collaboration with John McGovern, the well-known Chicago newspaper man, and Jesse Edson, he dramatized Sam Houston's life story in a four act play which had its first production three weeks ago in Minneapolis.

The annual convention of the New Jersey Sunday-school Association will be held at Somerville, November 13-15, and arrangements are underway to make it the best ever held.

The mid-week prayer meeting at the First Baptist church, last night, was in the interest of missions. As Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, the pastor, expressed it at the Sunday service, the women are doing much for the cause of missions, but the men have not shown any united effort. It was for this reason that it was decided to discuss missions last night.

The meeting was in Elks' Hall, and was conducted under the direction of Chairman Raymond S. Taylor, of Trenton. Applicants for certificates included people from Pennsylvania and New York, besides New Jersey.

At the last session of the board fully three-fourths passed. The board will meet in Trenton this week, when certificates will be issued.

DEMOCRATS OPEN CAMPAIGN

mandatory, not by the friends of this system of corruption, plunder and deceit, but by the friends of the Constitution. I ask you whether a system that can produce one such result as our gross injustice to our island possessions and to every consumer of sugar in this land at the dictation of one interest, is justified by its results. Does it not threaten our liberties?

"The Dingley schedules are the growth of years. It has become, whether we like it or not, a part of our financial life which we cannot root out without financial disaster.

"It will take years to restore the tariff to the correct Constitutional basis. The people do not want hasty experiments, but there can be no doubt that there is a strong popular feeling demand reform.

"There is one matter which can hardly be classed as a national issue, but of which I want to speak to you tonight; one that is closer to my heart than any other, and that is the use of money in politics. Were it not that I believe that through my candidacy I can give some prominence to this matter, it is more than doubtful whether I would be before you tonight. To me it seems that our scandalous and corrupt method of electing United States Senators, the abuses of the tariff, the control of the government by the trusts, the failure to enact and enforce proper and progressive labor laws will all be to a great extent removed were this one matter properly regulated.

"It has now become the usual and proper thing in every campaign to have the Republican party announce that the country must be saved; an enormous fund has to be raised to do this saving. We can only guess as to the sources; we know nothing as to the purposes. How much was raised and expended by State and local committees we cannot even guess, and yet in every campaign we hear the same old cry, and we know that the same old means are being adopted for this same old end: as our friends tell us, to save the Republic. Where such vast sums of money are handled in politics, it is impossible to prevent bribery and corruption. Every candidate for office is expected to 'put up.' Often he is called upon for sums greatly in excess of the salary that he will receive. Can you wonder then that there should be corruption and rumors of corruption?

"But that is not all of the evil. Government by parties, in order to fulfill its purpose, demands that there should be an intelligent, honest and active opposition to the party in power. How can you expect to secure such opposition under the present conditions? How can you expect that men will run on the minority side in an adverse constituency, when they would be surely called upon to 'put up' money in a losing fight? Prevalent abuses in politics have created an atmosphere from which none can escape. The stench of an Augean stable is rising to Heaven, and a whiff of it now and then blows across the nose of the great American people when some legislative investigation unearths a Yellow Dog Fund.

"If a candidate has not the means to pay for his own campaign, he or the party boss naturally turns to those interests that will probably be affected by the result of the canvass that is being carried on, and appeal to them for help. Do you, therefore, wonder, that you have to complain of legislatures dominated by corporations?

"I urge upon you most earnestly the importance, nay the necessity, of committing the Democratic party upon this subject, so that the people may understand most clearly, that as soon as they entrust the necessary power to its hands, the Democratic party will enact such laws as will effectually prevent not only bribery and corruption at the polls, but the inordinate expenditure of money in political campaigns. The people have a right to know whose money is paying for the bands of music and the fireworks that attract the crowd to a political meeting. They have a right to know before they vote for a candidate that he is not unfitted for office by obligations incurred to any person or corporation. They have a right to know how much money is being expended in a campaign, from whence it comes and whither it goes, and this information should be accessible at any time prior to an election, and not merely published after the event.

"The law must be changed so that convictions for bribery and corruption can be secured. The punishment for bribery must be made so severe, the difficulties in securing a conviction must be so reduced, as to make the commission of that crime one of the greatest risks that a man could take. But besides we must have such conditions as well not exclude a self-respecting poor man from seeking office.

"In every address that I have made in this campaign I have pledged myself, as I do now pledge myself, that I will not now or at any other time expend more money in this or any other campaign than a relatively poor man might be expected to contribute in my stead. I say this knowing full well that this pledge will prevent the full presentation of my candidacy and the issues on which I have spoken to you, and which I have deeply at heart, to the people, but, paraphrasing the words of Henry Clay, 'I would rather be right than win.' (Applause.) We must not tolerate the existence of a system which prevents a poor man from having an equal chance in politics with the rich, for the Constitution, and the Democratic party which is founded thereon, mean, if they mean anything, a square deal, and the square deal must begin in politics." (Prolonged applause.)

Mr. Hamill won warm applause early in his speech by praise of Col. Stevens' appeal to the people. The election of United States Senators by Legislatures, he said, was the result of Alexander Hamilton's ultra-conservatism. It was fine in theory, but the practice had resulted in the bilking of the people out of true representation in the upper house of their Congress. Things had come to such a pass that scandals filled the air whenever a United States Senatorship was being considered by a Legislature. The choice of senator lay rightly with the people, and to doubt their ability to choose well was to doubt the wisdom of the system of government itself.

Touching on National issues, Mr. Hamill said the Republicans were taking credit for meritorious measures conceived and planned by Democrats. He instanced the rate legislation. It was proof of the eternal soundness of Democratic doctrine.

Mr. Hamill spoke strongly in favor of the general enforcement of the eight-hour labor law, and in favor of holding all government contractors strictly to it. He charged the Republicans in the State with gross neglect of the duty imposed on them by the demand for some system of equal taxation on the statute books.

The speaker aroused the audience to cheers by a cordial reference to James E. Martine. The latter, he said, was a gentleman such as all civilized communities delighted to honor. He was capable, honest and enthusiastic. In closing Mr. Hamill said the task of driving out the Republicans, entrenched strongly by years of spoliation, was great, but he had faith in the strength of the people.

Senator Minturn charged the Republican party with being self-accused of incompetence and corporation ownership. The Colbyites, the best people in the party, had boldly declared the party was corrupt, and they proved the charge. He knew personally the leaders in the movement for the purification of the Republican party, and he knew them to be honest and earnest men. And they now said their recent defeat was due to money.

The victory of the regular Republican organization, the speaker continued, meant the strengthening of Senator Dryden as a candidate for reelection. Dryden had not come out before the people like Col. Stevens, but remained hidden away in Newark, unknown to his constituents. Was he fit to represent the people of New Jersey?

The boss system, the speaker continued, was undemocratic, and the sooner it was abolished the better for the individual voter and for the nation. The time had gone by when men of doubtful character could be nominated. The people no longer would stand for candidates who were open to the suspicion of looking for corporation favors or graft. The crusade must go on against the spoilers of public honor. "Let us to our cause abide, God is on the people's side," the speaker quoted in conclusion.

When Mr. Martine stepped to the front of the platform the crowd broke into cheers. The cheering lasted for half a minute and when the candidate raised his hand for silence they broke out with redoubled vigor.

"I realize," said Mr. Martine, "that this is not a completely Democratic audience. Sorry as I am for that, I am yet, in a way, very glad of it. For I came to preach regeneration to sinners; the righteous need it not." The crowd laughed.

Plunging to the marrow of his address, Mr. Martine declared his belief that the people of the district were sick of Mr. Fowler's style of representation. It was not his aim, Mr. Martine said, to attack Fowler personally, but Fowler the politician was open to assault, and against Fowler the politician he purposed bringing charges of unfaithfulness to his own constituents. Fowler was on trial before the people of his district, charged with derelection in his duty. He had broken his contract with the people, and disergarded their right to representation in Congress. He had been absent from his seat in the House seven-tenths of the time, but continued to accept the full salary. He was guilty of taking money under false pretenses. Two years ago the same charge of absenteeism were made, and Mr. Fowler had made no defence.

Mr. Fowler's record on labor legislation was adduced against him, Mr. Martine charging him with having voted in favor of abolishing the eight-hour law on the Panama canal work. He was a servant of the Standard Oil Co. and the typewriter trust, the speaker charged, and cited his vote against the anti-trust measure to prove it. Fowler, he said, wore the collar of the trust, and did its bidding willingly.

He believed there was enough against Fowler, the speaker said, to demand his retirement, and he felt that the time for a change had come.

Speaking on National issues, Mr. Martine said such men as Dryden in the Senate was not a good thing for the well-being of the country. Money, money, money had come to be the cry all over the land and at all times. Fowler was wealthy, and rich men and corporations would contribute to his campaign funds with liberality.

"I have no money with which to debauch you," said Mr. Martine in closing, "and I would not if I had. I ask you to come to the polling places on Election Day, and vote as conscientious holders of a privilege royal and inspiring in its grandeur."

Another burst of cheers and handclapping marked the close of the speech.

The three assembly candidates were to have been on hand, but they were unable to come. Chairman Hetfield announced that they would be here at another meeting.

Among those who surrounded Col. Stevens on the platform was a familiar figure to the baseball fans in the audience—Philip Daab, manager of the Hoboken team. Mr. Daab is a big chief in the Hudson county Democratic organization, and will be one of the assembly candidates there.

ENDEAVORERS IN SESSION TODAY AT MILLVILLE.

Much Enthusiasm Among Delegates to Annual Convention of State Union.

If enthusiasm for the work be any criterion, then the twentieth annual convention of the New Jersey State Christian Endeavor Union, which met at Millville yesterday, will be remarkably successful. Scores of people were on hand at the First Baptist church when the State president, John T. Sproull, opened the first session with prayer. Mr. Sproull arrived on an early morning train, and many prominent Christian Endeavorers from the northern part of the State accompanied him.

When the delegates arrived at the church, several members of the local reception committee took charge of them and turned them over to the registration committee, who saw to it that all visitors were supplied with badges, souvenir song books and programmes.

The members of the nominating committee, who are all there, have had trouble in evading the questions which have been fired at them like shots of a Gatling gun as to the personality of the incoming officers of the union. A large number of the delegates have already expressed a hope for the re-election of State President Sproull, who is now closing his third year in that office, and associated with him goes the name of Miss Ida Stephens, of Hackettstown, who has been in office for the last twelve years.

The first session of the State executive committee was held Tuesday night, when various committees were selected for appointment at the first business session of the convention tomorrow morning.

Mr. Sproull has named the nominating committee as follows: The Rev. Dr. Arthur W. Spooner, Cape May City; the Rev. J. C. Jackson, Point Pleasant; A. R. Baxter, Trenton; W. Egbert Thomas, Milford; Joseph K. Harriman, Jersey City. To audit the accounts of Treasurer A. W. Abbott, of Orange, the following committee has been named: Arthur N. Pierson, Westfield; John H. Hill, Newark; Joseph K. Harriman, Jersey City.

MISSIONS OF THE SYNOD

Mrs. W. E. Honeyman Elected President of Presbyterians' Home Society.

AT ANNUAL MEETING

Auto Money for Heathen Suggested By Missionary at Meeting in East Orange.

A number of women of the Presbyterian congregation in this city were in attendance at the twenty-ninth annual meeting of the Woman's Synodical Societies for Home and Foreign Missions, which was held in the Munn Avenue Presbyterian church, East Orange. There was a large gathering of mission workers, representing nearly every section of the State. During the day Mrs. William E. Honeyman, of North Plainfield, was elected president of the Home Missionary Society.

A devotional meeting, led by Mrs. J. T. Kerr, of Elizabeth, opened the session at 9:30 o'clock. After the opening hymn, "The Morning Light Is Breaking," and a Scripture reading, Mrs. G. W. B. Cushing, of East Orange, offered prayer. The reports of the several secretaries followed the devotions, Mrs. Walter Condit, of Jersey City, corresponding secretary, leading.

A feature of the morning session was the address of the Rev. Dr. John Fulton Patterson, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, Orange.

"You also are aware of the fact," said the speaker, "that this is the centennial year of the opening of our missions in the foreign field, and we are also about to celebrate the twentieth anniversary of our foreign board, and while we are in the midst of these celebrations, has it occurred to you what those brave pioneer missionaries would say should they arise from their graves and face the marvelous conditions today?

"They would see twenty-seven main mission stations that are fostering more than 2,000 other and smaller stations. They would see 889 American missionaries and 2,606 native workers associated with our people in the work of evangelizing the dark sections of the foreign lands. They would further see 444 organized churches, with 63,480 attendants and 1,001 schools with an enrolment of 32,512 native children. There are 104 hospitals that give relief to the sick and the suffering that had last year 486,000 patients. Eight printing presses are kept busy pouring out literature to an enormous extent, 867,492,203 pages being the record for the past year, and best of all, 10,000 souls were won for Christ.

"One serious drawback our board has to contend with is the lack of money to send hundreds of young men and women, who today stand ready to enter the field to aid in the restoration of last souls for Christ.

"The Presbyterian church is the richest religious denomination in the world today and is doing its share toward evangelizing the world. If the many members of religious organizations would contribute proportionately toward this great cause, instead of investing in automobiles, what a great revolution in mission work would take place."

The preacher dwelt at length upon the good that mission work accomplishes for the country, whether home or foreign, and closed his scholary address by summing up his appeal with three points:

"First, we can all be at least in sympathy with the great work; second, we have money to give, and third, and lastly, we can pray."

Mrs. W. H. Hall, of Perth Amboy, gave an interesting resume of the young people's work. Mrs. L. B. Coddington, of Murray Hill, secretary of literature, reported on the extensive and systematic work of distributing Bibles and other religious work. Mrs. H. F. Van Metes reported a substantial balance in the contingent fund.

Mrs. Hall presided over young people's conference, telling of the year's work, and the society's president, Mrs. W. E. Honeyman, told of prospective work. Joseph E. McAfee made an address. These officers were elected by the Home Missionary Society:

Mrs. W. E. Honeyman, of North Plainfield, president; Mrs. J. H. Owens, Paterson; Mrs. Harvey C. Olin, East Orange; Mrs. J. R. Gibson, Newark; Mrs. D. C. Blair, Belvidere; Mrs. S. B. Ketcham, Pennington; Mrs. H. D. Zandt, Jamesburg; Mrs. W. J. Paulding, Dartown; Mrs. A. S. Crane, Elizabeth, vice-presidents; Mrs. E. C. Wiles, corresponding secretary; Miss E. D. Paxton, Princeton, recording secretary; Mrs. Wilbur La Roe, Perth Amboy, secretary of literature; Miss Mary M. Harding, Bridgeton, secretary Young People's Work; Mrs. David Harvey, Asbury Park, secretary of Freedmen; Mrs. J. H. Wanning, of this city, treasurer of contingent fund.

TORN FROM HIS HORSE ATTENDANT GOES CRAZY

OFFICIALS DEPORTED HIM AFTER BRINGING ARABIAN STEEDS TO THIS COUNTRY

So great is his attachment for Vadoda, one of the Arabian mares recently imported by Cartoonist Horace Davenport, and Abram G. Hooley, the latter of this city, that when Soulla Aboud, a young Syrian who had been the caretaker of the mare for years, was told yesterday that he would not see the Arab steed again, he became ferocious and had to be put into a straightjacket by the Ellis Island officials.

It had been discovered that Aboud was afflicted with trachoma, and so far had this contagious disease of the eye developed that he could not even be accorded a last look at his favorite charge before his deportation.

Aboud was one of five Arabs who accompanied the Davenport and Hooley horses as a caretaker, and those in his charge were the Seglawi-El-Abed mare Vadoda (meaning love in Syrian) and the 2-year-old colt Commusa, both highly bred animals.

The mare is known as the "War Mare" because she was captured by the Anazeh tribe in a war with the Shamar and is highly valued for the blood she carries in her veins. She has many scars, showing that she has passed through many battles. Aboud had been her caretaker since the mare became the property of the Anazehs, and up to last Saturday night had slept in her stall. He had cared for the colt since its birth.

Last Saturday medical examiners found that the young man was suffering from trachoma, and after he helped the men to land the horses on the pier from the steamer Italia he was taken to Ellis Island to be deported.

Nothing would console him, although he received several presents and his wages were handed to him in sparkling gold. Up to Wednesday night he was made to believe that there was a good chance of his going to see Vadoda, but when the officers appeared to take him to the steamer Sicilia he became violent and had to be subdued.

MUSICALE AT HOPE CHAPEL DELIGHTS LARGE AUDIENCE.

Judge Runyon Among the Contributors to a Delightful Programme.

A musicale and entertainment of exceptional merit delighted a large gathering at Hope chapel, last night. The affair was given under the auspices of the Ways and Means committee of the chapel and was for the benefit of the music fund.

The various numbers on the programme were well rendered and the contributors were heartily encored. Judge William N. Runyon gave two new songs that pleased greatly. Mrs. G. S. Simons held the rapt attention of her audience with a delightful reading and Fred J. Pope earned applause by his baritone solos. Mrs. L. R. Howard sang and with Mrs. Lewis Randall, of Medina, O., gave a piano duet that was one of the features of the programme. Other instrumental numbers were given by Musical Stuart, who extracts music anything, and the Sagamore Mandolin and Banjo Club. Henry C. Squires was in charge during the evening and introduced the artists. Miss Bertha Jones made a very able accompanist for Musical Stuart.

The Ways and Means Committee, which arranged the affair, comprises Philip Branston, Walter Bradford, Mrs. William Jones and Mrs. Donald McInnes.

Home Mission Social.

The Home Missionary Society of Grace M. E. church held a social at the parsonage, last night, the attendance being large. Refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed.

Racket Over "Hot Dogs."

Following a dispute over the payment for two "hot dogs," Clarence Angleman and Edward Britton became involved in a row at a dance in a West Front street dancing academy last night, and were arrested. Judge Runyon learned this morning that things calculated to aggravate them were said and done before the row started, and sentence was suspended.

MAY NOT OPPOSE CHARLES JOEL FISK

DEMOCRATS NOT LIKELY TO NAME MAYORALTY CANDIDATE.

There is talk in Democratic circles that there will be no mayoralty candidate in opposition to Charles J. Fisk, the Republican nominee. No date has been fixed for the Democratic City Convention. If one is held, it must be before next Saturday, which will be about fifteen days before election.

The party has named its nominees for the Common Council. John P. Owens has been nominated in the First ward, P. H. Latourette in the Second ward, William Harding in the Third ward, and Albert Lederer in the Fourth ward. In addition there remains to be nominated two freeholders, and possibly a candidate for member of the Board of Education. The city committee met in the law office of Walter L. Hetfield, Sr., yesterday afternoon, to discuss the situation, but no decision was reached regarding a city convention or possible nominees for the offices to be filled.

It was said today that the Democrats will endorse J. W. Murray, Jr., for collector.

Ben M. Willis, of Stone street, has one of the finest groups of fantail pigeons to be seen anywhere. Mr. Willis is not a professional breeder, but he has been raising fantails since boyhood, twenty years or more, and he has had remarkable success with them.

He has taken prizes with the birds at Albany, Rochester, Syracuse and Baltimore poultry shows, and among his much valued trophies, is a handsome silver cup won at Albany last year for the finest display of fantails.

Mr. Willis has been here since last March. He is business representative of the Compressed Air Cleaning Company.

At the afternoon session the main speaker was Dr. Clark, president of the Endeavorers of the world.

Maurer were named for freeholders.

Congressional Nominee James E. Martine attended the meeting and his entrance to the hall was received with a burst of applause. The "farmer orator" has never been more warmly welcomed at the county seat and he received assurance of support from every man present. TYPOS ENDORSE MARTINE

Union Passes Strong Supporting Resolutions at a Special Meeting.

PLEDGE ENTHUSIASM

Democratic Candidate Hailed As Labor's True Friend and Supporter—Action Greatly Helps Martine's Campaign.

In unequivocal language, the local typographical union endorsed James E. Martine, the Democratic candidate for Congress against Charles N. Fowler, at a special meeting last night. The resolution adopted hails "Mr. Martine as the true friend and warm supporter" of the workingman. Support is pledged to him, and all union workmen are urged to work and vote for him.

The resolution was enthusiastically received. The unanimous vote by which it was passed was marked by sustained applause.

The resolution in full, reads as follows:

"Whereas, It is of vital importance that our representatives in Congress shall be men who have the best interests of the workingman at heart, and are at all times friendly to his welfare; and

"Whereas, It is most important that our representative be a champion of the rights of the workingman, and that he be an avowed advocate of organized labor; and

"Whereas, By reason of our intimate acquaintance with and knowledge of the public and private utterances and acts of James E. Martine, we believe him to be our true friend and warm supporter, we, Typographical Union, No. 399, of Plainfield, N. J., do

"Resolve, That the best interests of this union and of organized labor throughout the Fifth Congressional District will be best served by the election of James E. Martine to Congress, and that

"Therefore, we endorse the candidacy of James E. Martine for that office, pledging him our support and recommending that all union workmen work and vote for his election.

"(Signed) L. W. Niles, President.
"James Kermode, Sec."

Mr. Martine has made it plain that he will make Mr. Fowler's record on the labor question one of his chief points of attack, and the endorsement of the Typos will lend timely force to his charges along that line. The Typographical Union is a conservative body, and its action in support of Mr. Martine will undoubtedly have great weight with all the other union organizations not only here, but throughout the district.

Primrose Minstrels, at New Plainfield Theatre Tuesday Afternoon and Evening.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

Ezra Kendall in his new play, "Swell Elegant Jones," is the attraction at the New Plainfield theatre this afternoon and tonight. The production is handsomely staged and the action affords Mr. Kendall unusual opportunity to display his quaint methods of humor and laughmaking.

Ezra Kendall, in "Swell Elegant Jones," at New Plainfield Theatre This Afternoon and Evening.

The local Modjeska testimonial will bring together an unusually brilliant social gathering. This great actress appeals especially to those who have travelled, who have read, who have observed, and, above all, to those who have seen the majority of the other celebrated players of the day. Appreciation of such talent as Modjeska's depends largely upon comparison. In truth, it is after one has seen all the foremost actors and actresses of the current time that he realizes the true quality of this great woman's gifts. When she appears at Plainfield next Monday night, the certainty is that the majority of those present will be play-goers of the most refined critical tastes and capable of the most minute discrimination. It is to such assemblages that Modjeska most loves to play, for then she feels that she has her audience with her, that she understands them and that they understand her.

George Primrose and his big minstrel company will come to the New Plainfield theatre next Tuesday afternoon and night with what is said to be the greatest organization of minstrel variety put together and offered to the enthusiastic lovers of this peculiar style of entertainment in many years. It has long been Mr. Primrose's ambition to present minstrelsy in an idealized form, eliminating vaudeville features that in the past few seasons has almost shouldered the real minstrel element entirely from the scene. In the Primrose minstrels of today will be seen sumptuously staged modern first part, painted in blue, gold and ivory, which is artistically embellished with paintings, candelabras and strappings of a most exquisite pattern. During this part, Mr. Primrose will be heard in an original song, in which he will be assisted by Bob Murphy, Eddie Mazier, Emile Subers, Eddie Horan and James Conners who will occupy the end chairs and will bring a budget of new songs and jokes, with Edgar Allyn as interlocutor.

Joseph Murphy's followers and numerous friends will welcome the popular Irish play "Kerry Gow" next Wednesday evening at the New Plainfield theatre. "Kerry Gow" is as popular as ever, possessing romance of plot, striking action, literary quality, and scenic beauty, besides developing strong plots of human interests. Allen Doone is supported by an excellent company who have for years played the roles assigned to them, and have attained a corresponding degree of proficiency. When one witnesses Allen Doone's impersonation of Dan O'Hara the blacksmith, in his beautiful play of "Kerry Gow," there are two qualities so strongly apparent that there is an almost conflict of analysis. As the mellifluous mixture of old Irish and broken English, which we are pleased to call the "Irish dialect," falls smooth and full from the lips of the Kerry smith, we are constrained to believe that the actor is purely ideal in his art; and then again, when we see the picturesque group as the horses are being fitted with a shoe, just made on the stage by Mr. Doone, or when we hold ourselves in pleasureable suspense awaiting the arrival of the trained carrier pigeons with news from the race course, we are convinced that the actor is a master of realism.

"The Rollicking Girl" is one of the few musical shows that not only tell a story of unusual interest, but is so well put together, costumed and staged, that it will live and improve with age like good old wine. Mr. Nankeville in securing this property from Charles Frohman also took over many of the original cast that made the success of the play in New York, in conjunction with all the scenery, costumes and effects, which are far from ordinary in a musical production. The musical numbers in "The Rollicking Girl" are without exception some of the most catchiest and popular song sheets before the public today. The production will play a return engagement here next Wednesday night.

"The Great Jewel Mystery," a four act melodrama from the pen of Mark E. Swan, will be presented by the famous Russell Bros., at the New Plainfield theatre next Friday night. The story of the play tells of a very clever robbery of jewels and in the early scenes of the drama the situation seems to be such a hopeless entanglement that it would be almost impossible for any detective work to unravel the mystery. An innocent woman is the natural suspect and guilty parties enjoy the most perfect security. The police are baffled and finally it is up to two Irishmen to ferret out the truth. This they do by assuming female disguises. This leads to many dangerous situations but ends in the discovery of the plot and the triumph of justice. To those who have never seen the Russell Bros., a treat is in store as without a doubt they are two of the best entertainers now upon the stage.

The Longer You Know Them the Better You Like Them.

Doan's Kidney Pills never fail you.
Plainfield people know this.
Read this Plainfield case.
Read how Doan's stood the test
For many years.
It's local testimony and can be investigated:

Richard Day, of 208 East Front street, Plainfield, N. J., says: "I have given a statement which has appeared in our papers for several years. I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills because I know there is no reason why they will not do for others what they did for me. I had a miserable dull pain across my back and a sort of lameness across my kidneys. Standing any length of time or walking any distance aggravated it greatly. I was never sick much and did not like to take medicine, but these attacks grew worse instead of better, and reading frequently about Doan's Kidney Pills I bought a box and used it. After taking two boxes I was cured."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The Republican congressional campaign of the Fourth district will be inaugurated Monday evening, October 23, in Taylor Opera House, Trenton, when Congressman Charles N. Fowler will address a rousing meeting. Ex-Senator Warner Miller, of New York, will speak at another meeting on Friday, November 2.

The best wishes of every lover of the old-time gentleman and of old-time chivalry will be extended to that stirling pole-horse of the Democracy, "Farmer Orator" James E. Martine, of Plainfield, who is his party's candidate for Congress in his district. Mr. Martine has upheld Democratic principles and raised his eloquent and convincing voice in the interests of Democratic candidates since his boyhood days. Always loyal and optimistic, he has given his best days to the cause he loved so well with no desire or expectation of reward, and has often in his active career thrown himself in the breach and accepted nominations which were going a-begging, and which no one else would accept, in order to maintain a militant party organization. He is running in one of the Republican "shoe-string" districts extending from Port Jervis to South Jersey, but he promises to keep his opponent, Representative C. N. Fowler, on his job right up until Election Day, and it is no dead-sure betting that he will not win out over his wealthy, but unpopular, antagonist. In an exceedingly fair and well-written editorial The Newark Evening News remarks: "It is a long lane that has no turn. * * * If any man in New Jersey has earned the honors of office by party loyalty and hard, unremunerated work, that man is James E. Martine. There is a bare possibility that the office, having sought this man so many times in years past, has at last found him. Stranger things that this have happened in political off years."—Somerset Messenger.

—Mrs. Howard Williams gave a card party at the Plainfield Country Club, yesterday afternoon, for twenty-five friends. After a pleasant afternoon of play, refreshments were served.

—The New York and New Jersey Telephone Company has about completed its underground work in the business part of the town and the residential sections are being covered as rapidly as possible. It is hoped to have most of it completed by the time the new building in West Fourth street is ready for occupancy.

THE BISHOPS' LAW.

Any candidate who attempts to make political capital by stirring up sentiment against the Bishops' bill should be repudiated at the polls. The measure, one of the best that has been enacted by a Legislature in years, is a moral one. It was so framed and is so intended. At a conference in Trenton the other day, the bishops and clergy of the State passed resolutions urging the people to keep the issue out of politics. There is only one way to do it. Defeat the man or party who dares to advocate its repeal.

While there was never any need of this measure so far as Plainfield is concerned, its provisions in the main having been rigidly enforced here long before such a law was suggested. One does not have to go very far, however, to see the change wrought by it. Scotch Plains, for instance, furnishes a good illustration. Before the enactment of the law, a drunken man was a common sight there on Sundays. That liquor was sold on the prohibited day was a matter of general knowledge. Many times in the Plainfield police court on a Monday morning a man has pleaded guilty to getting drunk at a Scotch Plains resort the day before. In other suburbs of Plainfield a similar condition existed. Now all this is wiped out, and it behooves every law-abiding citizen to use his efforts in seeing that such a law is kept on the statute books.

AN ENDORSEMENT OF FISK.

It is more than likely that the Democrats will make no nomination or come out with an endorsement of Charles J. Fisk for the mayoralty. In either event they will be paying a deserving tribute to the worth of a most represenetative and public spirited citizen. The Republican party was fortunate indeed in naming Mr. Fisk for the office and nothing the Democrats could do would demonstrate more fully that they stand for good government than a straight out endorsement. Mr. Fisk would then be the candidate of the entire people and as such would owe no special allegiance to any group of men or any political party.

Evidently Mr. Roosevelt did not consult Fingey Connors before he became a convert to spelling reform.

By Tom Muir.

The coming week at the New Plainfield is "booked solid" as the following will show: Monday night, Modjeska; Tuesday afternoon and night, George Primrose's minstrels; Wednesday night, Allen Doone in "Kerry Gow;" Thursday night, "The Rollicking Girl" (return); Friday night, The Russell Brothers in "The Great Jewel Mystery;" Saturday night, Viola Allen in "Cymbeline." The last named attraction will be one of the largest that has yet visited Plainfield and will go direct from this city to New York, where it is booked for a long run at the new Astor theatre.

"East Lynne" asserted that it still vies with more recent dramas by drawing a good-sized house to the New Plainfield last night. The company presenting it was well above the average and the production as a whole was commendable.

The new Shubert theatre at Newark, formerly the Empire, is to be opened Monday night. It has been reconstructed by the Shubert firm at a cost of $75,000.

Barred out of Baltimore by the theatrical syndicate, E. H. Sothern and Julia Marlowe, under the Shubert management, are planning to present Supermann's "John the Baptist" in a church. Their business manager is now in the city negotiating with several church organizations, in this effort to circumvent the syndicate. Mr. Sothern insists that his purpose is not a monetary one. If a church can be obtained, and the scheme has been indorsed by a number of local clergymen, he proposes to give the major portion of the receipts to some charity.

When Miss Pearl Charlton Seward visited Baltimore as one of the principals of "The Rollicking Girl" a few weeks ago, she called one morning, shortly before noon, at one of the public schools to see an old classmate, a teacher of one of the primary grades, who had a class of very young scholars. During her stay the principal of the school, a man—a grey-beard—dropped in and quizzed the class about arithmetic, answering queries from the pupils as well as putting them. The pupils didn't take any more interest in the examination than the very young mind does in problems mathematical. As the principal was about to leave he suddenly changed his mind and stopped to give the childen a short talk on equations.

"Now," he said, at the close of his address, "if any scholar has any more questions to ask, I shall be glad to answer."

"What time is it?" piped one of the children.

LITERARY.

In her novel, "Where the Apple Reddens," which is the chief feature of the September Smart Set, Edna Kenton deals in a powerful way with the subject of divorce. No social question of the day is more vitally interesting, and no recent writer has treated the theme in a more masterly way. The story is unusually dramatic, and moves rapidly to its logical climax. E. F. Benson, of "Dodo" fame, contributes to this number a remarkably graphic little sketch, which reveals great insight into human nature. "Gare du Nord" is the title he has given it. Gouverneur Morris, always a clever story-teller, is represented by "The Itching Palm," a delightful satire on the modern hunger for wealth. "The Rainshoes of Monseigneur," by G. F. Burnley, is so perfectly conceived a little tale that one almost imagines it to have been written originally in French.

One of the newest stories of Queen Alexandra is told in the August Interior Decoration, and credits her with having charts of the various rooms in her castles. The position of every stick of furniture is exactly marked on these. She also has had charts made of the various cabinets with their enclosed treasures—the dressing tables with their toilet articles, and the desks with their writing paraphernalia. When the housekeepers clean these rooms a chart is given to them, and no matter how the room is disarranged in renovating it, the chart insures the return to their proper places of the various pieces of bric-a-brac and furniture.

Lippincott's October number opens with its usual complete novel which, it will be remembered, was a strong feature with this Magazine long before other periodicals discovered its value. Its title this month is "Lips That Were Sealed." Its author, Alma Martin Eastbrook, is a healthy-minded young woman who gaily acknowledges that she "writes in broad daylight after substantial breakfacts." The promise of spice, which is implied in the words "Lips That Were Saled," is amply fulfilled in this story of men and women of today. The author's types are vigorous and fresh; besides, she has a "pretty wit" all her own. The crux of the plot leaves the reader in exciting doubt until the last—an evidence of good art. There is motion rapid enough to please the most exacting; and there is emotion a-plenty without lapsing into soft sentimentality.

An interesting phase of the present situation is that American investors are unwittingly responsible, to some extent, for the outbreak of revolutionary sentiment at this time. So long as uba was prosperous and the Army of Liberation still unpaid, the mere fact that a great number of Cubans all over the island were awaiting payment of their claims for war service was an excellent check upon any ebullition of a warlike spirit which would weaken the paying power of the government. Led thereto by the prospect of a large profit, American investors, as well as Cubans, have discounted these claims, so that the veterans of the war no longer have a personal interest in the payment of the war vouchers, and are in a position to join another Army of Liberation, which, if successful, will provide them with a new crop of war claims. In the meantime, the American purchasers of these claims, at figures showing as much as 100 per cent. to 200 per cent. profit, are awaiting the payment of the balance of their money which now lies in the Cuban Treasury, and is being used to suppress the revolution.—From "The Cuban Republic on Trial," by Atherton Bownell, in the American Monthly Review of Reviews for October.

A permanent representation to be maintained at Washington during the sessions of Congress, in the interest of the people of the United States, to oppose the lobbies maintained by the "special interests," is the proposition put forth in Success Magazine for October. The editors of this magazine have outlined plans for the formation of such an organization, and have secured acceptances from a number of prominent men to act as a governing committee. Henry Beach Needham describes the need for such a lobby as this at Washington, in an article, "The People's Lobby," in which he attributes the great difficulty in obtaining beneficial legislation to the obstructing efforts of the corporation attorneys, whose arguments are welcomed by legislators to the exclusion of pleas on behalf of the people.

The October Good Housekeeping is a feast. Besides containing the opening chapters of Truthful Jane, a serial story based on the servant problem, by Florence Morse Kingsley (author of The Resurrection of Miss Cynthia, the Singular Miss Smith, etc.), it is rich in live, practical articles, beautifully illustrated. A Peter Pan Party, by Mary Blackwell Sterling, is a practical application of the Peter Pan idea to entertainments of various kinds, with charming illustrations. Engaged Girls is the title of a symposium of counsel and discussion from a group of young matrons, illustrated from photographs in tint by F. Colburn Clarke. Booths for fairs, designed for Good Housekeeping readers by F. Chouteau Brown, architect and designer of stage scenery, are attractively pictured in colors. The story of a remarkable achievement in music is told by Mrs. Vance Cheney, a woman of extraordinary powers and personality. One of Lafcadio Hearn's magical oriental sketches, The Tradition of the Tea Plant, is illustrated in color by Genjiro Yeto. And these are not half the good things in the October number which deserve especial attention. Fifteen cents a copy, one dollar a year. The Phelps Publishing Co., Springfield, Mass., New York, Chicago.

The Popular Science Monthly for October contains the following articles: "The Earthquake Rift of 1906," by President David Starr Jordan; "The Value of Science," by M. H. Poincare; "Francis Bacon and the Modern University," by Professor Edward O. Sisson; "Britticisms versus Americanisms," by Professor Edwin W. Bowen; "Difficult Boys," by Dr. J. Madison Taylor; "Genius," by Dr. Robert Morris Ogden; "The Birth of the Idea of Spirit in Greek Thought," by President Mary Mills Patrick; "The Scientific Aspects of Luther Burbank's Work," by Professor Vernon L. Kellogg; "The Effects of Immigration on Homicide," by Professor Morris Loeb; "The British Medical Association and the University of Toronto;" "The National Pure Food Law."

The Century promises at least seventy-five short stories throughout the coming year, besides the three serials by Frances Hodgson Burnett, Elizabeth Robins, and E. W. Mason. Among the noted writers who will contribute stories and novelettes to The Century during 1907 are Harry Stilwell Edwards, author of "Two Runaways and Other Stories;" Charles D. Stewart, author of "The Fugitive Blacksmith;" Norman Duncan, author of "Dr. Lake of the Labrador;" Harvey J. O'Higgins, author of "Don-a-Dreams;" Irving Bacheller, author of "Eben Holden;" Elizabeth Jordan, author of "May Iverson, Her Book;" and Anne Warner, author of "Seeing France with Uncle John."

Every American business man has reason to be interested in the leading article in the Atlantic for October. "Commercial Panics, Past and Future," is the title, and the author is A. D. Noyes, Financial Editor of the Evening Post. Just at present, when we are riding on the top wave of prosperity, it is well worth while to take a look ahead. Another panic year will be due before long: Mr. Noyes believes that if we can find out the causes that bring about such a disaster, we can control them,—at least to some extent. The same number contains a timely political article by John H. Latane on "Forcible Collection of International Debts." Precisely what the "Drago Doctrine" stands for, what the situation was which forced it into being, and what our position should be in future crises of the same character,—these are some of the important points covered.

A notable prize contest, open to all artists, is announced in the Woman's Home Companion. That magazine offers for the best covers, in color, five prizes aggregating $3,500—the first prize, $1,500; the second prize, $1,000; the third prize, $500; and the fourth and fifth, $250 each. There are no restrictions as to subject, style, number of colors, or medium of expression, and competitors may submit any number of designs.

The Burr McIntosh.

The cover of this magazine will first attract attention. It is a reproduction of a photograph of Miss Marie Doro, the embellishments being printed in a number of colors and gold and it is unquestionably the best magazine cover of the month. The inside color work, both in portraiture and scenes, is unusually attractive, while the portrait form has reproductions of such prominent people as Campanari, Plancon, Margaret Dale, Blanche Walsh, Edna McClure, of the stage, and such prominent people as Luther Burbank, the plant wizard of California, J. M. Barrie, the late Mrs. Craigie, the novelist, and Princess Cantacuzene, daughter of Gen. Grant. Clara Morris contributes one of her imitable stage reminiscences entitled "A Dressing Room Reception," with fine portraits of herself, Wilson Barrett and Madam Mojeska. All newsdalers handle the Burr McIntosh Monthly. Burr Publishing Company, New York.

PRINCETON'S NEW SYSTEM.

Committee Has Secured $126,917.25 for Maintaining Preceptorial Plan.

Princeton, Oct. 13.—The committee of fifty appointed last year by President Woodrow Wilson and the university officials to raise funds to defray the cost of maintaining the new preceptorial system, has reported that the fund amounts to $126,917.25.

By the aid of the committee of fifty, President Wilson's preceptorial method of instruction has been carried into effect. Over fifty preceptors were appointed and served during the past college year.

The plan was an entire innovation in America, but is in existence in Oxford and Cambridge universities. By it, a professor, besides meeting his students in large classes, also meets them in groups of three and four for conference. By this arrangement each student receives the individual attention made impossible in large classes.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brouard have returned from their honeymoon and just as soon as their new home is completed on Hobart avenue will move there.

XII.

"UNTIL TO-MORROW."

A week passed and, just as I was within sight of my limit of patience, Cromwell Ellersly appeared at my office. "I can't put my hand on the necessary cash, Mr. Blacklock—at least, not for a few days. Can I count on your further indulgence?" This in his best exhibit of old-fashioned courtliness—the "gentleman" through and through, ignorant of anything useful.

"SHE LOOKED AT ME—JUST LOOKED."

"Don't let that matter worry you, Ellersly," said I, friendly, for I wanted to be on a somewhat less business-like basis with that family. "The market's steady, and will go up before it goes down."

"Good!" said he. "By the way, you haven't kept your promise to call."

"I'm a busy man," said I. "You must make my excuses to your wife. But—in the evenings. Couldn't we get up a little theater party—Mrs. Ellersly and your daughter and you and I—Sam, too, if he cares to come?"

"Delightful!" cried he.

"Whichever one of the next five evenings you say," I said. "Let me know by to-morrow morning, will you?" And we talked no more of the neglected margins; we understood each other. When he left he had negotiated a three months' loan of twenty thousand dollars.

They were so surprised that they couldn't conceal it, when they were ushered into my apartment on the Wednesday evening they had fixed upon. If my taste in dress was somewhat too pronounced, my taste in my surroundings was not. I suppose the same instinct that made me like the music and the pictures and the books that were the products of superior minds had guided me right in architecture, decoration and furniture.

I was pleased out of all proportion to its value by what Ellersly and his wife looked and said. But, though I watched Miss Ellersly closely, though I tried to draw from her some comment on my belongings—on my pictures, on my superb tapestries, on the beautiful carving of my furniture—I got nothing from her beyond that first look of surprise and pleasure. Her face resumed its statuelike calm, her eyes did not wander, her lips, like a crimson bow painted upon her clear, white skin, remained closed. She spoke only when she was spoken to, and then as briefly as possible. The dinner—and a mighty good dinner it was—would have been memorable for strain and silence had not Mrs. Ellersly kept up her incessant chatter. I can't recall a word she said, but I admired her for being able to talk at all. I knew she was in the same state as the rest of us, yet she acted perfectly at her ease, and not until I thought it over afterward did I realize that she had done all the talking except answers to her occasional and cleverly-sprinkled direct questions.

Ellersly sat opposite me, and I was irritated, and thrown into confusion, too, every time I lifted my eyes, by the crushed, criminal expression of his face. He ate and drank hugely—and extremely bad manners it would have been regarded in me had I made as much noise as he, or lifted such quantities at a time into my mouth. But through this noisy gluttony he managed somehow to maintain that hangdog air—like a thief who has gone through the house and, on his way out, has paused at the pantry, with the sack of plunder beside him, to gorge himself.

I looked at Anita several times, each time with a carefully-framed remark ready, each time I found her gaze on me—and I could say nothing, could only look away in a sort of panic. Her eyes were strangely variable. I have seen them of a gray so pale that it was almost silver—like the steely light of the snow-line at the edge of the horizon; again, and they were so that one saw they shone with the deepest, softest blue, and made one think, as one looked at her, of a fresh violet frozen in a block of clear ice.

I sat behind her in the box at the theater. During the first and second intermissions several men dropped in to speak to her mother and her fellows who didn't ever come down town, but I could tell they knew who I was by the way they ignored me. It exasperated me to a pitch of fury, that coolly insolent air of theirs—a hearty nod at me without so much as a glance, and no notice of me when they were leaving my box beyond a faint, supercilious smile as they passed with eyes straight ahead. I knew what it meant, what they were thinking—that the "Bucket-shop King," as the newspapers had dubbed me, was trying to use old Ellersly's necessities as a "jimmy" and "break into society." When the curtain went down for the last intermission, two young men appeared; I did not get up as I had before, but stuck to my seat—I had reached that point at which courtesy has become cowardice.

They craned and strained at her round me and over me, presently gave up and retired, disguising their anger as contempt for the bad manners of a bounder. But that disturbed me not a ripple, the more as I was delighting in a consoling discovery. Listening and watching as she talked with these young men, whom she evidently knew well, I noted that she was distant and only politely friendly in manner habitually, that while the ice might thicken for me, it was there always. I knew enough about women to know that, if the woman who can thaw only for one man is the most difficult, she is also the most constant. "Once she thaws toward me!" I said to myself.

When the young men had gone, I leaned forward until my head was close to hers, to her hair—fine, soft, abundant, electric hair. Like the infatuated fool that I was, I tore out all the pigeon-holes of my brain in search of something to say to her, something that would start her to thinking well of me. She must have felt my breath upon her neck, for she moved away slightly, and it seemed to me a shiver visibly passed over that wonderful white skin of hers.

I drew back and involuntarily said, "Beg pardon." I glanced at her mother and it was my turn to shudder. I can't hope to give an accurate impression of that stony, mercenary, mean face. There are looks that paint upon the human countenance the whole of a life, as a flash of lightning paints upon the blackness of the night miles on miles of landscape. The look of Mrs. Ellersly's—stern disapproval at her daughter, stern command that she be more civil, that she unbend—showed me the old woman's soul.

"If you wish it," I said, on impulse, to Miss Ellersly in a low voice, "I shall never try to see you again."

I could feel rather than see the blood suddenly beating in her skin, and there was in her voice a nervousness very like fright as she answered: "I'm sure mamma and I shall be glad to see you whenever you come."

"You?" I persisted.

"Yes," she said, after a brief hesitation.

"Glad?" I persisted.

She smiled—the faintest change in the perfect curve of her lips. "You are very persistent, aren't you?"

"Very," I answered. "That is why I have always got whatever I wanted."

"I admire it," said she.

"No, you don't," I replied. "You think it is vulgar, and you think I am vulgar because I have that quality—that and some others."

She did not contradict me.

"Well, I am vulgar—from your standpoint," I went on. "I have purposes and passions. And I pursue them. For instance, you."

"I?" she said tranquilly.

"You," I repeated. "I made up my mind the first day I saw you that I'd make you like me. And—you will."

"That is very flattering," said she. "And a little terrifying. For"—she faltered, then went bravely on—"I suppose there isn't anything you'd stop at in order to gain your end."

"Nothing," said I, and I compelled her to meet my gaze.

She drew a long breath, and I thought there was a sob in it—like a frightened child.

"But I repeat," I went on, "that if you wish it, I shall never try to see you again. Do you wish it?"

"I—don't—know," she answered slowly. "I think—not."

As she spoke the last word, she lifted her eyes to mine with a look of forced friendliness in them that I'd rather not have seen there. I wished to be blind to her defects, to the stains and smutches with which her surroundings must have sullied her. And that friendly look seemed to me an unmistakable hypocrisy in obedience to her mother. However, it had the effect of bringing her nearer to my own earthly level, of putting me at ease with her; and for the few remaining minutes we talked freely, I indifferent whether my manners and conversation were correct. As I helped her into their carriage, I pressed her arm slightly, and said in a voice for her only, "Until to-morrow."

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

The accommodations at the Kensington Hotel, North avenue, are superfine. Full satisfaction for all patrons.

When you want painting and papering done, the best workmen are always desired. Charles Conover & Co., of Elmwood place, not only have the best men, but use the best materials.

Banking methods are on a perfectly safe basis. The man who fails to put his savings in a bank is a fool. The man who does not pick the City National as his bank is not as wise as he ought be.

There is a certain high standard of commercial honesty and enterprise that but few stores reach. The A. & P. Tea Co. store, West Front street, is one of the few. That is why it does so much business.

Time to think about purchasing a new range or heating stove and the H. E. Gayle Hardware Company has just what you want at low prices; also a full line of hardware, kitchen utensils and cutlery. The goods at this store are the best to be found anywhere.

Roth & Co., of East Front street, are butchers of standing throughout the State. You can visit any one of their numerous stores, including the one here and you will always find the same high grade meat, at low prices and the same uniform courtesy and desire to please. Once a patron of the firm you will always be one.

M. Weinberger, the West Front street clothier, is making a fine showing of new fall and winter suits and overcoats, as well as hats of the latest styles and new furnishings for men. You cannot do better than trade at this store where full value is always given for little money. Inspect the goods before going elsewhere and you will be pleased.

The Prince of India.

Klaw & Erlanger are presenting their stage production of Gen. Lew Wallace's historical and religious story, "The Prince of India," at the Broadway theatre. This great play scored a success never before achieved except by "Ben-Hur," and proved a worthy successor to that wonderful drama in interest of story, portrayal of character and scenic investiture. The best description of the effect of the play on the minds of the first-night audience was written by Edward E. Pidgeon, dramatic critic of the New York Press, who said: "The audience make the roof ring with enthusiastic approval of the nerve-tingling climaxes that mark the close of the prologue and every one of the five acts, the last of which had four scenes that for magic of stagecraft, enthralling interest and melodramatic moderation never have been equalled. It is in this act that the great scene of the play comes. It is the assault of the Islamite horde upon the walls of Constantinople and its Byzantine defenders under the Emporer Constantine. When they finally force a breach and come pouring in seemingly by the thousand, there is presented a picture wonderful to behold. Another scene, less sensational but equally dramatic in the truer sense, when the Prince of India, played with distinction by Emmett Corrigan, struck the Emperor on his throne and defied the court to inflict upon him the death that for a thousand years had been denied him, fairly took the audience by storm and inspired it to a pitch of enthusiasm rarely seen in a New York playhouse."

Embarrassment of Successes.

Henry B. Harris is undergoing the unusual experience of too much success. "The Lion and the Mouse," contrary to all expectations, continues to test the capacity of the Lyceum theatre. The hit scored by Charles Frohman's production of "The Hypocrites" at Mr. Harris' Hudson theatre, has blocked the way for the New York opening of Charles Klein's play, "The Daughters of Men," which has duplicated at the Colonial theatre in Boston, the success of "The Lion and the Mouse." Rose Stahl in "The Chorus Lady" has been compelled to move from the Savoy to the Garrick and from there to the Hackett theatre, and in order to continue the run of "The Daughters of Men," Mr. Harris has arranged for a series of matinees at the Park theatre in Boston where "The Lion and the Mouse" Company B is filling an eight weeks' return engagement. "The Lion and the Mouse" on Saturday, September 29th, established the world's record for receipts for one day's performance of a play. The box office takings for Company A at the Lyceum theatre, New York, were $2,906.50; for Company B, at the Park theatre, Boston, $2,459; for Company C, at Eau Claire, Wis., $1,245; and Company D, at Middletown, Conn., were $1,189, making a total of $7,799.50.

Tunnel Workers Trapped.

New York, Oct. 13.—Trapped in the air lock of tube "D," one of the four tunnels being built for the Pennsylvania Railroad from Long Island City under the East River to join similar tunnels from the Manhattan side, three men were suffocated and perished from the smoke of a fire near the end of the tube yesterday morning. Five others who went to their rescue were overcome by the smoke and dragged unconscious from the shaft by their comrades.

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

MISS MILDRED HOLLAND

the Charming and deservedly Popular Theatrical Star, writes as follows:

"I am delighted with Newbro's Herpicide. It is just what I have been looking for. I find that it not only prevents dandruff, but that it stops the hair from falling out. It is a most delightful hair dressing, and no lady's toilet table is complete without it."

(Signed) MILDRED HOLLAND.

A woman to be pretty must have pretty hair. There is a subtle charm about beautiful hair that lends more to personal adornment than all of the skill of all of the "beauty doctors" combined. The hair need not be of extraordinary or abnormal length, but it must have that distinctiveness of appearance that comes from intelligent care, and is the result of perfect hair health.

The most cultured ladies in every community use Newbro's Herpicide; and when you see a head of hair that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life, it is a fairly good indication that Newbro's Herpicide has been used.

A common cause of dullness of the hair is the presence of fine dust and soot in the streets that is kept in constant motion by trolley cars, automobiles, etc. This fine dust—frequently laden with disease germs—adheres to the hair and dulls its natural lustre.

A delightful way to cleanse and beautify the hair is to moisten a cloth with Newbro's Herpicide and draw it carefully through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. It may be done daily, or less often, as desired.

The result of this cleansing process will prove a surprise, not only in the amount of dirt removed, but in the added beauty of the hair and the sense of cleanliness and comfort that follows. Shampooing will also remove this dust, but too frequent washing of the hair is harmful.

Newbro's Herpicide is the Original remedy that "kills the dandruff germ." It eradicates dandruff and stops falling hair. It is the only real scalp prophylactic in existence. A delightful and refreshing hair dressing. Stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

Baseball and General Sports

DIAMOND DUST.

It may be said that the baseball season in Plainfield is at an end for this year. As the fans look back over the past few months they will realize that they have seen some good contests in this city, and while there may be regrets, fandom has no time to think too much of the past and will hope for better results next summer, when there will be a five-club league here. It has been demonstrated here so many times that no matter how much people like sports, they are not inclined to liberally support any game where the expense is of any size. If they can see a good game at a nominal sum they will attend, but then they want to get their money's worth.

"Warry" MacLaughlin expects to return to Springfield, of the Connecticut State League, next season, unless he should be drafted or sold to some other team. He says that he likes Springfield and believes that it will have a championship team in '07.

Napoleon Lajoie, the great baseball player of the Cleveland Americans, was married this week at Buffalo, his wife being a former manager of a corset house.

Fandom is sorry to lose "Lou" Wiltse as a resident of the city, but his business at Somerville is such that it compelled him to move there. Perhaps he will return here next season.

Those who believed that the Chicago Nationals would have a runaway match with the White Sox, must have changed their minds by this time. In the two games taken from the Cubs the White Sox have played a superior kind of baseball, while their pitchers have shown themselves to be even stronger than those of the National League Club.

Being unable to decide the pennant-winner in the Lackawanna League, without making ill-feeling, there being four ties, the officials of the league have decided not to award the championship, but let it stand as it did when the season closed. Plans for the league for next season are rather indefinite, but it is believed that there will be a league as strong as the one this year.

It is said that the Hoboken team, which finished the season for Red Bank in the Atlantic Coast League, guaranteed to win four out of five games or not take any money. The team played twelve games and won them all.

GOLF.

An event of great interest to golfers will be the annual tournament of the Eastern Professional Golfers' Association to be held at the Forest Hill Golf Club on Tuesday and Wednesday, October 23 and 24, for the championship. It will be a feast for the eastern professionals for they will have an opportunity to win several handsome purses. There is also a local interest because "Marty" O'Loughlin, the "pro" at the Plainfield Country Club, will make a strong bid for the honors and money prizes. The club is a quarter of a mile from Forest Hill railroad station and accessible by the New York and Greenwood Lake Railroad, Chambers and West 23d street Erie ferries. The prize money is $600, $300 of which is donated by the Forest Hill Club, $150 by a golf friend of professional golfers and $150 by the association. The association will also present the winner with a gold medal. On the opening day there will be the championship play, 36 holes, and the prize money will be divided as follows: First, $125 and gold medal; second, $85; third, $70; fourth, $50; fifth, $40; sixth, $30; seventh, $20; eighth, $15; ninth, $10; tenth, 5. On Wednesday morning there will be four ball professional foursomes for these prizes: First, $75; second, $50; third $25. The event for Wednesday afternoon will be decided by the Forest Hill Club committee. It is their intention to have mixed foursomes, in which event an amateur will be paired with a professional. The prizes will be announced by the club at the time of the event. It is advised that the professionals try and arrange with some crack amateur of their club to be their partners and thus help the committee.

It was indeed an imposing sight at the Apawamis Golf Club on Thursday, when the fathers and grandfathers took possession of the course. They were there for the thirty-six hole veterans' golf handicap, and, despite, the trying weather conditions, a good sized field drove off from the first tee. J. D. Foot, of the home club, won the prize for the best thirty-six hole gross score, with rounds of 93 and 91 for a total of 184.

Another golf event that will attract the attention of Plainfield will be the Intercollegiate Golf Championship to be played at Garden City next week. Robert Abbott now holds the championship and he will be called upon to defend his title. It will be a difficult matter to do so, because the field this year will be stronger than ever, Williams having been admitted. However, Abbott has been playing a consistent game throughout the season and should be able to play a top notch game.

In addition to play for the Golf Committee cup and the October Handicap cup at the Plainfield Country Club today, there will also be a best four ball match that is sure to attract the ambitious players of the club. Just now there is great rivalry in the weekly competitions, the contestants in the lead holding their positions by a small margin.

FOOTBALL.

This afternoon the Plainfield High School eleven is playing the East Orange High School at East Orange. A number of rooters accompanied the team.

The football elevens from the Plainfield and North Plainfield High Schools will meet next Wednesday for the first time this season and a lively game is anticipated. The borough team has been strengthened considerable and will likely give the Plainfield team plenty of work.

First Killing Frost.

The first killing frost of the season descended on the city last night. The thermometer dropped to twenty-eight degrees. There was an unusually heavy dew and the white mantle that lay over the yards, fields and roofs looked like a covering of snow. Weather indications for tomorrow say warmer.

Railroad Victim Buried.

Efforts to locate his relatives having failed, the body of John Pinton, the man killed at Fanwood, Tuesday, has been buried at the county's expense. His home was supposed to have been in Berwick, Pa., but the police of that city wired they could find no one who knew him.

WHACKS BARE LEGS.

Teacher Invents Remedy to Stop Tripping.

Atlantic City, Oct. 13.—"Put out your leg! Turn down your stocking! Whack! whack!! whack!!!"

Boys in the New Jersey Avenue Public School who persisted in projecting their feet into the aisles so that the fair instructress several times almost did acrobatic stunts, have been conquered by the teacher's ingenuity and wit.

After the teacher had tripped several times she hit upon a remedy for the evil. A big boy who had offended was commanded to roll down his stocking, and then with a ruler she whacked his shins until, smarting under the humiliation and pain, he solemnly promised to "be good." A half dozen other boys, guilty of the same malefaction, were treated to similar punishment.

School authorities, while at first amazed at the young teacher's temerity, are said to have congratulated her after an investigation of the circumstances.

—A number of private lunches were given at the Plainfield Country Club today, and this evening there will be several dinner parties.

LOVING CUP GOES TO ALLENTOWN FIREMEN.

Gift of Charles Engelhart Awarded To Pioneer Company.

Rahway, Oct. 13.—The handsome gold-lined silver loving cup, which was purchased by Charles Engelhart, the new proprietor of Taylor's Hotel, on St. George avenue, and placed in the hands of the committee on firemen's parade, to be presented to the finest appearing and best equipped company in line in Tuesday's parade, has been awarded to Pioneer Engine Company, No. 9, of Allentown, Pa.

While the Allentown company is a remarkably fine looking body of men, much dissatisfaction is expressed over the award. The men brought no apparatus. They were accompanied by the noted Allentown band, and their uniforms were attractive, but several other out-of-town companies made an equally fine appearance and had with them their engines and full paraphernalia.

—George Allen, of the borough, has given up his position with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, and returned to his former position with the Crescent Embossing Works.

Y. M. C. A. ANNIVERSARY

Long List of Church Meetings and Speakers Is Announced.

SERVICES THREE DAYS

First At Seventh-Day Baptist Church Saturday, November 10, Last at the Crescent Ave. Church On Sunday, November 18.

Definite shape has been given to the plans for the observance of the thirty-ninth anniversary of the Y. M. C. A. Although the arrangements have not been entirely completed, the general outline of the celebration has been fixed, and this was announced this morning by Secretary Robbie.

The observance will be wholly of a religious nature. A group of representative evangelical churches will take part, and services of thanksgiving and uplift will be held on November 10, 11 and 18.

The chief date will be Sunday, the eleventh, when services will be held at the following churches: First Baptist, Grace M. E., Congregational, Warren chapel, First M. E., First Presbyterian, Trinity, and Park Avenue Baptist. The Seventh-Day Baptist church will be the scene of one on Saturday, the tenth. The Crescent Avenue church, which could not give over its pulpit on the eleventh, will lend its home for a service on the eighteenth.

Strong speakers of the Y. M. C. A. forces in this section will speak. They are: E. T. Carlton, associate of John R. Mott in the Foreign Department of the International Committee; C. W. Deitrick, general secretary of the Brooklyn Central branch; W. B. Millar, secretary of the Army and Navy branch; F. W. Pearsall, secretary of New York State; George A. Warburton, secretary of the Railroad Department, New York; F. B. Hoagland, secretary at Paterson; J. T. Sproull, of Arlington, president of the State Christian Endeavor Union; and Ben M. Lewis, secretary of the East Side branch, New York. The speakers have not yet been assigned.

In connection with the celebration a theatre meeting will be held on the eighteenth. President Gavett's review of the year's work, and his survey of the work to come will be read at all the services.

No social affair will mark the celebration. It has been decided that the observance is more fittingly to be marked by religious meetings. Next year, when the two-score mark shall have been reached, something in the way of a public reception will probably be held.

PATERSON'S FIRE CHIEF'S WIFE DIES SUDDENLY.

Fatally Stricken at Dallas in Presence of Chief Doane and Other Jerseymen.

Seated in the Oriental hotel at Dallas, Tex., with her husband, Chief T. O. Doane and other members of the New Jersey delegation attending the Inter-National Fire Chiefs' Association, Mrs. John Stagg, wife of Paterson's fire chief, was stricken with uremic coma and died a few minutes later, Thursday morning. The attack came without a moment's warning and those who sprang to her assistance had no idea of its seriousness. Her death cast a gloom over the entire convention, as Chief Stagg is president of the International Association, and out of respect to her memory no meeting was held that day.

Mrs. Stagg and three of her children accompanied the husband and father to Dallas and made the entire journey with Chief Doane and the heads of departments of this city. The body has been shipped North and will probably reach Paterson today.

At State Conference.

The employed officers of the Y. M. C. A. in New Jersey are holding a conference in Newark today. General Secretary Robbie and Boys' Secretary Haydon W. Barrows, of the local association, are in attendance.

BLAZE IN BRICKYARD CAUSES $500 DAMAGES

OUT OF CITY LIMITS BUT LOCAL DEPARTMENT FOUGHT THE FLAMES.

One of the wooden sheds that cover the kilns at Albert Rajotte's brickyard on Jefferson avenue, caught fire yesterday afternoon and subsequently took the Plainfield fire department out of the city limits to fight the blaze.

The dividing line between Plainfield and Dunellen runs through the center of Jefferson avenue and the Rajotte plant is located on the Dunellen side. The owner's home is on the Plainfield side directly opposite, and when Mrs. Rajotte discovered the shed in flames at 12:59 she turned in an alarm from box 98 at Jefferson and Dunellen avenues. An alarm was also given in Dunellen and that department was soon on the scene, but not having sufficient hose could only fight the blaze from one side. When the city department arrived Acting Chief Jennings ordered the steamer stationed at the bridge over Green brook and 1,200 feet of hose were laid up to the Plainfield side of the burning structure.

With the combined force at work, the fire was soon extinguished. It was one of those "might have been" blazes as there are a succession of large sheds all over the yard and once they got going Dunellen would have had the biggest conflagration it has seen in years. The city recall was sounded at 2:05.

Though it is not known definitely, it is the belief that the blaze started from the fire in the kilns where bricks were baking. Rajotte and his employees got the wagons and lots of material out before the departments got busy and while the firemen were working, tore the boards away from adjoining sheds to prevent the flames spreading.

The owners places the loss at about $500. It is fully covered by insurance in companies represented by William A. Woodruff.

COMBATANTS SUFFER MYSTERIOUS SLASHING

QUEER LACK OF TESTIMONY ON CUTTING IN COLORED ROW.

Andrew Jefferson, colored, went into Powers' drug store on Somerset street at 6:30 o'clock last night, with a three-inch razor slash across the back of his neck and a bad cut on the back of his left hand. He said he got them in a fight on Rock avenue at 6:30 o'clock. Frank Denecklau, the clerk, hustled him to police headquarters.

Jefferson said Garfield Nelson, another negro, cut him. Roundsman Flynn located Nelson an hour later. He had a gash on the left side of his face, back of the jaw. He was locked up with Jefferson. Four stitches were required to close up the wound in the latter's neck.

Mystery was cast over the cutting by the two men when they were arraigned before Judge Runyon this morning. They both acknowledged fighting alone, but each swore earnestly that he did not cut the other and had nothing with which to cut on him. Each was positive, however, that the other cut him, although neither could swear to having seen a weapon in the other's hand.

"It was too dark when we mixed up," said Nelson.

Mrs. Nelson, who witnessed the fight, further deepened the mystery by swearing that Jefferson was not cut when he left the scene of the row.

"I found that Garfield was cut after Jefferson went," she said. She saw no knife or razor in Jefferson's hand.

The police found no weapon on either man. Judge Runyon tried unavailingly to get either of the men to acknowledge that he had used a knife or razor. They stuck to their declaration that nothing of a cutting nature was on them when they fought.

"Well something happened to disturb the peace of the Sabbath," said the magistrate forced to fall back on the only proveable thing in connection with the case; 'it will cost you $8 or 20 days."

The fines were paid.

Malarial Pilgrim Arrested.

Michael Ryan, who described himself as an ex-attache at the State asylum at Morris Plains, was arrested Saturday by Patrolman Overbaugh for drunkenness and vagrancy. He told Judge Runyon this morning that the asylum doctor advised him to seek outdoor work as a cure for malaria two weeks ago, and he had come to this neighborhood in his search for ot. He said he had a job awaiting him in Westfield, and sentence was suspended.

COL. TYLER'S WIFE DEAD

Much Beloved Woman of Distinguished Lineage Passes Away Suddenly.

BENEVOLENT WORKER

She Was a Granddaughter of Former U. S. Senator and a Descendant of William Bradford.

Mrs. Eliza Margaret Tyler, wife of Colonel Mason W. Tyler, died suddenly yesterday morning from heart failure at her home on West Seventh street. She had been enjoying her usual health until Friday morning when she complained of feeling ill. The members of her family did not think it was anything serious and were not prepared for the quickly fatal development.

Mrs. Tyler was a daughter of the late Rev. John Frederick Schroeder, D. D., formerly of Trinity Parish, New York city, and granddaughter of Elijah Boardman, formerly United States Senator from Connecticut. She was also a lineal descendant of Governor William Bradford, of the Mayflower. Her grandmother was an own cousin of Jeremiah Mason, the distinguished constitutional lawyer and United State Senator from New Hampshire.

Mrs. Tyler was a member of the New York and New Jersey societies of Mayflower descendants. Her lineage could be traced to twelve Colonial governors, among them General John Mason, who took part in the Pequod war, and Lieutenant-Colonel William Whitney, prominent in the siege of Louisburg and the massacre at Bloody Pond. She was born in New York city and was married to Colonel Tyler on December 29, 1869. They moved to Plainfield two years later and built the home where they have since resided.

Mrs. Tyler was always known as a woman possessed of sympathy for the sick and unfortunate and her acts of kindly benevolence can be numbered by hundreds. She told but little about them, only infrequently asking the advice of her husband and family, but she had keen perception and no case of need that came to her notice passed without investigation. She was a member of the executive committee of the Plainfield Relief Association and ever since its organization has been prominent in its work. The Children's Home is another institution that felt her kindly presence and for years she had contributed to its support.

She was at one time a member of Holy Cross church but afterward became identified with Grace church. In both congregations she was connected with the various societies and was ever ready to participate in social or religious affairs. She took great interest in Episcopal missions and aided in their support from her own purse and by other means. Her personal acquaintances were to be found in every part of the city and borough and her sudden demise has elicited widespread sympathy for members of the family.

Mrs. Tyler is survived by her husband and two sons, Councilman William Seymour Tyler and Cornelius Boardman Tyler. The funeral will be held at her late home Wednesday afternoon at 2:30. Interment will be at the convenience of the family.

HOLY CROSS BOYS' FIELD DAY SATURDAY.

Track and Field Events to Precede a Football Game.

The boys of Holy Cross Club met Saturday evening and transacted business of considerable interest to the forty or more members present at the meeting. The report from the treasurer showed the club to be in fine shape financially, all bills up to date paid and a comfortable balance on hand.

Of most interest to the boys was the plan submitted by the committee on athletics and adopted by the club, for the holding of a meet at the Cricket field, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The events are: 100-yard dash, running broad jump, standing high jump, 60-yard dash, shot put, pole vault, three-legged race, sack race and midget race. Entries are for club members only. The winners in the various events will constitute the club's track team. Admission to the sports is by ticket, the number being limited to 150. A football game between East Orange and Holy Cross will follow the track and field sports.

Several candidates were reported for admission to the club.

C. E. Society Elects Officers.

The Christian Endeavor Society of Faith chapel has elected these officers for the ensuing year: President, Edward Baker; vice-president, Mrs. J. W. Musson; secretary, Miss Marie Viebrick; treasurer, Miss Elizabeth Frank. The president will appoint the committees later.

GOVERNORS TO SPEAK HERE

Voorhees, Griggs, Murphy and Probably Stokes to Address Plainfield Voters.

TUESDAY NIGHT OCT. 23

Secretary Shaw at Elizabeth Tomorrow Night—Meetings Throughout County.

Three former Governors, and probably the present Governor, too, will speak on behalf of Congressman Charles N. Fowler at the big Republican mass meeting to be held in the Plainfield theatre Tuesday night, Oct. 23. Foster M. Voorhees, John W. Griggs and Franklin Murphy are the former occupants of the gubernatorial chair who have consented to make speeches. Governor Edward Casper Stokes may also be present and it is more than likely that State Treasurer F. O. Briggs, chairman of the State Republican commitee will preside.

With the probable exception of the meeting to be held at Jacobs' theatre, Elizabeth, tomorrow night, at which Secretary of the Treasury Leslie Shaw will speak, the meeting here will be the biggest affair of the Congressional campaign. County Chairman Frank H. Smith said today that he hopes to announce within a few days that the Governor will positively appear. If he does come, the Cumberland statesman will have something to say to the people of Plainfield on the necessity of giving Mr. Fowler a rousing majority.

Governor Stokes will preside at another mass meeting to be held at Jacobs' theatre, Elizabeth, on Friday night, Nov. 2. Former Attorney General Griggs will also be a speaker on that occasion. Meetings are now being arranged for Summit, Rahway and Westfield. Tomorrow night, the campaign will be launched in Garwood, Assemblyman Randolph Perkins being scheduled to address the voters of that town. The last mass meeting here will be held on Wednesday night, Oct. 30, when Mr. Fowler will be the chief speaker. The meeting at Summit will take place probably on the Saturday night preceding the election.

COUNTRY DANCE NEXT.

Newspapermen Plan for Old-Fashioned Soiree Thanksgiving Eve.

"Rube" and his best "gal" will own the town on Thanksgiving Eve. On that festive evening the Pad and Pencil club will once again plunge into the social whirl and run its fourth annual country dance. On this occasion "biled" shirts and stiff collars, silks, satin and crepe de chine creations will be relegated to a back seat giving way to the aypical dress of the cornfield districts. All efforts of the scribes in past dances were crowned with success and this year the news writers will try to outdo all other functions carried out under their direction.

The committee is now at work arranging its invitation list and will decide on the hall and place this week. The date is definitely decided on—a night before a holiday being an ideal time for such a frolic.

Wedded at Church.

Edward Irby and Miss Julia Sarrell, both of this city, were married last night by Rev. J. T. Morris, B. D., in the Ebenezer Baptist church. The ceremony was witnessed only by relatives and a few friends. Miss Sarrell was gowned in white silk trimmed with French lace. After the ceremony the couple left for Woodbridge, where they were tendered a reception by friends. They will make their home in this city.

Honor for Dr. Buchanan.

Dr. J. Hervey Buchanan, past grand chief of the Knights of the Golden Eagle, returned home Saturday, from the four days' meeting of the Supreme Castle at Atlantic City. He took a prominent part in the sessions and was appointed on the finance committee of the Supreme Castle. The next session of the Castle will be held in Huntington, W. Va. Dr. Buchanan has planned to attend it.

All Day Sewing Meeting.

The all day sewing meeting of the Missionary and Aid Society of Warren chapel will be held Wednesday, beginning at 9:30. A hot luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock and a short business meeting will be held at 3 in the afternoon to take the place of the regular Friday afternoon meeting. All members are urged to attend.

Somerset Democratic Convention.

The Somerset Democratic county convention is to be held in Germania Hall, Somerville, on Friday morning next at 11 o'clock.

HOME FROM CONVENTION

Chief Doane Reports Profitable Discussions at Gathering of Firemen at Dallas, Tex.

TOOK AN ACTIVE PART

Rendered Report on Proposition for Standard Hose Thread—Meet at Washington Next Year.

Chief T. O. Doane, of the city fire department, returned home last night after attending at Dallas, Texas, what he describes as "one of the most important and instructive conventions" yet conducted by the International Association of Fire Chiefs. Three hundred delegates from all parts of the United Ctaes and Canada were present and during the three days that meetings were held a large amount of business was transacted.

Chief Doane was accompanied to and from Dallas by the chiefs from Newark, Paterson, Jersey City, Elizabeth, New Brunswick and other places and all took an active part in the discussions. Chief Doane was appointed a member of a committee last year to inquire into the plan to adopt a standard hose thread in the United States and Canada and he made a lengthy verbal report on the subject, the chairman being absent. It is the opinion of the committee that a standard should be adopted and the manufacturers are rapidly falling into line. No action was taken but the committee was continued and will report again next year.

An interesting discussion followed the reading of a paper by former Chief Hendricks, for twenty-five years the head of the New Haven, Conn., department, on "Should fire departments be called out to quell riots." He spoke in the negative but the majority of the convention did not concur with him. In recent years fire departments have frequently rendered great service to cities by quelling riots with streams of water and it has been found a most effective method. There were other discussions on "The modern construction of buildings" and "The best means of fire protection for small cities."

The convention lasted from Tuesday until Thursday and what little time there was outside of meetings, the Dallas firemen took advantage of in entertaining the delegates. The death of Mrs. Stagg, wife of Chief Stagg, of Paterson, who is president of the Association, affected all the firemen. When the casket holding the body was placed on the train to start for New Jersey, it was heaped high with flowers placed there by the Dallas department. When Shreveport, La., was reached and a change of cars had to be made, members of the Shereport department acted as pall bearers and added more flowers. The same action was taken by the firemen at Roanoke, Va.

Chief Doane reached home in excellent health and he has nothing but words of praise for the citizens of Dallas and the people of Texas as a whole. While in the convention city he met Herbert Stover, of Plainfield, who has been south on business, and the chief had him accorded all the honors at the convention.

The association will meet next year at Washington, D. C.

Rally Day Exercises.

Informal rally day exercises were held at the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, yesterday afternoon, under the auspices of the Sunday-school, of which Walter M. McGee is the superintendent. There were songs by the main school and the primary department and the pastor, Rev. E. E. Roberson, made an interesting address. There was a large attendance of officers and pupils of the school.

A Southern Supper.

Under the auspices of the Salem Student Committee of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, an old fashioned southern supper, followed by an entertainment, will be given in the parlors of the church Wednesday night. This society is supporting a young girl student at Salem College.

Spring on Park Avenue.

HENRY C. SQUIRES PASSES AWAY SUDDENLY

Hope Chapel's Founder and Friend Succumbs After Few Hours Illness.

A CHRISTIAN WORKER

Heart Trouble the Cause—Proprietor of Famous Sporting Goods House.

Henry C. Squires, one of the best known residents of the city, died suddenly at his home in Watchung avenue, today noon, from an attack of heart trouble. He was taken ill at 3 o'clock this morning and despite the best medical aid he grew rapidly worse, until noon, when he breathed his last.

Mr. Squires was born at Kirkwood, N. Y., seventy years ago, where he spent his boyhood days. Later he lived in Jersey City and then in Bergen, prior to moving to this city thirty-five years ago. For twenty-seven years he lived in the house in which he died. Soon after coming to Plainfield he united with the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church and for thirty years was an elder and most active member. There was no more earnest worker and he was always doing everything in his power to advance the interest of the cause of religion.

Perhaps his greatest work was in the founding of Hope chapel, which was opened January 1, 1888, on West Fourth street, and which ever since has been an active branch of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church. Mr. Squires was impressed with the urgent need for a place of worship in the West End of the city, and at that time arrangements were being made to erect a new building for Bethel chapel on East Fifth street. Mr. Squires secured the old chapel building and had it removed to the present site of Hope chapel.

Under the faithful guidance of Mr. Squires, who was the first superintendent, the chapel congregation steadily grew in membership and it was not long before the quarters were far too small. An addition was built to the structure and even this in time was inadequate to accommodate the large congregations. About six years ago the present Memorial chapel was built and it stands as a monument to the unceasing labors of Mr. Squires and his faithful co-workers, who were instrumental in interesting others in the religious work being carried on in this section of the city. Not only did Mr. quires devote a great deal of his time, but of his means as well, in the support of the work and this he maintained to the end of his life. He was always faithful in his attendance, and it was a rare thing for him to be absent from the Sunday or mid-week services. Only yesterday he attended the services as usual.

Not only at Hope chapel but at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church will Mr. Squires be missed. While he was chiefly identified with the religious enterprise in the West End, he never allowed his interest in his home church to lag. He always kept in close touch with all departments of the work and could be depended upon to do even more than his share when necessary.

Aside from his Christian work, Mr. Squires was well-known in business circles. For forty years he was engaged in the sportin goods business in New York, the present store being inC ortland street. Two of his sons, George Harry Squires and Walter Squires, were engaged in business with him. The house was one of the best known in the country. Mr. Squires was always interested in the growth of Plainfield and in his quiet manner never lost an opportunity to advance it.

He is survived by a wife and five sons: George Harry, Walter S., Louis and Fred Squires, all of this city, and Dr. Charles A. Squires, of the Presbyterian Hospital, New York. The arrangements for the funeral have not been completed as yet.

Fair Still Prospering.

Saturday night brought large crowd to the St. Mary fair in the school hall and from the patronage accorded the various attractions, the undertaking promises to be a record breaker financially. The entertainment furnished by Johnny Nestor and Miss Mae Russell was excellent. The attraction tonight will be John F. Clark, who will talk and sing.

Engagement Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Stewart, of West Seventh street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Stewart, to William Fleet Taliaferro, of New York.

PILE-DRIVER PULLS DOWN BUNCH OF WIRES

FIRE ALARM, POLICE AND 'PHONE CIRCUITS IN THE SNARL.

The New Jersey Central is about to build a new bridge at Berckman street and in order to put up false work for the support of the tracks, will drive a lot of timbers into the roadway. A pile-driver on wheels was brought to that point, yesterday morning, to begin operations and while it was being drilled around for position, one of the men raised the "tower" that guides the weight up and down.

A mass of telephone, police and fire alarm wires crossed the tracks at that point and the top of the "tower" caught the bunch, bringing them down in a bad tangle before the engineer realized what had happened. The fire alarm wires got in contact with the others and as a result the steam whistle and the tappers in the houses began a healthy racket. The firemen thought a box had been pulled somewhere and were on the anxious seat until the trouble was located.

A gang of linemen was hurried out and the fire alarm was put in shape inside of an hour. The police and telephone circuits followed soon after, all being placed in a cable suspended under the bridge to avoid a recurrence of the trouble.

TRIP OF CONDOLENCE WINDS UP IN JAIL

KEIDERLING'S PAINFUL EXPERIENCE WITH REIGN OF LAW IN DUNELLEN.

George Keiderling, of this city, went to Dunellen Saturday night to condole with the family of a dead friend. He didn't get to the house, but before the night was over he needed condolence himself, and his trouble reached a climax this morning when he was sentenced to ninety days in jail for disorderly conduct and was held in $100 bail each on two other charges.

Keiderling was accompanied by Robert Anderson Kelly, also of this city, on his trip. Unable to see the dead body of their friend, they sought consolation at a hotel. Kelly became very drunk, and when he staggered to the street shortly after 9 o'clock, Marshal Owen Mohan placed him under arrest. Keiderling ordered the marshal to release him, and made a crack at the office. Mohan seized hold of him with his disengaged hand and tripped him up. Kelly fell at the same time.

As Mohan stooped over to grasp the collar of each man, Keiderling kicked him in the face, cutting open his cheek. Mohan put on steam and yanked both men to the borough jail in short order. Then he went before Justice Von Minden and swore out three charges against Keiderling, one for interfering with an officer, one for disorderly conduct and one for assault.

The court gave Keiderling short shrift this morning. He was sentenced to ninety days in jail at New Brunswick on the disorderly charge, and held in $100 bail for the grand jury on each of the other complaints. Justice Von Minden told him the imprisonment sentence would be remitted if he could raise $20 as a fine, but the money was not forthcoming by noon and the commitment papers were made out.

Kelly was arraigned before Borough Recorder D. S. Campbell on a charge of plain drunkenness. He escaped with a fine of $3.

Wants Damages for Injury to Finger.

Fred Mellick, of this city, is plaintiff in the Union County Court, today, in a suit for $5,000 damages against the Lehigh Valley Railroad. The case will probably occupy the whole day. On September 19, 1904, Mr. Mellick was standing on the rear platform of a smoking car at Easton, Pa., the door being opened. While resting his hand on the side of the car the door blew shut, catching his finger and mashing it. It is for this that he seeks $5,000 damages, claiming that he has never been able to use the finger since that time.

Totten Was Overcome.

George Totten, helplessly drunk, was arrested by Marshal Flack in the borough, Saturday. He was afterward released on his own recognizance for appearance tonight.

Drunk Released.

William Hartney, arrested yesterday for drunkenness, was arraigned before Judge Runyon in the city court this morning. Sentence was suspended.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD

The neighborhood quarrel of the Southard and Guerrier families of Cook avenue, which has been aired in Justice Clark's court several times in the past year, had another inning Saturday afternoon, when Emily Guerrier was arraigned, charged by Mary Southard with throwing tomatoes and calling the Southard family names. The evidence produced showed the over-ripe tomatoes were thrown by the children of the defendant, so the case was dismissed. Mrs. Southard was then arraigned, charged by Henry Guerrier with throwing stones and using indecent language to her neighbor. Both sides produced several witnesses and the defendant was represented by Counsellor Francis J. Blatz, but the court found her guilty and imposed a fine of $4 and costs.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

On the 6:40 train from New York Saturday afternoon a man died of heart disease as the train was nearing South Plainfield. He was seen to enter the car, looking very ill, assisted by a young woman supposed to be his wife, and as they took their seats the young woman showed signs of great anxiety, which became so marked as to call forth from the passengers offers of assistance. The man died before medical aid could be summoned.

The Young People's Club will give the plays, "Thirty Minutes for Refreshments" and "Jumbo Jim," at Marconnier chapel, Oak Tree, on Friday night, October 26. LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

Mme. Modjeska, in an elaborate production of "Macbeth," will be the attraction at the New Plainfield theatre tonight. It will be the great artiste's last appearance in this city as this is her farewell to the American stage.

Minstrelsy of the genuine, joyful sort, brought up to date as to elaborateness of production and artistic arrangement, will be the attraction at the New Plainfield theatre tomorrow, afternoon and night. It will signify the return engagement of George Primrose and his big, black-face minstrel company in a programme that contains everything pertaining to negro life on a Southern plantation. The scenic investiture has been elevated to a degree of artistic importance not found in the old traditional minstrel shows. The singing of principals and chorus, as well as the playing of the orchestra, is far superior, it is claimed, to anything ever before heard in minstrelsy. Among the soloists are such favorites as Ed Chappell, Charles Reinhart, Walter S. Brower, David Irwin, Clarence Marks, William Oakland, Thomas J. Holmes, Harry E. Briody and Ed Davis.

Joseph Murphy's famous Irish play, "Kerry Gow," will be the attraction offered at the New Plainfield theatre Wednesday night, with Allen Doone as Dan O'Hara. A comedian of exceptional merit, with a sweet and powerful tenor voice, his rendering of some of the popular Irish ballads captivates his audience. There are many fine situations and dramatic climaxes, which are made the most of in the hands of the excellent company engaged. The cast requires twenty speaking parts, and the management has selected with great care a company particularly adapted to the roles. The company carries every piece of scenery used in the four acts, the Blacksmith's Shop, the Ring of the Anvils, the Horse Race, the Carrier Pigeons, the Kerry Dances. Hours of interest and delight.

This year's cast of "The Rollicking Girl" comprises such well known stage favorites as Barney Barnard, (Sam's brother), Paul Decker, another comedian of renown, that dashing young Julia West, as Hattie Williams' successor, Helen Dexter, the vivacious soubrette, who is admirably cast as the wife of the wigmaker and introduces her many specialties in the dancing line, combined and surrounded with one of the largest and most perfectly drilled choruses of any company travelling the country today. "The Rollicking Girl" is the atttraction that has been secured by Manager Counihan for the New Plainfield theatre Thursday night.

Scene in "The Rollicking Girl," at New Plainfield Theatre Thursday Night.

The Russell Bros. are billed for appearance at the New Plainfield theatre Friday night. They will be seen in a play written by Mark E. Swan entitled "The Great Jewel Mystery," the story being suggested by a strange robbery that occurred not long ago in the metropolis. The scenes are all laid in New York and give vivid pictures of the great city as it is today. The company under the management of Charles E. Blaney is a large one and the scenic equipment complete and costly. The Russell Bros. are clever comedians and in this melodrama have ample opportunity for their ability.

Viola Allen, who last season turned from Shakespeare to Cylde Fitch, has returned to the bard of Avon with a splendid production of "Cymbeline." The first performance was given in Washington, Monday, October 1, and the critics of the Capitol pronounce it the most massive production seen in that city in recent years, and agree that the role of Imogen is peculiarly well suited to the delightful art of this exceptionally gifted actress. Those of our theatregoers who saw Miss Allen's elaborately beautiful production of "The Winter's Tale" will be interested to know that the same attention to historical correctness in costume and scenic equipment is assured in the coming presentation. In the cast are J. H. Gilmour, Sidney Herbert, C. Leslie Allen, Fuller Mellish, Jefferson Winter, Hyron Calice, Henry K. Hadfield, Alison Skipwerth and Ivia Benton. The production will be at the New Plainfield theatre next Saturday night.

A feature of the comic opera, "Red Feather," which will be seen in this city for the first time on Saturday, October 27, is a male chorus of twenty-four singers, none of whom were engaged until they had conclusively proven their vocal ability. Reginald De Koven, who composed the music, contributed some especially pretentious male choruses, the successful interpretation of which is quite beyond the power of the ordinary chorus man.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Liefke, of West Front street, spent Sunday with relatives at Morristown.

Mrs. J. P. D. Kirch, of Tarrytown, N. Y., who has been visiting relatives and friends here, has returned home.

STATE ENDEAVORERS CLOSE THEIR SESSION.

Addresses the Feature of the Big Meeting at Millville Friday.

At Friday afternoon's session of the State Christian Endeavor convention at Millville, after an open parliament by Mrs. J. S. Peacock, of Camden, superintendent of the correspondence department, the Rev. W. I. Chamberlain, president of the Christian Endeavor union of India, spoke on the work accomplished by the societies in foreign countries. The session closed with an address by Bishop Alexander Walters, D. D., of the African conference, of Jersey City. The Rev. W. D. Stults, of Manasquan, presided over the evening session, and the chief address was by the Rev. J. W. Cochran, D. D., of Philadelphia. A reception and reunion of delegates followed.

The day's programme opened with a conference, participated in by 21 district secretaries, led by Miss Ida Stephens, of Hackensack, the State secretary. Following this came a song service and devotional exercises, led by the Rev. Walter A. Steiner. Later, Mayor George W. Payne, on behalf of the citizens of Millville, addressed the convention and endeavored to make them feel that they were welcome wherever they went about the city. The Rev. Frank Anderson, pastor of the church, also made an address of welcome.

John T. Sproull, of Arlington, the State president, made the response for the State unions. Then came a quiet hour. At 11:20 the report of the press department was made by A. B. Johnson, superintendent, of South Orange.

Jersey City, Oct. 13.—Richard Morgan, eighty-one years old, for many years superintendent of the Allison Drydock Company, died Thursday in 230 Union street, this city, from pneumonia. Gottlob, Walton S. Howarth and other city and county candidates.

Want Whiskerless Milkers.

Los Angeles, Oct. 15.—The Southern California Veterinary Association has declared war on bewhiskered dairymen. If it has its way caretakers, milkers and milk deliverers in this county will have to go clean shaven. In a paper which was read before the association last night, whiskers were denounced as the favorite rendezvous and abiding place of germs. Legislation was demanded to force those who handle food to dispense with "microbe harboring parks" on the chins. Dr. Young declared that germs thrive on farms where milkers wear whiskers.

Umpire Won't Run.

Rochester, N. Y., Oct. 15.—John D. Lynn having declined the Democratic nomination for Senator from the Forty-sixth Senatorial district, the committee appointed to fill vacancies made choice of Francis O'Loughlin, known throughout the county as "Silk O'Loughlin," a base ball umpire. He is in Chicago, umpiring the world's championship series. O'Loughlin was nominated for Senator in this district two years ago, but owing to the boom for Roosevelt he was defeated. Late Friday night he telegraphed that he would not accept the nomination.

Chemist's Grim Experiment.

New York, Oct. 15.—"You have often heard me tell you what prussic acid will do. This is it." This was the wording of a note crushed in the clenched fist of Dr. Eugene VanNess, a manufacturing chemist, when he was found dead on a lounge in his laboratory, on the top floor of a three story building at No. 151 West Thirty-first street, at about eight o'clock Friday night. On the floor, where he had evidently had it after swallowing half its contents, was a large goblet filled with a strong solution of prussic acid.

We Are Going to Celebrate the World's Unprecedented Prosperity and the Great Growth of This Establishment by a Week of Sterling Values in Most Seasonable Goods.

Prosperity is world-wide, and we of the United States have been dealt with so generously by Nature that the crops just harvested are so enormous as to make it impossible for railways and steamships to transport them. In eight months of this year the receipts of grain at the fifteen primary markets exceeded 1904 by 400,000,000 bushels. At the five greatest port cities the receipts were 700,000,000 bushels greater. 3,000,000 more head of live stock were received at the seven leading cities. Freight over the Great Lakes in eight months exceeded the shipments of 1904 by 20,000,000 tons. The shipments thru the Salt Ste. Marie canals were 30,000,000 tons—double that of 1904. With 33 per cent. more locomotives and 40 per cent. more cars than the railroads had ten years ago, they confess their inability to move the country's product.

These facts plainly spell prosperity, and this prosperity is being strongly reflected in the development of Newark, and particularly in the rapid growth of this greatest of New Jersey's retail establishments. Our trade has increased enormously—not only with the people of this city and its suburbs but with those of surrounding towns. In many instances our deliveries have doubled within a year, and in almost all towns gains of 25 per cent. to 50 per cent. have been made. Widespread recognition is now given the superior merits of the Hahne & Co. store and the vast advantages of trading here.

The business is already great. In a little while it will be gigantic.

Join us in celebrating this prosperity—it is Harvest Time for you as well as for us.

SALOON-KEEPER SHINES AS A PULPIT ORATOR.

Jersey City, Oct. 15.—Bolding invading a stronghold of his foes, Rudolph Deutl, a local saloon-keeper addressed a crowded audience of Prohibitionists Wednesday evening in the First Congregational church, in Bergen avenue, this city. Though many persons had attacked his trade bitterly in a discussion of "The Church and Its Relation to the Saloon," he asserted that the abolition of the bar-room was not the issue, but a betterment of the condition of the liquor trade. That could only be accomplished, he said, by the co-operation of the saloon-keepers and the church members in educating men to abstain from excessive drinking. He advocated the sale of intoxicating drinks on Sunday and a low excise tax with such earnestness that when he finished his speech he was warmly applauded.

Deutl is a German, who prides himself on having been born in a "wirthshaus," where his father sold beer. He came to this country fifteen years ago, enlisted for the Spanish-American war, was wounded and returned home to start the Edna Hall, 340 Third street, Jersey City. When he learned yesterday that Rev. Dr. John L. Scudder, of the First Congregational church, would conduct an open meeting in denunciation of liquor traffic he straightway visited the preacher and asked permission to speak for his fellow-workers. His request was granted. He presented himself on time in the church.

Jap Peril in Hawaii.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 15.—"Between depression and Asiatic competition, the whites are being driven out of Hawaii and the Asiatics are succeeding. It is a struggle for survival, with the white element slowly and steadily losing ground." This observation, contained in a bulletin issued yesterday by the Bureau of Labor, summarizes the results of an investigation of the orientalization of Hawaii. With the advantage of their lower standard of living and protected from competition in their own class by the Chinese exclusion law, the Japanese, according to this report, "have secured a preponderance among the plantation workers which creates serious difficulties of administration, renders plantations liable to great loss by strikes, and to a certain extent takes out of the hands of overseers and managers the control of administration."

Bicyclist Meets with Accident.

Bound Brook, Oct. 15.—Thomas Egan, of Somerville, was found laying in the road near Finderne Wednesday night in an unconscious condition, by Charles Meyers, a farmer, wh owas walking to his home in Somerville. Egan, who is a telegraph operator, employed in the Lehigh signal tower near Bound Brook, came to his grief while returning home from work on his bicycle. The machine struck an obstacle in the road, throwing Egan to the grond, the force of the blow rendering him senseless. Meyers took Egan to a nearby farmhouse, where he speedily recovered.

Campaign Postals Barred.

New York, Oct. 15.—Postmaster Willcox Friday issued an order holding up and excluding from the mails all campaign postal cards "designed to obviously reflect upon the conduct or character of any individual." This order excluded what are known as the "H. H." cards—Hughes, Hearst, Heaven or Hell" postal cards. Another with the candidates in a hearse and several others of a like nature were also deemed unmailable.

AN IDEAL CANDIDATE.

The eleven Essex county candidates for the General Assembly on the Democratic party have had the good sense to pledge themselves in the event of election to vote for an ideal candidate for United States Senator. The man they have agreed upon for that exalted office, Dr. Woodrow Wilson, has very few peers and no superiors among the many who have been suggested by both parties. To quote the resolution of endorsement, he is a citizen who would "bring to the Senate the purity of purpose and the high intellectual powers which would add honor and prestige not only to New Jersey but to the entire nation." Were he elected it would be New Jersey's proud boast that it had as a representative in the highest law-making body a scholar and not a mere money-bag; not one who had purchased his way into public life.

It is all the more creditable to the Essex men that they have sought out the man; one whom despite his own declarations that he does not want to take such an office they are determined to force it upon him if within their power. They have made it a case of the office seeking the man and not the man the office. If the party's Assembly candidates in Union county are wise they will lose no time in folliwng the example of the Essex men.

MR. SQUIRES' MONUMENT.

The death of Henry C. Squires is a severe blow to Hope chapel, in whose welfare he consecrated the last eighteen years of a well spent life. When the west end was but sparsely settled, Mr. Squires had the foresight to realize that the presence of manufacturing plants in that vicinity furnished a need for religious activity.

The Christian toiler that he was, Mr. Squires took up the work and pursued it with all his characteristic zeal from that day until he was suddenly called to his Master. It was an uphill task at first, but under his guidance and leadership the parish struggled along. Year by year the fruits of his labors were to be seen in an increasing membership and a more encouraging financial support. Neither chilly blasts of winter nor the inclement weather the year round, ever prevented him from taking part in whatever happened to be going on in either the church edifice or the Sunday-school room. No matter who else might be absent, he was there; and he was there at work.

What Hope chapel has done and what it is doing is due largely to the persevering efforts and able advice of the man who was foremost among its founders. Hope chapel is his monument.

In the death of Mrs. Mason W. Tyler, Plainfield has lost a benevolent woman. Her painstaking and self-sacrificing work in the Relief Association and the Children's Home work especially endeared her to the community.

—Co. K will meet at its armory tonight to resume its weekly drills for the winter.

—Henry DeMott, of Somerset street, has received his State license as an undertaker and embalmer.

—M. W. King, of Central avenue, has purchased a lot and will build a modern residence at 723 West Fourth street.

—The Monarch Printing Company, of which David J. Carney is proprietor, has taken possession of the entire first floor of No. 134 North avenue. A part was formerly occupied by Allen Laing, electrician.

—As is customary at this time of the year, when the travel is light, the Public Service Corporation will take off several through line cars running between Jersey City and Trenton, and there will be a re-arrangement of the general schedule.

MORGAN PASSES STOVER

Leads in Standing For Committee Cup at Country Club.

SCORES ON THE LINKS

Results of Play On Country Club and On Park Golf Club Courses On Saturday.

The delightful weather on Saturday attracted a large field of golfers to the Plainfield Country Club, larger in fact than on any preceding Saturday for several weeks.

While Morris J. Dumont won first honors for the Golf Committee cup, with a net score of 76, there was considerable interest in the fact that C. B. Morgan in winning two points, with a net score of 79, now is in the lead for the trophy with 14½ points, passing Charles A. Stover, who has 13¾ points. Stover failed to win any points in the weekly competition and with two more Saturdays play, Morgan has an excellent chance of winning the cup, if he can continue his present game. The best scores for the Golf Committee cup are as follows:

Morris J. Dumont, 83, 7—76; C. B. Morgan, 81, 2—79; George F. Shoonmaker, 87, 7-80; Henry D. Hibbard, 89, 5—84.

Another event of interest was a four ball foursome, which was won by Charles A. Stover and Morris J. Dumont with a score of 83, 7—73, which was the best one returned throughout the day. A number entered this competition, but Stover and Dumont were playing a strong game and won out quite easily.

In the play for the October Handicap, J. A. Lane won a leg with a score of 84, while he was closely followed by C. C. Burke, Sr., and E. E. Iremonger, each returning a score of 86. The scores:

J. A. Lane, 95, 11—84; C. C. Burke, Sr., 98, 12—86; E. E. Iremonger, 99, 13—86.

Besides the play on the course there was a large number of private dinners given at the clubhouse in the evening. The social features at the club this fall have been the means of attracting an unusually large number of members and friends, especially automobile parties, as the accommodations are ideal. The usual Saturday night dances have been given up for the rest of the season.

An unusually large number of golfers visited the Park Golf Club Saturday to take part in the weekly competitions for the President's Club and Hydewood trophies. A. W. Kenworthy won first honors for the President's cup, while J. L. Watson and Reuben Knox were tied for second place. For the scratch trophy, Rev. J. O. McKelvey won first honors and Mr. Kenworthy and Charles A. Reed were tied for second place. John L. Watson now leads in the competition for the Hydewood cup with six points.

These scores were returned:

A. W. Kenworthy, 99, 20—79; John L. Watson, 108, 19—89; Reuben Knox, 101, 12—89; Rev. J. O. McKelvey, 96, 3—93; George A. Chapman, 111, 18—93; Leon R. Thurlow, 105, 10—95; Charles B. Morse, 105, 10—95; Alexander Gilbert, 113, 18-95; Charles A. Reed, 98, 3—96; Rev. L. R. Howard, 121, 25—96; Rev. C. L. Goodrich, 102, 5—97; D. H. Rowland, 107, 7-100; Rev. Dr. H. K. Carroll, 112, 10—102.
